Recently news despatches stated that pursuit had been abandoned as it had been learned definitely that Richter was held in Tiraavos on Greek territory in the house of one Delyannis. The despatches also insisted that Dr. Richter had been captured not by ordinary mountain brigands, but by the "Greek National Society," and that the affair was an incident of the hand warfare between irregular detachments of Greeks and Bulgarians.

The ransom, it was assumed, was destined to further the partisan warfare breaking out anew in Macedonia.

Mr. T. F. Matthews was in Montreal yesterday on business.

OBITUARY.

James Burnett.

One of Peterborough's oldest and most esteemed citizens passed away at the family residence, 833 Water street, on Saturday evening at 6.40, in the person of Mr. James Burnett, in the 66th year of his age. He leaves to mourn his demise a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Herbert Stevens, Port Elgin, as well as two sisters, Mrs. Henry Hutchinson, of Montreal, and Mrs. Allen, Cobourg.

Mr. Burnett, who was a brother-in-law of Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., held the responsible position of Supt. of the Auburn Woollen Company for about 35 years. He was not only greatly esteemed by the management, but was beloved by the employees of the company, who will deeply mourn him as a very dear friend.

Mr. Burnett was a Conservative in politics, and in religion a Presbyterian, being a consistent member of St. Paul's Church.

Don't linger by the way, do it now! You'll lose if you delay, do it now! If the other fellows wait, or postpone until it's late, you hit up a faster gait—do it now!

Felling Trees by Wire.

A machine recently invented in Germany by Hugo Gastke substitutes a steel wire for the axe and the saw in felling trees. The wire is about one millimetre in diameter, and is kept in rapid motion by a small electric motor placed at a sufficient distance to be beyond the radius of danger from the falling trees. The swift motion heats the wire, and it cuts with great facility, producing a slight carbonization of the wood. A trunk twenty inches in diameter can be severed in six minutes. The cut can be made at the level of the ground, or even below it if the surrounding soil is removed.

Revised Version.

"Mr. Taft," said a Republican statesman, "is for his weight, exceedingly nimble. I remember once, in Cincinnati, running for a train with him He ran well, but, of course, I, with my slender and athletic build, beat him easily. I had to wait on every corner, and in consequence we missed the train. Mr. Taft said, with an apologetic laugh, as we turned away from the closed train gate: "It was my fault we missed her. More waist, you know, less speed.""

"The Distance Lends."

Henry Pasquet lost his wife a few years ago and soon afterward he appeared with a wide mourning band on his sleeve. Time went on and he finally began to woo the sister of his departed wife, with the result that he married her some five months after the first wife's death. Some time after that some one who was not familiar with recent happenings met Henry and asked him who had died in his family.

"Oh," said Henry, thoughtfully, "my seester-in-law, she die."

Indeterminate Sentence.

There is much good in the indeterminate sentence plan, which, it has been suggested at different times, might well be incorporated in the Canadian judicial system. A man serves a month in jail for assault, he gets out, is arrested for another assault, and goes back to prison for nine months. What reason is there to believe that when he is again free he will have learned the lesson of law and order?

Why Long Hair.

As an example of graciousness and tact, Matthew White tells of a London clergyman who was called on to address an audience of actors. Alluding to the better social status of the players the clergyman said that in former days it was sometimes customary to brand them as vagabonds and bore a hole in their ears with an awl, that the citizens might thus be forewarned. "And who knows," the clergyman added, "but that it is a survival of an endeavor to hide this mark of indignity that causes some of the actors even to-day to wear their hair long?"

Outstripping Australia

How completely Canada has outstripped Australia is revealed by the census totals of the commonwealth now announced. The population of the island continent is $4,449,495, an increase of just 750,000 in the last ten years. The Canadian figures for the same period will, it is expected, show a growth of at least two and a half millions, with a total population in the neighborhood of eight millions."

"Sick Man's Friend"

That's the Name Given by Thousands to the Old Family Stand-by, "Nerviline."

1,000,000 BOTTLES USED ANNUALLY.

No better known or more popular family remedy has ever been compounded than "Nerviline." During the past half century its success has been phenomenal — due to the fact that it always cures.

"No one could get me to go to bed at night unless I was sure we had Nerviline in the house," writes Mrs. R. R. Weightman, of Bolton P. O. "Six years ago my husband was taken badly with rheumatism, which affected his right arm and shoulder. It was so sore and stiff as to be almost helpless for four years. I read of the cure of James E. Everett, and felt sure that when Nerviline cured a case like his, it would cure my husband. I got a dollar's worth of Nerviline, five bottles, in Buffalo, and am pleased to write you that the fourth bottle cured. We have since used Nerviline for Lumbago, Neuralgia, Colds, Chest Tightness and other minor ailments in the family and found 'Nerviline' to be the 'Sick Man's Friend.'"

CURED 4 YEARS RHEUMATISM

No other remedy is so useful in the home, so universally employed to alleviate pain and curing the sick. Refuse anything offered you instead of Nerviline, which is sold: Large 25c bottles or five for $1.00. By all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

League Begins a Strenuous Campaign in Montreal—Police Interfere.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 25.—"Citizens, awake, awake.

"Your health and your liberty are imperilled."

Fifty thousand circulars bearing the above heading in bold type over a startling warning against the evils of vaccination are now being distributed broadcast through the city. They represent the opening volley fired by the newly-formed Anti-Vaccination League of Canada in the war which they have declared on vaccination in Montreal.

Chief of Police Campeau has given orders that the circulars be suppressed and this morning he instructed all his men to arrest anyone found distributing the leaflets.

The officers of the league, however, claim that they are within their rights in distrubting the circulars.

VOL XXXIV NO 199 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

THIRTY PERSONS KILLED IN A SENSELESS FIRE PANIC

FUSE BLEW OUT AND A CRY OF FIRE STAMPEDED THE AUDIENCE.

Piled Into Crowd Waiting to Get In—Half a Dozen Children Smothered to Death.

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—A senseless panic in a moving picture theatre, known as the Morgan Opera House, on Pike street, Saturday night, occasioned by the blowing out of a fuse in the picture machine, resulted in the death of 29 and the injury of scores. There was no fire.

The picture theatre was on the second floor of the building, and 700 people had just started to leave their seats after the first show when the blowing out of the fuse started a cry of "Fire!" from the back of the theatre. Just around the turn in the crooked second floor hallway were 150 people waiting to take their places for the second show. Into this closely packed hall jammed the 700 from within the house, and in a trice nearly a thousand persons, three-fourths of them women and children crowded into the narrow, steep, ill-lighted stairway leading to the street They piled up four or five deep at the foot of the stairs. A half a dozen children were smothered to death all most under the brightly shining lights at the sidewalk. Fully four hundred people were packed into 30 feet of narrow stairway.

Rescuers, endeavoured to reach the screaming unfortunates, were unable to drag them out, of the tangle of timbers and bodies. Speedily a rescue brigade was formed, and the injured and dying were carried through the theatre and out through an alleyway.

It took nearly an hour to clear the stairway, and meanwhile womeb and children, wounded so they could not move, smothered to death. At eleven o'clock twenty-nine injured had been taken to the hospital, everyone of whom died. A score more of badly injured had been taken to doctors' offices nearby. The wounded were found twisted and contorted out of all shape. Two women had their backs broken, being caught in the press and borne down face upward. Three small children were found in a recess against a stairway, all dead, who had almost been denuded of their clothing in the mad scramble.

TOWN OF SIX THOUSAND.

Canonsburg is a town of 6,000 people fully half of its population being retired farmers. It was originally a mining hamlet, but few of the miners families were bereaved. The Morgan Theatre, the scene of the panic, is located in the better residence part of the town, and patronized by the better class.

At 11 o'clock not over half the dead had been identified. Many of the faces were terribly disfigured, showing the struggle that must have gone on on within the packed stairway.

The injured list will reach sixty of whom eight will die.

C.P.R. BOOSTS MEN'S WAGES

Cardiff, the Only Black Cloud on the Horizon—Great Rejoicing Everywhere.

London, Aug. 28.—The labour war in England is over. The negotiations of the London Tramways men with the company are proceeding favorably. The Liverpool docks are a scene of great animation and it is expected that within ten days everything will be normal.

Cardiff is the only black cloud on the horizon, but it is expected that the dock laborers there will soon resume work.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

A DANGER SPOT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would call the attention of the street inspectors to the unsafe condition of the hand railing on the railway bridge at Auburn. On Sunday a friend and I happened to go there to look at the new power house and naturally leaned on the railing. Our surprise was great when we found that we nearly fell over into the abyss below, the supports of the railing being decayed. I took the liberty of calling attention to the place through The Times, so that it may be repaired before some one is killed.

Subscriber.

WHY I VOTE FOR STRATTON.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I will vote for Hon. J. R. Stratton for the following reasons:

1. Because I like him.
2. Because he is a good citizen.
3. Because he would help a political opponent as readily and as cheerfully as a friend.
4. Because he has made the best representative Peterborough has ever had at Ottawa.
5. Because he never tires spending both his time and his money for the benefit of his native town.
6. Because I believe in a larger market for our products, both farm and manufactured.
7. Because Mr. Stratton is a supporter of Canada's greatest son, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who takes rank with the foremost statesmen of the world.
8. Because just now the country needs such men as Mr. Stratton, who is himself a statesman of marked ability, and who is almost sure to be called to a higher position in the councils of the nation at an early date.

For these reasons I intend to cast my ballot for Mr. Stratton and hope that a large majority of my fellow-citizens will do likewise.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am, etc.

East City Elector.

THE WEATHER.

Northwesterly winds and a little cooler.

KAISER TALKS OF MAKING GERMAN NAVY SUPREME

WANTS A PLACE IN THE SUN THAT NO NATION CAN DISPUTE.

German Press Violently Attacks Britain—Spain Complicates Moroccan Situation.

Hamburg, Aug. 28.—The Senate gave a banquet last night to the Emperor, who, in the course of a speech on the stimulating effects of competition on international commerce said: "If we understood the enthusiasm of the people of Hamburg aright, I think that I can assume that it is their opinion that our navy should be further strengthened, so that we may be sure that no one can dispute with us the place in the sun that is our due."

ATTACKS ON BRITAIN.

London, Aug. 28.—The Times' Berlin correspondent telegraphs that with the desire of covering the German retreat from an untenable position the journals of the second line in Berlin are inciting public opinion against Great Britain. The Lokal Anzeiger is especially violent.

The attributing of certain criticisms of Germany published by the Vienna Neue Frei Presse to a British diplomat is exploited to the utmost, and the various Berlin journals announce confidently that the diplomatist in question is the British Ambassador at Vienna.

SPANISH TROOPS TO GO.

Madrid, Aug. 28.—Despatches received here to-day from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, say that 500 Spanish soldiers are making preparations to embark to-morrow on the transport Almirante Lobo to occupy Ste Croix la Mineure, on the Moroccan coast, to the south of Agadir, where the arrival last July of the German warship Panther stirred up the present international dispute over Morocco.

The news reporting the movement of a Spanish force to Southern Morocco has not yet been elucidated, but should it be confirmed, it is expected further to complicate the Moroccan problems, over which negotiations are in progress between Jules Cambon, the French Ambassador at Berlin and Herr von Kiderlin-Wachter, the German Foreign Secretary.

SIR WM. MACKENZIE PLEASED WITH THE CROP SITUATION

Sir William Mackenzie, who returned to his office in the Canadian Northern Building to-day after a long trip through the West, is more than satisfied with the outlook in the wheat fields.

"Up to the time I arrived in Winnipeg on my way east," he said, "there had been no reports of frost. If there has been any, I imagine the damage must have been insignificant, especially in the eastern section of the wheat-producing country. In Manitoba for example, the crop was so far ahead, that fully 75 per cent. of it has already been harvested.

"In Saskatchewan and Alberta the conditions have not been quite so favorable. The season has been colder, and there has been just a little too much rain. Nevertheless they have really little to complain of, generally speaking, and I have not the slightest doubt that the entire harvest will show most satisfactory figures.

"So far as railway matters are concerned, I have every reason to be satisfied with what I saw on my trip The work in all departments is being pushed, and during the season we have built over 350 miles of new track, which I think is a pretty good showing."

Sir William adheres to his determination, often expressed not to discuss any subject even indirectly connected with the reciprocity issue.

THE POPE CELEBRATED MASS IS COMPLETELY RECOVERED

Rome, Aug. 28.—The Pope yesterday celebrated mass and afterwards proceeded to the Vatican gardens, where he received his first visitor outside of the private circle since his illness. This was Cardinal Arcoverde de Albuquerque, Archbishop of Rio de Janiero, who came to pay his farewell respects. The Pontiff appeared entirely recovered, and interested himself in the affairs of the diocese, and ended the audience by bestowing the apostolic benediction on the churches in South America.

LOST HIS LIFE SAVED GRANDSON

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 28.—George Goodwin, 80 years old, of McDougall avenue was instantly killed this morning about 11 o'clock when he was struck by a Michigan Central train at Bender avenue crossing.

Mr. Goodwin was giving his one-year-old grandson a ride when the accident happened. The child escaped with a few minor injuries.

Goodwin did not see or hear the approaching train until it was too late to save himself. He had presence of mind enough to give the perambulator a shove which sent almost beyond danger before the train struck him. An inquest will probably be held.

Housewives Showed Fight.

Brest, France, Aug. 28.—Two processions of housewives formed a protest against the prevailing high cost of foods, were checked and dispersed by the police to-day when they threatened the market men with violence. The prices of butter and eggs, however, were reduced as a result of the demonstration.

Edmonton, Aug. 28.—A convention of Independent Liberals will be held here to-morrow, at which it is understood ex-Premier A. C. Rutherford, who was chosen a few weeks ago will resign, and former Attorney-General Cross will be chosen to oppose Hon. Frank Oliver.

RAMMED WITH A PITCH FORK BY HIS COMPANION

Listowel, Aug. 28.—Goaded to desperation by repeated taunts, that he was shirking his work a young farm hand named Douglas, while employed at a threshing on Saturday afternoon near Molesworth, some 7 miles from here, swung around on his persecutor and sent the prong of his pitchfork through the latter's side. Despite serious nature of the wound, Harry Smith, the young man assaulted, retaliated with his fists as well as he could. The steel prong penetrated Smith's left side, near the base of the lung and inflicted a dangerous wound, which may have a fatal result. Smith is a son of Reeve Sam Smith of Elma and a married man.

STRIKE BREAKERS SOLVE SITUATION

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Within the next week it is expected that practically all the coal mines in the Crowe's Nest District will be in operation. Strike-breakers are now being shipped in and already several of the union men have deserted their ranks and returned to work. The mine at Canmore will be shipping this week. The coal famine is already acute and many are already feeling the pinch, for dealers are delaying in ordering Pennsylvania coal in the hope that the strike be settled. Calgary has ordered and is receiving 3,000 tons of Youghiogheny coal which will cost $11.40 ton laid down here and is being retailed at $13.50. The situation will be most acute during the coming winter, coal dealers assert.

THREE CAMPERS KILLED, HUGE TREE FELL ON TENT

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The terrific storm of yesterday brought to a tragic close the week-end outing of seven campers near East Templeton, three of whom were killed almost instantly by a falling tree, while the other four escaped by a hair's breadth. The dead are:

Alphonse, son of Mr. Francis Schingh, grocer, 319 St. Patrick street, Ottawa.

Joseph Leblanc, of Montreal.

Lucien Marineau, Three Rivers.

The surviving four are:

Mr. D. Sabourin and his son Napoleon, of Gatineau Point.

Oscar Boudrey, contractor and his son, 163 York street, Ottawa.

The bodies of the dead were brought to Gauthier's undertaking parlors here last night by the other members of the party.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY.

The story was told by Mr. Boudrey in the presence of parents and friends of the victims of the accident.

"We went up to camp on Saturday afternoon, pitching our small tent in which seven of us were to sleep, under a large tree upon the Quebec side of the Ottawa opposite Green's creek.

"At six o'clock the storm came on and we got into the tent as fast as we could for protection from the heavy rain. The tree under which we camped was thirty inches in diameter, and looked to be the last thing to give way to the wind, which however, was wild. Schingh, Leblanc and Martineau were the first to crawl into the tent, and consequently were farthest back. Suddenly we heard a loud cracking sound and all rushed for the entrance to the tent, realizing that the tree was falling.

TREE FELL ON THE TENT.

"Mr. Sabourin and his son, and I and mine, dived through the entrance while at the same time the immense tree fell with a crash upon the rear end of the tent, where the others were sitting.

"In a moment we were to the rescue, and endeavored to free our three companions. When we raised the tent, we found Schingh and Leblanc already dead, while Martineau was suffering untold agonies. We rushed to the nearest phone, which was a considerable distance away, to phone to East Templeton for a doctor, and for one hour we could not get Central to answer, and when we did get the doctor it was seven o'clock. He arrived at 7.30, and Martineau died a few minutes later."

Martineau is survived by a wife and several children, and Leblanc also is married and leaves a family. Schingh was unmarried.

NORTH MONAGHAN MEETING.

Messrs. Burnham, Kendry and Ruddy Delivered Addresses.

Last night a meeting was held in the Town Hall, North Monaghan, in the interests of the Conservative candidate. Mr. W. G. Howden, Reeve of the township, occupied the chair, and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Kendry, in the course of his address, said that the "swing of victory" for Mr. Borden was in the air. It was everywhere manifest. He predicted the election of Mr. Burnham by a large majority.

Mr. Robert Ruddy, K.C., delivered a stirring address in which he dealt with the proposed trade agreement with the United States, from a patriotic standpoint.

Mr. J. H. Burnham on rising, was heartily applauded. He began by asking if it ever occurs to the Liberal stumpers that it is nothing short of mental aberration to expect the farmers, fruit-growers and market gardeners of Peterborough County to send their stuff to a market hundreds of miles away when they can get one at home. What reason or common sense also is there in comparing the prices of a Canadian City with those far away across the line. Freight to Britain is less than to most of the U.S., and yet how does it compare with the home-market? If Conservatives were asking you to look for your markets from far away instead of at home what would the Liberals say? Then, too, is not our Canadian home-market as good to the Canadian as the American home market is even to the American himself? Of course it is. And yet they would ask you to go away and compete with him in his distant market! Occasionally you will find cases where our people on the border are closer to American cities than to Canadian and to them it may sometimes be of advantage. You have heard Mr. Harstone of Peterborough tell you of the advantage of reciprocity in the West. He owns large blocks of land in the West and may in some cases be closer to American than to Canadian markets? But why sacrifice all Canada to a few such cases as these? Mr. Harstone is an estimable gentleman and I am sure would admit the justice of these remarks himself. The speaker said he had been asked to explain BOURASSAISM. He said it was the outgrowth and upreaching of the French-Canadian race for expansion and separative existence. Bourassa is the apostle of Nationalism. Now any form of racialism or nationalism that seeks to cut in upon the Church as by calling for particular heads of universities, certain priests and bishops, etc., incurs the immediate opposition of the Church. National churches are plainly at variances with the theory of one universal church ruled from one centre. National, or racial, or patriotic movements where they run against the church, as in the French-Canadian Congress at Ottawa this year, when the clash with the church was most pronounced, are opposed by the church. This is why Bishop Fallon has exposed and condemned bilingualism. Bourassaism, nominally and no doubt really loyal to the church, is yet more loyal, however, to the French race ideal and therefore it is really dangerous to the Church. Laurier is as he described himself at the Eucharistic Congress "a loyal and fervent Catholic." He cannot endorse Bourassa or cayde him. He must fight him. That is why there is no possibility of reconciliation between the two.

The meeting was a very great success, and appeared to be strongly in favor of Mr. Burnham. At the conclusion cheers were given for the King and the candidate.

Cured Constipation Quickly

TELLS OF A REMEDY THAT IS SAFE FOR YOUNG AND OLD, FOR ALL STOMACH AND BOWEL TROUBLES.

Writing from his home in Barcelona Mr. Frederick G. Mayer states: "I think no one ever suffered as severely from constipation as I did for nearly six months. So many serious symptoms were developing as a consequence of this evil condition of the system, that I realized I must find a remedy. The strong pills of various kinds I tried seemed after their first effects were over to make me far worse and I did not know which way to turn for relief. I saw Dr. Hamilton's Pills advertised, and the first box used satisfied me I found a true remedy. Instead of griping by undue activity, Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted as naturally as if physic had not been taken. I never had to increase the dose, and, indeed, within a month I reduced it and when the system finally acted of its own accord as a result of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I took a dose twice a week only, just to make sure the old condition would not come back."

No other remedy cures constipation and biliousness so easily or safely as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are an ideal family remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

AT ROYAL THEATRE.

Tom Eck's Bicycle Girls at the Royal Theatre.

Tom Eck's famous bicycle racing girls are the attraction for the first part of this week at the Royal Theatre and should prove a magnet that will fill the house at every performance. The girls have been causing a sensation all over the circuit by their clever riding and will doubtless be well received here. Tom Eck, whose name is a household one as far as athletics are concerned, will be remembered by local sport enthusiasts as the man who introduced Fred Simpson, the Indian runner, into the professional game and who handled the Peterborough Indian until he retired from the game. He has invented an apparatus for use in his indoor bicycle racing by which the distance covered by the contestants is indicated by a large dial so that the audience can follow the contest closely. Handicap and even all races between the girls make up the programme. One of the troupe claims the title of the campion lady bicyclist and can tear off a mile on the machine in 1.24. No one should fail to see this thrilling act at the Royal.

A DRUNKEN MOTHER.

Mother of Two Children Appeared at the Police Court Yesterday.

Mrs. Hector Baker was a sad example of the effects of drink and injurious drugs, as she appeared before Magistrate Dumble, at a closed police court yesterday morning. She was arrested and brought to the cells in a very much intoxicated condition Saturday night.

It seems that Mrs. Baker is not particular as to the character of her callers, and the noise of revelry coming from the house have so annoyed the neighbors that several complaints had been received. She is also addicted to the use of laudanum. The house is in a disgraceful condition, and there are children. As it was a case for the Children's Aid Society, Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill was present and took the children to the hospital. Mrs. Baker's husband who evidently is of little assistance to her, was sent to jail for a month this morning.

ONE DEAD, 60 INJURED

Officials Say Spikes Had Been Taken Out, Causing the Derailment—Two Others May Die.

Middletown, Conn., Aug. 28.—Train wreckers, who had removed spikes from a rail, were responsible for the derailment of an express train over the valley line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad last night, resulting in one death and injury to about 60 others.

The cause of the accident is officially attributed to train wreckers in a statement issued at the offices of the railroad company at New Haven, which ironically gave the cause of the wreck in these words: "Malicious intent; spikes drawn from rail."

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA :

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

The Brains of John Bull's Junior Partner

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

There are all sorts of funny readings abroad about the firm of John Bull Unlimited, and especially about the Old Fellow himself. He seldom takes a good look at himself, and until lately he hasn't cared a gramme what other people thought of him.

John Bull has regarded himself as a good-natured soul who is taking care of a few bits of land scattered around the globe in the interests of civilization generally—a sort of political philanthropist. The other fellows in the international field don't regard him in that light. They think he is a grasping old codger who, instead of being satisfied with control of nearly all the strategic strongholds of land and sea power, puts up an awful howl as soon as anybody else looks around for a second-rate coaling station, or a bit of rock from which his traders may saunter into a hitherto undiscovered market.

What these people are most puzzled about is the way this old John Bull keeps the affections of his children, who have become his partners. "Why," they say, "he used to declare that they would soon leave him, and here they are closer than ever to the Old Gentleman with the side whiskers and the peculiar pants."

Just so. The way the British Empire keeps together is a regular Chinese puzzle to all sorts of clever statesmen. They can't make it out at Washington. Sometimes we can't quite make it out ourselves—this loose, strong, splendid partnership that girdles the world and has none of the ordinary forces of imperial compulsion about it. The Dominion is one of the junior partners.

"Junior Partner" hasn't a very cock-a-whoop sound. It is a bigger name than it looks. Mr. Sifton, in a memorable speech against Reciprocity in the House of Commons put the fact more picturesquely: "The Rising Hope of the British Empire." You know firms with the junior partners become the Pillars of Reliance. The John Bull Unlimited is one of them.

Canada is a miracle within the Empire, as the Empire is a miracle among the nations of the earth. The impossible has been achieved. They used to say that you could not allow an overseas Dominion of the Crown to have responsible government in exactly the same way as the United Kingdom. They said that a Colonial Governor should not be compelled to accept the advice of his Ministers when they had a majority of the popular House. But these things are done and the Imperial bond is closer and warmer than it has ever been.

All this means that the obligation upon Canadian statesmanship is more subtle and tremendous than it has ever been. We have established a Department of External Affairs to handle our peculiar three-cornered relationships, but this Department is not specially charged with the duty of keeping our internal population well informed about the niceties of our external relations.

You cannot expect a farmer in the Saskatchewan valley to be well informed about the possibilities of trouble that may lie within our connection with India, Australia and South Africa. He is the great statesman who, knowing all the intricacies of statecraft, which he cannot publish, can guide the great body of public opinion aright on the big, underlying principles which dominate national action.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship—I mean statesmanship; not the erection of a post-office here, of a bridge there, and the handing out of a job somewhere else—must be directed to making clear the two-fold, fundamental basis of our national progress—the development of Canadian commerce in Canadian channels, and the extending of the right idea of Canadian national prestige, in its relation to international and inter-Imperial affairs.

Here is something to cling to—that the English-speaking peoples are the great potentiality in the modern world. They are broadly divided into the Empire and the Republic. In the re-adjustment of influence that is taking place within the Empire Canada is rapidly advancing towards the first place.

Canada has the advantage of being alongside of the United States. From being neglected by Downing Street and regarded by the United States as a very poor relation to be acknowledged by a cup of cold water and a few kind words, she is regarded with almost jealous anxiety by the United Kingdom and the United States. The remarkable spectacle has been seen of the President of the United States going up and down his country beseeching the people to make a deal with Canada which would secure commercial union with and give to the United States control of the wheat trade between Canada and Europe.

The position of Canada between the United States and Great Britain is the position of the boy in the middle of the see-saw who sends the parties at the end of the plank up and down as he wills.

Canada was growing along splendidly from this point of view. The only transcontinental railway of America was ours as a means of expanding our trade in our own way. The Government undertook a second transcontinental, and is heavily aiding a third.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship were required for the fulfilment of the national policies, which were undertaken with so much care and foresight. We needed time to consolidate our forces and to bring into national sentiment the aliens to our genius. Instead we are invited to reverse our method for one which the shrewd, experienced leaders of the Republic are sure will deflect the life-blood of commerce into their arteries, and make our future commercially subsidiary to theirs.

They have warned us. It is time we warned ourselves.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

ONE

THE HOME MARKET

The Loss of Reciprocity in 1866 Resulted in the Creation of Profitable Industries for Canada

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It is true that both political parties in Canada formerly desired a measure of Reciprocity with the United States. But that was when trade generally was small and depressed, and before proof had been given that, on the line of antagonism to Canadian prosperity, laid down by the United States, Canada could flourish as an exporter of farm and forest products and be essentially independent of the United States.

There was a Reciprocity Treaty between the two countries from 1854 to 1866, which advanced the price of Canadian farm produce. But the Crimean War in the first half and the United States Civil War in the second half of the Reciprocity period raised prices everywhere. The Canadian farmer came to depend upon the United States for his market.

He received a severe lesson when Reciprocity was withdrawn. But, instead of being ruined, he found a more stable market in Great Britain, which has persisted to this day. Instead of sending his crops across the border he fed them on the farm, retained and improved the fertility of the soil, and by selling dairy produce and cattle became more permanently prosperous than was possible under a delusively profitable market across the line.

In time the National Policy expanded the farmer's home market. The gold he received for his produce, instead of going out of the country to purchase goods, was kept in Canada for those who had begun to make things that formerly had been imported, and who bought things of him that otherwise would have gone abroad. This meant better prices for the producer, as it also meant greater earning and spending power in the manufacturing towns.

This change was slow, as men count time; but swift in the reckoning of nations. It was accompanied by a conspicuous disadvantage—young Canadians left Canada by the thousands for the United States, where Canada was regarded as a poor relation.

TWO

OLD CONDITIONS HAVE PASSED

The Four Reasons Which Produced Continentalists Have Died Natural Deaths

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The drain of population from Canada to the United States was the fundamental reason for such organizations as the Continental Association, of which the late Goldwin Smith was president. Mr. Smith, in a letter accepting the presidency, gave four reasons for the propaganda of the Association:—

1. The population was standing still.
2. The backward condition of the manufacturing industries and the inferiority of their production.
3. The condition of agriculture, our farmers barely making a living, while tenant farmers were considered clever to make ends even meet.
4. The exodus of young Canadian manhood to the United States.

There were two factors in Canadian development which the Continentalists of that day did not appreciate, and which inevitably produced a third, which wrought considerable harm to the country.

In the first place the Continentalists did not see that the exodus to the United States would not continue indefinitely, because the unoccupied lands of the Republic would fill up, and Canada's turn would come. In the second place they did not really believe that Canada was a country of practically unlimited producing power.

These two things together inevitably prevented the Continentalists from having a great vision of the future of Canada. They thought she would always be commercially dependent on the United States. They saw no future in which Canada could be the lynch-pin of an Empire more spacious and more splendid than the United States could ever be. They said "Go to, let us make the most of our neighbor." They did not know how to say "Go to, let us make the most of ourselves."

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

THREE

SAID "GOOD-BYE RECIPROCITY"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Justification of the Defeat He Sustained in 1891

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The starting of industries, the building of a railway across an empty continent, left Canada in a condition of strain. The lack of faith, of which the Continental cry was a model expression, meant a lack of works. Few of the millions of people who desired to forsake the Old World learned of Canada. The population continued stationary. Progress was painfully slow.

But, in due time, the movement of people into Canada began. It was presently accompanied by a movement of capital, until, at last, everybody saw that the hour of Canada had come. The final proof of it was vouchsafed when the exodus from Canada to the United States was more than balanced by an exodus from the United States to Canada.

Right up to the time that Canada became known to the people of Europe there was a hankering after Reciprocity. In 1891 a general election was fought on the question, and the advanced Reciprocitarians were beaten. The issue was destined to keep away from the ballot-box for more than twenty years.

The Liberal party, in pursuance of a platform written in 1893, asked Washington for Reciprocity in 1897, and was repelled. The immigration had then began to flow, and is flowing still. At that very time the instinct which had turned aside from the Reciprocity advocated in 1891 re-asserted itself—this time in the unfamiliar guise of a Liberal Government—and in 1898 the offer of Reciprocity which had stood for many years on the Canadian Statute Book was repealed. The repeal was happily endorsed at the Imperial Conference in London by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who said:

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts were put aside. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FOUR

MONEY IN THE BANKS

And Great Increases in Trade Have Made Canada a Brighter Britain

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's repudiations of Reciprocity with the United States beginning in 1898 and continuing until 1907, was endorsed by Liberals and Conservatives alike. The country was behind him. The future was before him.

Remember the difference between the Canada of that day and the Canada which Sir Wilfrid vainly thinks has turned back, with hungry eyes to the policy he so patriotically abandoned.

At the time of the joyful abandonment of the idea that the United States could be the main prop and stay of Canadian prosperity the Canadian people had $336,161,063 in the banks. To-day they have $925,000,000 in the banks. Then their trade beyond their own borders was $304,475,736 a year. Now it is $649,000,000.

Then the flow of British capital was so small that no returns were available. Last year $185,000,000 came from Britain to Canada, exclusive of individual amounts for investments, and the money brought by 112,000 people who came from Britain to Brighter Britain.

The magnificent point of this situation is that the turning away from the United States (which for thirty years had treated Canada as a commercial factor with good-natured contempt), and the new-found belief that Canada could march along the road to nationhood without regard to the business goodwill of the United States; were followed by an expansion of business that the firmest believer in her destiny would not have dared to prophesy in the days when Reciprocity was an Article of Faith and a veritable Promise of Hope to so many people.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FIVE

THE FARMER RECEIVES MORE

Prices For Which He Sells Have Increased More Rapidly than the Cost of What He Buys

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"The wise man often changes his mind; the fool never"—a way of saying that the political wisdom of to-day is the political foolishness of to-morrow. Nothing is more valuable than the teachings of history. Nothing is more futile than piling up proofs that many years experience have changed the point of view of a man or a party of men.

It is nothing to show that Sir John Macdonald was serious or merely astute in advocating Reciprocity, forty, thirty, twenty years ago. He is not with us now. We have conditions to which his utterances do not apply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position is different. He was an advocate of Reciprocity. On his experience he renounced it. The commercial conditions which caused him to renounce it—the prosperity of Canada without it—have become greatly accentuated in every particular.

The farmer particularly has flourished. The Dominion Government reports show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent.
Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent.
Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

Woollen goods	23.3 per cent.
Cotton goods	25 "
Boots and shoes	35 "
Metals and implements	2.4 "
Imported goods—decrease	6 "

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

Agriculture is the basic industry of Canada. If its prosperity grows in greater ratio than that of other industries, it is in the doubly happy position of flourishing itself and enabling others to flourish.

This has happened with a home market that is nothing like as big as it will be. Canada has only really begun her manufacturing career, if she is permitted to retain her fiscal independence.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. Due it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite. Fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore a nerve belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I even invested the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

BASEBALL IN JAPAN.

It Beats Jiu-Jitsu Says a Japanese Sportsman.

According to Mutikichi Matsuda, captain of one of the Japanese baseball nines which is now playing in America, the great game has taken a wonderful hold in the far east. He says that excitement runs so high in Japan that the deciding game of one series was called off for fear that the students would resort to bloodshed. In an interesting statement Captain Matsuda, of the Waseda University nine, says:

The game of baseball is the gift of West to East. Only a few years ago we knew nothing of this honorable game. Now the little ones in the streets of Tokio play it. The excitement which attends a game of baseball with us is so great that for four years there has been no contest between the team of Waseda and the team of Keio, her rival in Tokio.

Baseball is the first group game we ever have played in Japan. We formerly had jiu-jitau, fencing and archery but no outdoor sport in which teams could play against each other. That is the great advantage of baseball—that many can play at it at once.

We like the game because it is new, so different from our other sports. It is a most exciting game.

We find that the most difficult thing to learn in baseball is the batting. That is hard—to hit the ball, and so hit it that one can run to first base before the ball thrown by the hand of the fielder reaches that place. We have not had as much practice in batting as we have needed. In Japan most of our games are with too young players, who do not make it difficult enough for us to defeat them. We should have more experience.

One Boy's Inspiration

A musician who is attracting wide attention in England, is a blind boy sixteen years old. Deprived of sight when he was ten years of age, he spent two years in darkness and despondency, from which he was aroused one morning by the singing of a canary bird. It occurred to him how limited was the bird's equipment for life, and yet how cheerfully and beautifully the little creature expressed the joy of its heart.

This was the boy's inspiration. He took up the study of the violin, and, remembering the debt of gratitude he owed to the canary, he tried his best to win the little fellow's companionship. He practised on his violin close to the cage; the bird entered into the spirit of the thing, careling his sweetest notes to the strains of the boy's music.

Finally the bird grew so tame, under kind treatment, that he would fly out of the open door of the cage, light on the blind boy's bow, and sing in unison, as the lad drew the bow across the strings. The boy has thus found not only a means of cultivating joy in his own soul and expressing it, but he and the bird are giving exhibitions at large profit, and the boy has found his means of livelihood.

TR for Tat.

A physician of Fort Dodge, Iowa, had a grave made for a man who was dying; but the man got well, and the doctor was joked about it for many years afterwards.

Once, in consultation with three other physicians, he attended a patient who died. After the death, one of the physicians said:

"Since a quick burial is necessary we might inter the body temporarily. I understand that Dr. X has a vacant grave on hand."

"Yes, I have," said Dr. X, "and I believe I am the only physician present whose graves are not all filled."

Criticism.

When we are severely criticised it is far better to try and profit by the criticism than to attempt to take vengence on our critic. Criticism, as a rule, especially if it be just, will do us more good than flattery. The former is likely to stir us up to correct our faults; the latter tends to make us satisfied with ourselves and our attainments. Extreme sensitiveness to adverse criticism is an indication that we think of ourselves more highly than we ought to think. He who is blind to his own faults is not likely to amend them.

Boys generally need directing much more than they do correcting. When they do wrong they should be shown the right way, and never be punished for the blunders of ignorance. Their first lessons should teach them the ways of right and wrong. They should be carefully guided, not driven.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

Is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

Sayings Of To-Day — And Yesterday

Too many of us complain of the injustices of this world, forgetting there may be more justice than we require in the next.

Englishmen and Americans are now so friendly they can make fun of each other. All friendship is in a state of unstable equilibrum until that point has been reached.

If we are going to do good to our struggling and tempted neighbors, we must try to be better than they.

There can be sympathetic silence which is also unselfishness. Don't break a person's heart by chatter.

COPENHAGEN'S FRESH FISH

Brought to One's Door Swimming About in Tanks of Water.

When a person buys fresh fish in Copenhagen he really gets it. More than that he gets uncontaminated fish. The sewers used to empty into the sea at the nearest convenient points. Now the sewage is collected into a main trunk line and carried two kilometers out to sea before it is released.

Thus there is longer any contamination of the harbor or the sea front. They not only puts an end to the nuisances that used to arise, says the 'Lancet,' but enables boats full of live fish to come close to shore and right into the town by means of the salt water canals.

In the manner at least the smaller fish are kept alive until the moment they are sold. Any number of wooden boats are pierced with holes and filled with fish; these boats just float on the surface of the water, and the living fish is taken out of them when wanted.

But as every one cannot go to the water's edge to buy fish there are water tanks on wheels and the live fish are brought to the doors of the people's houses. The principal fish market was built by the municipality and is let to a wholesale fish salesman.

It is delight to see how clean and bright these premises are kept. There is no spreading the fish on slabs so that dust and dirt may settle on them. Very pretty tessallated tanks are filled with running water, and here the smaller fish swim about. The larger fish such as cod or halibut, are too cumbersome to keep alive, and are therefore placed in the cold storage rooms.

Not only are the fish fresh, but they are generally very well, sometimes even artistically cooked. At Copenhagen the domestic servants' trade unionists instituted a school where members of the union are taught how to be clean and neat, how to sew, to wash and starch, and above all how to cook. A little restaurant is attached to this school where any one can have a cheap meal, thus giving the pupils an opportunity of exercising their art.

The trade union, while insisting that a good servant shall earn from 25 to 30 kromer (a kromer equals 1s. 2d.) a month and pay half a kromer subscription to the union, does at the same time endeavor to render her fully competent to accomplish her work. Also by providing sleeping accommodation it helps to pervent servant girls falling into bad company or suffering undue hardships when out of employment.

In the same way there is an old frigate moored in a canal close to the most fashionable centre of the town. Here there is a school for ships' cooks. On board a ship with the limited space such as prevails at sea young folks try their 'prentice hands at making dishes such as are served to passengers on sea voyages. There is an awningon the deck, tables are laid out, and numerous inhabitants of Copenhagen take their meals there; for they are both varied and inexpensive. Thus fully qualified cooks are being prepared for the sea.

Multiplying on the Fingers

We shall never be in danger of forgetting that our ancestors did their sums on their fingers so long as arithmetic retains the word 'digits.' But modern civilization knows nothing of the elaborate development of this method. It takes a Wellacalan peasant to multiply 8 by 9 on his hands. This is how he does it. The fingers of either hand, beginning with the thumb, stand for the numbers from 6 to 10. So the ring finger of the one hand and the middle finger of the other are struck out to represent 8 and 9. Counting the fingers remaining on the side furthest from the thumbs he finds them 1 and 2 respectively, and 1 multiplied by 2 gives him the units of his product—2. Then he counts from the thumbs to the struck out fingers inclusive, finds them 3 and 4, adds these and gets 7 for his tens. Answer—72. All this to avoid knowing the multiplication table beyond four times four! Try it as a game.

PREVENTION OF FOREST FIRES

That it is only by observance of the utmost care that forest fire outbreaks can now be avoided in certain dangerous districts, is pointed out by Commissioner W. C. Gladwin, of British Columbia:

"In some districts," says the Commissioner, "the conditions existing at present are such that, should a fire originate, it will only be with the greatest difficulty that great loss will be prevented. The department, of course, has a considerable force of rangers out patrolling the various districts night and day, but one careless individual may cause all their efforts to count for naught and start a fire occasioning heavy loss in lives and property."

"This fact cannot be too frequently impressed upon the public mind, particularly in the dry season of midsummer," he adds.

The Harborless

Ah! there be souls none understand;
Like clouds, they cannot touch the land,
Drive as they may, by field or town;
Then we look wise at this and frown.
And we cry, "Fool!" and cry, "Take hold
Of earth and fashion gods of gold!"

Unanchored ships, they blow and blow
Sail to and fro, and then go down
In unknown seas that none shall know.
Without one ripple of renown.
Poor, drifting dreamers sailing by,
They deem to only live to die.

Call these not fools! the test of worth
Is not the hold you have on earth.
Lo! there be gentlest souls sea-blown
Now it may be the reason is
They touch on fairer shores than this.
—Joaquin Miller.

DRESS REFORM FOR MEN

A New German Scare.

The latest German scare takes the form of an attempt to reform men's clothing. A society organized in Berlin aims at abolishing trousers, substituting knicker-bockers, while coat and waistcoat are to give way to a sort of loose blouse hanging well down to the knees. Linen of all sorts is to be discarded. There seems to be a lack of German thoroughness in these proposals. Why should the loose blouse come to the knees, if the knickerbockers are to be worn? Or why the knickerbockers, if the upper garment is to come to the knees? What is really needed is a blanket, which can be worn short or long, and moulded into any form that may suit the taste of the wearer.

But reform in men's clothing is not likely to be revolutionary. Its progres is one of evolution, like that of the British constitution. Freedom broadens slowly down from precedent to precedent. The silk hat gives way to the fedora, the hard, unyielding straw to the easy Panama. The tightly buttoned coat with tails is worn only upon State occasions, as if to keep us in mind of the bondage of the past, and of the maxim that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. There was a time when trousers clung to the skin one season, and the next flapped idly like sails on a listless sea. There was a time when a man who wanted easy clothing all the time was sternly informed that they were not worn that way this season, and meekly submitted to the decrees of fashion. But now the rebels have the upper hand. They boldly telephone to the tailor to make another suit of clothes "like the last."

We have thus achieved self-government in the sober British fashion. And in clothes, as in politics, order and freedom go hand-in-hand. The result of liberty is sobriety. The exuberance of youth will occasionally find expression in socks of orange and green, while middle age will indulge in a red waistcoat. But these are merely innocent saturnalia, giving vent to that strain of wildness which lingers in all of us.

HE WAS KEPT WAITING

Senator John Sharp Williams was once made executor of a wealthy man's estate, all of which had been left to his only son. The father had kept this young man, who was just turned 21, in pretty close leash during his youth, and it was with eyes bulging with expectancy of a good-far-flung fling that the son called on the executor a few days after the funeral to learn when he was coming into his kingdom. Senator Williams relates: "I haven't qualified as executor yet, Bob," I told him, "but come around in a week or so and you can get what you want." Promptly on the dot Bob turned up. "The period of advertising for claims against the estate will not expire for a fortnight yet," I told him this time, "so I cannot legally pay you anything until then. Drop in in a couple of weeks and I'll fix you out." Bob swallowed his disappointment and took his departure. At the end of a fortnight he promptly appeared again. "Sorry to disappoint you a third time, Bob," I said, "but there have been some purely formal claims filed against the estate that can not be disposed of until next month's term of court. If you'll call after that you can get all the cash you want, but I really don't see my way clear to pay out anything until these matters are disposed of. Come back in a month and it will be all right then." Bob moved slowly to the door. With his hand on the knob he turned to me. "Mr. Williams," he said, sadly, "do you know sometimes I'm right sorry the old man died!"

Actors Don't Grow Old!

An actress, at the recent luncheon in New York of the Actors' Church Alliance, said of dramatic criticism: "There is one part of dramatic criticism that strikes me as cruel. I refer to the criticism that reproaches an actor or actress with growing old. It is very hard to be reminded of one's age. One is conscious enough of that, dear knows, without being told about it in the papers. Such critics," she continued, "are almost as bad as Lord Lacland. Young Lord Lacland came over to New York and proposed to a rather elderly heiress. She refused him. 'I am sorry, Lord Lacland,' she said, 'but I can never be anything more to you than a—' 'Just my luck!' he interrupted, reaching for his hat and stick. 'And I've got two grandmothers already.'"

The Cost of Navies

The British naval estimates for this year are exceedingly large. It is the intention to appropriate $75,000,000 for new construction. This sum of money will provide five dreadnoughts, three protective cruisers, and a number of torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. News also come which says Austria-Hungary is to spend within the next few years $75,000,000 in naval construction; and this is regarded as peculiarly significant inasmuch as Austria-Hungary is Germany's ally. At the present time British tonnage is 436,000 tons; that of German is 297,000 tons; next comes France with 173,000 tons; and the United States is in the next position with 136,000 tons.

Something to Brag About.

Edmonton is boasting because some people in that town broke into a store and stole a half-ton safe. That is nothing. Some years ago some burglars in Toronto broke into a store and stole thirty-six cooking stoves. They loaded them up on drays while the police looked on.

CARNEGIE ON GOLF

The Laird of Skibo Castle Trys Writing.

Andrew Carnegie says in his latest essay on "Dr. Golf": "I notice a recent estimate of the money already expended in greens and club houses in the United States is fifteen million dollars. The charm of golf — who can analyse and decide in what it really consists? We are under the sky, worshippers of the 'God of the Open Air.' Every breath seems to drive way weakness and disease. A cousin of mine made his first trial one morning on Skibo links, and, as is often the case when taking it all easily and not trying hard, he succeeded wonderfully. He could hardly wait for the morning game. We started and he foosled everything, and at last I heard exclamations, and called out to him: 'What "nation," Morrison?' He replied apologetically: 'I know, I know, I felt it, but I didn't think I said it.' We have a celebrated professor who was lost from view for a time. His cradle at last came in sight, and being asked, 'Where's the professor?' called out 'He's down among the whins, talkin' to his self.' A deacon was reported as having resigned from his office in the kirk. Being asked why he did so by his minister, he explained that he had either to resign or quit playing golf, and he knew he couldn't do that."

A Rice Pudding Two Centuries Ago

The thrifty housewife would be considerably put about nowadays were she called upon to use the following recipe for a rice pudding, culled from a manuscript cook-book of the 17th century:—Take a quarter of a pound of rice, and boil it in a quart of milk till it be very tender, then put it into a culleader, and let all the milk drain from it, then beat it in a mortar very well, then grate in a quarter of a pound of Naples biscuits, and a pint of cream and six eggs, one nutmeg grated, a little beaten cinnamon, two spoonfuls of sack, a little rosewater, a little salt, and as much sugar as will season it to your taste, then take a cloth which is dipped in boiling water, and butter it very well, and strew it all over with flour, and tie it up close, and boil it one hour, then make sauce for it, rosewater, butter and sugar, and butter melted thick, pour it upon the pudding, scrape on sugar and strew on a little beaten cinnamon, and serve it up to the table.

If the modern epicure is not satisfied with the above, our ancient gastronomer gives further instructions as follows:—"If you design to bake this pudding, then put in half a pound of currants, and half as many raisins and plums, and three-quarters of a pound of beef suet, shred fine, and so bake it; one hour will bake it. The oven must not be too hot." Truly the dishes of other days would not be suited to the hurried and harried days of quick lunch.

The Wrong List.

One of Lady Rerry's recollections is of a dinner party at which she had for her neighbour Gladstone, in happiest mood. He told her of his Eton experiences and tales of terrible birches. Keate. The latter always had the names of those doomed to be flogged written down on a narrow slip of paper.

One day, picking up such a list, he called up for flogging the boys whose names were inscribed upon it. Upon such occasions the delinquents were not permitted to offer explanations so boy after boy was castigated, and returned sore and savage to his seat. Not until the operation was complete did he learn that, instead of the flogging list, he had picked up the slip on which were the names of the boys elect to be confirmed.

The Date is Fixed.

And now it is 1915 which is set for the millennium. Religious enthusiasts have been guessing at the end of the world for years, but date after date has passed, and the world still wags on. Each one of these has had a system of reckoning as certain — and as infallible — as the various systems with which it has been proposed to break the bank at Monte Carlo. The only effect of their predictions has been to upset nervous temperaments. There is nothing surer than that "no man knoweth the day nor the hour."

A Matter of Training.

The disappointed person carps at everything and makes all those in her vicinity feel ill at ease; if anything can be done to cure her, it should be done in the interest of humanity. The modern rush and worry render it more easy for anyone to lapse into that condition, for our nerves are affected to an extent which our grandmothers neither experienced nor anticipated. The way out of the trouble is a matter of training and, as the child is the mother of the woman, it is well to commence with the little one.

The Making of a Nation

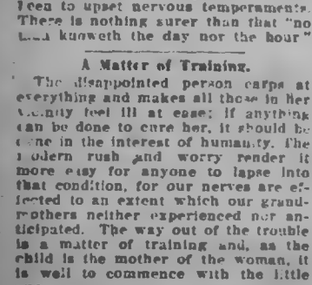
A nation is made powerful, and to be honored in the world not so much by the number of its people as by the ability and character of that people; and the ability and character of that people depend in a great measure upon the economy of the several families, which, taken together, make up the nation. There never yet was and never will be a nation permanently great, consisting for the great part of wretched miserable families

Another Reason.

Here's a new reason for the abolition of Hansard. An English financial schemer excuses his failure because he was "influenced regarding the value of the Canadian railways by reading reports of the Dominion Parliament." What sins these M.P.'s do have to answer for to be sure!

Japan's Budget

The main features of Japan's Budget, which balances at 529,000,000 yen (£54,500,000), are the reduction and reform of taxes, the increase of the salaries of Government officials, economy in administrative expenses, and the increase of the sinking fund.



EXPLORIGATE ALASKA

Queer Boat Used for First Time In Northern Waters.

Two men in a queer little power boat are on an adventurous cruise of Alaskan waters they expect will take several months. They will risk their lives in an attempt to skirt the dangerous waste of Alaska as far as Skagway, then ship their boat overland to White Horse Rpaids and from there steam down the Yukon river to Alaska. If they succeed they will have cruised, fished and hunted over several thousand miles of land and water. Old time Alaskans call the trip fool-hardy.

Edison's Vacation

Thomas A. Edison is to sail for Europe with his son Charles on a vacation. Owing to his constant work in his laboratory on improvements to the phonograph and in connection with his storage battery, he was unable to take his usual winter vacation at his home in Florida. Numerous interesting incidents are told of the inventor's last European trip in the recently published biography: "Edison: His Life and Inventions." The orchestra played the "Star Spangled Banner" and the audience rose when he entered the Paris Opera House. Other incidents and anecdotes, of which there are many in the book, tell of his meeting with fellow scientists, Eiffel, Helmholtz, Pasteur, and others.

Wister Had Hopes.

Owen Wister, in addition to being an author, has acquired some celebrity as a wit. He was being shaved in a St. Louis hotel, while returning from a trip to the West some time ago, and the barber who was attending to his needs apparently had been out the night before. His hand was very shaky, and several times the author winced.

"Will you have anything on your face when I get through?" the barber enquired, when the ordeal was almost over. "I can't tell yet," numbled Wister, "but I hope to have part of my nose."

When Flames Were Hottest.

Constable Geo. Murray, who, along with Constable Chas. Piercy, was one of the heroes in the Porcupine disaster, tells an amusing story of a man, who was beside him at the time of the burning of South Porcupine.

George was standing in water up to his neck to keep away from the flames, which were burning out over the lake. The man beside him had a pipe in his mouth, which in the excitement he had forgotten to remove. Reaching over to the constable at the time the flames were the hottest, he said: "Say, pal, hav you got a dry match?"

A Good Example.

It would see mthat there is a lesson in the activity of the Canadians in their European propaganda to secure the best there is in the immigration market. If it is to the advantage of a country that needs development to encourage immigration at all it is certainly to its advantage to secure the best and most provident class of men and women who are seeking homes in lands that are newer and more promising.

SMUGGLING MORPHIA

This treaty, which all the Powers have acceded to, would seem to stop the traffic in morphia. However, it is easy to smuggle the drug, and this is being done on a large scale. Each ounce of morphia represents a pound of crude or medicinal opium. Being so small in bulk, it can be carried easily. I was told by the purser of one of the trans-Pacific steamers, of an American doctor who smuggled $10,000 worth of morphia in his trunks into China for sale here.

A missionary doctor who ordered drugs found one bottle labelled 'pyracatine,' or some such name that he had not ordered. A letter coming afterwards said that it was morphia, called by the name to avoid trouble at the Customs, Shanghai. The doctor was much provoked with the drug firm, as he was willing to declare any morphia that he needed. This just shows that it may be introduced into China in large quantities as 'face powder,' 'baby powder', or some other name. The Chinese regulations are deficient in not providing proper means for finding out what may be morphia. Certainly much more morphia is coming into China now than the Custom House returns show. It is being used extensively in many parts of China. It forms a habit more difficult to break than that of opium smoking. It is a question that China must consider carefully to preserve her people who are trying so hard to free themselves from opium.

IRISH FUSILIERS' FINE RECORD

The Royal Irish Fusiliers held highest rank as an infantry unit in the British Army. From their first fight in 1794 down to South Africa they have lived up to their motto "Faugh-a-Ballagh," and in the past four years they have been "clearing the way" with equal vigour in more peaceful events.

In Dublin they won every contest they entered for, their trophies including the Lawson Challenge Cup for all-round excellence. Since they have been in Aldershot they have won the Duke of Connaught's challenge shield for the arduous "active service" obstacle racing (three years in succession); Aldershot Command cross-country challenge shield (each year of its existence); the Army obstacle championship (competed for this year The Royal Irish Fusiliers hold officers' team bayonet fighting championship two years in succession). They were in the final for the Army Football Cup. They won the championship of the Aldershot Command Football League, and one of their officers, Captain Kinahan, holds the Army hurdles championship.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 199 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1911 — PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles. whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? ...ouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

An Explosion Kills Fifteen

New York, Aug. 26.—Cable despatches from Port Limon, Costa Rica, tell of the loss of fifteen lives in the explosion of a powder magazine at San Jose. The dead include two army officers, three soldiers, and ten civilians.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the carelessness of a soldier, who lit a fire with which to melt lead for casting little images of saints which he sold to eke out his scanty pay.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

ON THE ROCKS THREE TIMES IN TWO DAYS

The Troubles of a Navigator on a Trip to Buckhorn.

On Wednesday last, a party composed of Mr. A. E. Belcher and Geo. Wilson, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mr. W. Malone of New York City, chartered the gasoline launch of Mr. Albert Nurse, North Monaghan, and started on a cruise of the Kawartha Lakes, intending to go to Orillia and return. They ran along all right until Stoney Lake was reached, when they missed their course and got into upper Stoney Lake, where they ran on the rocks, tearing the shoe off the boat. This necessitated a stop of a few hours for repairs. Returning they had almost reached Buckhorn, without accident, when they again bumped on the rocks, this time injuring the wheel. It required considerable time for repairs.

The party decided that it would not be wise to pursue their journey further in that direction, and decided to return. They were just entering Clear Lake on their way down when once again they met with misfortune, the man at the wheel taking the wrong side of the buoy, and again they were high and dry on the rocks. Here again several hours were consumed in repairing the damage, when another start was made for Peterborough, where the party arrived Friday last.

During the trip they were forced to "dry dock" the boat three times, entailing much labor, help having to be secured on each occasion to pull the craft out of the water.

Mr. Belcher, who called to pay his respects to The Times on Saturday, said that the party had decided to make Rice Lake the scene of their activities on account of the fact that there were so many rocks in that lake. They left in that direction on Saturday, but whether they reached their destination or not we are unable to say. If the party are fortunate enough to escape the few boulders that mark the river bed on their way, they will doubtless reach the lake in process time. Should they be lucky enough to do so, they will remain there a month, and will make a point of confining their manoeuvres to the middle of the lake so as to avoid any possibility of further accident.

Broke His Arm.

Mr. Jack Wilson, a foreman in the C.G.E. works, had the misfortune to fall and break his arm when attempting to board a boat for a trip down the river on Saturday afternoon.

Grief Led to Suicide.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 25.—Antti Lentoo, Finlander, committed suicide in his home on Watson street yesterday. His wife died very suddenly about noon and grief over her death caused him to suicide an hour later.

Children's Chest Troubles

Nurse Carrington Says Her Long Experience Proves the Safest Remedy is to RUB ON NERVILINE!

Every mother knows how difficult it is to get a young child to take a cough mixture. Seldom will one help unless given in large doses, and the result is to completely upset the stomach and make the child sick.

Speaking of the promptest cure for chest troubles and children's colds, Nurse Carrington says: "In all my experience in nursing I haven't met any preparation so dependable as Nerviline. It is the ideal liniment. Every drop you rub on is absorbed quickly sinks through the pores to the congested muscles, eases, relieves and cures quickly. Especially for chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache, toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills of children Nerviline has no equal. I think Nerviline should be in every home."

A million bottles of Nerviline used every year—this is itself a burden of proof that it is the ideal liniment for the home. Refuse anything your dealer may offer instead of Nerviline. Large bottles 25c, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, and by The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

DON'T WEAR OLD-APPEARING GLASSES

Why have glasses that are AWKWARD TO WEAR and that give an UNNECESSARILY "OLD APPEARANCE"? WHY DUCK AND PEER OVER YOUR READING GLASSES to see objects at a distance? Why wear TWO PAIR of glasses, one for distance, and the other for reading? Why wear CONSPICUOUS PASTED WAFERS CEMENTED to your distance lenses. When it is not necessary? Our Kryptok lenses avoid all these difficulties and are pleasing the wearers.

SCOURING U. S. FOR FARM HELP

North Grosvenordale, Conn., Aug. 29.—Agents of the Canadian Western Farmers' Alliance are scouring Connecticut and Rhode Island for recruits to go to Manitoba for the harvest. Transportation, board, and high wages are offered. In all the mill towns where business is slack, idle mill hands are offering their services. Large squads of recruits will be sent to the West from Providence and Worcester this week.

IMMENSE TRACTS TO BE OPENED

Already Preparing For Grain Crop of Next Season in West.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Already preparations are being made for next year's crops. In districts where harvesting is nearly, or quite, finished, immense tracts are being broken. Sixty steam and gasoline plowing outfits were unloaded at Kindersley, Saskatchewan, this season, and these highly effective engines of agriculture have been busy all over the West. In all sections, the plowing outfits will be kept at the work until winter puts a stop to farming operations. The increase of acreage under crop in 1911 over 1910 was about two million acres, but it is certain that next, year's increase will be far greater.

REV. MR. HOSSACK SPEAKS ON THE NE TEMERE DECREE

In the course of his address in Toronto on Monday, Rev. Mr. Hossack said:

There is another and important issue to which reference was made in Parliament during the past session, and which has, during the last few months been discussed by the press and by all the great Protestant Councils. It is the apparent attempt of the ecclesiastics of the Roman Catholic Church to make this Church not only dominant in this country, but practically the State Church of Canada. As one of our leading journals has expressed it, "there is a constant effort of Ultramontanes in Canada to strive for more and more political control. To have influence at Ottawa is their ideal." Recently, a leading journal expressed its willingness to concede to any church its just right of representation, and expressed its anxiety to see the Roman Catholic element adequately represented.

CHURCH REPRESENTATIVES AT OTTAWA.

What right has the Roman Catholic or any Church to have representatives at Ottawa? We require men at Ottawa to represent the whole people, and not any particular church or creed. This attempt to gain authority, as indicated by the "Ne Temere" decree, has aroused wide discussion and deep feeling. It is possible that when the reciprocity issue is settled this problem will still be with us. Since I announced my candidature, I have been waited upon by many electors, and have been told that I will be publicly asked to state my views on this question. Under the circumstances I prefer to state my views now.

IN OTHER COUNTRIES.

In Germany the decree was suspended by the Vatican "to preserve peace and tranquility." In Italy it was deemed necessary to pass legislation for the protection of the people in regard to this matter. It is said that the prelates of the United States are petitioning for the withdrawal of the decree. The Government in Canada has done nothing in regard to this matter, and the Opposition has been silent, although tens of thousands of Canadian citizens are aroused. In resisting this decree we are not attacking but defending. While no one will question the right of any church to make its own ecclesiastical laws for the guidance of the members of its own Communion, it is evident that British law will not permit any Church or sect to assume authority superior to the law of the State.

MUST NOT BE PERMITTED IN CANADA.

When the Church declares void a marriage ceremony legally performed by a State official its position is untenable and it provokes resistance and strife. The "Ne Temere" decree must not be permitted in Canada. In this British democracy of ours there must be separation between Church and State, and no Church must be permitted to assume authority greater than that of any other church.

DOMINION MARRIAGE LAW.

While I have the most kindly feelings for the members of the great and historic Roman Catholic Church many of whose members have been friends of mine for years, I am strongly of the opinion that in the interests of morality and peace there should be enacted a Dominion marriage law, by which every marriage contract in this country will be a civil contract, unassailable by any Church. Every Church may add to and surround this contract with any religious ceremony it may deem wise and in the interests of its communicants.

PUBLIC OPINION

WHO WANTS RECIPROCITY?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—It is an interesting question—Who wants reciprocity? Well, we know that President Taft and his Secretary of State, Mr. Knox, want it very much indeed, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding, and some of the Liberal party want it. Messrs. Taft and Laurier and all Americans want it, because they wish to attach Canadian trade to American interests, and to detach Canadian trade interests from Britain so as to prevent the commercial consolidation of the British Empire. President Taft and his fellow-countrymen want reciprocity because they want access to the natural resources of Canada. The Americans having exhausted their own with unparalleled recklessness and shameless disregard of the necessities of the future. Having cut down all their own forests Americans now wish to cut down ours. Not having enough wheat to keep their flour mills fully employed—the capacity of the American mills being 33 per cent. greater than is needed to mill American wheat—the millers of Minneapolis and other places want Canadian wheat and want it badly. The future of American milling with the enormous Canadian crop free and flowing into their mills is great and glorious—for Americans. The continent of America will flourish as agreen bay tree, except that part of it still colored red on the map and styled The Dominion of Canada. President Taft and his fellow countrymen want reciprocity, not only because they want the Canadian forests and Canadian wheat. They want it, before all things, because it means the Ascendency of the American Republic, because it means the heading off of Canada's direct trade with Europe, because it means the waining of British Imperialism, because it means annexation of Canada to the United States, and because it means the driving out of the British flag from this continent. It is not fair to say that all Canadians who are in favor of reciprocity want it for the reasons that President Taft and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding want it. There are very few Canadians who are traitors to their country. The great mass of the Liberal party is so far as they desire reciprocity at all desire it because they think it will put a few more dollars into their pockets. This is their sole and only reason. It is not very enobling, but is it not traitorous? It is the only kind of argument that appeals to the dull-witted and selfish. Once such people can be made to understand that reciprocity is a splendid thing for the United States but absolutely stultifying and destructive for Canada and Canadians, reciprocity will have no advocates, save Messrs. Laurier and Fielding.

DRESSING HOUSE NEEDED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice a suggestion in a local paper that a dressing house be erected in Inverlea Park. I think this a good idea. The cement wall built along in the water is a protection to children from drowning.

I happen to know that dozens of youngsters would use this place for bathing were a place provided for robing and disrobing. I hope The Times will take the matter up and see that this is done early next season.

North Ward.

A LETTER FROM SYRACUSE ON THE RECIPROCITY DEAL.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Will you allow me space to say a few words about the public question which is now occupying the minds of your public men and the ratepayers of our beloved Canada.

Reciprocity is not the question at stake, according to the newspapers on this side of the line. The only way that they spell it is

A-N-N-E-X-A-T-I-O-N

And some papers have the audacity to say that "if Canada does not elect the reciprocity party (Liberal) in power in Canada, they will make Canada wish she had never been born. They will raise the tariff wall so high that the Canadians cannot climb over it. Yes, we will force Canada to be annexed to us, in the same manner as we forced the Sandwich Islands into Annexation, and the same way as we will force all of the small republics north of the Isthmus of Panama." Can you tell me who is instigating rebellion in Mexico? and the other small republics to the south of the U.S. No one but American capitalists. Who is it that is at the bottom of the upheaval in England at the present time? No one but American agitators to injure British trade as much as possible. Who is it that has fomented labor troubles in Canada for the last twenty-five or thirty years? No one but American agitators, shouting that accursed socialistic propaganda. Who is it that is constantly stirring up international strife between the British colonies and United States? No one but American capitalists and Yankee jingoes writers. I could go on and site case after case in the last one hundred years when United States has been filled with the lust for gold and territory have withheld information and forged maps, to carry out their covetous desires. Give United States reciprocity in any produce whatever and they will put a heavy duty on the bag or barrel, or box or tin that they are carried or shipped into the U.S., on fish which was to be admitted free into U.S. The Government to the south of us put a duty on the cases, etc. See United States statutes at large (1875) V. 18, p. 308, which reads:—"Cans or packages made of tin, or

KILLED THREE CHILDREN, FATHER THEN SUICIDED

WAS CRAZED WITH GRIEF AT DEATH OF HIS WIFE.

Sent $800 to His Pastor to Pay for the Funeral Expenses and Cost of His Wife's Illness—A Quadruple Funeral.

South Thomaston, Maine, Aug. 29.—Neighbors of Edward Bennett, the Englishman and graduate of Oxford University who yesterday killed his three small children and then ended his own life because of grief over the death of his wife, began arrangements to-day for the burial of the little family, as there is no relatives in this country. Mr. Bennett sent about $300 to pay for the funeral expenses in a letter to Rev. Russell Woodman, pastor of the Episcopal Church at Rockland, which the Bennett family attended, to pay the cost of his wife's illness and other small debts. When the quadruple funeral will be held has not been decided yet.

NEW INQUEST AT BEAMSVILLE

Beamsville, Ont., Aug. 29.—The Comfort case, in which the coroner's jury found that the mother and her child, whose bodies were found some weeks ago in the reservoir, had both been murdered, will likely be re-opened. The authorities have discovered a man who is prepared to swear that a few weeks before the woman's death he inquired of a man with whom he was working, as Edna Comfort passed them, who she was. He says the man replied: "That is Edna Comfort, and I wish to God she was in the bottom of the reservoir."

Woman Found in Lake.

St. Thomas, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Morrison, aged 55, who went to Port Stanley on a late car last night, was found lying on the beach early this morning, submerged in the lake with the exception of her head. She was unconscious, but was resuscitated and will recover.

YOUNG GIRL'S TRANCE HAS LASTED FOR FIVE DAYS

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Blanche David, the young girl who was taken to the Western Hospital last Thursday, in an unconscious condition from the car barns of the Montreal Railway Company, and who was found to be in a trance, was still in the same condition up till an early hour this morning. She showed signs on Sunday night of regaining consciousness, but again relapsed into her trance-like sleep.

THE ENTIRE FAMILY WAS WIPED OUT IN THE PANIC

East Liverpool, O., Aug. 29.—With the death of Mrs. Neil Laird and her daughter Anna, in the Canonsburg, Pa., posture show panic, the entire family was wiped out after a series of tragedies. Three years ago the father was drowned in the reservoir of the waterworks here, and a year later two children were burned to death in the fire which destroyed the family home. Mrs. Laird with the remaining daughter, then went to Canonsburg, where they were employed in a pottery until the disaster which ended their lives.

SAW MEN'S FACES IN THE ICE

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 29.—Tourists while crossing the Loobchen glazier yesterday saw deep down in the clear ice the faces of two men. The guides accompanying the party chipped out with their ice axes the frozen bodies of the two men and brought them to the surface.

The bodies have not yet been identified, but they are probably those of two London tourists named Bemebecke and Coin who disappeared fourteen years ago.

The bride's fifth husband died six weeks ago at the county poor farm here. The pair were given an ovation when they left for a wedding trip. Although grey-haired Mrs. Indow does not look so near the century mark. Indow wore overalls and a hickory shirt on his honeymoon. He declared he married his wife because he loved her.

SHOCKED THE PALL-BEARERS

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—As the casket containing the body of Stephen Mastiowics, ticket seller in the ill-fated moving picture show, was being borne to the grave in the cemetery here lightning struck a tree under which the procession was passing, and the six pall-bearers were knocked down. John Hodie, a brother-in-law of the deceased, was rendered unconscious, and the mourners were panic stricken. The casket dropped into the mud where it lay until the party had recovered from the shock. Hodie was not seriously injured, but it was necessary to remove him from the cemetery in a carriage.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS

CAUSE, RUSH OF BLOOD, FULLNESS, DIZZINESS.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which I had lately noticed, was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he were elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild, certain, and always curative. Refuse any substitute. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

OBITUARY.

John Daynard.

Peterborough lost another old and highly esteemed citizen on Monday evening, when Mr. John Daynard, 569 Albert street, passed away after a lingering illness. The disease from which he suffered for some years was thought to be a form of indigestion, but cancerous symptoms developed during the last few months and his demise was therefore not unexpected. The deceased was born near Omemee nearly forty years ago and came to Peterborough some years later. About nine years ago he went to Toronto and worked as a bridge maker in the Canada Foundry Co. He returned to Peterborough last May and has been a strict attendant of Charlotte street Methodist church and a member of the Stanley, A.O.F.

He is survived by a wife and two sons, and one daughter. Three sisters also mourn his loss in the persons of Mrs. Armstrong, Toronto, Mrs. Christo, Tilsonburg and Mrs. Pogue, Hamilton, as well as three brothers.

The funeral will be conducted by the A.O.F., of which he was a member, and will take place to-morrow, at 3.30 to Little Lake cemetery.

A well known Des-Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

KILLED HIS CHILDREN.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Word has just been received here of a double tragedy which occurred at Happyland, 90 miles north of Maple Creek, on Aug. 20th. Phillips Voltman, while shooting ducks, accidently killed his son and daughter, aged 9 and 11 years. The bodies were buried without an inquest.

TWO CHILDREN KIDNAPPED

Parents Overcame Their Terror and Reported the Matter to Police.

New York, Aug. 29.—The police attacked the problem of restoring two kidnapped Italian children to-day with the belief that they had to deal with an organized gang operating under the auspices of the Black Hand.

Four weeks ago Vincenzo Sabella disappeared and three weeks later, little Peter Quartararo vanished while playing on the street, and afterwards their parents received a number of letters, demanding $10,000 ransom for the Sabella boy and $1000 for young Quartararo.

The letters, signed with the skull and cross bones and smeared apparently, with blood, finally caused the terrified parents to overcome their dread of the Italian secret society and report the cases to the police. Neither made any effort to comply with the demands of the kidnappers, although Sabella is said to be wealthy. The letters in both cases were worded exactly the same.

ITALIAN WOMAN AT KINGSTON

Woman Convicted of Murder Is Sent Down for Life Imprisonment.

Sault Ste Marie, Ont., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Angelino Neapolitano, the convicted slayer of her husband, who was sentenced to die on August 9th, but who through the efforts of the women of Canada and the United States was spared to spend her life in prison, was removed from the district jail at midnight last night and placed aboard a steamer en route to Kingston Penitentiary.

There was an affecting scene during the morning, when the baby for whose birth the date of execution had been delayed, was taken from her to be placed in care of the Children's Aid Society, which has now custody of her five children. Before leaving she took an affectionate farewell of all the children, and with tears in her eyes made for the door, where a closed carriage was waiting to convey her to the steamer. Her identity was not disclosed, and the other passengers had no idea who the little, stout Italian woman was.

SEEMED TO GIVE HIM A NEW STOMACH.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the peoperty, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 30th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

A. P. Stratton

"LET LAURIER FINISH HIS WORK"

The Grand Trunk Pacific Scheme Is a Direct Result of the Abandonment of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Always when a country adopts a new and definite line of policy, some special, tremendous work is undertaken, which embodies that policy and becomes its monument. That is as inevitable as that day should follow night. It may be undertaken by members of the community, whose efforts may coalesce in several enterprises, or the Government itself may launch some scheme in the name of the country.

Canada furnishes two outstanding examples of this. The logical outcome of Confederation was an ocean-to-ocean Canada. The logical necessity of an ocean-to-ocean Canada was an ocean-to-ocean railway. The Canadian Pacific had to be. It was first undertaken by the Government, and was then committed to private hands, with Government assistance.

When the abandonment of the Reciprocity idea was so quickly succeeded by a marvelous expansion of business, and, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier said, "We now put all our hopes upon the British trade," the policy of fiscal independence had its sequel in a vast engine designed to establish that independence—the National Transcontinental Railway—which is to be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, to which the backing of the public treasury was liberally given.

The general election of 1904 was fought on the wisdom of the Grand Trunk Pacific and National Transcontinental bargain, which was the Government's method of carrying to its logical end the repeal of the Reciprocity offer, and of implementing the Premier's announcement to the Imperial Conference, that Canada was devoted to East-and-West trade.

The election was won by the Government, and the railway was begun. In 1908 the Government went to the country again—not on the wisdom of the bargain, but on the necessity of completing the job. "Let Laurier finish his work," was the victorious slogan.

The work is not finished. Another in competition with it has been begun.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

SEVEN

BEWARE THE COMPETITOR

Sir Wilfrid Said, "Heaven Grant That It Be Not Already Too Late"

By JOHN V. BORNE.

A great deal has been said for and against the contention that in making a reciprocity agreement without consulting the people the Dominion Government reversed its established policy.

Those who say the Liberal party was always committed to Reciprocity, forget that the transcontinental railway policy was based on the abandonment of reciprocity, and that the general election of 1904, won by the Government, was the strongest endorsement of the abandonment of Reciprocity the country could give; for it authorized the Government to spend large sums of money to make new channels of East and West trade, which Reciprocity would have rendered unnecessary.

Listen to the Prime Minister justifying the great scheme:—

A railway to extend from the shores of the Atlantic Ocean to the shores of the Pacific Ocean, and to be, every inch of it, on Canadian soil, is a national as well as a commercial necessity. That such a road must be built, that it is, in the language which I have used, a national and a commercial necessity, that it is a corollary of our status as a nation, that it is a requisite of our commercial development, is a proposition to which, up to this moment, I have heard no dissent.

We consider that it is the duty of all those who sit within these walls by the will of the people, to provide immediate means whereby the products of those new settlers may find an exit to the ocean at the least possible cost, and whereby, likewise, a market may be found in this new region for those who toil in the forests, in the fields, in the mines. In the shops of the old Provinces. Such is our duty; it is immediate and imperative. It is not for to-morrow, but of this day, of this hour, and of this minute. Heaven grant that it be not already too late; heaven grant that whilst we tarry and dispute, the trade of Canada is not deviated to other channels, and that an ever vigilant competitor does not take to himself the trade that properly belongs to those who acknowledge Canada as their native or their adopted land.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

EIGHT

CANADA'S INDEPENDENCE

The Finance Minister Would Have Built a Third Transcontinental to Emphasize It

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though the Prime Minister always speaks for the Government, great importance attaches to the declarations of their Ministers: and, where big expenditures are concerned, especially to the Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding.

In turning from the United States Mr. Fielding was as thoroughgoing as his chief. He told the House of Commons:—

It is desirable that we should give our American brethren to understand that Canada is resolved to work out her independence in these things, that the present proposal will promote this object, and that even if still another railway should be necessary we shall be prepared to construct it. The attitude that the Government has taken upon this subject ..... has already attracted much attention across the border, and there is a much keener appreciation of Canada's independence than ever before.

You will at once be struck by the clearness of the allusion to the desirability of achieving independence of the United States. Why should there be this persistent appearance of the United States in the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding insisting upon the building of a railway that was not to approach the United States border line? There was no proposal to build the line north and south instead of east and west.

It could only be because some condition that formerly affected the relations of Canada with the United States had undergone a change. What was it? You may search the records of the times in vain for the slightest proof that there had been any question between the two countries which could be a factor in Canada's embarkation on a vast commercial enterprise, except one—and that was the question of reciprocity.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier had led the Liberals who in 1891 desired unrestricted reciprocity. Mr. Fielding when Premier of Nova Scotia had kept an open door for his Province's withdrawal from Confederation, because it was thought better to trade with the United States than with the rest of Canada. Especially to them, therefore, the new transcontinental railway scheme was a confirmation of the abandonment of the reciprocal idea; and their assertion of the Fiscal Independence of Canada was consequently all the more definite and clearcut.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

NINE

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

Means Just About the Same as "Let Laurier Finish His Work"

By JOHN V. BORNE.

In reality there is not much difference between "Let Laurier Finish His Work" and "Let well enough alone." Mr. Fielding has sneered at "Let well enough alone." He has read into it the meaning that Canada should be content with the commercial progress already made.

"Let Laurier Finish His Work" meant "Let the Government complete the project which is intended to enlarge and consolidate trade between the provinces and trade with Great Britain."

"Let well enough alone" means "Let us not turn aside from the development of Canada on the lines that have proved our ability to be independent of the United States; and which are the best guarantee that our expenditure of $200,000,000 on a railway that is to strengthen this independence will not be prejudiced."

How important is the work by which Sir Wilfrid Laurier wishes to be judged—the work which arose directly out of the abandonment of reciprocity—may be judged by the Minister of Railways' statement on March 10th, 1911, as to the cost of the National Transcontinental, which is being built from Moncton, New Brunswick, to Winnipeg—1,804 miles:—

Cost of work done to December 31st, 1910	$94,550,500
Estimated cost of work required to complete	50,759,200
	$145,339,700

The figures, which do not include interest charges during construction, work out at $80,585 per mile. At the end of January, 1911, the total percentage of work done on all contracts was 67.62 per cent.—roughly, two-thirds.

These figures do not include a cent of the Government's obligations for the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

TEN

THE EVER-VIGILANT COMPETITOR

How the Government Spends Millions to Keep Him Out and Then Brings Him In

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Yearly interest, at four per cent., on the cost of the National Transcontinental Railway will be $3,200 per mile, roughly, five and three-quarter million dollars a year.

Having been in business thirty years the Canadian Pacific Railway, after meeting operating expenses, has to find $901 per mile for fixed charges, before it can pay dividends. On an average of 65 per cent. of its earnings are absorbed by operating expenses. If the National Transcontinental can begin with an equally good proportion of earnings to expenses, it will need to earn, in order to pay its fixed charges, $16,000,000 a year, in an empty country, which is being opened up entirely to enlarge east and west trade and trade with Great Britain. This is exclusive of the earnings of the Grand Trunk Pacific beyond Winnipeg.

There are two dominant reasons why the Government's predictions about its great railway should be realized, both of which make the earning capacity of the railway a matter of extraordinary importance to the Canadian people.

The first is that the people must pay the interest on the cost, whether the railway earns it or not, and therefore, every taxpayer has a direct responsibility for making the line profitable.

The second is that, if the Transcontinental cannot make both ends meet out of earnings, and the public treasury has to be drawn on, Canadian credit will be seriously prejudiced, because, for the first time in the Twentieth Century (which Sir Wilfrid Laurier proclaimed to be Canada's Century) a great new transportation undertaking in the Dominion will fail to be self-supporting, with obvious effect on the further supply of capital for Canadian development.

The Prime Minister was afraid the National Transcontinental might be too late against the "ever-vigilant competitor to the south." Reciprocity gives the competitor a three years' start of the Transcontinental Railway which was to defeat him.

$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

(Signed),
J. H. BURNHAM.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

BLOW AIMED BY CONGRESS

Against Canada's Dealings With Britain Caused President Taft to Approach Ottawa

By JOHN V. BORNE.

A few years ago Canada began to look like a promised land to the people across the border. Men began to say that the statesmanship which first gave and then took away Reciprocity, and then aggravated the taking away, was not statesmanship at all—it was dog-gone foolishness. Nothing like this had ever been said about the United States statesmanship—in the United States. A call arose for access to Canada, by offering Canada access to the United States, by a return to the Reciprocal idea formally abjured by Canada.

In fulness of time this new song reached Washington, and a President who was in sore distress because his people hated a tariff bill which he had described as the best ever, and complained, like the children of Israel, that it was getting harder and harder to live, and that they must be relieved of the afflictions of the trusts and combines.

The President turned to Reciprocity with Canada as a means of relieving everybody. It would relieve the President of the worsening incubus of the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Bill, would relieve the consumer of his sense of oppression, and it would relieve Canada of the natural resources whose enormous value was beginning to be appreciated in the United States.

There was another reason. Congress had planned a blow at Canada which it left the President to deliver, and which he did not want to deliver. Canada had made a family preferential trading arrangement with Great Britain, which had operated for thirteen years as an equalizer of the advantage enjoyed by the United States manufacturers on account of their close proximity to the Canadian market. As a blow against British Preference on this continent, Congress devised a maximum tariff which the President must enforce, whenever it appeared that any country gave to its allies something it did not give to the United States.

The President felt obliged to inflict this punishment on Canada unless Canada would help save his face, by a few trifling concessions. Canada sent Mr. Fielding to Albany, and the President's face was saved.

He asked for more.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FOURTEEN

TO HELP PRESIDENT TAFT

Canadian Representatives Saved His Whole Body, Instead of Face Only, as Expected

By JOHN V. BORNE.

In the fall of 1910, two emissaries went to Ottawa from Washington and conferred with the Dominion Government with a view to making a Reciprocity Agreement. When the year had turned, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson paid a return visit and made the agreement in Washington without coming back to Ottawa to consult their colleagues.

In Canada a preponderance of opinion had declared against any substantial concession to United States sentiment. For instance, Senator Sir George W. Ross, the Liberal ex-Premier of Ontario, in a very able speech, contended that Canada did not need a reciprocity treaty, and declared that any proposals should be made "as openly as if they were submitted to Parliament."

The utmost expected was a few unimportant changes, sufficient to save the President's face once more. The agreement was disclosed simultaneously at Ottawa and Washington. To everybody's surprise, it was seen that not merely the President's face, but his whole body had been saved. A prospect had been opened up to the United States which put the Payne-Aldrich Bill into the shade, and turned public contemplation towards the natural resources of Canada.

How clearly this was so is evident from President Taft's message to Congress. The President, of course, used extremely diplomatic language, but he could not help showing the ultimate object of the Agreement from his point of view. Take some of his sentences:—

If we can enlarge our supply of natural resources, and especially of food products and the necessities of life, without substantial injury to any of our producing and manufacturing classes, we should take steps to do so now . . . Ought we not, then, to arrange a commercial agreement with Canada, if we can, by which we shall have direct access to her great supply of natural products without an obstructing or prohibitory tariff.

The Dominion has an active, aggressive and intelligent people. They are coming to the parting of the ways. . . . Should we not now, therefore, before their policy has become too crystallized and fixed for change, greatly increase the natural resources available to our people?

By giving our people access to Canadian forests we shall reduce the consumption of our own.

"SHE BURNS GREEN."

How the Phrase Came to Be a Classic Yell Among Prospectors.

Although the prospector is generally supposed to be associated with the search for precious metal his attention is by no means confined to that. A writer in the Los Angeles 'Times' tells of a group of valuable claims in the Silver Mountain mining district, which includes the whole of Black Mountain.

It was long considered worthless until an up-to-date prospector recognised it as 'cement rock', the principal ingredient from which Portland cement is made.

Another example is furnished by the discovery of borax in Death Valley, one of the most valuable strikes ever made in California. The discoverer, Aaron Winters, was at that time living in a lonely little shack on the Amargosa flats at the south end of the valley

Thither, attracted by the light, came one night a vagrant prospector from Nevada. He had with him a sample of borax brought from a small deposit across the border. This Winters instantly recognized as being the same curious stuff which he had seen lying in great beds in Death Valley, but of which he had never known the name.

Adroitly questioned the wanderer explained to Winters the simple but little known test for borax. No sooner was their visitor safely gone than Winters and his wife, carrying food and water, a pick, a saucer and a bottle of alcohol, set out on foot northward into the valley. At night fall the next day they arrived at the first of the strange beds.

Without even waiting to moisten his parched throat Winters fell upon it with pick and bare hands till a little of the surface crust was removed. He scraped up a handful of the loose stuff, piled it in the saucer, moistened it with alcohol and struck a match. An instant later he hurled his hat in one direction, his pick in another, and seizing his wife, waltzed that astonished lady round the strange, flickering flame, whooping: 'She burns green, Rosie! She burns green!'

Winters realised a fortune from his discovery. Even to-day the man of the valley, lighting upon something new heralds his find with the classic yell, 'She burns green!'

Long Speeches.

M. Jaures is not at all pleased with the proposal before the French Chamber to limit the duration of speeches to ten minutes. All that really need be said on most matters could, if the speaker clearly grasped his subject, be spoken in ten minutes, but probably the Socialist leader is jealous of the latitude recently allowed the Austrian Deputy Kotlorsch, who spoke for three hours. But his record is beaten by an instance in England, when an opponent of O'Connell obstructed one of his bills by speaking for eight hours. Senator Summer at the time of the American war of secession, delivered an ovation lasting eleven hours. At the Assembly at Bordeaux in 1871 the Mayor of Strassburg brought about his death from the exhaustion followed upon his speech.

THE LATE KING OF SIAM

The late King of Siam, whose full title was Somdet-Phra-Paramindmaha Chula - Longkorn-Chula - Chom-Klao, was one of the eighty-four sons of Maha-Morgkut. He had completed the fifty-eighth year of his life and the forty-third of his reign, the longest in the history of the nation. He was considered one of the broadest minded and most cultivated rulers of the far East Under the tuition of an English governess in the royal household he learned to speak English and French perfectly. He instituted numerous reforms in his Government, abolished slavery, lowered the taxes, opened up canals for irrigation and transportation, instituted a superb system of highways for the development of commerce, built telegraphs and hospitals, guaranteed religious liberty, reorganized the army and built a navy of twenty vessels. Though Siam is an autocracy, the king was democratic in his spirit and gathered about him a Cabinet Council of six royal princes and thirteen ministers of state.

If I Should Die To-night.

(Revised Version.)

If I should die to-night
And should you come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die to-night
And you should come in deepest grief and woe
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe"—
I might arise in my large white cravat
And say, "What's that?"
If I should die to-night
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel.
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel—
I say, if I should die to-night,
And you should come to me and there and then
Just even hint 'bout payin' me that ten
I might arise the while;
But I'd drop dead again.

Free Fare, Little Salary.

In some foreign countries a liberal allowance in the way of travelling expenses makes a meagre salary a respectable one. In Italy, for instance, the journalist, with barely one or two exceptions, works for a salary which we pampered ones in Canada would laugh at. But he has his compensations. He—and not only himself, but his wife and family, too—travels free on all the railways, whether the journey is on business or not. If he wishes to go to the theatre, and to take his friends, he has only to ask and the requisite box or stalls are at his disposal—and that, however humble his professional rank may be. On the whole, the Canadian journalist prefers not to be paid in this kind.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

CURED SIX YEARS.

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1.00; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CAPTAIN OF SLOCUM LEAVES SING SING.

Recalls Burning of the Excursion Steamer in Which 1,000 Lives Were Lost.

New York, Aug. 28.—Capt. William H. Van Schaick, who was commander of the excursion steamer General Slocum when it burned in Hell Gate June 15, 1904, with the loss of a thousand lives, was paroled by the United States Government on Saturday, and has returned to his home in this city from Sing Sing prison He had been sentenced to ten years, but served only two years and a half.

It was a surprise to his wife and family and the captain himself, for the old man was almost overcome when Warden Kennedy, of Sing Sing told him that parole papers had arrived.

He has many difficulties to contend with in getting this work through in the short time allotted, not the least of which was the scarcity of labor. But Mr. Johnston is a hustler, and will have things in readiness or nearly so.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 200 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDENESDAY, AUGUST 30 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

W. J. KERR, LIMITED,
New Westminster, B. C.

Dear Sir:—

I am interested in your fruit lands offer at Flesherton Gardens. Please send me particulars of how I can secure a five acre farm.

An Explosion Kills Fifteen

New York, Aug. 26.—Cable despatches from Port Limon, Costa Rica, tell of the loss of fifteen lives in the explosion of a powder magazine at San Jose. The dead include two army officers, three soldiers, and ten civilians.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the carelessness of a soldier, who lit a fire with which to melt lead for casting little images of saints which he sold to eke out his scanty pay.

Mr. T. F. Matthews was in Montreal yesterday on business.

MOTOR COLLISION

The car was in collision with a carriage.

ON THE ROCKS THREE TIMES IN TWO DAYS

The Troubles of a Navigator on a Trip to Buckhorn.

On Wednesday last, a party composed of Mr. A. E. Belcher and Geo. Wilson, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mr. W. Malone of New York City, chartered the gasoline launch of Mr. Albert Nurse, North Monaghan, and started on a cruise of the Kawartha Lakes, intending to go to Orillia and return. They ran along all right until Stoney Lake was reached, when they missed their course and got into upper Stoney Lake, where they ran on the rocks, tearing the shoe off the boat. This necessitated a stop of a few hours for repairs. Returning they had almost reached Buckhorn, without accident, when they again bumped on the rocks, this time injuring the wheel. It required considerable time for repairs.

The party decided that it would not be wise to pursue their journey further in that direction, and decided to return. They were just entering Clear Lake on their way down when once again they met with misfortune, the man at the wheel taking the wrong side of the buoy, and again they were high and dry on the rocks. Here again several hours were consumed in repairing the damage, when another start was made for Peterborough, where the party arrived Friday last.

During the trip they were forced to "dry dock" the boat three times, entailing much labor, help having to be secured on each occasion to pull the craft out of the water.

Mr. Belcher, who called to pay his respects to The Times on Saturday, said that the party had decided to make Rice Lake the scene of their activities on account of the fact that there were so many rocks in that lake. They left in that direction on Saturday, but whether they reached their destination or not we are unable to say. If the party are fortunate enough to escape the few boulders that mark the river bed on their way, they will doubtless reach the lake in process time. Should they be lucky enough to do so, they will remain there a month, and will make a point of confining their manoeuvres to the middle of the lake so as to avoid any possibility of further accident.

Broke His Arm.

Mr. Jack Wilson, a foreman in the C.G.E. works, had the misfortune to fall and break his arm when attempting to board a boat for a trip down the river on Saturday afternoon.

Grief Led to Suicide.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 25.—Antli Lentoe, Finlander, committed suicide in his home on Watson street yesterday. His wife died very suddenly about noon and grief over her death caused him to suicide an hour later.

Gypsies En Route.

An encampment of Gypsies is reported to have settled at Tweed for a few days. They are said, however, to be well-to-do and very civil, so that should they happen to visit our city, we need not fear a repitition of the actions of the Gypsies, whose visit is still in our memories.

His Money Was Safe.

A young man who has been employed on the construction of the new powerhouse at Auburn, was taken in drunk by the police. His purse was very well supplied, so that it is fortunate that he fell in with the police. He appeared before Magistrate Dumble, and upon his promise to reform, he was allowed to go.

Well Known Everywhere.

A gentleman called at The Times office yesterday morning and purchased a copy of the paper. He said: "I hear good reports of the Times everywhere I go, even as far east as Ottawa." It is evident that this great family journal is rapidly growing in popular favour, and we intend that this shall continue, for our purpose is to improve the paper in the near future by increasing the amount of reading matter.

A Warning.

For some time past the William Hamilton Company has been annoyed by a band of boys damaging the dam in the creek, which holds the water back from the boiler room of the foundry. On Monday the police were called to attend to the young scamps and the boys are warned, that if anything of this nature occurs again the officers of the law will be put next to their conduct, and shot time may follow for the boys concerned

Water is Low.

The water in the Kawartha Lakes is extremely low this season. In Buckhorn and Stoney Lake especially navigation is impaired, and steamers and launches have to be careful to keep in the boat channel, so as to avoid striking some rocks now dangerously near the surface, and which they could sail over in other seasons. The cottagers who are accustomed to go carelessly about the lake are the most inconvenienced by this decrease in the depth of the water.

Harvest Festival.

The harvest festival entertainment in connection with the Fraserville Methodist Church will be held tonight and promises to surpass, in point of success any similar event in the history of the church. Elaborate preparations have been made. There will be a splendid programme, preceded by a supper, such as only the ladies of Fraserville church know how to provide.

New Wharf at Branden's Landing.

On Friday, September 1st, at 4 o'clock p.m., the new dock that has been erected on the shore of Chemong Lake, will be formally handed over to the municipality of Smith. An officer of the Dominion Government will be present at the ceremony and the municipal council of Smith have arranged to be present on behalf of the township. The council extends an invitation to all ratepayers of Smith township to be present at the occasion.

Labor Day Sports.

The Trades and Labor Council have arranged for a fine programme of sports on Labour Day. The Brinton Carpet Works have kindly donated a beautiful $25 rug, to be drawn for, thus giving evetyone who buys a ticket a chance for avaluable prize. The sports will be held at Riverside Park, and will be in charge of Mr. Thompson, physical director of the local Y. M.C.A. The 57th band will be in attendance, and there will be a refreshment booth on the grounds. The main feature of the afternoon will be a baseball match between Peterborough and Belleville.

Will Open on Time.

The extensive repairs to the Central school, which are now under way will be finished in time to allow the pupils to come back to school at the usual date. Among other things, new hardwood floors have been put on seven rooms and the two halls. Some new radiators which take the pure air directly from outdoors, and new registers have been installed, which will make the ventilation of the school much better than it was last term. The improvements have been so cleverly handled that an expupil of the school would not recognize now the place of his former tortures. Mr. Johnston is confident that everything will be ready for the return of the pupils next Tuesday.

Novel Window Attraction.

In the Cressman Co's. north window is a distinctly new departure in the advertising line. The display consists of a large mechanical lion surrounded by ferns and shrubs. A card bears this inscription: "This is the den for Lion collars," which enhances the novelty of the display. The Cressman Co. are sole agents for this brand of collars, all 4-ply linen, close-fitting, lock themselves; they are reversible which makes them wear twice as long. All sell at 20c or 3 for 50c. The display is well worth seeing, and many conjectures have been put forth as to how the mechanism is controlled.

The unsightly looking piece of vegetation in front of the Curling rink on Charlotte street, will soon be removed, as the work of renovating the grounds is under way.

other material, containing fish of any kind, under any law or treaty should be charged with a specific duty," in the face of the fact that it was well known that the tins could not be used again. They put on a prohibitive duty on the package cover that the fish could not be shipped in free, and rendered the above provision of the treaty a negation. The politician of the U.S. is not to be trusted, they give us an olive branch with one hand and chain with the other. Any voter in Canada who votes for reciprocity is untrue to his country, for the reason that annexation will be the next step, and any man who votes away the citizens' defences, by marking his ballot on September 21st, is not a good Canadian.

One writer in the past has well said, "Canada's neighborship to appraise at their true value, the spasmodic political impulses which, until recently, found vent—sometimes in pleasant though vaporous, platitudes about kinship and language and political freedom; and sometimes in blustering and effervescent hostility to Great Britain. For a moment the American orator's "tail twisting" performances, or political fireworks, against "our eternal enemy, Great Britain," that "proud, arrogant and grasping enemy," formerly aroused sympathetic cheers from a portion of the American community; but in Canada they were regarded as political circus exhibitions or gaudy bathos. The forest axe, the plow-share, and the sowing and reaping machines are Canada's indigenous and cherished weapons; and armed with them, and skilled in their use, she challenges her neighbor-nation to a strenuous and scientific warfare for supremacy, on the farm-battlefields of nature."

Canada has no rights to open its markets to a nation which will say "peace" and mean something else.

One or two of the papers of this country (U.S.) have hinted that the Canadian Cabinet could be bought up and would be bought up if the Union could get reciprocity no other way. Who paid the expenses of the delegation to Washington to negotiate the pact? Who paid for all the fetes in Washington? How big a tip has the waiters (F. and L.) received? Somebody was surely been bought up to have the matter rushed through the way it has.

Voters of Canada, watch the machine, don't let them stuff the ballot boxes the way it was done in Brockville and other places only a few years ago. The Liberal machine is desperate and will go to any length to discredit, and defeat the anti-reciprocity candidates. Look at the tactics used at present in Peterborough by the Hon. J. R. Stratton, against his opponent. He is raising the religious cry with a vim, and the same may be said of many other of the past followers.

Vote for reciprocity and you are voting to say that you want annexation. Vote against it and you are voting to uphold the integrity of the British Empire. Be true to your country, your kingdom and your Empire.

Another letter will follow giving a number of interviews with prominent business men and others.

Yours for Canada,

BELGIUM PREPARES TO REPULSE GERMAN INVASION

PLANS TO REPULSE A POSSIBLE GERMAN INVASION.

Re-Equipping the Forts—Desire to Preserve the Neutrality of Belgium in Event of Franco-German War.

London, Aug. 30.—Belgium is preparing for contingencies in the event of war between France and Germany. The Belgians know by experience that the neutrality of their country would be very difficult to safeguard in such circumstances and they fear that a German invasion would take place in a few hours after an outbreak of hostilities.

GETTING MEN AND GUNS.

The Belgian Minister of War has given instructions for all forts on the Meuse, especially around Liege, to be furnished with men and ammunition. Plans of rapid mobilization are being studied and the forts at Namur are being fitted with new cannon of the Hotchkiss type. The annual manoeuvres of the Belgian army will not take place this year.

Liege, Belgium, Aug. 30.—An intense sensation has been created among the Belgian people especially near the boundaries of France and Germany by the military precautions which are being put into effect by the Belgian Government.

A military council was held yesterday at the Villa of Lieutenant-General Hellebaut, the Minister of War, at which the commandants of all the frontier defences and other military authorities were present.

The conference was called to consider measures to preserve the neutrality of the country in the event of war between France and Germany, so as to prevent the violation of Belgian territory by either combatant or by Great Britain, should that country become involved in the conflict.

DESTRUCTION OF BRIDGES.

Great military activity has been in evidence during the past two days. Specific instructions, it is understood have been sent to the commanders of troops concerning the blowing up of bridges and the destruction of railways should war break out.

HON. MR. GRAHAM IS HERE TODAY

Minister of Railways Will Stir Things Up

Great interest is being taken in the visit of the Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, who will address a big mass meeting of the electors this evening in the Grand Opera House. Mr. Graham is regarded as the strongest man in the Cabinet, and should get a most favorable reception. Other speakers will also address the meeting, including Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., F. D. Kerr, Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., who will preside at the meeting.

Hon. Mr. Graham will no doubt have something of interest to tell the people regarding the completion of the Trent Canal. He is a clear and forcible speaker, and his address will therefore be looked forward to with interest.

WOMEN STORM MEAT STORES—POLICE POWERLESS

AGITATION AGAINST THE HIGH PRICES ATTAINS SERIOUS PROPORTIONS.

Police are Powerless—Stocks of Provisions Thrown Into Streets by Angry Women in Northern French Towns.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The agitation against the high prices of provisions continues and disorders of considerable proportions were reported today from twelve places in Northern France. The usual procedure is for a crowd of women of the lower class to assemble and do their marketing together, carrying large placards upon which are written the prices which the women are willing to pay. If the shopkeeper assents to sell his goods at the price offered, the women buy; but if he refuses, they pitch all of his stock into the street. The man next door generally yields, though the crowd in its excitement may sack the place out of spite without inquiring whether the dealer is willing to reduce the price of his goods.

ONE BELLIGERENT BUTCHER.

The police ordinarily are inadequate to keep pace with the movement and tragi-comic incidents are reported from some localities where the storekeepers have attempted to defend their stock.

A butcher named Froissart, at Hen-in-Lietard, in Pas-De-Calais, was patrolling the sidewalk in front of his shop on horseback when his place was stormed by a crowd of 300 women, who demanded that he lower the prices. Froissart charged into the mob yelling and waving a stick, with which he knocked over several of the manifestants before he was pulled from his horse.

FIFTEEN WERE KILLED IN A BRIDGE DISASTER

Saint Moritz, Switzerland, Aug. 30—A railroad bridge, which was being constructed across a deep gorge at Bruil, six miles south of this village, collapsed last night, carrying with it thirty workmen to the depths below.

Fifteen of the men were taken out of the wreckage dead and the other fifteen are all probably fatally hurt.

INDUSTRY WILL SHUT DOWN

Biddeford, Me., Aug. 30.—It was announced from the counting room to-day that the York Manufacturing Company will shut down from Aug. 31st until September 11. The corporation has been running four days a week through the summer. About 24,000 operatives are affected.

IS WANTED IN LINDSAY

As a result of a phone message to the local police station from Lindsay stating that a man, George Macgregor, is wanted in that town, for theft, P. C. Maher gathered in a very tough looking customer last evening at nine o'clock. The man arrested appeared to be very much the worse of liquor and gave the constable a rather unpleasant task, in taking him from in front of the Royal Bank to the police station. On being questioned, he stated that he had "hoboed" it down from Toronto, and arrived in the city not long before his collision with P. C. Maher.

MEETING AT BAILLIEBORO.

Addresses by Number of Leading Conservatives.

A meeting was held in Baillieboro, south Monaghan last night, in the interests of Mr. J. H. Burnham, the Conservative candidate, which was largely attended. Mr. Burnham was accompanied by Judge K.C., James Edgar, secretary of the Conservative Association of West Peterborough, J. T. C. Lang, James Kendry, ex-M.P., and R. J. Soden.

Spirited addresses were delivered by Mr. R. Ruddy, K.C., R. J. Soden and others.

Mr. Burnham launched immediately into the trade question. Fortunately there is, he said, a secure basis for Canadians to argue from in the trade controversy, since the Department of Labor at Ottawa has now issued its official work on the question—comparative prices, Canada and the United States, 1906-11.

At the end of this treasure-house of official information, is a chart like a temperature chart. This chart shows the rise and fall of prices all the way from 1890 to 1911, and it shows that Canadian and American prices have been of the same average both in rise and fall, all the way through; one now a little higher, and then the other. It is a most striking comparison, and shows officially, that in the matter of prices of Agricultural products, fisheries, lumber, mines, there is nothing to choose between the two countries. This disposes at once of the contention that the U.S. is a better market for these products than Canada. The Globe evidently has seen this book for it has abandoned the farmer and is trying to prove that reciprocity will benefit the consumer.

He said that he had been repeatedly asked to tell his audience more of Bourassa, and in reply, he had labored to show them, that so far as he understood it, Bourassa was the leader of the French, in their desire to keep to themselves, separate and distinct. This brought them necessarily into contact with the Church which recognizes no race, and allowed no dictation from its people. Bishop Fallon and Bourassa were on exactly opposite sides. If the church were to allow the French to have their way, it would mean the practical overthrow of the Supremacy of the Hierarchy.

It was a struggle with which Protestants had very little to do, although it was intensely interesting, and might lead to most important results. The Church is against bilingualism, that is the use of French and English in Ontario schools, and the French are striving with might and main for it.

Canadian politics are rapidly becoming complicated. Mr. Burnham concluded by referring to the extreme improbability of Canada's being able to withdraw from the clutches of reciprocity. It would mean that in the end, we should give up the struggle, and join the United States. In fact Canada as a foreign power, would be stripped by the United States, but as an annexed state, she would be treated at least, half decently. It is absolutely necessary, therefore, for us to keep clear of it altogether.

At the conclusion of the speaking, cheers were given for the King and for the Conservative candidate.

PUBLIC OPINION

WHAT IT MEANS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Some people, not many fortunately, seem to have the idea that if the American duty is taken off anything it will be possible to add it to the Canadian exporters profit. This, of course, is nonsense. English goods laid down in Canada are now laid down here at English prices, plus the freight and duty. Take off the duty and they would be laid down here at English prices plus the freight. No Englishman would be mad enough to suppose that he could add the Canadian duty to his former price. If he could do so what would be the object to the Canadian of taking off the duty if it was simply to put it into the other man's pocket? The fact, of course, is that the importer gets the article so much the cheaper. The Canadian exporting to the U.S. would not get any advantage even if any such existed. The U.S. importer would. Take another instance: take the Dakota horses to be exported to our West. If the Canadian duty comes off, our West people will bring in Dakota horses because they can get horses at Dakota prices. Otherwise they would not buy there. But the Dakota exporter will get no extra price. It is not a question of the exporters getting part of the duty. He does not get any of it. Moreover, when the Liberal stumper appeals to the consumer what does he say? He says that when the duty goes off the said consumer (importer) is to be so much the richer. The truth is the reciprocity advocate has got into a tangle of absurdities and does not know how to get out of it.

J. H. Burnham.

BELOW THE BELT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I have been trying to figure out for myself this reciprocity matter and have come to the conclusion to vote against the scheme. But my sense of fair play and justice has been appealed to, and I am now inclined to change my mind. The miserable personal attacks which are being made against Mr. Stratton will only serve to make votes for him. They will certainly not strengthen the other side. Mr. Stratton, while no doubt having faults and failings, is not what some would have us believe he is. The hotheads who rush into print in abuse of a man who has so much to his credit as Mr. Stratton has, are making a grave mistake, and the leaders of the party are also making tactical blunders in permitting it.

Fair Play.

WHY I VOTE FOR MR. BURNHAM.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—I will vote for Mr. Burnham for the following good reasons:

1. Because I have a strong faith in him.
2. Because he is, in my opinion, quite as good a citizens and a man as Mr. Stratton.
3. Because I am convinced he is broad-minded and recognizes the good points in an opponent as readily and as cheerfully as he would in a friend.
4. Because he does not attempt to throw dirt at Mr. Stratton as the Liberal paper does at him, in what every fair-minded voter must see is an unfair and unsportsmanlike manner.
5. Because, I believe, when we return him and give him the chance, he will prove to be as good a representative to the city as Mr. Stratton has done and perhaps better.
6. Because in founding the "Children's Aid Society," I believe he has done as much good work as any benefit to the town his opponent has done.
7. Because I prefer the British market which has taken the Canadian farmers years to make, to the American market, which does not even support its own farmers, leave alone ours.
8. Because Mr. Burnham will support Mr. Borden, who, I believe, is a far greater statesman and patriot than Sir Wilfrid Laurier.
9. Because President Taft has told us plainly that reciprocity will benefit the American market.
10. Because Mr. Burnham does not stoop to exaggeration to help (?) his cause and a blind man can see the Liberal paper here does.

For these and many other reasons I intend to vote for Mr. Burnham and be in the good company of 99 out of every 100 Britishers here in this city.

Mr. Giroux has been much incensed of late by the boys taking his wheel.

AIRMEN NOW CARRYING PASSENGERS IN ENGLAND

London, Aug. 30.—Aviation is becoming a fashionable pastime, bookings for aerial trips having increased 100 per cent. during the last few weeks.

The growing reliability of machines and the increasing skill of airmen have mainly led to the popularity of flying. Mr. H. Barber, the inventor and pilot of the Valkyrie monoplane, whose headquarters are at Hendon, has booked $4,000 worth of passenger flights, and his "fares" require to be taken to all parts of the country.

"The aeroplane flights booked through our instrumentality are now increasing to an altogether remarkable extent," said the manager of the aviation department of Messrs. Keith, Prowse & Company.

"At first our charges for cross-country aerial journeys were at the rate of a guinea a mile. Now, however, in view of the number of flights being made, we are able to reduce the price to half a guinea a mile.

"Long distance trips by aeroplane are mainly in demand and we had a 'fare' the other day for instance from Brooklands to the Isle of Wight."

COAST TO COAST AEROPLANE FLIGHT

New York, Aug. 30.—Robert G. Fowler, of Los Angeles, Cal., is announced as the first formal entrant in the coast-to-coast aeroplane flight contest for the William Randolph Hearst prize. Fowler, who will fly a biplane in his projected transcontinental trip, is expected to start from San Francisco on Sunday, September 10th. His route calls for a crossing of the Rockies between Laramie and Cheyenne, Wyo.

LOCAL COW TESTING NEWS

In looking over the records of the Cow Testing Associations of Norwood, Indian River, Keene, Warsaw, and Shearer for the month of July, some startling figures are shown which should cause every farmer to pause and consider whether every animal in his herd is producing sufficient milk or fat to pay for the feed consumed and leave a fair profit. This can be readily ascertained by weighing the milk of each cow three days per month throughout the milking period and saving samples for testing.

The lowest amount of milk as shown by the July records is 495 lbs. while the lowest amount of fat is 16 lbs. The highest amount of milk is 1521 lbs. and the highest amount of fat is a little over 51 lbs. Valuing the fat at 22 cents a pound, there is a little over $8 difference between the poorest cow and the best. The best cow is owned by Mr. Andrew Marks, of Norwood.

A striking instance of the danger of considering a herd collectively, instead of individually is to be seen in a herd of five cows which averaged 800 lbs. of milk in July. On looking over the record of each cow it was found that one cow gave 1500 lbs. of milk, another gave 900, while the other three fell below the average, one giving only 600 lbs.

A herd of six cows belonging to Mr. Louis Brown of Norwood, made an exceptionally high record in June, averaging 1444 lbs. of milk and 49½ lbs. of fat. One cow produced 1674 lbs. of milk, but the largest amount of fat was produced by a cow which gave 1293 lbs. of milk and tested 4.2 per cent, thus producing over 54 lbs. of fat. A remarkable fact in connection with this cow is that Mr. Brown has on two occasions offered to sell her for $20, as he did not realize her value until he began testing his cows. As this cow has in June and July produced a little over a hundred pounds of fat and valuing the fat at 22 cents a lb., she has brought in for her owner in two months over $22, or more than he offered to sell her for.

Mr. Brown has grown a soiling crop of peas and oats for quite a number of years, which is fed when the grass becomes dry and short. For fifteen years a pure bred Holstein sire has been used and the herd is certainly returning to its owner the results of good breeding and proper feeding. Would it not be very interesting to know just what each cow in your herd is doing? Can you afford to take the chances of disposing of any of your cows without knowing exactly what they are producing for you?

MR. R. R. HALL GOT JUDGMENT FOR $45,000

Mr. R. R. Hall received notice yesterday of a judgment at Toronto in his favor for $45,000, and against the Trusts and Guarantee Company.

Mr. Hall took action against the liquidators to the Wm. Hamilton Company and the case was argued early this summer.

Found in a Sad Condition.

The neighbors of Miss Christine Kidd, 616 Rogers street, became alarmed yesterday morning at the silence and lack of signs of life at her residence. P. C. Kidd was phoned for, and went over. Getting no response to his knocking for admission, he forced his way in by the back door and found Miss Kidd huddled just inside the front door, covered with a rug. He had difficulty in getting her to speak. He notified the chief and Dr. McPherson was called. It seems that she has had nothing to eat for some time and she is mentally unbalanced.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $15 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Alexander, Local Manager.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

II.
Canadian Nationality In Double Harness

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

You cannot wisely consider Canadian nationality without keeping in the front of your mind the division of Canadians into those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could—the native-born and the immigrant.

Don't be scared by the immigrant. It is bad for you and worse for him. And don't think you know all about the immigrant host and their country just because you hired a green Englishman from a city, who didn't know how to put a collar on a horse.

Perhaps you never saw a Doukhobor, or a Galician, or a Buckowinian, or a Ruthenian. Thousands of these people, scattered over the prairies are Canadian citizens just as much as you are, you lucky great-grandson or great-granddaughter of a United Empire Loyalist.

They will vote on Reciprocity two thousand miles from where you are. One of these days a full-blooded Doukhobor will sit in the House of Commons. I have an excellent friend in the Saskatchewan Legislature—a Ruthenian—who couldn't speak a word of English a few years ago. It isn't far, you know, from the Assembly to the Commons. The Chairman of the Licensing Commission of the Province of Saskatchewan is a German who came from the Fatherland to Minnesota, was naturalized and elected a senator, left Minnesota for Saskatchewan, and was naturalized again.

The largest place of public assembly in Port Arthur is owned by Icelanders. In Vancouver I could take you to a Chinese theatre where two performances daily are given. The Jap is almost as numerous as the Chinaman in the salmon fisheries of British Columbia. The Hindoo's turban has become a commonplace on the Pacific Coast.

Down in Nova Scotia travellers not infrequently hear people speak of going to Canada, when they mean another province in the confederation of which Nova Scotia has been a constituent for forty years. On the prairies you will find a foreign flag exalted, I had almost said worshipped, in uncounted homes. At Red Deer, in deference to foreign sentiment, they stopped singing songs in harmony with the flag that has these thousand years braved the battle and the breeze. Canadian nationality is marching in double harness, with these imported elements in the team.

I tell you Canada is infinitely more than an Ontario concession line, a little red school house and a Loyal Orange Lodge. What is to be done about the amazing medley of kindreds and tribes and tongues which I have hinted at, and for which the Bible Society prints the Scriptures in seventy different languages?

And, mind you, there is more than the differences of race and language between you and your fellow-citizen from the South of Europe who flourishes alongside the South Saskatchewan. He comes from a country you never saw to a country you have never seen, and he knows nothing of the distinctions of the country you in habit. The prairie country and the mountains are apt to produce people different in their make-up from the dwellers in the east.

A high railway official who came east two years ago, had never seen apples growing on the trees. The non-English speaking people who have come to the country where he was born are twice as unfamiliar with the east as he was. It is something of a job in Canadian development to get all these people up there to live like you live, think like you think, and see things as you see them. And they are Canadians with full rights—citizens. Their children are the native-born, even as your children are. What do you think about it?

What ground can we line them up on so that they will stand where we stand, and be governed by the same well-springs of patriotism that move us? You perceive it must be broad ground on which to stand, and a big, high ideal at which to look. And don't forget this—the imagination of their children must be nurtured. How can anyting be accomplished in face of the tremendous differences between them and us?

Somehow, soon, we have got to get all Canadian citizens thinking about the same thing. We have got to have a common ideal about our country—their country, speakers of broken-English: owners, absolute owners of Canadian soil, that they are. They must be helped to become good Canadians.

But what is a good Canadian? Answer me this: What do you mean when you stand up and sing "God save the King"? The King is on the other side of the ocean, and you perhaps are a thousand miles from salt water. On the other side of the world people are singing "God save the King" exactly as you sing it. What have you to do with them? What have they to do with your Buckowinian fellow-citizen over on the Saskatchewan?

It is a mighty curious thing this Canadian nationality in the progress of which you have harnessed yourself, with the crowd of aliens to your ideas who have come to the Dominion from all the corners of the earth. You are sure about your own Canadianism. But what about theirs? It is up to you; for you asked them to come in, you know.

Suppose you talk it over with those Scotch and English fellows of your acquaintance. And ask your Irish friend to talk about it.

Prepare for Lumbago

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

THOUSANDS USE "NERVILINE."

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested chords and muscles.

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes LETTER NO. 4875. Darius P. Millan, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, and for days at a time I would have to lie up in bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test "Nerviline." I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of Lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain relieving power of Nerviline.

Refuse any substitute. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00 at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Morning Times

THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1911.

SHOULD NOT CONTINUE.

A correspondent of the Arnprior Chronicle tells the following, regarding one of the harvester trains going to the West:

"Friday last one of those pilgrimages to the West had reached Sand Point when something went wrong with a truck and the train was stalled here for a short time. In less time than one can describe it dozens of the roughest in the train had madly rushed to the only two stores in the village, and like a lot of demons plundered everything in sight, offering to pay for little or nothing. After they had carried off from one store all the goods they required they probably desired in an especial manner to manifest their gratitude, and picking up a boulder, one of the crowd smashed the window of a lone widow from whom they had stolen."

Every year similar stories are heard. Precaution should be taken by the railway companies against this disgraceful sort of thing. They could easily swear in a number of harvesters themselves as special constables, giving them a slight rebate on their railway fares, and thus ensure order.

CANCER AND THOSE WHO ARE LIABLE

Some Interesting Statements as the Result of Recent Research.

One of the most interesting statements in Dr. E. F. Bashford's striking report to the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, as recorded in The London Express, is that peculiar customs of the people render them especially liable to cancer.

Dr. Bashford mentions specifically the practice of eating very hot rice in China, the use of the kangri in Kashmir, and the chewing of the betel-nut "It is reasonable to suppose," he says, "that the frequency of cancer would be diminished if such practices were discontinued, and it is also reasonable to assume that the introduction into England of these exotic customs would greatly increase the frequency of cancer in this country."

It is not only abroad, however, that customs conductive of cancer prevail. An Express representative who called at the laboratories of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund was informed that to smoke short clay pipes of the "cutty" or "nose-warmer" description is to run the risk of contracting cancer. "Such pipes get very hot, and the clay often sticks to the lips," it was stated. "Any smoker who wishes to run the least possible risk of this dread disease should taboo such pipes.

"Alcoholic excess, which may lead to irritation of the stomach, is another practice which introduces the risk of cancer. Curries and highly-seasoned food generally, if taken habitually, are also a source of danger."

There are a number of trades in Britain which render the workers more liable than usual to cancer. The workman who runs most risk is probably the chimney sweep, whose body becomes covered with soot

"Unless the sweep is extremely careful to keep his skin thoroughly clean, the aniline products in the soot will cause irritation, which may end in cancer," the newspaperman was informed.

"The coal miner, on the other hand, may get covered with black dust and look exactly like a sweep, but he runs no risk. The maid who cleans the grate, however, should take great care to keep her hands and face free from soot.

"In the same way, workers in aniline factories run considerable risk, and all persons who make use of X-rays are particularly liable to cancer."

THE MAGNIFYING EYES OF THE CAMEL.

A writer in an American magazine says:

One of the camels—the seven were lying just beyond the circle of firelight — rose complaining. Mustafa's Ahmed slipped away upon his duty Presently I heard his guttural cawing to get the camel again to rest; but the beast would not down, and must be beaten — the boy meanwhile mouthing great curses. I wondered that a being so small should without peril to himself strike a creature like this with his fist, continuing all the time within reach of teeth and hoofs.

'I will tell the khawaja,' replied Mustafa 'a most curious and interesting thing about this.'

Ahmed had mastered the camel and now came to his place.

'The khawaja has observed,' Mustafa continued, 'that a child may beat and command a camel. It is not because the camel is stupid, nor yet because he is timid: it is because of a wise provision whereby God suited him to the weakness of men. The camel's eyes are like magnifying glasses, and increase the stature of his master seven times; wherefore he is obedient to this gigantic-appearing creature.'

In Damascus, too, I heard this superstition.

THE SCHORFHAIDE

Within the Imperial preserve, where the Kaiser and his guests have secured 500 deer in one day in the Schorfhaide, which each year toward the month of November becomes the meeting place of thousands of stags. The annual assemblage on the Schorfhaide has taken place every autumn for centuries past. Mention thereof has been found in documents more than a thousand years old. All sorts of theories have been put forward to account for it. Some native, say that the animals meet to decide matters affecting the leadership of their various clans. It seems hard to account otherwise for the attraction which brings stags and their mates from Galicia, on the Russian border; from the Liechtenstein game preserves south of Vienna and from the still larger estates in Hungary belonging to the Archduke Frederick, all the way to the Schorfhaide.

Sumptuary Laws of Capetown.

Capetown once lived under so severe a code of sumptuary laws that anything like display was restricted to the Governor and his immediate circle. Thus runs Article VI. of the Dutch laws against luxury and ostentation: 'No one less in rank than a junior merchant and those among the citizens of equal rank and the wives and daughters only of those who are or have been members of any council shall venture to use umbrellas.' In practice this restricted the possession and use of umbrellas to about fifty persons in Capetown.

A Lesson in Politeness.

A pretty story about the delicate wit of Mrs. Taft has recently amused Washington society.

Mrs Taft, at a diplomatic dinner, had for neighbour a distinguished French traveller, who boasted a little unduly of his nation's politeness. "We French," the traveller declared, "are the politest people in the world. Everybody acknowledges it. You Americans are a remarkable nation, but the French excel you in politeness. You admit it yourself, don't you?"

Mrs. Taft smiled delicately.

"Yes," she said. "That is our politeness."

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liabilit

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. P. Stratton

CAPTAIN OF SLOCUM LEAVES SING SING.

Recalls Burning of the Excursion Steamer in Which 1,000 Lives Were Lost.

New York, Aug. 28.—Capt. William H. Van Schaick, who was commander of the excursion steamer General Slocum when it burned in Hell Gate June 15, 1904, with the loss of a thousand lives, was paroled by the United States Government on Saturday, and has returned to his home in this city from Sing Sing prison. He had been sentenced to ten years, but served only two years and a half.

It was a surprise to his wife and family and the captain himself, for the old man was almost overcome when Warden Kennedy, of Sing Sing told him that parole papers had arrived.

What The Americans Can Teach Us

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Next to being born a Canadian, I rather think I would like to be born in the United States. It is a wonderful country. It carries a wonderful people. They are an example to us in many things; a warning in others. Wherever they are admirable they are often excessive—it is a natural defect of possessing immense productive territory, vast populations, and a rather short political past. They can teach us very very much that we ought to know. Take four of their splendid characteristics:

One. Their love of country.

Heavens! How they boast; how they wave their flag. They insist on carrying it,—flaunting it, if you like—in every foreign country; and they get touchy as a bear with a sore head if you show your flag on their soil. They believe in their country; in its institutions. The flag is the symbol of all their strength, ambition, glory. There is a reason.

Millions of people have come from all the ends of the earth to the United States. They know little or nothing of the liberty and opportunity of which the States are full. They come to better their conditions; to place their children where they can grow into prosperous citizens. The flag has been made the emblem of all their hopes. It flies from every schoolhouse. The sight of it engenders a flood of patriotism in the native-born and the alien-born.

The American can teach us here. Our flag has flown a thousand years. His is a product of the day before yesterday. We have a tremendous variety of alien blood and alien speech in our midst. We impress too little upon them the magnificence of the things the flag has stood for and stands for, and will stand for. We are apt to forget that in patriotism.

Those who come to us have to be born again. If ever there was a country in which patriotism should burn with a vehement flame, it is Canada. Look to it.

Two. Their willingness to adapt themselves to changed circumstances.

Tradition is splendid, within limits. "As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be" is not an infallible political principle, for this is a progressive world.

There is danger, too, of falling into the habit of the fellow who said, "These are my sentiments; if you don't like 'em I'll change 'em." The wise man often changes his mind, the fool never; but the wise man does not change merely to suit somebody else.

The American is pre-eminent in the world for his readiness to change his method of regarding questions of trade and of politics. He thought he could freeze Canada to himself by a high tariff. It didn't work, so he tries Reciprocity—which we asked for long, long ago.

If we go back to it we show that we don't adapt ourselves to changing conditions. We have outgrown our notions of commercial dependence on the American. We must not be cajoled into going back forty years for our ideas. Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaps backwards over 1907, 1903, 1901 and 1897—years in which he emphatically repudiated reciprocity. He is like a venerable man who goes out to meet an old sweetheart and expects to find her young and blooming as she was forty years ago.

Three. Their unbounded faith in the future.

Sir Wilfrid has had his spells of this splendid quality. He once said, "The Twentieth Century belongs to Canada." In conformity with this he said, "The best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them." Last winter President Taft said, "Canada is at the parting of the ways." Canada is expected to make reply, "Thy way, not mine, O Taft."

On the reciprocity question Sir Wilfrid spoke again, only four years ago he declared to the Imperial Conference, "There was a time when we wanted Reciprocity with the United States . . . We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

The future was to be as the past had been—a development of commerce, of social and national sentiment, east and west, and not predominantly north and south. We expressed our confidence in the future. Nothing was to draw us into the seductive embraces of the United States. We began a new transcontinental railway that will cost three times as much as was intended as a proof of our distinctiveness from the big neighbor. And then we began to play his game. From turning our back upon him we began to turn our back upon ourselves. When you become afraid of your Future, good-bye to your Future.

Four. Their determination to Hoe their own Row.

I never heard of a man who chose hoeing as a holiday occupation. I never liked it when I was on the farm. But you can't have a garden without plentiful use of this familiar companion of the backache. It's the hoe that puts potatoes and beets, carrots and beans, and all the vegetable luxuries on the table.

What was the hoe in the national development of the United States?

It was protection of young industries. The United States decided to make the most of their own resources by helping industrial expansion with a tariff. They became the greatest manufacturing country in the world. They have done it by hoeing their own row.

Canada took a leaf out of their book. She could not have had her big industrial cities any other way. Her home market would have been a negligible quantity if she had been content to be merely a getter of raw material for somebody else.

The Americans want her raw material. Let her learn of them and make the most of her own raw material. It will be wise learning.

Why I Am A Canadian

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Did it ever occur to you that there are two classes of Canadians?—those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could. I would be very proud to belong to the couldn't-help it class. But I belong to the other and I would like to tell you why. I am a curiosity in patriotism. There are tens of thousands like me, most of them unrecognized. I want to find them, so that they may be encouraged to find themselves.

Patriotism? Yes, sir, Patriotism is "Home Sweet Home" on a grand scale. Listen:—

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own, my native land!"

Listen again:—

The centurion told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman.

Then the chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, are thou a Roman? He said I am.

And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, BUT I WAS FREE BORN.

There is a glory of the native born—the thrill that passes through your heart and down your spine when the sacramental element of your nativity makes its subtle, compelling appeal to your mind. I know what it is; but not in Canada. If you have it, cherish it; be exceeding glad when it comes to you. Pass it on.

To us who enjoy only the blessing of adoption, who have given our native land a second place in our affections, is there even a glory for us in Canada? Can you—the native born—tell what it is? You can't, because you haven't had our experience.

We need not envy you, the native born; you need not envy us, the British-born. We are meet for one another, to conspire to make Canada as great in reputation as she is great in extent. And so it becomes you to inquire why I am a Canadian, and to think well upon my two answers.

One.—Because you asked me to be a Canadian.

I hope to be quite humble in expanding this answer, because I've had worthy people come to me and say, "We have found that British people are not welcomed here," and because I want to speak the truth in love. Personally I have never felt the slightest sense of not being welcome in Canada. Many years ago I moved from the South to the North of England, and I felt ever so much more a stranger north of the Trent than I have ever felt north of the St. Lawrence. Very thankfully I testify that never since I landed at Quebec, twenty-six years ago, have I said a word against conditions in Canada. Never a word has been said to me personally that I could resent. But there are others.

I know a man who has become as keen a Canadian as I have, who, with his wife, began life in Ontario on a farm. They are good people, who do good to others and who are already better off than they ever hoped to be in England. They left the farm because they were continually subjected to nagging about their nationality. For the sins of others they were called "Britishers" and other names.

You asked us to come. The Government has spent millions and millions of dollars in inducing British-born people to forsake friends and homes and traditions and places consecrated by sacred dust, and help to build up Canada. The Dominion has become prosperous because the immigrant, the chirper, as well as the capitalist, has arrived. Never forget, brother, that he was besought to come by you, through such people as Lord Strathcona and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These great men have looked for assets for Canada; for an impetus to your prosperity. Be gentle in your attitude to the people who come from the same land that your ancestors came from. Let patience have her perfect work in you, in them. Ask yourself how you would get along if you were dumped into a Yorkshire manufacturing town and sent to work in a mill, and expected to become a Yorkshireman in five or six days.

Two.—I am a Canadian because I know Canada.

They know not England who only England know. They know not Canada who only their province know. The Englishman who finds himself, say, in Southern Saskatchewan, for a year or two, and who visits the Old Country, says, "In Canada they do this and that." He will describe an ox harness, for instance. He does not know that in Nova Scotia they strap a yoke tight to the oxen's horns; and they also shoe each ox with eight iron shoes. To him the little bit of Canada he has seen is the whole of Canada.

Will you forgive me if I state the simple truth that a great deal of Canadian pride is nourished on a little knowledge of Canada. We can't all know the country, because if everybody travelled all the time there would be a standstill to industries on which the country prospers. That means that there is something of a responsibility upon those who have seen much of the country to help the less fortunate to realize what a noble country it is, and what a wonderful future it may make its own.

It was by a fortune I never deserved, that I went through the mill of pioneering in the West between 1885 and 1891, and that, after fourteen years' absence I came back, journeyed for three months all over the country, and finally settled in Toronto; and that in six years I have travelled a hundred and forty thousand miles between Halifax and Victoria.

Of deliberate choice, then, I brought my family to Canada. They do not want to go back to the land of their birth. We do not speak of England as "home." This is our home. We want no other. Our settlement has been consecrated by the advent of a little Canadian-born girl, who began life sturdier in body than either of her sisters. She will be able to sing of Canada as her native land. I am glad of it. You see, we combine the British-born and the Native-born.

And behold it is good—very good.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 201 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, AUGUST 31 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

An Explosion Kills Fifteen

New York, Aug. 26.—Cable despatches from Port Limon, Costa Rica, tell of the loss of fifteen lives in the explosion of a powder magazine at San Jose. The dead include two army officers, three soldiers, and ten civilians.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the carelessness of a soldier, who lit a fire with which to melt lead for casting little images of saints which he sold to eke out his scanty pay.

Mr. T. P. Matthews was in Montreal yesterday on business.

ON THE ROCKS THREE TIMES IN TWO DAYS

The Troubles of a Navigator on a Trip to Buckhorn.

On Wednesday last, a party composed of Mr. A. E. Belcher and Geo. Wilson, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mr. W. Malone of New York City, chartered the gasoline launch of Mr. Albert Nurse, North Monaghan, and started on a cruise of the Kawartha Lakes, intending to go to Orillia and return. They ran along all right until Stoney Lake was reached, when they missed their course and got into upper Stoney Lake, where they ran on the rocks, tearing the shoe off the boat. This necessitated a stop of a few hours for repairs. Returning they had almost reached Buckhorn, without accident, when they again bumped on the rocks, this time injuring the wheel. It required considerable time for repairs.

The party decided that it would not be wise to pursue their journey further in that direction, and decided to return. They were just entering Clear Lake on their way down when once again they met with misfortune, the man at the wheel taking the wrong side of the buoy, and again they were high and dry on the rocks. Here again several hours were consumed in repairing the damage, when another start was made for Peterborough, where the party arrived Friday last.

During the trip they were forced to "dry dock" the boat three times, entailing much labor, help having to be secured on each occasion to pull the craft out of the water.

Mr. Belcher, who called to pay his respects to The Times on Saturday, said that the party had decided to make Rice Lake the scene of their activities on account of the fact that there were so many rocks in that lake. They left in that direction on Saturday, but whether they reached their destination or not we are unable to say. If the party are fortunate enough to escape the few boulders that mark the river bed on their way, they will doubtless reach the lake in process time. Should they be lucky enough to do so, they will remain there a month, and will make a point of confining their manoeuvres to the middle of the lake so as to avoid any possibility of further accident.

Broke His Arm.

Mr. Jack Wilson, a foreman in the C.G.E. works, had the misfortune to fall and break his arm when attempting to board a boat for a trip down the river on Saturday afternoon.

Grief Led to Suicide.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 25.—Antti Lentoe, Finlander, committed suicide in his home on Watson street yesterday. His wife died very suddenly about noon and grief over her death caused him to suicide an hour later.

ACUTE DYSPEPSIA

RESTORATION OF STOMACH POWER COMES QUICKLY WITH THE RIGHT MEDICINE.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparantly the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts At times I would vomit a raucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvellous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Now in Hospital.

Thos. McManus, a 15-year-old Lakefield boy, is in St. Joseph's hospital with his left arm and several ribs broken, as the result of a serious accident in the lath mill of the Cavandish Lumber Company at Lakefield. Reviewed by Earl Grey.

Along with about 5000 other scouts the local Boy Scouts were reviewed by Earl Grey, at the Toronto Exhibition on Tuesday. For some of them this is the second time to "march past" before Earl Grey, as those who went to Ottawa last winter had the honour. The Scout camp at the exhibition breaks up to-morrow, but it is probable that many of the boys will remain in Toronto and take in more of the exhibition.

Accident Narrowly Averted.

Considerable excitement was created last evening when a horse, the property of Mr. Butler, East City, was frightened by a street car at the corner of Hunter and George streets. The startled animal started up Hunter street, but slipping on the road, fell to the ground. The horse was not injured except for a slight bruise and Mr. Butler, with the aid of the bystanders, got it on its feet again, and drove home.

Horse Had to be Shot.

A horse, the property of Mr. Saunders, of Frazerville, fell while crossing the street car tracks at the head of water street, and broke a front leg. The fracture made it necessary to shoot the animal, which was despatched by P.C. Kidd with a revolver shot. The horse was a good driver and valued at about $160.

Peterborough Church Football League.

A meeting of the Church League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Y.M.C.A. All delegates and those interested are requested to attend.

Was Badly Hurt.

An unfortunate accident occurred Tuesday afternoon by which the infant child of Mr. Harvey Miller had his leg broken. It appears that the elder sister was carrying the baby, when her foot caught in the oil cloth causing her to fall, with the infant beneath her. Dr. McPherson was called and attended to the child's injuries.

Death of Infant.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanderson, 32 LaFollette avenue, will deeply sympathize with them in their grief over the death of their five months' old baby, who passed away yesterday.

The funeral will take place at two o'clock this afternoon to Little Lake cemetery.

Picnic Blocked by Logs.

The steamer Stoney Lake brought the picnicers from Lindsay as far as Lakefield yesterday, where on account of the canal being blocked by logs, they were transferred to the C.P.R. train. They journeyed to Peterborough by railroad, and returned to Lindsay by the regular 9 o'clock train.

Building Permits.

According to the building permits, the amount of money to be spent in putting up or improving the buildings of Peterborough during the month of August, this year, is $14,330. While this indicates that there has been activity in this branch of the city's improvement, yet it falls short of the amount spent in August of last year for the same purpose, by $9,335.

Pine Grove Wharf.

The formal opening of the new wharf which has been constructed by the Dominion Government, will take place to-morrow afternoon. Arrangements have been made for those who are to participate in the event to take the steamer Bessie Butler at Bridgenorth, and proceed to the new dock. On board will be the members of Smith Council and others.

The new wharf will be christened Pine Grove wharf. It is situated in a good spot for traffic and will afford shipping facilities for the farmers and others of North Smith. The municipality owns the park, and a more beautiful spot would be hard to find.

After Twenty-Five Years.

Mr. Rice Record, of Caledonia, Mich., is spending a week or two the guest of his brother, Richard, of East City. Mr. Record is an old Peterborough boy, having left here about twenty-five years ago, and naturally notices many changes in the old town. He paid a short visit to this city eleven years ago, and the changes which have taken place since that time, appear as being very marked. He still loves the old town, but feels that it is gradually disappearing from view, and giving place to a modern city. Mr. Record will remain a week or two renewing old acquaintances.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Scout Movement.

Owing to the efforts of Mr Miller, scoutmaster of No. 3 troop of Peterborough scouts, every scout in the third troop has passed his second class examination, and secured at least one merit badge. When one remembers, that therefore, every boy has a knowledge of first aid and bandaging, of how to act in case of accidents, and of how to rescue and revive a drowning person, one cannot help recognizing the value of the scout movement in Peterborough. Also it is generally believed that the purpose of the scout movement is to train young boys to become soldiers. This is a mistaken idea, for the real purpose of the movement is to train boys to become useful citizens.

Out of Season.

Mr. W. Moncrief, a resident of North Monaghan, and whose home is about ten miles south of the city, was surprised a day or two ago to see a couple of deer break from a cluster of trees, and race across the farm through a potato field, and make for the river. Now the deer was out of season, and as Mr. Moncrief always is strick in keeping the law, nothing happened to the trespassers. The incident may indicate the confidence some have in the game law, but on the other side of the river the deer may have come to grief.

LATEST FROM APSLEY

Mr. Gervis Bullied of Vancouver, is visiting his father Mr. John Bullied, Chandos. He has been away from home for seven years and finds many changes on his return. He will spend a few weeks among old friends before returning to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie of Pittsburg are spending a few weeks at M. Kennedy's cottage, Loon Lake, which is becoming a favorite summer resort. Mr. Carnegie has purchased one of the many beautiful islands on that lake and purports erecting a cottage there.

Mr. Norman Lean met with a painful accident last week while gathering apples. The limb on which he was standing broke, causing him to fall about 12 feet. He dislocated his wrist, hurt his side and received a severe contusion on the left eye. He will not be able to do much work for some weeks.

Our local blacksmith is going to get out a patent for a new kind of horseshoe. It is an imitation of rubber, and is easily put on by any one with carpet tacks. A customer took home a pair last week with full instructions when and how to put them on.

F. D. Kerr, the liberal candidate for the E. R., held several meetings throughout Burleigh and Chandos and must surely feel pleased with the reception he met on his trip The town hall, Apsley, was crowded, many having to stand at the door. The same can be said of the meeting at Lanswade and still more encouraging was the large number of ladies in evidence at each meeting. Mr. Kerr was accompanied by Mr. Hawthorne, Liberal candidate for the Provincial house and Mr. Richardson, Secretary L.A.E.P. There is no doubt that Mr. Kerr will poll a large vote in the North and when elected, which he is sure to be, we will then have a representative in the East riding such as they have in the West, a man of deeds, not words.

Mr. W. Socker passed through here last week posting notices of meeting of J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., and we will now hear why we ought to vote against reciprocity and prosperity and he should know as he has spent months of laborious study on the subject. Mr. Thompson, M.P.P., accompanies Mr. Sexsmith and will also be able to tell us what great improvements he has made on our roads and why the stone crusher which this municipality bought some years ago and is still taxed for is lying idle and rusting alongside the Burleigh road.

There not being any request on the posters for the attendance of ladies, it is up to Tommy to keep the phone busy asking them to be there and bring bouquets. No charge will be made for use of phone on this occasion, considering the liberal subscriptions said candidates have given to the line.

Nominations for the East Riding will take place at Norwood Sept. 14. We would like to ask you, Mr. Editor why always Norwood? Lakefield is more central and there one can find ample accommodation for man and beast.

Notices have been sent to each member of the Wisdom Club to attend a special meeting in their hall, Saturday, Sept. 23rd, for the transaction of important business and unless inspector Ned turns up will have to employ the aid of private detectives. He has been missing for 15 days.

WHO FINDS THE MONEY?

British Investors Send Hundreds of Millions of Dollars to Canadian Enterprises

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It is not well to insist that the British investor in Canadian enterprises is governed by political sentiment, or that there is some implied obligation on the borrower to do more than earn and pay the interest on his borrowings.

But there is sentiment in business, all the same; and it has had a good deal to do with the expansion of modern Canada.

See how it works in immigration, without which our lands and other natural resources availed us little, and the absence of which had much to do with the old-time desire for Reciprocity. In 1910, over a hundred thousand people came to Canada from the British Islands. A poll of them would show that one of the chief reasons why they are here is that this is a British country.

The connection between the immigration of British people and the immigration of British money is clear. Money follows people, as trade follows the flag. People will not continue to come, if their friends send bad accounts of how they are getting along. Money will not continue to come if the earning power of that which has been sent is weakened, and especially if there is a failure in the undertaking which the Government said is part of the fundamental commercial policy of the nation, and if that failure is even partially attributable to the substitution of a foreign country for the inter-Imperial trade on which the Prime Minister has declared "We set our hopes."

Consider the investment of British money that has been going on since, and as an effect, of that declaration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The British Trade Commissioner for Canada, Mr. Richard Grigg, in a report issued April 1st, 1911, states that in the five years ending 1909, British investors sent $605,453,852 to Canada, irrespective of the millions brought by settlers and private individuals. Examine the wide-spread distribution of these investments:—

Canadian Bank Shares	$1,125,000
Investment with Loan and Mortgage companies	5,719,774
British Insurance Companies' Investments	9,731,742
Municipal Bonds sold privately	10,000,000
Industrial Investments	22,500,000
Land and Timber Investments	19,000,000
Mining Investments	56,315,500
Public Flotations in London (Gov., Railway, etc.)	481,081,836
Total	$605,453,852

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

TWELVE

TURNED RIGHT ABOUT FACE

The Conversion of the American People from Enemies to Friends of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Nothing more remarkable in international trade has ever been seen than the complete change in regard to reciprocity that has occurred in Canada and in the United States.

Canada used to ask for reciprocity, and when she did not get it, she went her way rejoicing, and the Prime Minister said, "We have turned our backs upon it."

The United States grew accustomed to answering Canadian seekers after reciprocity with cold water and a few civil words, and continued to believe that Canada, being only a country of woods and wastes and waters, would surely seek the shelter of the United States.

But, presently, the woods and wastes and waters changed their aspect, and began to show all sorts of money-making possibilities. There had been an immigration from Canada to the United States. Gradually it dawned upon discerning people that the incoming Canadians were fewer and fewer, and that manufacturers were beginning to talk about their branch plants in Canada. And, in a little while, good farmers began to go north on trips that led them to sell their farms and take carloads of stock and implements away up to the Saskatchewan country.

It set people thinking. Canada was a real country and not a wilderness of snow-covered rock. There was another pebble on the beach after all. And, strangely enough, while the United States had been expanding industrially, Canadians had also been building factories and keeping them going, because they had taken a leaf out of the book that had been written against them at Washington—they had copied the tariff, and had, in effect, imposed a residential qualification for leading places in the market.

It did not seem right, and Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, reflected faithfully the mind of his observant countrymen about this thing:—

There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy has already driven American manufacturers across the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, employing Canadian workingmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workingmen to supply Canadian demand.

Boys' Secretary Engaged.

The local Y.M.C.A. have been fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Spicer, as boys' secretary. He graduated from the London Medical College last term, and comes very highly recommended. He will enter upon his new duties on the 1st of September. After such a hustling predecessor as Mr. F. Tait, of Toronto, who resigned his position a few months ago, the position is a hard one to fill; but undoubtedly the institution has secured the very best man available, for the situation.

VOL XXXIV NO 202 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

GERMANY IS NOT SINCERE DEPENDS ON RUSSIA

New York, Aug. 31.—A London cable to The Tribune says:

The optimism prevailing in the press respecting a settlement of the Morocco difficulty, is not shared by politicians and officials here. They are aware that the Admiralty is quite prepared for an emergency and that the home fleet can be brought into condition for war at a moment's notice.

It is an open secret that there are active negotiations in progress at the Foreign Office and that the Russian Ambassador has been frequently consulted.

DEPENDS ON RUSSIA.

A member of Parliament who is watching the situation closely, remarked last night: "Everything depends on Russia. If France can have military as well as naval support the German Emperor will not be allowed a victory in West Africa which will increase his prestige at home and be a source of danger and embarrassment to the British Empire."

The speaker added that he was hoping for a change of diplomatic methods by which the German Foreign Office would be forced to deal collectively with England, France and Russia, instead of individually with each one of them.

FINANCIERS OPTIMISTIC.

Financiers ordinarily well informed do not share the apprehension of a war involving the four powers, but insists that ultimately there will be a settlement, although neither France nor Germany is prepared at present to accept the terms offered by the others.

A GIGANTIC BLUFF.

New York, Aug. 31.—A cable to The Times from Berlin says:

"There will be no war over Morocco. Germany is putting up one of the most gigantic bluffs on record."

This is the summary of the existing [illegible] international situation that was given to-day to The Times correspondent by a prominent official of a New York banking company, who has been in intimate touch with the leaders of the German financial world for the past fortnight. For obvious reasons he declines to permit the publication of his name.

FINANCES WILL NOT ADMIT.

He said: "German financiers assure me that war cannot possibly eventuate from the Moroccan crisis, unless, of course, some sudden and wholly unexpected volcanic eruptions should lead to it. German diplomacy is maintaining an ostensibly stiff-necked and uncompromising attitude in dealing with France, but the German Government knows very well that the fatherland was never less ready than at the present moment to court the incalculable risks of a great international conflagration. Her financial and industrial situation simply will not permit it.

WOULD SHATTER CREDIT.

"My German banking friends do not mean to intimate that the country's condition is at all unsound. What they mean is that Germany owes colossal sums abroad, notably to French bankers. These credits would cease automatically the moment war began Germany would then suddenly be called upon to meet enormous obligations in all directions. Her economic fabric would be paralyzed at a blow. Her huge export trade would be arrested. The pioneer work of years would be undone.

"Germany is trading and developing her industries to an incredible extent on borrowed foreign capital. Her indebtedness to French banks alone probably amounts to over $100,000,000.

"German financiers, who would have the last word if it really came to a question of war, know all this, and they declare that war is not dreamed of."

EAST PETERBOROUCH

Progress of the Campaign Throughout The Riding

Matter under this heading solicited on the understanding that The Times will not hold itself responsible for the Opinions Expressed or the Statements made.

MR. KERR'S CAMPAIGN

The campaign in East Peterborough is going merrily along and those who at first thought that Mr. Sexsmith had a sure thing against Mr. F. D. Kerr, the Liberal candidate, are beginning to realize that the latter has come up wonderfully strong during the past few weeks. Mr. Kerr is certainly waging a stiff fight and is covering the riding in a surprisingly energetic manner. His campaign of meetings at which the reciprocity issue is being put before the farmers of the East Riding is apparently having its effect. East Peterborough being almost entirely an agricultural riding and the reciprocity sentiment appears to be strong.

A feature of Mr. Kerr's campaign is the appearance on the platform with him of Mr. G. A. Brethen, of Asphodel, one of the most prominent and progressive farmers of the county. Mr. Brethen has always been a staunch Conservative, but he is so thoroughly in sympathy with the policy of reciprocity in natural products with the United States that he appeared on the platform with Mr. Kerr on Monday night at Westwood, and at Mr. Kerr's Cottesloe meeting the following night and spoke in Mr. Kerr's behalf.

Mr. Kerr has a meeting for every week night between now and the date of polling. He had Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, at Havelock on Thursday afternoon, and Mr. Hugh Guthrie, K. C. of Guelph, at Keene, on Thursday night. Mr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Globe, will be at Norwood on Saturday night.

Mr. Kerr is certainly setting the pace, and many fair-minded people state that he has a chance of capturing the seat.

3 AMERICANS WERE DROWNED

Port Arthur, Aug. 31.—An upturned canoe found on Lake Helen above Lake Nekigon, followed their non-arrival at Nepigon Station as expected, indicates the drowning of Divisional Engineer R. C. McCoy and Resident Engineer C. H. Nelson and Drum of the C.N.R. construction staff. The men left camp at Exander on Sunday evening for Nepigon, telephoning to Nepigon that they were departing.

Their route lay across Lake Helen between their camp and Nepigon River, and when they did not arrive, a search was made, resulting in the finding yesterday on the shores of Lake Helen of the upturned canoe and floating paddles. McCoy was 48 years old, married, and comes from Spokane. Drum and Nelson were also United States citizens, having unknown residences.

UPROAR AT JOINT MEETING

St. Scholastique, Que., Aug. 31.—The joint meeting of Mr. C. A. Ethier, Liberal candidate for Two Mountains, and Mr. G. A. Fauteux Conservative nominee, supported by Mr. Henri Bourassa, furnished considerable excitement last night.

During his speech Mr. Ethier referred in sarcastic terms to the alleged expenditure by Mr. Bourassa of $2000 as secretary of the International Commission, and Mr. Bourassa replied, stating that the expenditure was made at the express desire of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Ethier was well received, and Mr. Bourassa also got a good hearing.

The latter went into the Lanctot case at some length, and also referred to the Quebec bridge disaster and the Oliver charges.

Mr. Ethier launched into a personal attack upon the Nationalist leader, ending by taunting him with not having passed his law examination.

The meeting was marked by much uproar, those attending creating a great hubbub as the different speakers made their points. The opinion seemed to be unusually evenly divided.

BARBER SHOPS CLOSE EARLY.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I think, Sir, that if any section of the community should have consideration it is the barbers. They work from early morning until eight o'clock at night. But the chief cause of complaint is to be found in connection with Saturday nights. The shops are supposed to close at 11 but at this hour there is generally a goodly bunch of "night hawks" holding down chairs awaiting their "turn." This means that the poor barber often has to work till after midnight.

I think a general movement should be made for Saturday early closing. If the stores were closed sharp at 9, the barbers would be able to close at 10—that is, they would only have to attend to those who were inside at that hour, which would let them out about eleven, or a little after, and thus save the Sabbath.

I commend this to the thoughtful consideration of the merchants and others interested.

Fair Play.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will spend another week in this Province before polling day. After spending the next week in Ontario Sir Wilfrid will come to Quebec.

BIG LIBERAL MASS MEETING WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

Hon. George Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, Gets a Hearty Reception

Hon. J. R. Stratton, M. P., Liberal Candidate, is Also Accorded a Flattering Reception, as Also is Mr. Guthrie

The Liberal mass meeting last night in the Opera House was an important event in the election campaign in West Peterborough. The presence of the Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals was in itself sufficient to awaken interest and arouse the enthusiasm of those favorable to the Liberal cause. The large Opera House was crowded to the doors long before the hour for the commencement of the meeting, and many were unable to gain admission. The spacious theatre was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting. Many campaign mottos were in evidence, the most conspicuous of which were "God Save the King," "Long live the King," "Canada can't stand still," "Larger markets means bigger business."

The 57th Regimental Band played the large audience in, and a first class orchestra discoursed patriotic airs during the evening.

A ROUSING RECEPTION.

The speakers of the evening—Hon. G. P. Graham; Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., for West Peterborough, and Hugh Guthrie, K.C., of Guelph, and Mr. R. R. Hall the chairman of the proceedings, were each accorded a rousing reception on rising to speak.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, the candidate for East Peterborough was not in attendance, having been detained in Keene, where he addressed a big meeting last evening.

Mr. R. R. Hall made a capital chairman and opened the meeting with a spirited address, in the course of which he contended that so great is present day content in Canada that both parties are rejoicing in the exceeding great prosperity of our fair Dominion. But he could not see why that prosperity should not be extended and provision made to assure its continuation and growth in the future. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's loyalty to the Mother country, contended the speaker, had been amply demonstrated by his administration extending to Great Britain a preference of 33 1-3 per cent. and again in sending no less than three contingents to South Africa in support of the Motherland during the Boer war.

HON. J. R. STRATTON.

Hon. J. R. Stratton spoke for one hour and a half, dealing at length with the reciprocity pact and referring vigorously to local conditions and past events during his public career. He contended that in supporting the reciprocity agreement all classes—farmers, manufacturers, mechanics, business men and laborers would consult their own interests. This proposition was one in keeping with the present administrations policy of progress and prosperity for Canada. Continuing, he said that in 1896 trade in Peterborough was stagnant; the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co., the C.G.E. and the Auburn Woollen Co. were running half time; the Lock Works were short of orders. In 1897, however, when the Liberal administration pared the tariff on manufacturing supplies, trade rapidly increased, followed by a boom under the Liberal regime, with factories running overtime and a consequent increase of wages for the workingman. In '96, Mr. Stratton offered, the total revenue from Peterborough's custom house was $56,845 as against $446,657, last year, or eight times as much as the receipts in 1896. Does that not show increased purchasing power in this community? And over a hundred million dollars worth of imports are coming into the country to assure a continuance of the prosperity enjoyed to-day.

In 1896, continued Mr. Stratton, under the Conservative administration, the Dominion's total revenue was $36,000,000, but that has increased until it reached the handsome sum last year of $117,000,000—three and a half times more than in '96. The increase in revenue the past ten years is more than its sum total during the whole previous Conservative regime. Peterborough's population in 1896 was 10,932, whereas to-day it is 18,500 as a result of the Liberal progressive policy. And a little of this prosperity in Peterborough, contended Mr. Stratton, is due to his friend, the Minister of Railways and Canals. It may not be generally known that the pay roll of the department of Railways and Canals for Peterborough is $20,000 a month. Then the Government cannot be blamed that the Trent Valley Canal is not completed.

During the past five years, they have annually placed in the estimates more money than contractors can expend in any one season owing to the scarcity of labor. Whereas the Conservative Government appropriated $1,535,539 for this work the Liberals administration has appropriated $[illegible],873,509; and I assure you, prophesied the speaker, that before my next term of office expires, the Trent Valley Canal will have been completed. (Cheers.)

Referring to Mr. Burnham and the Children's Aid Society, the honorable gentleman offered that Mr. Burnham had evidently forgotten that he (Mr. Stratton) had taken some part in that society's establishment in this country. He had by request introduced into the Provincial House, the measure that ratified the organization in Ontario of Children's Aid Societies.

Turning to a number of questions asked in The Review, the speaker, first, does not see that any of our water powers had yet been carried away, and they will be leased at proper rates, and should those terms be satisfactory then it is time for the constituency to enquire into the matter. This was in reply to a question of why the Dominion Government had left so large a municipality as Peterborough without water power, which querry he thought absurd.

As to question No. 2—Why does not the Government hand over to Peterborough its revenue collected here, (which the speaker characterized as a foul question). He replied that every one should know for what purposes such collections are used; and 7-10 of the revenues collected from such cities as Vancouver, Montreal, Halifax, Toronto, goes into the treasury for the benefit of the Dominion as a whole.

In reply to question No. 3—Why has not the Government presented Peterborough with two or three dams. Mr. Stratton said that this city's interests are not lost sight of by the Minister of Railways and Canals, who in negotiations with the Seymour Power Co., has seen to it that Peterborough is assured of from 500 to 700 horse power free of charge. (Applause). This, if properly directed by the municipality will light every man's home and provide also for street lighting. Then dam No. 8 has not been dealt with by the Government in any shape or form. Mr. Graham's policy is to place such dams in the hands of those capable of developing them without asking the municipality to unprofitably mortgage its resources.

Turning again to Mr. Burnham, the speaker characterized him as not representing the Conservative party as a united whole. "I believe," he said, "he has done more to sow the seeds of sectarian strife, to set neighbor against neighbor, and community against community, than any other man in this constituency. An application for membership to the Protestant Federation is being circulated, a provision of which is that its members vote against me. I am not a representative of the Roman Catholic or of any faith. During my public career of a quarter of a century I have experienced some peculiar contests, including that in which the Ross Bible entered. Then followed the Equal Rights agitation, Margaret L. Shepherd, the abolition of Separate Schools, Temperance and Federation of Labor. In this election I have had more Conservatives promise to support me than in any previous campaign, and I would like to ask Protestants if they are afraid to trust their interests with the Liberal party? Who gave the Nicholls' Hospital? A Liberal or a Protestant! Who presented this town with the Barnado Home? A Liberal and a Protestant. Who instituted the Protestant Home? A Liberal and a Protestant! Who donated the Protestant Poor Fund, and who subsequently augmented that gift of $30,000 by another $20,000? Liberals and Protestants. Who gave this city Nicholls' Oval, Jackson Park, Inverlea Park, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and $500 with which to pay off the debt on St. Andrew's church? Liberals and Protestants, all of them!" And Mr. Stratton questioned if the Conservative candidate could point to one single monument to Christianity or Protestantism in this city that had been created by those associated with him.

"In regard to myself," continued the speaker, "equal rights for all, irrespective of creed or nationality, is the policy I pursue. It is absolutely impossible to build up a nation if we are to have the strife that an attempt is being made to stir up in this constituency. And I urge harmony and unity amongst all classes and creeds."

Turning again to the reciprocity pact, the honorable gentleman submitted that it is not a treaty, but an agreement no more binding upon the people of Canada than any other tariff agreement and which may be amended by either country at any time. It will benefit the manufacturer.

Over a million dollars worth of supplies per annum is imported into this country by manufacturers, and there is not a manufacturing concern in Peterborough that will not be helped by the reciprocity pact. Mr. Stuart of the Quaker Oats Company is in favor of reciprocity in so far as the Peterborough Quaker Oats is concerned, and there is not a manufacturer in this city (apart from those of agricultural implements) who can stand upon this platform and show me where this trade agreement will injure his business. It will enable the farmer to get in his supplies cheap and afford a market for his surplus crops.

It will help the workingman enjoy better times than ever, and secure cheaper household commodities. "In my 25 years of public life," concluded the speaker, "I have never yet, advocated any measure that would injure Peterborough, industrially or politically. Mechanics and workingmen in general have always found my vote on the right side. Wherevere I see anything wanted I go to work and get it. This will probably be the last time I shall appeal to you for support. I had intended to retire now, but consented to nomination at the urgent solicitation of Liberals and Conservatives alike, who urged upon me the completion of certain work and the desirability of defeating a certain party who is looking for the constituency and is not desired."

HON. G. P. GRAHAM.

G. P. Graham received quite an ovation and was presented with a handsome bouquet by little Miss Edna, daughter of Mr. Walter A. Connor of this city.

He defended the Government's policy regarding the water powers in Ontario and denied the Provincial Government's claim to their control.

"Up to date," he said, "we have not encroached upon the Provincial preserves whatever, and intend to proceed with leasing and taking steps toward the development of power." He belittle the Conservative campaign pamphlet, "Let Well Enough Alone," and offered that the strongest argument the opposition is using is that you have got so blooming rich, under the Liberal administration, that you had better let well enough alone. (Laughter.)

He gave statistics to show the increased trade with Great Britain as a result of British preference, and also a large amount of increased

Rambouillet, France, Aug. 31.—President Caillaux and his colleagues in the French Cabinet, met at the Chateau of President Fallieres here today, and listened to the narrative of Justin de Selves, the Foreign Minister, concerning the latest developments of the negotiations with Germany on the Moroccan question. The Cabinet approved in their final form the instructions to be given to Jules Cambon, the French Ambassador at Berlin.

Jules Pams, the Minister of Agriculture, was instructed during the conference, to investigate the underlying cause of the high price of food which has resulted in considerable rioting in the northern departments of France.

FIX 30 AS "YOUNG" WOMEN'S AGE LIMIT

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Thirty years are sufficient to disqualify a woman from the appellation "young," according to an edict of the Young Women's Christian Association issued yesterday. Likewise they bar her from the protection of the association's home for young women. The theory of Mrs. M. E. Cochnower, the superintendent of the Chicago branch of the Association, is that when a woman has reached the age of 30 she has attained enough discretion to take care of herself. In the future the home will not admit women who have passed the prescribed limit.

QUAKER OATS COMPANY WILL NOT SHUT DOWN

The Times has been requested to publish the following, taken from the Toronto Star:

The statement has been made by anti-reciprocity advocates that the adoption of the agreement would result in the closing down at Peterborough of the plant of the Quaker Oats Company, an important industry, employing some eight hundred men. This statement was repeated as recently as Friday last when, at Mr. Borden's meeting, as reported by the Toronto papers, it was emphatically stated that Mr. Kendry, a prominent Peterborough Conservative, had stated that the plant would be closed. The Star wired Mr. Stuart, the head of the Quaker Oats Company, for information as to the company's plans in this connection, and in reply received from him to-day the following telegram, dated from Charlevoix, Michigan:

"Message received. From Peterborough plant standpoint we are in favor of reciprocity."

JUMPED INTO THE ATLANTIC

New York, Aug. 31.—Thos husband of Justina Fight, who is waiting for her to join him on an Arkansas farm will wait in vain. When the steamer Rhein arrived here to-day from Bremen, her Captain reported that Mrs. Fight jumped overboard early on the morning of August 20 and was dead when taken out of the water. She was buried at sea. It is thought the woman was demented. She was 37 years old.

GIVEN PLACE OF HONOR.

The Boy Scouts' Had a Good Time at Toronto Exhibition.

The Peterborough Scouts returned from the Toronto Exhibition after having a fine time, during the three days they were in camp. The local scouts were honored by being made the first troop in the third division. The third troop of local scouts took part in the exhibition of first aid, signalling and first aid, and received the honor of being complimented by Earl Grey.

Assistant Scoutmaster Moss and scoutmaster Miller, and Rev. F. J. Sawers were in charge of the local contingent.

Perhaps the sight that will longest be remembered, was the scene presented when 4,200 scouts lined up before the grandstand, with the standard bearers carrying the 100 large Union Jacks, in the centre of the array. In this position the thousands of scouts burst forth in three prolonged cheers and hats were waved at the top of the staves.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

No. of Shares.	Amount of First Call.	Half-yearly Payments.

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its motion is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

CARNEGIE ON GOLF

The Laird of Skibo Castle Tries Writing.

Andrew Carnegie says in his latest essay on "Dr. Golf": "I notice a recent estimate of the money already expended in greens and club houses in the United States is fifteen million dollars. The charm of golf — who can analyze and decide in what it really consists? We are under the sky, worshippers of the 'God of the Open Air.' Every breath seems to drive away weakness and disease. A cousin of mine made his first (fifty) one morning on Skibo links, and, as is often the case when taking it all easily and not trying hard, he succeeded wonderfully. He could hardly wait for the morning game. We started and he foozled everything, and at last I heard exclamations, and called out to him: "What "nation," Morrison? He replied apologetically: 'I know, I know, I felt it, but I didn't think I said it.' We have a celebrated professor who was lost from sight for a time. His caddie at last came in sight, and being asked, 'Where's the professor?' called out 'He's down among the whins, talkin' to his self.' A deacon was reported as having resigned from his office in the kirk. Being asked why he did so by his minister, he explained that he had either to resign or quit playing golf, and he knew he couldn't do that."

A Rice Pudding Two Centuries Ago.

The thrifty housewife would be considerably put about nowadays were she called upon to use the following recipe for a rice pudding, culled from a manuscript cook-book of the 17th century:—Take a quarter of a pound of rice, and boil it in a quart of milk till it be very tender, then put it into a cullender, and let all the milk drain from it, then beat it in a mortar very well, then grate in a quarter of a pound of Naples biscuits, and a pint of cream and six eggs, one nutmeg grated, a little beaten cinnamon, two spoonfuls of sack, a little rosewater, a little salt, and as much sugar as will season it to your taste, then take a cloth which is dipped in boiling water, and butter it very well, and strew it all over with flour, and tie it up close, and boil it one hour, then make sauce for it, rosewater, butter and sugar, and butter melted thick, pour it upon the pudding, scrape on sugar and strew on a little beaten cinnamon, and serve it up to the table.

If the modern epicure is not satisfied with the above, our ancient gastronomer gives further instructions as follows:—"If you design to bake this pudding, then put in half a pound of currants, and half as many raisins and plums, and three-quarters of a pound of beef suet, shred fine, and so bake it; one hour will bake it. The oven must not be too hot." Truly the dishes of other days would not be suited to the hurried and harried days of quick lunch.

The Wrong List.

One of Lady Reay's recollections is of a dinner party at which she had for her neighbour Gladstone, in happiest mood. He told her of his Eton experiences and tales of terrible little Dr. Keate. The latter always had the names of those doomed to be flogged written down on a narrow slip of paper.

One day, picking up such a list, he called up for flogging the boys whose names were inscribed upon it. Upon such occasions the delinquents were not permitted to offer explanations, so boy after boy was castigated, and returned sore and savage to his seat. Not until the operation was complete did he learn that, instead of the flogging list, he had picked up the slip on which were the names of the boys about to be confirmed.

The Date Is Fixed.

And now it is 1915 which is set for the millennium. Religious enthusiasts have been guessing at the end of the world for years, but date after date has passed, and the world still wags on. Each one of these has had a system of reckoning as certain — and as fallible — as the various systems with which it has been proposed to break the bank at Monte Carlo. The only effect of their predictions has been to upset nervous temperaments. There is nothing surer than that "no man knoweth the day nor the hour."

A Matter of Training.

The disappointed person carps at everything and makes all those in her vicinity feel ill at ease; if anything can be done to cure her, it should be done in the interest of humanity. The modern rush and worry render it more easy for anyone to lapse into that condition, for our nerves are effected to an extent which our grandmothers neither experienced nor anticipated. The way out of the trouble is a matter of training and, as the child is the mother of the woman, it is well to commence with the little one.

The Making of a Nation

A nation is made powerful, and to be honored in the world not so much by the number of its people as by the ability and character of that people; and the ability and character of that people depend in a great measure upon the economy of the several families, which, taken together, make up the nation. There never yet was and never will be a nation permanently great, consisting for the great part of wretched miserable families

Another Reason.

Here's a new reason for the abolition of Hansard. An English financial schemer excuses his failure because he was "influenced regarding the value of the Canadian railways by reading reports of the Dominion Parliament" What sins these M.P.'s do have to answer for to be sure!

Japan's Budget

The main features of Japan's Budget, which balances at 529,000,000 yen ($264,500,000), are the reduction and reform of taxes, the increase of the salaries of Government officials, economy in administrative expenses, and the increase of the sinking fund.

Are You Using An Oily Liniment?

Beware of Any Thick, Greasy Liniment That Contains Acids and Strong Ammonia.

No doctor would think of prescribing a greasy, thick, ammonia liniment—they can't penetrate and in consequence are unable to reach the source of pain. The best liniment for general household use is "Nerviline," which is sold under positive guarantee to cure pain.

Nerviline is sure to cure pain because it is immensely stronger than other liniments, because it is more penetrating, because it relieves the congested condition that excites pain, because it restores circulation of the part. Now you understand why one person in three throughout the Dominion of Canada uses Nerviline. These people have tested it. They know how good it is, because in the hundred and one minor ailments that afflict us at odd times they found Nerviline always cured. Nerviline is an absolute antidote to pain, powerful, soothing, and certain in its action.

Nerviline is inestimably the finest remedy for pain found in the world. Not an ache or pain anywhere that Nerviline does not cure.

Try Nerviline for neuralgia, headache, sciatica, lumbago, stiffness, rheumatism—wherever there is soreness or pain, rub on Nerviline and you'll be cured. Refuse anything offered you instead of Nerviline, large 25c. bottles, five for $1. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

LONG CRUISE TO SEEK A DOCTOR

Steam Whaler Sebastian Voyages Five Days With Injured Japanese to Get Medical Assistance.

For five days the steam whaler Sebastian chased about the northern coast of British Columbia recently in search for a doctor. A Japanese employed at the whaling station at Rose Harbor, while sewing a patch trought back the needle with a jerk and poked it into his left eyeball. He was hurried on board the Sebastian and Capt. Anderson started for Bella Bella, where the nearest doctor was understood to reside. When the Sebastian arrived it was found that the doctor had gone off with the villans to the Rivers Inlet salmon canneries and his whereabouts on the inlet was uncertain. The Sebastian then started back to the islands, Capt. Anderson thinking to encounter the Princess Beatrice at Rose Harbor. The C. P. R. steamer was late and the Sebastian started off again. Then her propellier became loose and the injured Japanese was landed at Jedway. After five days of cruising a doctor was found at Queen Charlotte city and after receiving medical treatment the Japanese was sent south on the Princess Beatrice. Part of his eye has been removed.

Branch Banks Curtailing Loans in West.

Recent reports from the West indicate that the leading Canadian banks, with a view of getting ready to handle the bumper wheat crop that is expected, are curtailing their loans just as rapidly as possible. Such action has already caused quite a little disturbance at some points because it has affected real estate booms.

To say that the action of the banks has been decidedly unpopular throughout the Western country is to put it mildly, mainly because the majority of the people out there have got so accustomed to trading on other peoples' money that they fail to realise that the banks have the right to curtail their lines of credit.

During the next few weeks the action of the banks will likely cause a good deal of inconvenience, but, as they figure it out, it is more important for them at the present time to get ready to handle the actual needs of the Western country, even at the cost of a temporary setback to the land boom that has affected almost every section.

THE MINSTREL BOY DIES AT A GREEN OLD AGE

An aged wandering singer, rhymster and story teller, who was said to be a descendant of one famed in the days of minstrelsy, died recently in the hospital in County Meath, Ireland. He was the last of the old school of so-called poets who lived by story telling and verse making at farmhouse firesides. His name was Thomas Smith, and, according to report, one of his ancestors wore cap and bells and served as a jester to a prince. In his boyhood Smith, it is said, wore a faded doublet of alternating stripes of yellow and blue, which had been handed down to him as a relic of his great-grandfather's fame as a countryside funmaker.

His stories for the most part had to do with the fairies, and always presented the good fairy in the part of straightening tangles and easing the path to happy marriage. His visits throughout the country were made with scheduled regularity, and an evening with the poet was the occasion for a gathering of young folk. Like most poets he was not thrifty and died poor.

Through Ontario With The British-Born

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

I have found an employer who advertises "Old Countrymen preferred." He is Moore, of Meaford, and he talks to his Englishmen as if they were his blood brethren. I heard of his popularity in advertising from a Bristolian who used to work under him and gives him a first-class name. Moore said in opening the meeting, that the least noble of the British that come to Canada are preferable to the best who bring an alien tongue. Whereat the meeting cheered.

Afterwards Moore explained himself to me. He manufactures wood mantels in Meaford. A Quebecer he spent eighteen years in New England. He had a hard time himself, to begin with—as hard as the British have who abound in the North Atlantic States. He came back to Canada because blood and early environment will tell. He has only good to tell of the English.

"Now and then one comes along," he said, "who is a bluff; but the woodcutter from England is thorough and reliable. He soon gets on to our way of doing things, and I always get him when I can. When I started in New England I was like him starting in Canada, and I don't forget it."

My Bristolian, Walter Holloway, said this about his fellow countrymen in Meaford: "There are many good Englishmen in this town, but they have been in the background, keeping themselves to themselves."

The modesty of the English in Canada is not an over-written theme. Indeed, the quality is often thought to be somewhat obscure. That little matter of the aspirate is rather upsetting, but as a quiet fellow from Northamptonshire said to me on the way up from Allandale: the way the careless Englishman forgets and fabricates his aitches is nothing to the honestly-meant reflections of English speech you see in cartoons and stories like those that frequently adorn The Toronto Telegram, the authors of which think they are mighty clever; whereas the Englishman is only natural.

The British-born are misunderstood, because they have so far done so little to understand themselves. I met a little Londoner in Moore's factory who never slept a wink a continuous week away from "the smoke" until he boarded ship for Meaford.

"I cannot say I like it," he told me frankly, "but I don't think I should like to go back.

"What's the matter with Meaford?" I asked.

"Nothing," he replied, "only it's too quiet. It ain't like the Elephant and Castle."

This delightful man likes to tell himself he isn't quite so happy here, because Meaford isn't giddy enough for one, long years accustomed to the Elephant. But when he comes to sort out his ideas he remembers that the doctor told him to clear out of London if he wanted to save the only child of eleven that survived.

"Is the child better in Meaford?" I inquired.

"Is she?" he said, with a smile from 'ere to 'ere.

"Go and have a look at her. And there's another since we got here—lively as kittens both of 'em."

"And would you like them to be playing around the Elephant," said I.

"Not by a darned sight," he said.

To come straight from London to this tree-blessed, breezy resort on Georgian Bay, is a mighty change for a man in his forty-fifth year.

I asked if he thought he could be happy in London again.

"I don't know. I know several who have been back for a holiday, you know, and they all say they wouldn't like to live there again."

This man, you see, is just beginning to understand things.

And another I saw who had this story—Liberal in the Old Country; nothing in particular here for several years; now strongly against any closer entanglement with the United States.

Free Traders in the Old Country? Yes, in a way; but here it is different. Higher wages; houses on fifty-foot lots; more freedom and social life; more hope for the kids. The Free Trade we used to have may have been all right. The protection we now have is certainly better, or we would not stay here.

And for a sidelight on the home market: look at the Methodist Barn. Because there is a sheltering wall along the border there are growing industries on Georgian Bay. The farmer also used to find little sale for the stuff in Meaford now has a fine market among the people who run the wood-working factories. And the Methodist farmer who drives into town for the Methodist Gospel drives his horse into a big red brick barn—not an open shed—a big red brick barn that's bigger than the church and almost as imposing. The home market and the Gospel are near relations in Meaford.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 10, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and on-assessable. No personal Habilit

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY,

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

F. R. Stratton

SIR WILLIAM MACKENZIE

When William Mackenzie first saw the light in the little village of Kirkfield, Ont., in 1849, his proud mother in her wildest dreams about her boy's future could not foresee the great career that William planned out for himself.

On finishing his education at the Lindsay Grammar School he commenced life as a school teacher, then kept a store, and contracted on the G. T. R.; went West and became a contractor on the C. P. R., doing much work in the Rocky Mountains. He really commenced doing things with the formation in 1886 of the firm of Mackenzie, Mann & Co. Ltd. They built a number of railroads before building for themselves, — bit by bit as money came in that marvellous network of railroads — the Canadian Northern System, — remarkable in two ways — that the Great Northern is probably the only large railroad system in the world controlled only by two men, and that Sir William obtained the money in London at the lowest rates ever paid by a railway

STEPHEN LEACOCK

Prof. Stephen Leacock, B.A. Ph d is a man of complex accomplishments. His gifts are very varied and in each he excels. His realm of thought embraces topics ranging from the serious to the humorous. Prof. Leacock can write with equal facility and success an article on the most obscure point in Political Science or a humorous essay on some trivial subject of the day. Nor does he only interest himself in academic and literary pursuits. He uses his talents towards the development of his country, by means of direct personal appeals to the people. Dr. Leacock is a real orator. His personality is magnetic and this coupled with his fine, clear, voice, his flow of English, and his logic, combine to make his speeches convincing even to the skeptic and to rouse his own adherents to enthusiasm.

It is as a Professor that he is best known. His students are all enthusiastic. He is able by means of his humour to infuse life into and to make interesting even the dry elements of Economics as they were explained by John Stuart Mill. It is in Political Science, however that the professor really excels. Here he is on his own ground and it indeed needs an erudite opponent to question or argue a point with him on this, his hobby subject. He is the author of an invaluable little book on the subject entitled, "Elements of Political Science." So lucidly is it written, that even the layman, through its perusal, may get a comprehensive grasp of the more salient points of the subject.

In 1907 Dr. Leacock was chosen by the Cecil Rhodes Trust to tour the British Empire, delivering lectures on Imperial Problems. He was everywhere received with much enthusiasm and accomplished his mission with signal success.

Dr. Stephen Butler Leacock was born at Swanmoor, Hant, Eng., in 1869. He came to Canada in 1876. He received his primary education at Upper Canada College and from there entered Toronto University. After receiving his degree Dr. Leacock taught at his old school, Upper Canada College. He then took his Ph. D. at the graduate school of Chicago University, receiving it in 1902.

CANADIAN PHILANTHROPHY

Prominent as a philanthropist is Sir William Christopher Macdonald, Kt., who recently presented a valuable piece of ground to McGill. He is a Governor of McGill University, and of the Montreal General Hospital, to the former of which he has given large endowments. He has established and endowed the Macdonald Agricultural College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, at a cost of $5,000,000.

$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

II. Canadian Nationality In Double Harness

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

You cannot wisely consider Canadian nationality without keeping in the front of your mind the division of Canadians into those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could—the native-born and the immigrant.

Don't be scared by the immigrant. it is bad for you and worse for him. And don't think you know all about the immigrant host and their country just because you hired a green Englishman from a city, who didn't know how to put a collar on a horse.

Perhaps you never saw a Doukhobor, or a Galician, or a Buckowinian, or a Ruthenian. Thousands of these people, scattered over the prairies are Canadian citizens just as much as you are, you lucky great-grandson or great-granddaughter of a United Empire Loyalist.

They will vote on Reciprocity two thousand miles from where you are. One of these days a full-blooded Doukhobor will sit in the House of Commons. I have an excellent friend in the Saskatchewan Legislature—a Ruthenian who couldn't speak a word of English a few years ago. It isn't far, you know, from the Assembly to the Commons. The Chairman of the Licensing Commission of the Province of Saskatchewan is a German who came from the Fatherland to Minnesota, was naturalized and elected a senator, left Minnesota for Saskatchewan, and was naturalized again.

The largest place of public assembly in Port Arthur is owned by Icelanders. In Vancouver I could take you to a Chinese theatre where two performances daily are given. The Jap is almost as numerous as the Chinaman in the salmon fisheries of British Columbia. The Hindoo's turban has become a commonplace on the Pacific Coast.

Down in Nova Scotia travellers not infrequently hear people speak of going to Canada, when they mean another province in the confederation of which Nova Scotia has been a constituent for forty years. On the prairies you will find a foreign flag exalted, I had almost said worshipped, in uncounted homes. At Red Deer, in deference to foreign sentiment, they stopped singing songs in harmony with the flag that has these thousand years braved the battle and the breeze. Canadian nationality is marching in double harness, with these imported elements in the team.

I tell you Canada is infinitely more than an Ontario concession line, a little red school house and a Loyal Orange Lodge. What is to be done about the amazing medley of kindreds and tribes and tongues which I have hinted at, and for which the Bible Society prints the Scriptures in seventy different languages?

And, mind you, there is more than the differences of race and language between you and your fellow-citizen from the South of Europe who flourishes alongside the South Saskatchewan. He comes from a country you never saw to a country you have never seen, and he knows nothing of the distinctions of the country you inhabit. The prairie country and the mountains are apt to produce people different in their make-up from the dwellers in the east.

A high railway official who came east two years ago, had never seen apples growing on the trees. The non-English speaking people who have come to the country where he was born are twice as unfamiliar with the east as he was. It is something of a job in Canadian development to get all these people up there to live like you live, think like you think, and see things as you see them. And they are Canadians with full rights—citizens. Their children are the native-born, even as your children are. What do you think about it?

What ground can we line them up on so that they will stand where we stand, and be governed by the same well-springs of patriotism that move us? You perceive it must be broad ground on which to stand, and a big high ideal at which to look. And don't forget this—the imagination of their children must be nurtured. How can anyting be accomplished in face of the tremendous differences between them and us?

Somehow, soon, we have got to get all Canadian citizens thinking about the same thing. We have got to have a common ideal about our country—their country, speakers of broken-English; owners, absolute owners of Canadian soil, that they are. They must be helped to become good Canadians.

But what is a good Canadian? Answer me this—What do you mean when you stand up and sing "God save the King"? The King is on the other side of the ocean, and you perhaps are a thousand miles from salt water. On the other side of the world people are singing "God save the King" exactly as you sing it. What have you to do with them? What have they to do with your Buckowinian fellow-citizen over on the Saskatchewan?

It is a mighty curious thing this Canadian nationality in the progress of which you have harnessed yourself with the crowd of aliens to your ideas who have come to the Dominion from all the corners of the earth. You are sure about your own Canadianism. But what about theirs? It is up to you; for you asked them to come in, you know.

Suppose you talk it over with those Scotch and English fellows of your acquaintance. And ask your Irish friend to talk about it.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 202 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too. that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

PLANS TO REPULSE A POSSIBLE GERMAN INVASION.

Re-Equipping the Forts—Desire to Preserve the Neutrality of Belgium in Event of France-German War.

London, Aug. 30.—Belgium is preparing for contingencies in the event of war between France and Germany. The Belgians know by experience that the neutrality of their country would be very difficult to safeguard in such circumstances and they fear that a German invasion would take place in a few hours after an outbreak of hostilities.

GETTING MEN AND GUNS.

The Belgian Minister of War has given instructions for all forts on the Meuse, especially around Liege, to be furnished with men and ammunition.

Plans of rapid mobilization are being studied and the forts at Namur are being fitted with new cannon of the Hotchkiss type. The annual manoeuvres of the Belgian army will not take place this year.

Liege, Belgium, Aug. 30.—An intense sensation has been created among the Belgian people especially near the boundaries of France and Germany by the military precautions which are being put into effect by the Belgian Government.

A military council was held yesterday at the Villa of Lieutenant-General Hellebaut, the Minister of War, at which the commandants of all the frontier defences and other military authorities were present.

The conference was called to consider measures to preserve the neutrality of the country in the event of war between France and Germany, so as to prevent the violation of Belgian territory by either combatant or by Great Britain, should that country become involved in the conflict.

DESTRUCTION OF BRIDGES.

Great military activity has been in evidence during the past two days. Specific instructions, it is understood have been sent to the commanders of troops concerning the blowing up of bridges and the destruction of railways should war break out.

Biddeford, Me., Aug. 30.—It was announced from the counting room to-day that the York Manufacturing Company will shut down from Aug. 31st until September 11. The corporation has been running four days a week through the summer. About 24,000 operatives are affected.

As a result of a phone message to the local police station from Lindsay stating that a man, George Macgregor, is wanted in that town, for theft, P. C. Maher gathered is a very tough looking customer last evening at nine o'clock. The man arrested appeared to be very much the worse of liquor and gave the constable a rather unpleasant task, in taking him from in front of the Royal Bank to the police station. On being questioned, he stated that he had "hoboed" it down from Toronto, and arrived in the city not long before his collision with P. C. Maher.

DO YOU VALUE HEALTH?

REGULATE AND CLEANSE YOUR SYSTEM.

Spring cleaning does not answer the body. The prime element in the maintenance or in the recovery of health is activity of liver, kidneys and skin. Not occasionally but only by weekly stimulation of these functions can poisons, waste matter, and accumulations within the body be drawn out so that the blood and inward parts be purified and kept wholesome. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the mildest laxative medicine known; they purify the blood, fortify the activity of the liver and kidneys, increase the eliminating power of the skin and create a general feeling of well being—the outcome of wholesome conditions within. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a general tonic to the digestive system; they restore functional effectiveness to all the organs of secretion and contribute in this way enormously to the stability of health.

For general family use in all cases of biliousness, bad blood, indigestion and disorders of the stomach, Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Individual Drinking Cups.

In some of the cities in Ontario the school children must be supplied with individual drinking cups. These can be bought for ten or fifteen cents, or may be given away by some of the retail stores with every purchase of a certain amount of goods. Undoubtedly this is a good idea, and would greatly safeguard the health of our school children were it inaugurated in Peterborough.

MASS MEETING

business with the United States during the Grit regime.

The fact of Canada being prosperous at present, continued the Minister, is no argument for letting well enough alone. We must look out for the future; conditions that are good to-day may not be so four or five years hence. This year's Northwest wheat crop would feed all Great Britain and Canada and next year if we raise 250 million bushels, what are we going to do with it. It is our bounden duty, he contended, not to be satisfied with present prosperity, but to seek new markets for the rapid growth in Canada's products, its tremendous increasing settlement in farming lands, assures, and every bushel of wheat grown in the Northwest means employment for mechanics, and others in Ontario and Eastern Canada to meet the demand for manufactured articles.

He characterized the pact as an agreement between the two countries by which the ordinary man may have a chance to get the best out of their labour day by day. "And it wasn't the United States that made that proposition. It is not a treaty, we could have had a treaty, but refused and replied that Canada must be in a position to change the agreement at any time."

Turning to the transportation question, the speaker contended that the pact would benefit the same. The effect will be to tax our transportation facilities more than ever. In five years with our carrying mediums doubled, Canada's railways, canals and lakes would still be taxed to the highest pitch. As for the pact diverting transportation through the States, Mr. Graham asked, "Why does it not go south now?"

It is no trouble to send grain through the States in bond to Liverpool, but every year less is shipped in that way and more from west to east. Canada has the best transportation facilities and the effect of this agreement will be that the States will ship north to the Atlantic via the Hudson Bay route—the best in sight. Then there will be a marked increase in our carrying trade west by reason of increasing demands for supplies, and ar railway man will admit that there is more money in transporting manufactured goods than in grain.

The speaker could not see why Conservatives opposed reciprocity when the late Sir John A. himself advocated it. All who voted with the Conservative party in '91, he said voted for reciprocity with the United States. Sir John dissolved the house on that very issue and on assembling he advised through the speech from the throne that the States be assured of Canada s willingness to enter into closer trade relations. And if it was not disloyal in Sir John A., in '91, to seek better trade relations with the United States, when trade was stagnant, then why is it less loyal for Canada to look for reciprocity to-day, when she is big and strong enough to look after herself? "In 1910," concluded the honorable gentleman, "Mr. Sexsmith chided the Government for not seeking improved trade relations with the States, and we would have had reciprocity now had it not been for the obstruction raised by Mr. Sexsmith and his party.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King, the candidate and the speakers.

Mr. Guthrie also delivered an exceedingly able address.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

MOB LAW AT FIGHT.

Police Powerless to Handle Crowd That Turned Out to See Wells and Brown Battle.

New York, Aug. 31.—Emphatic protests against the management of the big Wells-Brown fight here last night poured in to-day on police, newspapers, reform organizations and the State officials, charged with supervision of boxing clubs. The ten round battle was the first big fight staged under the new Tammany law legalizing boxing, and it attracted a crowd unprecedented in New York fight history.

Police reserves from eleven precincts had to be called out in an effort to restrain the throng which mobbed the streets around Madison Square Gardens. With drawn night sticks, the blue coats repeatedly charged the mob in riot form, and finally resorted to the expedient of closing up several streets.

TROUBLE EARLY.

The trouble began early in the evening with a series of protests against the manner in which the price of tickets to the fight was being raised. Holders of a $1 ticket calling for admission found signs staring them in the face "standing room $5," and the price of tickets continued to soar as the evening advanced. It was charged also that the speculators had a corner on the best seats.

Nearly fifteen thousand persons finally gained admission to the big amphitheatre, but there was still a mob of at least equal size clamoring and fighting in the streets outside. Hoodlumism was rampant, and the 200 or 300 policemen were unable to get the situation in hand until nearly midnight. Police Inspector McCloskey blamed the new boxing law, which provides that the police may not enter any portion of the building where a fight is being held for most of the trouble. He said: "The whole scene was disgraceful. It was the old days and the old game over again. The hands of the police are tied."

BIG RECEIPTS.

The receipts of the fight were not made public by the promoters. Experts estimated the proceeds at anywhere from $30,000 to $50,000, and declared that the profits would exceed those of any fight held since the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

A ROUSING MEETING

Large Gathering is Addressed on the Benefits of Reciprocity by the Candidate, Mr. Jas. Middleton, Ex-Reeve of Smith and Mr. H. B. Cowan of "Farm and Dairy."

A largely attended meeting of the electors living in the neighbourhood of Selwyn welcomed Mr. Stratton at his meeting there on Friday evening.

Mr. W. J. Mellmoyle occupied the chair.

Mr. James Middleton of Peterborough and ex-Reeve of Smith, showed the advantages that the agreement would be to the great producing classes of Canada. He had been engaged in agricultural pursuits himself, but was now a resident of the city. He had looked at the agreement from all standpoints as a producer and a consumer, and was satisfied that it was in the interest of Canada that the agreement should be adopted. Recently he had taken a trip west as far as Port Arthur, and those he had met on the trains and the great majority of those with whom he had conversed were in favour of the agreement. Every obstacle was being held up to the farmer to frighten him from accepting reciprocity, but the silliest one of all was the annexation talk. While a small portion of farm produce came from the United States, as it was natural that it should come, we send from Canada a large amount of farm produce into the United States and the cost of the duty comes off us as well. It was not business to pay freight and send goods 3,500 miles away when we had a market and a better market right at our very doors. For his own part he could not see what harm it would do the cheese manufacturer to have another buyer in the market, nor could he see that it would not be advantageous to have an additional buyer for our livestock as well. He hoped that as this agreement was in the interest of the country that the electors would see that there was no mistake about its adoption.

Mr. Stratton said that during the various contests in this riding it seemed strange that the sectarian issue was always brought up with a view of distracting public attention from the main issue. He pointed out that in one contest, it was the Ross Bible, in another equal rights, in another the abolition of Separate schools, in another Margaret L. Shepherd, in yet another, a temperance issue, and now there was the Protestant Protective Association, gotten up to facilitate the ends of those who could not defeat him in the discussion of the issues before the people. He, however, was quite satisfied that the opposition should make the issue whatever they pleased; he was going to discuss the question that was before the country, the agreement between Canada and our neighbours to the south.

He pointed out that twenty-five millions in cash, twenty-five million acres in land, and thirty-five million dollars' worth of completed railway might be given away under contract by Parliament when the revenue of the country was only twenty-three millions or four times the revenue of the country, without an appeal to the electorate, but when a simple agreement to benefit the all-round trade of Canada was submitted to Parliament, it must be forced to the country at an expense of a million dollars to the people. Yet this, he said, was the result of the obstructive tactics of the Opposition in Parliament, and which was being as bare-facedly defended as if it was right.

He explained the nature of the agreement, which was merely a free exchange of the products of the soil between the two countries and showed that it would be beneficial to all classes, the producer, the consumer and the manufacturer he had no doubt. He pointed out how it would increase the value of the land of the farmer, while not increasing the cost to the consumer in the cities and towns. Both parties had been hoping to obtain the agreement, and now that it had been obtained, and a most satisfactory one, it was being opposed, not in the interests of the country, but in the interests of party.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, of Farm and Dairy, pointed out the deputations that had waited upon the Government at Ottawa. The farmers of all the provinces had appeared, asking for an open market and urging that the strings interfering with their progress might be untied and they be allowed to do business practically with the world. He showed the various combines existing, to the detriment of the farmer, and he hoped that the agriculturists of the county of Peterborough would remember that this was an issue in which they were practically interested, and that the party ism which had existed for years would be dropped and the issue faced fairly and squarely. If this was done there would be but one result, a trial for the agreement.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers for the King, the candidate and the chairman.

ATTEMPT MADE TO POISON THE POPE'S CHAPLAIN

MGR. CONTESSA FELL SHRIEKING AS SOON AS HE DRANK COMMUNION WINE.

A Canon Is Arrested—Emetic Was Administered, and It Is Believed Victim Will Recover.

New York, Sept. 1.—A cable from Rome to the World says reports reached the Vatican to-day of an attempt made yesterday to murder Mgr. Philip Contessa, a domestic chaplain to the Pope, and rector of Agira in Cantania, Cicily, while he was celebrating mass in the Cathedral at Agira. Poison had been placed in the sacred wine.

The attempt recalls the day of the Borgias. The chalice and a part of the wine have been sent to an analyst. Guiseppe Trepunti, a canon of the cathedral, has been detained on suspicion.

Mgr. Contessa had just raised the chalice for adoration, and as he turned to the serving deacon, as he brought the chalice from his lips, he fell across the front of the altar and sank to the floor in convulsions. His fall and his cries of pain caused a panic in the congregation. Several women fainted.

Mgr. Contessa was carried into the sacristy, and an emetic administered. He revived and it is believed that he will recover.

His first words on regaining consciousness were that there had been poison in the chalice. Some wine still remained in the small vessel from which it had been poured into the chalice during the celebration. This together with the chalice, was taken charge of by the authorities.

PUBLIC OPINION

MR. BURNHAM REPLIES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. D. O'Connell, no doubt, spokesman for the Church, charged me on the platform at Young's Point and Bridgenorth in the presence of Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P., and Mr. Stratton charged me at the Hon. Geo. P. Graham's meeting at the Opera House here with having wrongfully, wantonly and maliciously stirred up sectarian and religious strife in Peterborough. It is doubtless incumbent upon me to make a reply to those charges or stand convicted of them. My reply, however, will be brief. It will be in the words of His Holiness Pope Pius X. and I hope the above gentlemen will not fail to accuse his Holiness of stirring up strife in his efforts to turn the world from what he considers its mistaken ideas of modern freedom and government. Let it be remembered that Modernism and Protestantism are the same thing. They both deny the supremacy of papal authority and affirm the liberty of believers. This decree against Modernism is addressed to the clergy only. His Holiness says, after stating the case of Modernism, and the necessity of immediately putting an end to its existence :—"Such is the situation of the Modernists, and their one great anxiety is in consequence to find a way of conciliation between the authority of the Church and the liberty of believers."

Thus it will be seen the Pope denies the liberty of believers. So much for the religious part of it. His Holiness then says regarding the SOCIAL institutions of the people :—"Finally we entrust to the Councils of Vigilance the duty of overlooking assiduously and diligently social institutions as well as writings on social questions so that they harbor no trace of Modernism, but obey the prescriptions of the Roman Pontiffs."

What are the Councils of Vigilance referred to? In instituting them the Pope says :—"But of what avail, Venerable Brethren, will be all our commands and prescriptions if they are not dutifully and firmly carried out? And in order that this may be done it has seemed expedient to us to extend to all dioceses the regulations laid down with great wisdom many years ago by the Bishops of Umbria for theirs. In order (they say) to extirpate the errors already propagated and to prevent their further diffusion • • • . We decree therefore, that in every diocese a council of this kind which we are pleased to name 'The Council of Vigilance' be instituted without delay. The priests called to form part in it • • • shall meet every two months • • • . They shall be bound to secrecy as to their deliberations and decisions • • ."

In order that these orders of the Pope may not be taken lightly, as Mr. O'Connell and others would appear to ask us to do, His Holiness further says :—"We will therefore that the Bishops putting aside all fear and the prudence of the flesh, despising the outcries of the wicked • • • do each his own share of this work • • ."

People will now see what the new marriage decree means. It is the first attempt of the Councils of Vigilance since the Modernism decree to interfere with social institutions. We may expect much more, for has not the Pope most positively ordered it? Is it likely that Protestants will lie down quietly in the face of these decrees? It is to expect too much. What designs on our liberty has the man who commands that we keep silent in the face of these repressive measures. France has rebelled. Why not Canada? We are on the eve of a great crisis.

Flighty Hats Will Be the Rage.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—The science of aviation is to be the chief influence on designs for women's headwear next winter, according to the National Association of retail milliners which opened its fall meeting last night. In the display of winter styles, such names are found as "Sky Stars," "the volplane turban" and the "rainbow spiral," a particularly giddy effect in many colors.

MEETING AT ENNISMORE

An enthusiastic meeting took place last night in the Town Hall, Ennismore, in the interests of the Hon. J. R. Stratton, M. P. The hall was crowded and much enthusiasm prevailed.

Mr. Stratton received an enthusiastic reception, and was accorded a splendid hearing, as was also the other speakers.

Mr. Stratton gave a very practical address, in which he went into the reciprocity matter, and gave some facts and figures which showed the advantage larger markets would be to the people of this country. He pointed out that the removal of trade restrictions and the breaking down of trade barriers, especially in natural products always worked to the benefit of the producer, whether he be farmer or working man. Both are the great producers of wealth. For instance the manufacturers of the Dominion of Canada to-day import from the United States over one hundred million dollars of their raw material free of duty. That helps to place the Canadian manufacturer upon the ground floor.

If it is to the advantage of the Canadian manufacturer, that one hundred million dollars a year of his raw material should be purchased from the United States and brought into Canada free of duty, why should it not be to the advantage of the Canadian farmer to sell one hundred million dollars worth of his product free of duty in the United States and bring back the gold which will enable him to purchase more goods from the Canadian manufacturer and thereby give increased employment to the Canadian mechanic and working man and at the same time develop a healthy home market.

If Sir John A. Macdonald, during the whole of his life, tried to obtain free trade in natural products with the United States, and if Sir John Abbott, Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Tupper and all the old veteran leaders of the Conservative party, tried to obtain free trade in natural products with the United States, what possible objection can there be to the Canadian people giving it an honest trial? The rank and file of the Conservative party cannot believe that their former great leaders were short sighted men. They, in their day, did their best to bring about Reciprocity, without success. Why not give it a fair trial?

Addresses were made by other speakers, after which hearty cheers were given for the King and for Hon. Mr. Stratton.

A VIOLENT DEMONSTRATION AGAINST BRITAIN IN THE GERMAN EMPIRE

A VIOLENT DEMONSTRATION AGAINST ENGLAND IN GERMANY LAST NIGHT.

Over Moroccan Affair—Nothing Like It Since the Boer War—War Rates Are Advancing in London.

London, Sept. 1.—A fair amount of war insurance was offered yesterday, and with the market becoming restricted the rates advanced further on the risk of war breaking out between certain European powers within two months. Some risks were accepted at 8 per cent., and in some cases 10 per cent. was quoted.

A Morocco mass meeting was held in Berlin last night, and all accounts indicate that the gathering resolved itself into a violent demonstration against England. There has been no similar public outburst of Anglophobia in Germany since the days of the Boer War.

References to France were crouched in terms of friendship and were greeted with something approaching enthusiasm.

FEELING OF CONFIDENCE.

Paris, Sept. 1.—The French Foreign Office, it is understood, has not received any sure indication that Germany will accept the French proposals for a settlement of the Moroccan question, yet a measure of confidence is felt in an early agreement because of the extent of the compensations which are to be offered by France. Since these are Central African areas it is not supposed that Germany would proceed to extreme lengths over a few thousand square miles more or less.

The real difficulty in the way of an early settlement, it is believed at the Foreign Office, lies in the special commercial and mining guarantees which Germany may seek in Morocco, as nothing can be given Germany in Morocco which Great Britain does not possess. Besides anything like special privileges would afford endless occasions for the reopening of the controversy on questions of interpretation.

The French and British Governments have reached the fullest mutual agreement upon every phase of the Franco-German dispute.

CALL IT ULTIMATUM

New York, Sept. 1.—A London cable to The Times this morning says : "Ultimatum" is the term used in London to describe the character of the written instructions which the French Ambassador at Berlin, Jules Cambon, carried from Paris on his return to his post yesterday, to resume the negotiations on the Morocco question.

The word has an ugly sound, and its use is avoided by the newspapers this morning, but throughout yesterday ever since the Echo de Paris published an article summarizing the draft of the instructions for M. Cambon, drawn up by the French Cabinet no hesitation was shown here in so interpreting them.

THE SWALLOW THE PILL.

There is confident expectation here that Germany will swallow the pill, just as there exists a certain amount of satisfaction at the thought that she will not find it to her liking.

Articles were published here yesterday showing the immense superiority of the British navy over that of Germany at the present moment, and among English military men the opinion prevails that Germany would be unwilling to try issues with France just now because of the superiority of the French field artillery and the alleged greater ability of the French general staff.

In the event of war, which is considered to be extremely unlikely, it is held that France's defensive positions are so strong that the German military operations would be rendered ineffective for at least such a period as would insure the destruction of the German fleet and naval operations that would more than counterbalance any eventual German successes on land. For these reasons the British view of the present critical situation is somewhat rose colored.

FEELING AGAINST BRITAIN.

German resentment at the part which England, rightly or wrongly, is supposed to be playing, is growing apace and the persistent enmity of Great Britain toward Germany is the keynote of many Berlin newspaper articles. The Vossische Zeitung in a leading article after declaring that there is no virtue in concealing the fact that Germany is now full of bitter anglophobia, asserts that England cannot wonder at this state of affairs in the face of such a visit as General Sir John French and other British officers are now paying to the French fortresses on the German frontier. Such a tour of inspection at the present critical juncture, the paper says, can hardly be looked upon either as unintentional or innocent, especially in view of the fact that General French was once named as the future Commander-in-Chief of the allied Anglo-French armies which are to operate against Germany.

A GAS EXPLOSION IN MONTREAL CHINATOWN

Montreal, Sept. 1.—The explosion of a twelve-inch gas main in the heart of Montreal's Chinatown caused great excitement among Oriental residents of Lagauchetiere street east shortly before midnight.

The main had been leaking for some time, and it is thought a smoker's match caused the trouble. The street was torn up for some distance and twenty-five feet of sidewalk was practically destroyed, but no great property damage resulted.

BRIDE TO GET 5 MILLIONS AS SOON AS SHE WEDS ASTOR

New York, Sept. 2.—The sum which Col. John Jacob Astor settled upon his fiancee, Miss Madelein Force, in the marriage agreement signed at Newport last Monday was $5,000,000 according to The Herald to-day.

In addition to $5,000,000, which will belong to the young woman the moment she is pronounced Mrs. Astor, a further agreement was made, it is said, providing that liberal provision shall be made for Miss Force in Col. Astor's will, which is to be drawn immediately after the wedding and deposited with the marriage agreement with the United States Trust Company in this city.

It is generally understood among the friends of Col. Astor and Miss Force that the wedding will not be delayed long.

The ceremony probably will take place at Beechwood, the Astor villa, at Newport, and will be very simple. Only a few intimate friends and relatives will attend.

Brantford, Aug. 31.—Mrs. McIntyre, mother of Mr. Herbert McIntyre of the Brantford Customs department, died to-day at her home at Burtch, as a result of sever burns received last night, when her apparel and bed clothing caught fire accidentally from an oil lamp. The family were awakened by her cries, and it was with difficulty the fire was extinguished.

THE VOLUNTEER OFFICIAL FLIRTER

By the Infuriated Wife of One of the Men Whom She Had Fined in the Court—She Lost Her Job as well.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 30.—Ten men accused of flirting with Miss May Evans, the volunteer "official flirter" of the Police Departmenot have been arrested in the last twenty-four hours Five in the Police Court pleaded guilty to the charge and were sentenced to pay a fine of $30 or spend 30 days in jail. Five others who were arrested last night will be arraigned in Police Court to-day. Miss Evans offered her services to Chief of Police Sebastian several days ago, after she had complained that "mashing" should be banished in Los Angeles and that insults to woman on the streets should be stopped.

New York, Sept. 1.—A despatch from Los Angeles to the World says: Miss Fay Evans, "the flirt cop," who caused the arrest of nine so-called "mashers" in three days, has not only lost her job on the police force, but has been thrashed by the infuriated wife of one of the alleged mashers.

Miss Evans was walking down Main street when a woman halted her.

"Are you Fay Evans?"

"Yes."

"Take that, you hussy, and that, and that," cried the woman, beating the "flirt cop" on the head with an umbrella. The police say the "lady detective" begged for mercy, but the woman, whose husband was fined $30 in the Police Court Tuesday, on conviction of having ogled Miss Fay, kept on striking her until her umbrella broke. The Chief of Police, Sebastian, wondering how she had effected so many arrests, sent for Miss Evans. She looked like a section of rainbow. She wore a hat the size of a peck measure; she had on a light colored lace dress which was short enough to display her white shoes and the ankles of her white stockings; the sleeves of her black silk wrap were lined with flaming red silk; its wide collar and cuffs were of the same hue. Staring at her the dazzled chief blushed.

"It's all very plain to me now," he said, "that get-up would make most any man stare. You are discharged."

COMPLETING SURVEY OF OTTAWA-KINGSTON LINE

Smith's Falls, Sept. 2.—The survey of the proposed route of the new Ottawa, Smith's Falls, and Kingston Electric Railway is being rapidly pushed forward. The proposed route follows the bank of the Rideau River and lakes from Ottawa, right through to Kingston, passing through Smith's Falls.

The cars and electric trains will be operated on a system as yet untried in Canada. Instead of the old method of generating electricity at terminal points, and transmitting it by means of trolley wires to the motors on the cars, each car or locomotive will generate its own supply of electricity. This will be done by means of a small gasoline engine, driving a dynamo with the car, which furnishes the current to drive the motor.

The company is backed by British capital, and will push on the construction work as rapidly as possible.

ARE GARNERING IN THE CROP BY MOONLIGHT

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—Weather conditions show warm and showery all over the West to-day. The fields in many sections are too wet to-day for harve-ting to be continued, but will be resumed by evening. The machines are running by moonlight as late as midnight in many sections.

FRANK LE FABVRE MET DEATH WHILE AT WORK

Yesterday morning at nine o'clock a fatal accident occurred, the victim being Mr. Francis Le Fabvre of the stores department of the Canadian General Electric Works, who resides at 472 Elm street.

It appears that Mr. Le Fabvre whose duty it was to help unload the box cars on the stores siding, failed to get out of the way of the cars being shunted, quickly enough and was jammed between a door of one of the cars and the unloading platform. He was removed from this position, but owing to the terrible crushing he had sustained, he expired a few minutes afterwards and before the ambulance that had been summoned, arrived.

The late Mr. Le Fabvre has been a resident of the city for nearly 25 years, but had been employed by the C.G.E. only since last spring. He is survived by his wife, four daughters and four sons.

As Coroner Greer is not in the city it is not known whether or not an inquest will be held.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 31.—There was a slight flurry of snow here about midnight. It melted as quickly as it struck the pavements.

The temperature at midnight was 48 degrees.

SKYSCRAPERS OUT OF PLUMB

New York, Sept. 1.—A Chicago despatch says :

The discovery that the Unity Building, a sixteen storey Deerborn street structure, is three feet out of plumb at the skyline has set the city building inspectors investigating. They say that every sky-scraper in the city is leaning more or less. The twenty-one-storey Masonic Temple is seriously out of plumb, while the Ellsworth Building, and the Pullman Building also are imitating the "Tower of Pisa." The owners of the Unity Building have been ordered to get it straightened up, as it threatens to topple.

PLANING MILL AT COBOCONK BURNED.

Was Totally Destroyed by Fire of Unknown Origin.

Lindsay, Aug. 31.—This morning the planing mill, in connexion with the Gull River Lumber Co., at Coboconk, was totally destroyed by fire, of unknown origin. The saw mill and shingle mill were in great danger, but were saved by the bucket brigade. The loss is estimated at $4,000. A Grand Trunk car on the siding was also totally destroyed.

BOSWORTH MAY SUCCEED WHYTE

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 1.—Who will succeed Sir William Whyte as Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with head offices in Winnipeg?

This is the question that has been discussed at great length among the railway officials of the city for the past few days or even since the retirement of Sir William was announced by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

Many have suggested that G. J. Bury will receive the position, but there is a persistent rumor afloat, and it seems to have consiberable authority back of it, that an Eastern man will be brought out to fill the vacancy. If this is the case, the question narrows down to two men, G. M. Bosworth, and D. McNichol, both Vice-Presidents of Montreal, and both operating men.

It is also rumored that the man who takes this position will be the next President of the Canadian Pacific.

It seems most likely that the man selected if he comes from the East will be G. M. Bosworth, but the President says the name will not be announced for some little while to come

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

Is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau crected. and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

F. R. Stratton

DRESS REFORM FOR MEN

A New German Scare.

The latest German scare takes the form of an attempt to reform men's clothing. A society organized in Berlin aims at abolishing trousers, substituting knicker-bockers, while coat and waistcoat are to give way to a sort of loose blouse hanging well down to the knees. Linen of all sorts is to be discarded. There seems to be a lack of German thoroughness in these proposals. Why should the loose blouse come to the knees, if the knickerbockers are to be worn? Or why the knickerbockers, if the upper garment is to come to the knees? What is really needed is a blanket, which can be worn short or long, and moulded into any form that may suit the taste of the wearer.

But reform in men's clothing is not likely to be revolutionary. Its progres is one of evolution, like that of the British constitution. Freedom broadens slowly down from precedent to precedent. The silk hat gives way to the fedora, the hard, unyielding straw to the easy Panama. The tightly buttoned coat with tails is worn only upon State occasions, as if to keep us in mind of the bondage of the past, and of the maxim that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. There was a time when trousers clung to the skin one season, and the next flapped idly like sails on a listless sea. There was a time when a man who wanted easy clothing all the time was sternly informed that they were not worn that way this season, and meekly submitted to the decrees of fashion. But now the rebels have the upper hand. They boldly telephone to the tailor to make another suit of clothes "like the last."

We have thus achieved self-government in the sober British fashion. And in clothes, as in politics, order and freedom go hand-in-hand. The result of liberty is sobriety. The exuberance of youth will occasionally find expression in socks of orange and green, while middle age will indulge in a red waistcoat. But these are merely innocent saturnalia, giving vent to that strain of wildness which lingers in all of us.

BE WAS KEPT WAITING

Senator John Sharp Williams was once made executor of a wealthy man's estate, all of which had been left to his only son. The father had kept this young man, who was just turned 21, in pretty close leash during his youth, and it was with eyes bulging with expectancy of a good-far-flung fling that the son called on the executor a few days after the funeral to learn when he was coming into his kingdom. Senator Williams relates: "I haven't qualified as executor yet, Bob," I told him, "but come around in a week or so and you can get what you want." Promptly on the dot Bob turned up. "The period of advertising for claims against the estate will not expire for a fortnight yet," I told him this time, "so I cannot legally pay you anything until then. Drop in in a couple of weeks and I'll fix you out." Bob swallowed his disappointment and took his departure. At the end of a fortnight he promptly appeared again. "Sorry to disappoint you a third time, Bob," I said, "but there have been some purely formal claims filed against the estate that can not be disposed of until next month's term of court. If you'll call after that you can get all the cash you want, but I really don't see my way clear to pay out anything until these matters are disposed of. Come back in a month and it will be all right then." Bob moved slowly to the door. With his hand on the knob he turned to me. "Mr. Williams," he said, sadly, "do you know sometimes I'm right sorry the old man died!"

Actors Don't Grow Old!

An actress, at the recent luncheon in New York of the Actors' Church Alliance, said of dramatic criticism: "There is one part of dramatic criticism that strikes me as cruel. I refer to the criticism that reproaches an actor or actress with growing old. It is very hard to be reminded of one's age. One is conscious enough of that, dear knows, without being told about it in the papers. Such critics," she continued, "are almost as bad as Lord Lacland. Young Lord Lacland came over to New York and proposed to a rather elderly heiress. She refused him. 'I am sorry, Lord Lacland,' she said, 'but I can never be anything more to you than a—' 'Just my luck!' he interrupted, reaching for his hat and stick. 'And I've got two grandmothers already.'"

The Cost of Navies

The British naval estimates for this year are exceedingly large. It is the intention to appropriate $75,000,000 for new construction. This sum of money will provide five dreadnoughts, three protective cruisers, and a number of torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. News also come which says Austria-Hungary is to spend within the next few years $75,000,000 in naval construction; and this is regarded as peculiarly significant inasmuch as Austria-Hungary is Germany's ally. At the present time British tonnage is 436,000 tons; that of German is 297,000 tons; next comes France with 173,000 tons; and the United States is in the next position with 136,000 tons.

Something to Brag About.

Edmonton is boasting because some people in that town broke into a store and stole a half-ton safe. That is nothing. Some years ago some burglars in Toronto broke into a store and stole thirty-six cooking stoves. They loaded them up on drays while the police looked on.

COPENHAGEN'S FRESH FISH

Brought to One's Door Swimming About in Tanks of Water.

When a person buys fresh fish in Copenhagen he really gets it. More than that he gets uncontaminated fish. The sewers used to empty into the sea at the nearest convenient points. Now the sewage is collected into a main trunk line and carried two kilometers out to sea before it is released.

Thus there is longer any contamination of the harbor or the sea front. They not only puts an end to the nuisances that used to arise, says the 'Lancet,' but enables boats full of live fish to come close to shore and right into the town by means of the salt water canals.

In the summer at least the smaller fish are kept alive until the moment they are sold. Any number of wooden boats are pierced with holes and filled with fish; these boats just float on the surface of the water, and the living fish is taken out of them when wanted.

But as every one cannot go to the water's edge to buy fish there are water tanks on wheels and the live fish are brought to the doors of the people's houses. The principal fish market was built by the municipality and is let to a wholesale fish salesman.

It is delight to see how clean and bright these premises are kept. There is no spreading the fish on slabs so that dust and dirt may settle on them. Very pretty tessallated tanks are filled with running water, and here the smaller fish swim about. The larger fish such as cod or halibut, are too cumbersome to keep alive, and are therefore placed in the cold storage rooms.

Not only are the fish fresh, but they are generally very well, sometimes even artistically cooked. At Copenhagen the domestic servants' trade unionists instituted a school where members of the union are taught how to be clean and neat, how to sew, to wash and starch, and above all how to cook. A little restaurant is attached to this school where any one can have a cheap meal, thus giving the pupils an opportunity of exercising their art.

The trade union, while insisting that good servant shall earn from 25 to 30 kromer (a kromer equals 1s. 2d.) a month and pay half a kromer subscription to the union, does at the same time endeavor to render her fully competent to accomplish her work. Also by providing sleeping accommodation it helps to pervent servant girls falling into bad company or suffering undue hardships when out of employment.

In the same way there is an old frigate moored in a canal close to the most fashionable centre of the town where there is a school for ships' cooks. On board a ship with the limited space such as prevails at sea young folks try their 'prentice hands at making dishes such as are served to passengers on sea voyages. There is an awningon the deck, tables are laid out, and numerous inhabitants of Copenhagen take their meals there for they are both varied and inexpensive. Thus fully qualified cooks are being prepared for the sea.

Multiplying on the Fingers

We shall never be in danger of forgetting that our ancestors did their sums on their fingers so long as arithmetic retains the word 'digits.' But modern civilization knows nothing of the elaborate development of this method. It takes a Welshwoman peasant to multiply 8 by 9 on his hands. This is how he does it. The fingers of either hand, beginning with the thumb, stand for the numbers from 6 to 10. So the ring finger of the one hand and the middle finger of the other are struck out to represent 8 and 9. Counting the fingers remaining on the side furthest from the thumbs he finds them 1 and 2 respectively, and 1 multiplied by 2 gives him the units of his product—2. Then he counts from the thumbs to the struck out fingers inclusive, finds them 3 and 4, adds these and gets 7 for his tens. Answer—72. All this to avoid knowing the multiplication table beyond four times four! Try it as a game.

PREVENTION OF FOREST FIRES

That it is only by observance of the utmost care that forest fire outbreaks can now be avoided in certain dangerous districts, is pointed out by Commissioner W. C. Gladwin, of British Columbia:

"In some districts," says the Commissioner, "the conditions existing at present are such that, should a fire originate, it will only be with the greatest difficulty that great loss will be prevented. The department, of course, has a considerable force of rangers out patrolling the various districts night and day, but one careless individual may cause all their efforts to count for naught and start a fire occasioning heavy loss in lives and property."

"This fact cannot be too frequently impressed upon the public mind, particularly in the dry season of midsummer," he adds.

The Harborless

Ah! there be souls none understand;
Like clouds, they cannot touch the land,
Drive as they may, by field or town;
Then we look wise at this and frown,
And we cry, "Fool!" and cry, "Take hold
Of earth and fashion gods of gold!"
Unanchored ships they blow and blow
Still to and fro, and then go down
In unknown seas that none shall know,
Without one ripple of renown.
Poor, drifting dreamers sailing by,
They seem to only live to die.

All these not fools! the test of worth
Is not the hold you have on earth.
Oh! there be gentlest souls sea-blown
However it may be the reason is
They touch on fairer shores than this.

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognises his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rae along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and—Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify, are often uncovered: many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities add reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs The very reason why this land to-day is only a reblon of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

Eminent Toronto Physicians

Failed to Cure Rheumatism.

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings and Ultimate Cure with "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

The Morning Times

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1911.

NOT IMPOSSIBLE.

The election that will be decided on the 21st of the present month, is supposed to be a referendum to the country of the question of Reciprocity, or the agreement for the free interchange of farm products between Canada and the States. The Bobcaygeon Independent says that as a referendum it is a fraud and a humbug from the start, the question being obliterated by the considerations of Party. A referendum should be freed from every ulterior motive, and the question be considered purely on its own merits. This referendum is a general election in which the Laurierites are endeavoring to retain power and the Bordenites to gain power. It is purely a Party struggle in which Reciprocity will be the question least considered. There will be the usual regrettable introductions and possibly these will be rather more aggravated this time as it is understood that assistance is being rendered from outside sources. There are also racial movements this time that bode no good for the country, there is a British born movement that is being worked, and the old French nuisance. What this country is in need of most is Canadianism, not French, British, German, Italian, Hindu or Chinese, but Canadianism. The man who comes to this country to make it his home wants to drop the land he came from as quickly as possible and give his affections to the land that gives him his living and all that he is worth. Men who vote as Britishers or as Frenchmen, or as Italians are not voting as Canadians, and the interests of this country are Canadian. However, it is no use expecting people to remain sane during elections. As soon as the spirit of partyism gets roused, the masses become afflicted with dementia. The Laurierites and the Bordenites will blackguarding each other and accuse each other of about all the crimes on the calendar, and get each other madder than ever. They each vote the same old way, never failing and don't count. They are ticked off on the voters lists like so many mechanical dolls. It is the moderate men who carry elections, and they are not captured by the blackguards of either party. The moderate non-partisan man is likely to consider free trade in farm products as worth while trying for a year or so, and see how it works. Being at liberty to cut it out whenever desired, they will decide to try it. The French National movement under Mr. Bourassa, is really the most interesting feature in the election. There is no positive certainty about elections, and if it should happen that Mr. Bourassa wins enough Nationalists to hold the balance of power. How then? ve Laurierites and Bordenites. Mr. Bourassa is not to say in love with Laurierism, neither is he any way mushy with Bordenism, for he has no use whatever for Imperialism and would dispose of the Canadian Navy to the first junk dealer applying. If Mr. Bourassa should mount the political tester and have a foot on each side of the centre, politics at Ottawa next fall would give an exhibition worth reproduction in a cinemetograph.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 203 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

GIVEN PLACE OF HONOR.

The Boy Scouts Had a Good Time at Toronto Exhibition.

The Peterborough Scouts returned from the Toronto Exhibition after having a fine time, during the three days they were in camp. The local scouts were honored by being made the first troop in the third division. The third troop of local scouts took part in the exhibition of first aid, signalling and first aid, and received the honor of being complimented by Earl Grey.

Assistant Scoutmaster Mose and scoutmaster Miller, and Rev. F. J. Sawers were in charge of the local contingent.

Perhaps the sight that will longest be remembered, was the scene presented when 4,200 scouts lined up before the grandstand, with the standard bearers carrying the 100 large Union Jacks, in the centre of the array. In this position the thousands of scouts burst forth in three prolonged cheers and hats were waved at the top of the staves.

Frost in Country.

A slight frost was reported to have been felt in the country, three miles from the city, Monday and Tuesday evenings. It did no palpable damage to the crops, however.

JUMPED INTO THE ATLANTIC

New York, Aug. 31.—The husband of Justina Fight, who is waiting for her to join him on an Arkansas farm will wait in vain. When the steamer Rhein arrived here to-day from Bremen, her Captain reported that Mrs. Fight jumped overboard early on the morning of August 20 and was dead when taken out of the water. She was buried at sea. It is thought the woman was demented. She was 37 years old.

License Inspector Stewart has now one hundred blacklisters on the books This census all West Peterborough, and the name of only one woman appears on the list.

MOB LAW AT FIGHT.

Police Powerless to Handle Crowd That Turned Out to See Wells and Brown Battle.

New York, Aug. 31.—Emphatic protests against the management of the big Wells-Brown fight here last night poured in to-day on police, newspapers, reform organizations and the State officials, charged with supervision of boxing clubs. The ten round battle was the first big fight staged under the new Tammany law legalizing boxing, and it attracted a crowd unprecedented in New York fight history.

Police reserves from eleven precincts had to be called out in an effort to restrain the throng which mobbed the streets around Madison Square Gardens. With drawn night sticks, the blue coats repeatedly charged the mob in Hot form, and finally resorted to the expedient of closing up several streets.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

STARVATION AMID PLENTY

NOT UNCOMMON TO-DAY — THE REASON IS EXPLAINED.

"For a period last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodges, of Bloomsbury. "The heat had made me listless and the distaste for food reduced me to a condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, but the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, that while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemed to go right to the liver, and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear but I began to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health."

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Look for the yellow box. Sold by all dealers, or The Catarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Canada, at 25c. per box.

Junk Dealer Acquitted.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

Orangemen and Gorillas.

The Catholic Register of yesterday has the following: "The foregoing suggestion from a Western contemporary is recommended to the True Blues and the L.O.L. in general. On a sweltering twelfth of July a battalion of gorillas or chimpanzees would make a big hit, as they marched in procession, whilst the brethren were slaking their thirst in some shady nook. Covered with orange sashes and flushed with the glory and excitement of the occasion, there would no doubt be considerable difficulty in making out which was which."

use of the columns of the public press for abusing political opponents is not good politics. The same rule holds good in regard to platform speaking. I am sorry that there is so much of this sort of thing in connection with the present campaign. Public opinion is very fickle, and it is easy to secure sympathy for the "under dog," as it were, by those of intemperate language. Let the campaign go on as it should, without the use of strong and abusive terms. Argument alone should prevail, and those who depart from reason to the realm of personal abuse are sure to suffer.

An Elector.

THE NATIONALIST MOVEMENT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Upon the claim of fair play, I hope you will allow me space to say that, in my opinion, the position and motives of Messrs. Bourassa, Monk and others known as "Nationalists," are much misunderstood outside of Quebec. These gentlemen have had the courage to condemn the wrongdoings of their own former political leaders, and to express their belief that the Navy Act, by which this country is to be committed to the armament mania which is oppressing the people of Europe and which is the root-cause of the labor troubles and social unrest in those lands, is wrong. Because a great many people in Quebec have had the independence of thought to break away from the slavery of political party to join Messrs. Monk and Bourassa, there is great alarm in both political camps, but most of all in that camp which has most to suffer in a party sense, by a revolt of independent thinkers. Under the British system of government we pride ourselves upon the liberty of thought and speech and if I believe that the creation of a Canadian navy will fasten upon this country a monster in the form of wasteful vested interests, which will oppress and impoverish our children, have I not the right to declare my belief without being accused of disloyalty? The charge of anti-British feeling or of race antipathy among the French Canadians is so cruelly unjust that I wonder that any fair minded public man or journal can repeat it. The simple fact that crimes of violence are less in proportion to population in Quebec than in any other part of this continent, proves beyond question that the French Canadians are a people of peace-loving disposition. And if Canada were invaded what possible motive would French Canadians have in joining any nation on earth in dispossessing themselves of their own land? There is only one possible nation to which they could ally themselves, and that is France. But even if France were not herself an ally of the British Empire, we know that there is no sympathy between religious French Canada and atheistic France. And as French Canadians may object to leaving their own land for warlike purposes, how is it possible that they would willingly submit to the conscription of France? We have only to raise these questions to show the unreasoning injustice of the disloyalty insinuation against any of our fellow citizens in Quebec.

On the ground that two wrongs do not make one right—that the aggression of one nation is no justification for aggression by another, I am opposed to the creation of a Canadian navy, whether by a Conservative or a Liberal government. Before Canadians allow their necks to be tied to this millstone which will help to sink them to the depths in which the suffering masses of Europe are engulfed because of navy building, they will do well to spend a year or two in reflection and investigation, and they may then thank Heaven for the Bourassas and the Monks who have the moral courage to declare openly what most of us, believe in our hearts to be true, but are not ready to confess.

I cannot think it unpatriotic to love peace, nor is it a bad sign when men will leave their party because they think it has failed to maintain its virtues, for this, after all, is Mr. Bourassa's main ground.

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by The Times that the City Council are monkeying with the Pigeon Creek bridge matter again. If they know what is best for them they will refuse to have anything to do with it. Let the two counties maintain their own bridges, as they are legally bound to do. The city has its own bridges to look after, and I certainly think it would be unfair to expect us to help to maintain bridges that do not belong to us

MEETING AT BENSFORT

A meeting took place last night at Bensfort, which was largely attended the building being filled to the doors.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, Conservative candidate, began his address by thanking those present in the name of all those who were striving for modern free popular government for the efforts they were making to elect him as a humble supporter of the revolt against reaction. He was surprised to find what an interest was taken in Bourassa and yet he was not surprised. Bourassa was striving to bend the authorities of the Church of Rome to the purposes of the French race. The moment, however, any race or party became dominant in that Church outside of Rome it would obviously mean the death of the Church, hence the opposition to Bourassa. The following clipping from this week's Catholic Register the official Roman Catholic organ, is significant in this connection. It says:—"The Holy Father's injunction in his recent letter to "eradicate whatever differences of opinion still exist amongst Catholics through diversity of race and language," comes at a particularly opportune time. It behooves all of us to take it to heart and to buckle down to the serious work which lies before the Church in Canada." That is why Bourassa and Bishop Fallon come in such fierce conflict. It is a case of the striving of a race against the power of the Church and nothing more or less. With regard to trade, Mr. Burnham dealt exhaustively with the Barley question. He first showed how absurd it was to talk of exporting barley to the U. S. when the U. S. exported it to Canada. Even Peterboro itself received four hundred thousand bushels of feed or domestic American barley in the last two years. It can be laid down here cheaper and pay the duty than our own Peterborough County barley. What more do you want? As for the superior class of barley such as malting barley it would be supplied by Russia, which under the Pact would drive our own best barley out of the malting market. Why would it not also affect the American malting barley? Because the "favoured nations" clause is interpreted differently by Great Britain and the United States. Such a treaty as the Pact lets it into Canada but does not affect the U. S. Russian barley can be laid down in Montreal with duty paid, for an outside high price figure of 73c and when the duty is taken off it will be too cheap for our farmers to compete with. And Russia raises more barley than all other countries combined. Britain buys nearly all her malting barley from her. Once again the astute Yankee will have beaten us out. He has deluded us with a will o' the wisp in order to get our pulpwood, free wheat for his flour mills and the by products for his cattle. Add to this a further measure of reciprocity and it will be "goodbye" Canada as a separate country altogether. Take another practical instance. On Aug. 21st a well-known Peterborough firm paid $5.50 for alsike. Philadelphia was that same day offering 5.34 for it to this same Peterborough firm who sold by 'phone in Toronto for considerably more. Under reciprocity the Peterborough firm would have bought Philadelphia alsike if the Peterborough farmer did not come down to that level. It is things like these that show the true meaning of Reciprocity.

A number of others also addressed the meeting at the conclusion of which cheers were given for the King and the Conservative candidate.

BILINGUAL SCHOOL QUESTION STILL FAR FROM SETTLED

DR. FRANK MERCHANT WILL NOT COMPLETE WORK UNTIL THE SCHOOL YEAR OPENS.

Activity of Bishop Fallon Arouses French-Canadians — Societies in Southwestern Ontario File Brief With Vatican Protesting Against His Promotion to Archbishopric of Toronto.

London, Sept. 2.—The bi-lingual school question which was stirred up in Canada and in Western Ontario in particular by Bishop Fallon of London, seems to be still a long way from settlement. Dr. Frank Merchant who was appointed to make an investigation of the whole matter, has not yet reported; indeed, he has not yet completed his enquiry, but will continue it at the opening of the school year. The report when finally made will present one of the most troublesome questions that the Ontario government has ever had to deal with and may have some influence in determining the time when the Ontario government will again go to the country.

There is little doubt however, but that Sir James Whitney will be master of the situation, as the more difficult the problem is to handle, the more it appears to his liking. The Ontario Premier has dealt with many very naughty questions since taking the reins of government, and the statesmanlike way in which he and his colleagues have handled the same has strengthened his hand in the province.

MAY GO TO TORONTO.

Down in Southwestern Ontario, where the French-Canadian population is large, there is deep feeling on the question and a great deal of it is directed against Bishop Fallon, who seems to be regarded by many of them as an enemy of the French-Canadians. He has more than once declared that it is only feelings of warmest friendship for them that moves him in his stand, but they are obdurate and the feeling that has grown up has been manifested in some strange ways.

One of these is in connection with the possibility of Bishop Fallon being raised to the Archbishopric of Toronto. There is more than a possibility of this, for three of his predecessors in the Bishopric of London have in turn been promoted to Toronto. It is known, moreover, that the name of Bishop Fallon was one of the three sent to Rome, after the death of Archbishop McEvay.

BRIEF SENT TO ROME.

To counter this, a brief from the French-Canadian societies of Ontario said to contain more than 400 pages, has been sent to the Vatican in protest. What effect it will have remains to be seen. In some respects it would appear more to the advantage of the French-Canadians to allow Bishop Fallon to leave the diocese and secure in his place some one more to their liking.

Their purpose appears, however, to be to prevent him securing any further power in the church at present.

"There were influences of a racial character that secured the retirement of Archbishop O'Connor at Toronto and their will be equally strong influences to put Bishop Fallon into retirement." is the straight declaration of one of those who is most active in the propaganda.

But whatever the views of this element or the means they may take to secure their ends, there is a widespread feeling in Ontario that the London Bishop was on the right track when he condemned the bi-lingual school system. This view is taken also by many prominent French-Canadians.

PEANUT POLITICS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The "peanut" politics adopted by some of the local leaders is not flattering to the community, or at all conducive to harmony. A letter in The Review Friday, purporting "roast" Mr. D. O'Connell in the worst form, as is also that gentleman's reference to Mr. Burnham in a speech which he made a few days previous. This muck-slinging ought not to be encouraged. It is the poorest kind of weapon.

THE AGRICULTURAL ASPECT OF RECIPROCITY.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Ontario farmers, who owe so much to C. C. James, C.M.G., Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will be interested in getting his views on reciprocity. Mr. James as a Government official would not express an opinion upon a question that formed an issue between contending political parties. But in 1904, when there was no thought of this country being led into any such foolishness, and while he was an official of the Ross Government, Mr. James made some remarks that should have great weight with the farming community throughout the whole Dominion.

In address on "Recent Agricultural Progress" before the National Science Association, in 1904, Mr. James reviewed the great prosperity which had followed in Ontario after the McKinley and Dingley tariff shutting Canada out of the American market. He laid particular emphasis upon the development of the beef, bacon and pork and cheese industries, and then used the following striking words as quoted in the Canadian Agriculturists Annual for 1906:

"The day may come when we shall feel so grateful to our neighbors to the south as to erect a national monument to the memory of the McKinley tariff bill. If we do, we might reserve a niche for the Dingley tariff bill of 1897. Our trade relations with the United States are very interesting. Where they have endeavored to shut us out from their own markets, they have but stimulated our trade in other directions that have in time proved more remunerative and often when they have excluded us from their market they have driven us to the great neutral

BUSH FIRES IN CALIFORNIA

Millions of Feet of Pine Timber in the Path of the Fire.

Grass Valley, Cal., Sept. 1.—A forest fire, which started yesterday on a placer ranch four miles from Auburn, is beyond control. Fanned by high winds, it has jumped the Bear River and swept into Nevada County, and threatening bridges, destroying timber belts and sweeping homesteads from the clearings.

Additional crews left here last night to reinforce the men now trying to check the flames.

Millions of feet of pine and many farms are in the path of the fire.

KINGSTON MAN HAS CLAIM ON $300,000,000 ESTATE

Kingston, Sept. 2.—Kingston has a man with a strong claim on the new celebrated Baker fortune, for the heir of which lawyers in Toronto and Ottawa are searching. He is John F. Baker of No. 361 Barrie street.

The fortune is valued at about $300,000,000, consisting principally of real estate in Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Baker has a deed to the property which was given him by his father. He has been interviewed by several lawyers from Philadelphia and will likely leave for that place with his papers in a short time.

Mr. Baker claims that his father was the brother of the man who left the fortune. His father told him several times before his death of his brother, Col. Jacob Baker, and the estate which he had left and had intended to give him.

A NEW CLUE IN ELSIE SIGEL MURDER CASE

New York, Sept. 2.—The unsolved mystery of the murder of Elsie Sigel, now more than two years old, once more claimed attention to-day, following the arrest of a Chinese by immigration inspectors, who last night raided a restaurant in Hoboken. Although the immigration authorities decline to explain what connection if any, the arrest had with the Sigel case, it was reported to-day that the police had found an important clue.

Ostensibly, the prisoner, Gee Gow, was arrested on suspicion of having smuggled fellow-countrymen into the United States in violation of the immigration law.

The body of Elsie Sigel, an 18 year old girl of good family, was found dead in a room in Chinatown two years ago.

FIGHT OVER TIPS STARTS A SERIOUS RACE WAR

NEGROES FIRE ON DEPUTIES, KILLING ONE AND WOUNDING TWO OTHERS.

All Hotels in the Resort Were Closed After the Conflict.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 2.—An altercation between two negro bell boys as to the division of a tip from a departing guest at the Elder Hotel, Indian Springs, led to a clash between the blacks and officers in which one deputy sheriff was killed, two others injured and several persons more or less injured in minor fights.

The dead officer is Jesse Singley of Jackson, who, with Sheriff Crawford of Butt county and nine other deputies, were searching for the negroes who started the trouble. Deputy Connor was shot through the thigh and deputy Thornton was shot in the leg.

The shooting occurred just as the officers neared the negro quarters and was from ambush. At the time the assault was made none of the officers had fired.

Judge Daniels, holding superior court at Jackson, ordered the Jackson Rifles to go to the Springs about three miles away.

There are five or six hotels at the Indian Springs and all of them were forced to close because of the trouble.

OVER 300 WOMEN IN "CHEAPER FOOD PARADE."

Dunkirk, Department of Nord, France, September 2.—Agitators of the movement for cheaper food completely dominate the city. 300 women marched through the streets today as a remonstration to the Government that it ought to do something looking to the reduction of high prices.

All the roughs of the city have joined in looting some of the shops, frightening the remainder of the dealers into barring their store windows and doors.

Troops have been requisitioned to restore order.

CANINE SENTRIES WILL GUARD BRITISH SOLDIERS IN THE BORDERLANDS OF INDIA

TWO STURDY LITTLE AIREDALES WILL BE EYES AND EARS FOR PUNITIVE EXPEDITION.

Man's best friend, the dog, has shown his utility and intelligence in many an emergency. Soon he will demonstrate what he can do as a canine soldier, among the far-off fastnesses of Asia, where the spirit of the native tribes is still in revolt against advancing western civilization.

At the end of March, the Abors, a wild mountain tribe of the Chinese-Indian border, murdered an English naturalist named Williamson. The atrocity was committed in territory no European but Wilkinson had ever explored before, and by a tribe whose Himalayan remoteness had held it immune from the white man's rule. But the Abors are now due to get a taste of the white man's law, and their first lesson of the long arm of British vengeance. At the end of October a Goorkha regiment of 2,000 men will plunge into the unknown on a punitive expedition to teach them the gravity of their mistake.

EYES, EARS AND NOSE.

For the greater part of the way, their path will lead through trackless jungles and treacherous mountain passes that offer innumerable opportunities for ambuscade. The caution demanded of men who know nothing of this wild country except by compass and hearsay, guarding themselves against cruel and resourceful natives, is a more than human caution. That is why Britain for the first time in the history of her army, has called on war-dogs to help her. There are only two of them, and they look very much like other dogs. But they may be the means of saving a British regiment. Day and night for many weeks they will be eyes, ears and nose to a party of men in a trackless wilderness, hemmed in by the ceaseless hostility of the men and beasts of the jungle.

Jack and Loch are two sturdy little Airedales. They are not show dogs, as the Airedales so often are; they are almost as big as St. Bernards, and they are perfectly trained.

MAN SHORN OF STRENGTH

WEAK LIVER SO UNDERMINED HIS VITALITY THAT HE ALMOST DIED.

"Early manhood vigor easily led me to view irregularities of my system as incapable of affecting my strength. I am a barrister," writes a well-known legal light, "and there are times in our professional work so exciting and exhausting that any weakness reveals itself in all its naked awfulness. Pressure of work prompted me to ignore some of the distressing symptoms of impaired liver activity—sour stomach, fulness after eating and dulness of intellectual activity. It was not until a severe attack of sleeplessness following an exacting session of court, and a nervous excitability that later developed, that I realized fully my condition. My physician ordered complete change and rest, but my engagements rendered impossible this course.

"To correct the system I began using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and to my delight, not only did they establish regularity, but the liver activity of my earlier days returned. The solution of my health problem was immediate, digestion improved, appetite became active, and my nerves were speedily up to my old fighting mark. Please head me as a Dr. Hamilton Pill man."

No medicine so valuable for those leading a sedentary life as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold in yellow boxes, 25c, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

STERN DISCIPLINE IN THE BRITISH NAVY

HOME FLEET IS IN HIGHEST STATE OF EFFICIENCY AND READY FOR EMERGENCY.

Swoop Across North Sea—London Cable Discusses Alarming Possibilities in the Moroccan Situation.

New York, September 2.—A London cable to The Tribune says: Alarming reports as to the critical relations of France and Germany have been circulated here. Among them has been the story that the Rothschilds, who were largely in the confidence of the British and French Governments in the days preceding the outbreak of the Franco-German war of 1870, are now selling German and French securities on a large scale for the first time since the last days of the French Empire.

SERIOUS UNEASINESS.

This of course, requires some better confirmation than the gossip of bank clerks, but it is true, nevertheless, that serious uneasiness exists among bankers, and that a European war is now talked about as probable rather than possible.

It cannot be denied that naval officers are excited over the prospect of a conflict with a first-class power, and that the crews of the battleships and cruisers in commission are kept under rigorous discipline denied shore leave and compelled to work full time.

HOME FLEET EFFICIENT.

The home fleet is in the highest state of efficiency, and is prepared for a sudden emergency. If one comes there will be a swoop across the North Sea before the peace makers can intervene, yet, while the situation is serious, and as many as six powers may be drawn into the maelstrom through the entangling alliances, it is not probable that there will be war, at least for two or three months. France, knowing that England is behind her, will resist humiliation pressure from Berlin, and Germany will find it difficult to withdraw from her present position without disappointing the chauvinist mobs, which are denouncing England.

At the darkest hour there will be a renewal of diplomacy from some other country for a revision of the agreement of Algeciras. This is the opinion of the best informed men, who, however, are watching the progress of events with increasing anxiety.

SEVEN TOLEDO CIVIC OFFICIALS DROWNED

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—Seven men were drowned in Maumee River just north of the Red Can Buoy this morning at 1.30 o'clock when the 35 foot launch, Nemo, owned by Michael Mayer, of this city, was struck by the 500 foot freighter Phillip Minch, inbound for its dock.

The party was bound for Kelley's Island, where they expected to do some bass fishing over Labor Day. With the exception of Michael Mayer owner of the launch, all went down to a watery grave. Mayer was saved a member of the crew of the Minch. None of the bodies of the drowned men have been recovered, although the police began preparations todrag for them as soon as apprised of the accident.

The members of the unfortunate party boarded the Nemo shortly after midnight from the Perry street dock, near Swan Creek, where the craft was tied up.

Captain L. B. Cummings, of the Minch, his brother, F. Cummings the first mate, Abner Busler, the watchman and August Swan, the wheelsman, were on the forward deck of the freighter and were witnesses of the accident.

LAUNCH OUT OF COURSE.

Capt. Cummings says that the wheelsman was throwing the searchlight across the river channel, looking for the channel stakes, when they first espied the launch, which he thought was about a mile and a half distant. The launch was then 150 feet out of the course of the channel to the westward. The steamer blew the danger signals but before the launch could change its course the freighter crashed into the small boat, capsizing it, and throwing the occupants into the water. The crew of the Minch saved Mayer, the only man rescued.

DISQUITEING REPORTS FROM THE ALARMIST PRESS

London, Sept. 2.—The alarmist press here is publishing disquieting reports as to the outcome of the Moroccan negotiations.

One newspaper hints at a secret mobilization of the English troops, refers guardedly to movements of English warships, tells of orders for ammunition and asserts that the Government has been making inquiries from great provision dealers as to how London can be supplied with foodstuffs in case of war.

The substantial newspapers, however, say that the outlook is still hopeful and deprecate attaching importance to meetings of anti-English jingoes in Germany.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 30th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognise his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rae along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir. Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities add reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a region of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

BRITISH PREFERENCE IS HIT

On Five and a Half Million Dollars Worth of Goods Imported from Great Britain, the Agreement Hurts the Preference

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"Statistics be hanged," suggested the Finance Minister when asked inconvenient questions as to which side was better fortified by facts and figures during the Washington negotiations.

There is no evidence, therefore, as to how far the immediate effect of the Agreement on the British Preference, to say nothing of its ultimate effect, was considered at Washington. But, in the light of Mr. McCall's prophecy as to what might happen to Canadian-British relations, it is doubly remarkable that the British Preference was interfered with; and that the information on this question had to be furnished Canadians by the English Tariff Commission, in a document that gives more lucid information than anything issued by the Dominion Government.

The Preference has been wiped out on goods of which Canada in 1909-10 bought $3,340,000 worth from Britain. Of these imports, four lines, representing $2,615,000, came from the United Kingdom; so that a strong incentive is furnished the United States to try to drive the British manufacturer out of Canada's market.

On imports amounting to $2,195,000 the margin of British Preference has been reduced, the percentage of reductions varying from 2½ to 7½ per cent.

To interfere with the preference on between five and six million dollars' worth of British imports, without any inkling being given that this was the way in which the British Preference was being treated, was an exceedingly clever way of beginning the process of breaking Canada away from the channels of trade leading to and from the United Kingdom, which was openly avowed immediately the provisions of Agreement were announced, by statesmen, railway magnates and publicists, all over the United States.

There was another effect of the negotiations that peculiarly accords with the expectations of Mr. McCall—the advantages given the United States over Great Britain are also enjoyed by twelve other countries.

Besides, there is a discrimination against Great Britain in the United States, for none of the advantages given to Canada apply to the Mother Country.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

TWENTY-ONE

TWELVE FAVORED NATIONS

Canada Extends to Them Tariff Advantages Which Are Not Enjoyed by Great Britain

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The twelve countries which under the Reciprocity Agreement are to enjoy precedence over the Mother Country, are Argentine Republic, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Colombia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

France also participates in certain classes of goods.

Countries like Bolivia and Colombia are not likely seriously to affect Canadian trade; but, the possibilities of letting down the bars to Argentina and Denmark, for instance, are considerable.

The Argentine Republic sends more wheat to the United Kingdom than Canada does. It is produced under conditions which offset its softer quality than the prairie-grown wheat.

Labor in the Argentine is very cheap.

Most of the Argentine wheat is grown near the seaboard, and its transportation is, therefore, very cheap. The best Canadian wheat is grown so far from the seaboard, and the cost of carrying it to the ships is considerable.

Argentine wheat can be dumped at a Canadian port at a cost of 5 2-3c. per bushel for freight, against a cost of 16c. per bushel for haulage from Western Canada to the Atlantic Coast.

Now, 50 per cent. of Canadian wheat is consumed in Canada. Whoever will benefit by free wheat from Argentina, the Canadian farmer will not. This is one of the branches of trade to which "Let well enough alone" most forcefully applies.

Denmark is a great butter and bacon exporting country. Intensive farming has been carried to perfection there, and labor is abundant. The Danes can make money on prices which would enable them to invade the Montreal and Eastern Canada market. Whoever would benefit from an influx of this kind, the Canadian farmer would not.

"BETTER ORGANIZED INDUSTRIES"

Free Trade in Canada for Them, Asked by President Taft, Means Trust Domination

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The United States needs reciprocity because their manufacturers are looking for foreign markets. President Taft, commending the agreement to the citizens of Atlanta, said Canada refused to grant "free trade in everything" because "she was afraid of our better organized industries."

"Better organized industries" means two things—first, they manufacture on a larger scale because they have a larger market; second, they aim to control markets which they should only serve. "Better organized industries" means "trusts and combines."

The American manufacturer is always after control. He doesn't mind how he gets it. He has great facility in obtaining markets across the seas. Gain in a market is easy. Its capture in a market would be easy, and if free trade could be made to apply to it, as it does to the inter-state market.

Years ago the Atlantic seaboard was supplied with salt by England, where there are immense deposits a few miles from the coast. The United States salt manufacturers got together and slaughtered prices in the seaboard territory until the British shippers were driven from the ground. Then prices went up, for competition was killed. The thing has happened a thousand times since, in other lines of business.

There are unsupported assertions of "combine" influence in Canada. The Government assures us that there is ample and effective legislation against them—which is proof of the wisdom of retaining our commercial independence. Any trust evil must invade Canada from the United States.

The Canadian market is, on the whole, the best that the United States has—it is third in amount, and first in convenience of access. It is even better than the figures would seem to indicate—for it has furnished employment for vast sums of United States capital, thanks to the National Policy.

Three hundred million dollars of American money is known to be invested in branch factories in Canada, the conditions in which are under Canadian control.

The road which, avowedly, is to lead to Free Trade, is also the road to control of Canadian factories and Canadian prices by the American trusts.

PRIED OPEN THE DOOR

President and Secretary Knox Agree That Important Concessions Have Been Made to United States Manufacturers

By JOHN V. BORNE.

But it is objected that the Agreement does not affect manufactured goods, except to a negligible extent. President Taft does not think so. Secretary Knox does not think so. Shrewd-minded newspapers of the front rank, like The Minneapolis Journal, which sits at the gate of the Western Canadian market, do not think so.

It is an erroneous idea that Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson went to Washington with adamant faces that silenced the United States negotiators immediately "Free manufactures" was said. The President's message tells a story that is born out by Secretary Knox.

The President said:—

The policy of encouraging the development of home industries by protective duties within reasonable limits has made it difficult to extend the principle of reciprocal rates to many manufactured commodities, but after much negotiation and effort we have succeeded in doing so in various and important instances. That the opening of the timber resources of the Dominion to our needs, that the addition to the supply of raw materials, will be limited to no particular section does not require demonstration.

And Mr. Knox at Chicago:—

Some of the greatest of our manufacturing industries, employing large numbers of workmen, for which the growing Canadian market offers opportunities, are located in the middle West. We obtained very material reductions of duty on all classes of agricultural implements. We secured important concessions for the rapidly developing motor vehicle industry. We obtain remissions of duty which will benefit numerous other industries.

And The Minneapolis Journal:—

This is an agreement between two countries on which a future policy is to rest. The principle of give and take must first be established before the next step can be taken. The next step will be the removal of duties on manufactured products. Why should that barrier exist any more than one between Minnesota and Dakota?

COMMERCE AND NATIONALITY

The Allegiance of the Newcomer Necessarily Grows Out of His Material Prosperity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Some friends of Reciprocity ask "What has business got to do with Nationality? How can loyalty be a mere question of potatoes and hay?"

They really seem to think that they have disposed of modern Canadian history with two questions like these.

Business has everything to do with the sense of Nationality. What is the first thing that causes the immigrant to be willing to take the oath of allegiance? His business prosperity. The United States has developed a virile national sentiment by allying business and patriotism.

That is right, for a country that is good enough to flourish in is good enough to give your heart to. But, if lines of trade were cultivated so as to make a man feel that his business is dependent on a strange power, just across the border, he will weaken in his regard for the land in which he lives, and will want to be a part of the land which dominates his business interest.

A nation is strong with its own people just so far as it has an individuality that appeals to the instincts which are expressed in the management of public affairs—if you like, in public property.

Why, for instance, should a province spend a million dollars on a legislative building, when six hundred thousand dollars would secure just as much floor space without costly frescoes and façades? Why shouldn't that building be like any other building with a big board room in it? Why should it be in a park, and get a sort of semi-religious atmosphere about it?

Because every citizen, however humble, likes to feel that he is part of a great big organism that makes history; that levies taxes, that moves with all the attributes of power. That confers honor where honor is deserved. That is the immemorial sign of nationhood. It is the spirit which brought forth the boast, "Civis Romanus Sum,"—I am a Roman citizen. It is what has made Canada.

TO THE ELECTORS

—of—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liabilit

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

D. P. Stratton

EXPECT TO CONTROL CANADIAN WHEAT

And Regret that Provinces Stand in the Way of Unlimited Access to Canadian Forests

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though the President of the United States in his official message transmitting to Congress the Reciprocity Agreement did not use the word "control" when anticipating free access to Canada's raw materials, he used it in a speech at Columbus, Ohio, in reference to the wheat trade:—

It will give to the United States much greater control of the wheat market than it ever had before. It will enable its milling plants to turn the Canadian wheat into flour and send abroad the finished product.

Secretary of State Knox used the same word at Chicago, at a Reciprocity banquet, attended by leading business men from over the whole of the Middle West. He said:—

In providing for free wheat we also take into account the facilities which the United States possesses for handling a part of the surplus Canadian crop, and thus preventing the demoralization of prices which results through the dumping of large quantities upon the European markets, where the world's price is fixed. The free admission of grain from Canada thus meets the present situation and provides against contingencies when the Canadian surplus becomes greater by placing the control in the hands of our own grain growers.

Literally, Canada is to be a hewer of wood to the United States, for, as the President wrote, "We shall reduce the consumption of our own forests." Secretary Knox, in a letter of January 21st, informing the two Canadian Ministers that they had properly interpreted the Agreement they had made, mourned over his failure to get all he wanted because certain Provinces were in the way:—

It is a matter of some regret on our part that we have been unable to adjust our differences on the subject of wood pulp, pulp wood and print paper. We recognize the difficulties to which you refer growing out of the nature of the relations between the Dominion and the Provincial Governments, and for the present we must be content with the conditional arrangement.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

SIXTEEN

IT IS AGAINST CONSERVATION

Chairman of Government's Conservation Commission is a Foremost Opponent of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It need not be supposed that Canada should "hog" her supplies of pulpwood, any more than that she should throw them at the Republic, as a means of saving the Republic from the woeful want that will follow its own wilful waste.

Two policies are working for the general advantage of Canada in this matter, neither of which must be sacrificed to the natural desires of Washington.

The first is that of stimulating the conversion of natural products into finished manufactures, as near to their place of origin as natural conditions and far-seeing enterprise will permit—a policy which explains the increase of pulp and paper mills in the highlands of Quebec, and the creation of such flourishing towns as Grand Mere and Shawinigan Falls. United States papermakers, of course, would rather bring Canadian raw material to their mills than to take the mills to Canada. Ontario and Quebec and New Brunswick have decided that the pulpwood on Crown Lands shall be manufactured at home—hence the disappointment of Secretary Knox and his colleagues to be content "for the present" with conditional arrangements.

The second policy is represented by the Conservation Commission, which is intended primarily to preserve the forests from precisely the kind of destruction which it is bound to accompany their ruthless invasion by aliens whose interest is confined to what they can take away.

The Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in establishing the Commission appointed as Chairman the Hon. Clifford Sifton, who, from 1896 to 1906, was Minister of the Interior. Mr. Sifton is one of the strongest opponents of the Reciprocity Agreement.

AT THE MILLERS' MERCY

Wealth of Many United States Industries is to be Created by Control of Canadian Wheat

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though wheat is a finished product of the farm, it is a raw material for domestic industries which create home markets for the farmer. For Canadian prosperity it is as desirable to grind wheat into flour at the nearest convenient point to the threshing machine as it is to manufacture paper alongside the river which brings the pulpwood down from the hills.

When President Taft and Secretary Knox spoke of the "control" of Canadian wheat, they knew what they were talking about, as The Northwestern Miller makes abundantly clear:—

The disposition of Canada's surplus is a question upon the answer to which depends the future, not only of the milling interests of the (American) Northwest, but indeed of the United States. Should this surplus be shipped abroad it must inevitably mean the destruction of the American export trade, the shifting of the American milling centre, the gradual decline of the American milling interest to a comparatively unimportant place in the list of large American industries.

The miller who is able to grind this enormous (Canadian) crop will be the miller of the future, and where he is there will be the great mills of the world.

The future of American milling with free Canadian wheat secured is a grand one. With this enormous crop flowing into the mills and elevators of the States, a splendid tide of prosperity would follow in its wake. The mills of America would go forward on their developing course, new mills would be built, and capacities enlarged. New markets abroad would be conquered. New railways would be extended into the wheat-growing territory. American railroads carrying the flour from the mills would secure additional freights. American banks would obtain increased deposits, and greatly enlarged exchange accounts. American mill operatives would be in demand, and payrolls would be increased, mill machinery, bags, barrels, and other mill supplies would be required in larger quantities; more money would be in circulation, and the benefit would be felt in every artery of industrial life touched by milling. There would be an increase in grain firms, in elevators, and in every branch of the grain-handling and flour-making interests. This would be felt in the added value of real estate and in the solid and substantial development of every undertaking and enterprise that makes a community prosperous.

EIGHTEEN

OPENING WEDGE AVOWED

Congress Ways and Means Committee Points the Way to Three-Fold Control

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It does not matter where you touch the broad policy of the United States which dictated the Reciprocity Agreement, you come across the intention to control—a natural incentive to a nation of ninety-five million people which proposes to deal with a nation of less than eight millions.

In this case there is a treble object:—

(1) The control of Canadian raw material.
(2) The control of Canadian exports by restricting British exports to Canada.
(3) The control of the whole export trade of North America.

Nothing like the cool, matter-of-fact way in which the men of Washington have gone about the disclosure of their ideals is furnished in the annals of statesmanship.

The Reciprocity Bill was sent to the House of Representatives by the Ways and Means Committee. In the late House, the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mr. McCall, of New York, who introduced the Agreement to Congress, was the spokesman, was a Republican body. The present Ways and Means Committee is a Democratic body; and in sending the bill to the new House makes no bones about it being but the opening wedge of unrestricted trade relations:—

The bill takes a long step towards establishing for the continent of North America a policy of unrestricted trade and commerce, recognizing natural conditions that have been too long ignored.

The notion of using a club on Canada in the shape of a threat to withdraw Reciprocity if Canada should propose closer relations with Great Britain could not be more delightfully announced.

It is an odd way of preserving the fiscal independence of Canada.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

NINETEEN

STATISTICS DID NOT MATTER

Mr. Fielding Asserts They Were Unnecessary to Reciprocity Agreement Because Conditions Were as Thirty Years Ago!

By JOHN V. BORNE.

While the United States Secretary of State and his commissioners were negotiating an agreement, which was introduced to Congress as an implement by which Canada could be prevented from dealing with Great Britain, they had the aid of tariff experts, who had compiled voluminous reports on every aspect of the trade conditions about to be affected, while the Canadian Ministers were ill supplied with information about their own country.

Mr. Fielding, in the House of Commons, on April 6th, questioned by the opponents of reciprocity, said that the information contained in the comparisons and price-lists "for the purpose of the Agreement were not necessary at all."

In the same speech Mr. Fielding said, "The agreement is in accordance with the policy of Canada for forty years. There is no more reason for statistics and price lists to-day than there was when the Conservative party brought in the National Policy."

Every time the Government spokesmen in the House of Commons have discussed reciprocity they have insisted that there is no real difference between the situation of the Canada of 1911 and the situation of Canada, fifty, forty, thirty, twenty years ago.

The National Policy is forgotten; the repeal of the offer of Reciprocity is forgotten; the British Preference is forgotten; the Commercial policy of the National Transcontinental Railway is forgotten. There is no need to look at statistics to see how these things are working out. "Leave statistics to the United States; pass the Agreement which has been made in accordance with the statistics compiled by the United States," is the effect of the Government apologist.

And still, the Prime Minister had declared that the main fundamental of the Government's commercial policy was the British Preference.

See what happened to the British Preference in Washington.

Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 204 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 4 1911 — PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles. whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

W. J. KERR, LIMITED,
New Westminster, B. C.

Dear Sir:—

I am interested in your fruit lands offer at Flesherton Gardens. Please send me particulars of how I can secure a five acre farm.

Flighty Hats Will Be the Rage.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—The science of aviation is to be the chief influence on designs for women's headwear next winter, according to the National Association of retail milliners which opened its fall meeting last night. Like aeroplanes, the hats will be based on two distinct designs, monoplanes with single spreads of plumes, and bi-planes. In the display of winter styles, such names are found as "Sky Stars," "the volplane turban" and the "rainbow spiral," a particularly giddy effect in many colors.

Last night Mr. J. Fowler, of North Monaghan, had the misfortune to smash his vehicle, loaded with grain on Charlotte street. The vehicle was too heavily loaded and the rear wheel collapsed. A Novel Plan.

A novel scheme for getting enough money to floor the large parlor in the Y.M.C.A. is being used at the local Y.M.C.A. building. A plan of the parlor has been drawn, dividing it into a large number of lots. These "parlor lots" are sold to members of the institution who wish to help pay the expense of flooring the parlor. Thus by buying certain lots and locating them on the plan, a helper knows just what part of the floor he paid for. Thirty lots are already sold.

LOST HIS LIFE IN THE OTONABEE

A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday, when George Simpson the young four-year-old son of Mr. Geo. Simpson, Harvey street, met death while playing with some young children on a wharf at the end of Auburn street.

It appears that George Simpson was playing on the narrow wharf, with three other children, when in attempting to pass on the outside of one of his playmates, he slipped on the edge of the wharf, and fell into the water. One of his companions ran to Mr. Simpson's residence, only a short distance away, and informed him of what had happened. Mr. Simpson rushed to the spot and made frantic efforts to save the child by diving for him, but without avail. Soon the neighbors collected and joined in the search for the body.

Mr. Beebee brought his punt into service and after an hour's search their efforts were rewarded. One of the searchers managed to get his pike pole fixed in the stocking of the unfortunate lad, and brought him to the surface. Coroner Greer was called and the body was taken to Mr. Simpson's home.

Ever since the water in this part of the river has been deepened by the Cereal Dam, this place has been a dangerous spot. The wharf is not large enough for children to play on and the water is deep enough to drown any youngster who cannot swim. This accident is a warning to all children who have been playing at this spot, and their parents will likely take action to have it removed.

market, where we have had a perceptible influence in setting the prices for their own exported surplus and therefore their whole crop.

"The United States tariff has forced us to look across the Atlantic for our markets, and there we have sent our products into competition with the products of the United States.

"If we were looking for other arguments as to the unintended benefits to us of United States tariff opposition we might say that the development of self-reliance and independence may outweigh even the enlargement of our British trade. To a certain extent we were in leading strings to the United States. We have been developing a Canadian National feeling and increasing our self-reliance."

We may be sure that there is nothing that lies closer to the heart of Mr. C. C. James than the prosperity of the farmer. He has spent the better part of his lifetime thinking for them, and his remarkable success has given him a world-wide reputation. The farmers of Canada can be depended upon to reflect most carefully upon the advice of so true and tried a friend.

Elector.

ELECTION ADDRESS.

(To the Editor of Times)

Gentlemen,—At my own personal wish I have decided to become a candidate for Parliamentary dishonors. When I went to school one of the lessons I learned was to the effect that "there is no game two cannot play at" and in pursuance of this policy I beg to outline my policy, hoping it will meet with your hearty disapproval. Bear in mind the old adage: Mark, read and inwardly disgust."

I am sure all unprincipled voters will plump for me, when I tell you I intend to flood this town with mail boxes. I will go further and provide a receptacle in each one for free stamps and when you lick them remember with feelings of gratitude your benefactor and vote for yours truly.

I also intend, to erect, as soon as I can get the necessary, free drinking fountains where by just pushing a button you will be able to quench your thirst with lager, ale and porter. For my local option friends I mean to provide free peppermint drops and mint chewing gum, barley water, etc.

I also intend to give you free car rides, this I am thinking of doing just before election time. Inside of these cars I mean to have nicely printed cards setting forth what a public minded citizen I am and what a benefactor to the city.

As soon as I can scrape the needful I mean to own a newspaper as I clearly recognize the tremendous advantage to my interests it will be, to own a paper of my own, so I can shout to the world all my good deeds and keep on drumming into your ears what a great and good man I am, and how if you neglect to elect me, the city, yourselves and your families your sons and their wives and their sons and their wives will surely be ruined once and for all and forever and ever, amen.

I will also build half a dozen canals which I mean to light up so well, that the chickens on their route will never go to sleep, being under the impression it is always daylight.

Party does not count at all. Reciprocity or any other question before the country does not matter in the least, does it? Don't trouble in the least about the country, think of the free mail boxes, free stamps, free drinks, free peppermint drops, free car rides, free papers, free everything. In fact the only thing that will not be free will be yourselves, for I will buy your votes with my free gifts and I intend to remind you of them so often and so plainly, that you must realize what an awful calamity it would be if you did not vote for those free everythings, or in other words, vote for yours truly. "Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return unto thee after many days, and at election times if you cast it on the waters in front of everybody, it is not very many days before it returns to you a hundred, nay a million fold.

I earnestly want you to pay no regard to any questions such as the country's welfare, but remember the one great thing—without me, you cannot have all the free gifts, and the city will not, nay cannot, prosper, but will descend to the level of say, "Belleville." Bear all this in mind and vote, not for right, not for your country, but for

Yours untruly,

Percival G. S. Webb.

It was moved by T. H. Adams and seconded by L. M. Hayes that the children be given a half holiday, as requested.—Carried.

J. E. Hodgson wrote to the Board tendering his resignation as science master at the Collegiate Institute, having accepted a position as principal of Lethbridge High School. PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

THE POWER QUESTION.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I read a letter the other day in The Times in regard to power, which appealed to me. The Council must not waste time in so important a matter—other places such as Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg and Campbellford are now busy in securing power that will secure them light and power at cheap rates. Surely Peterborough is not going to procrastinate further.

Ratepayer.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Financial disturbance and social unrest is coming over Europe and America. Its effects on Canada will largely depend on you, the editors, as public teachers. If you condone corruption and propagate falsehood, whether through fear of men or for gain to yourself or party, you are a blind leader of the blind. Honor God in your paper, and he will shelter the country, for your sake, in the coming storm. Righteousness, not Riches, exalts the nation. What shall it profit a country if it gain the trade of the whole world, and lose the soul of its best ideals? "By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."

J. P. R.

AN UNFAIR ATTACK.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Review makes a jab at Mr. Stratton that is unworthy of a reputable newspaper. It says that "No man who ever lived in Peterborough has more cruelly and savagely put the thumbscrews upon people who did not vote for him, and would not bow to his will. That he has made a host of enemies is therefore to be expected."

I say that so far as this being true the contrary is the case. I know of a number of political opponents who Mr. Stratton, in the goodness of his heart, has assisted financially. It is known far and near that he is one of the biggest hearted men in Canada Everybody knows this. I am not a supporter of Mr. Stratton, or never was, yet he has gone out of his way on more than one occasion to do me a kindness. I am sure there are hundreds who could say the same. So that when a newspaper says that he is cruel and unjust to those who are in his power, it is not mindful of the truth. Mr. Stratton "plays the political game" for all it is worth, but he is at the same time an ideal citizen, and a man who will live long in the esteem of a large majority of the people of Peterborough.

FOOD PRICES RISE IN ENGLAND

MOVING PICTURES AND REAL TRAGEDY.

New York, Sept. 5.—At a moving picture show last night Raffaelo Richetti, and his 18 year old daughter, Rosa, saw the story of a tragedy in which a father killed his daughter and then himself.

"I'll do that to you some day," Rosa says her father told her. Early to-day Richetti crept to his daughters bedside and shot her, then fired a bullet into his own head. Both probably will die.

PHENOMENAL RESULTS REPORTED IN LETTER FROM MR. KENNER

At the close of the regular session of the Board of Education last evening, the chairman called attention to a written report received from Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate Institute. He characterized the results of the examinations this year as phenomenal, and congratulated the Board and the principal and staff of the Collegiate Institute on their wonderful success.

Mr. Hayes stated that the ability of our Collegiate staff has been recognized all over the Dominion, and that the High Schools and Collegiates were trying to get our teachers as principals. Mr. Merit and Mr. Hodgson have lately accepted such positions, and during the recent holidays two of the staff had been approached with similar propositions.

The chairman then read the report which stated that in the Faculty Entrance, Part I., 8 tried and 7 passed; in Faculty Entrance Part II., 8 tried and 7 passed; in Normal Entrance exams, 15 tried and 15 passed, and 5 passed with honors; in Junior Matriculation, 30 tried and 26 passed, and out of the four that failed only one had not been recommended; in Pharmacy Matriculation, 1 tried and 1 passed; in the McGill University Matriculation, 2 tried and 2 passed, and in the examination for entrance in Royal Military College, Kingston, 2 tried and 2 passed.

Mr. Crane remarked that he did not think this record could be equalled by any school in the Dominion.

Mr. Hill said that after such a report, the tax payers could feel that there had been an ample return for every dollar invested and that the money spent in first class fittings for our Collegiate was well used and not in the least wasted. Mr. Hill said that the Board heartily congratulated the staff on the success of their efforts, and appreciated their services very highly.

Also it was stated in the report that twenty-five per cent. of the pupils who had tried the examinations, had passed with honors, and that Harold Matthews, in the entrance to R.M.C., had passed first, and Vivian Fessenden, third.

A CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

Mr. Burnham to Mr. Stratton

To J. R. Stratton, Esq., M. P.

Sir,—The editorial entitled "The Real Reason", in the issue of The Examiner of Sept. 2nd, is of such a hysterical and bluffing character as to require an answer from me. If Mr. Stratton wishes, as the Examiner suggests, an opportunity of replying to the charge contained in the indictment upon which he is to be tried at the Toronto assizes this autumn I will grant him that opportunity as The Examiner suggests, on the platform at the Opera House, or anywhere else he may choose on any date after this week. I have no desire to take advantage of Mr. Stratton, and he shall have every opportunity to clear himself, if he can, in the eyes of the electors of the extremely serious charge now hanging over him. There is no need of The Examiner's supposing or pretending to suppose that I think the Conservative party has no objectionable characters in it. There is probably little distinction in partizan humanity in that respect. I presume if it is shown by me that the magistrate had reasonable grounds for sending Mr. Stratton up for trial, and that the grand jury had reasonable grounds for finding a "true bill" against Mr. Stratton, Mr. Stratton will abide by the inevitable consequences of these two separate findings and will admit that the statements made by The Review and myself are fully justified. The public will decide on the 21st.

TROOPS ARE ON THE MOVE TOWARDS GERMAN FRONTIER

FRENCH PRESS ANNOUNCES A CONSIDERABLE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS TOWARD THE GERMAN FRONTIER.

80,000 Troops Concentrating at Belfort—Will be as Addition to the Regular Garrison.

Paris, Sept. 5.—La Patrie, in headlines running across its entire front page, announces a considerable movement of French troops toward the German frontier. Enquiries made at the Minister of War elicited the information that this movement is connected with the manoeuvres of the French army, which, beginning today, will last until September 13.

In addition to the garrisons stationed in the district 30,000 troops are now moving toward the eastern boundary for concentration at Belfort, the almost impregnable frontier fortress which is the objective of the army.

The Paris Bourse was affected to only a slight degree to-day by the Moroccan situation. Some French money in the process of withdrawal from Berlin, either directly or through a Swiss Bank, was explained by the unusual demands of the approaching January payments.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED IN A RAILWAY WRECK

Erie, Pa., Sept. 5.—Three are known to be dead and as many more are thought to be beneath the wreckage of the Erie and Pittsburgh Passenger train No. 201, that crashed into a Lake Shore freight at Dock Junction last night, where the roads cross. The dead are engineer John S. Jones, of this city, a tramp who cannot be identified, and an unknown passenger, who was riding in the smoker.

The bodies were found beneath the locomotive and smoker early this morning, the body of the passenger being so badly mutilated that identification was impossible. The bodies were brought to this city this morning by Coroner Hanley, who said that when the wreckage crew removes the piled up cars, other bodies may be found.

In addition to the dead, Fireman James Firman, of this city, is dying in the Hamor Hospital. He was scalded and burned when the crash came and was among the first to be taken out.

The wrecked passenger train was bound for Erie from Pittsburgh, and was behind time. It is said the engineer was running to make up the lost time and ran by a block near the crossing, crashing into the freight and passenger cars piled up in a mass of twisted steel and iron, while the splintered woodwork soon took fire. It was the latter that burned Fireman Firman so badly after he had been scalded beneath his own engine. The blaze was extinguished, however, before the wreckage had been consumed.

TWO FLEETS ARE READY FOR ACTION

Kiel, Sept. 5.—A great fleet of more than 100 vessels of Germany's navy has assembled here and will be reviewed to-day by Emperor William.

The warships fired a salute on the arrival of the Emperor, who was accompanied by the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

His Majesty inspected some of the ships of more recent construction. Archduke Frank Ferdinand, the Austrian heir presumptive, who is here for a special meeting with the Emperor, exchanged cordial greetings with his Majesty.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The Minister of Marine, Theophile Delcasse, at the close of yesterday's review at Toulon of the most powerful fleet that France has ever assembled, made a declaration which has aroused intense interest. He said:

"The vessels which you have just seen file past before you are ready to be commissioned.

"It was not my desire to 'bluff.' I made a point of showing the country only the vessels which are complete and ready. I preferred to be absolutely sincere."

WEDDING BELLS

Pitchford—Entwisle.

The chimes pealed forth merrily on Monday, on the occasion of the marriage of Mr. Noell James Pitchford, of Bethune street, to Miss Florence Annie Entwistle, of concession street. Rev. Canon Davidson performed the ceremony at St. John's church in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The Times joins their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Pitchford heart congratulations.

Buller—Reynolds.

A very pretty church wedding took place at the Anglican church, Bethany, on Monday, when Miss May Kathleen Reynolds and Mr. Clarence Buller were wedded by the Rev. Mr. Rosten, rector of the church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Bethany, while the groom, who formerly resided here is the son of Alexander Buller, 274 King street.

The bride was prettily gowned in white satin and wore the customary bridal veil. She carried white roses. Assisting her as bridesmaid was Miss Clara Reynolds, sister of the bride, who wore white battenburg and carried pink roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. Firth Buller, his brother.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding dejuner was served at the residence of the bride's parents which was partaken of by about sixty guests. The happy couple received the hearty congratulations of those present. The gifts to the charming bride were both numerous and costly, showing the high regard in which she is held by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Buller left later in the day for Brantford, their future home, the bride travelling in a handsome tailored suit of navy blue, with hat to match.

Gas Distended His Stomach

Caused Palpitation and Prevented Sleep. When Health Was Gone, Cure Followed Use of "Nerviline."

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveller of Hartford, "that everyone with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the travelling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stcok is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Through Ontario With The British-Born

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

SAULT STE. MARIE.

Once more the Scotch accent; this time in a large man with the big broad head that gets things done—Peter Faulkner to wit. A Liberal of many years; about to cast his first vote against a Liberal candidate, and a glad Secretary of the Canada-British Association.

This was one of the men who happened to be at the station when I arrived. He was the only Scot. The rest were English. Harry Sargeant became Chairman of the Association—a man of substance who has been through poor times and with whom the good times have surely come to stay.

Across the river the Michigan Soo town, three parts full of expatriated Canadians and home of a newspaper that comes over daily on the ferry, and pays court to the Canadian Soo with abundant views of its doings. The border influence is a curious element in life here. On one street car one heard the sound of the fire-bell as they hear it in the States; on another the ticket-box—the coffee-pot of Toronto's peculiar affection—came around. The street, maybe looks a little more American than most Ontario streets, and you wondered what the atmosphere of the hall would be like.

Well, there was a bull-dog and a lumber Jack on the floor, alongside the speaker's table; and the bull-dog kept silence as long as he could; but when the audience loudly resented the interruptions of a too spirituously-minded person, the dog joined the racket, and was led to a less exciting quarters.

They tell you that at the Soo things are very different from what they are "in the East." They like to think they are Western. There is flavour of the bush and mines, as well as of the unsalted sea about the place; and a quality of speech here and there that is breezy, after its own fashion. We met a prominent citizen, who was asked if he was going to the meeting—a grandson of Scotland, who has been in Scotland and liked it.

"You bet," said he, "I'll be there with lard in my hair and my ears pinned back."

This originality is said to extend to the Government side of electioneering. The candidate for whom the Minnie M. carried foreigners to poll where they gave fraudulent votes, is the Liberal candidate again. The Minnie M. has ended her political career, but the bush poll is a menace to the dignity of the ballot box. I do not pretend fully to understand the peculiar ethics of bush polling; but I do know that the Englishman who is standing for re-election in West Algoma only fears defeat through unscrupulous use of opportunities in the remoteness of the bush.

Mr. Boyce is a Yorkshireman; a lawyer with brains. His speech very gently bewrays him, for he comes from Wakefield. As far as I can learn there are no adventitious aids to his popularity, and the British vote will have no difficulty in cleaving to him.

The Welsh are quite abundant at the Soo. Many of them are in the Steel Works, where they don't lose their gift of song.

NORTH BAY.

I was only outside North Bay station a couple of hours; but long enough to give the "Globe" correspondent an opportunity to perpetrate one of the most perfect examples of garbling I have ever seen. The Secretary of the Sons of England very properly said that the Society would have nothing to do with the meeting. This was distorted into an official repudiation of the British-born movement. "A local barrister," who turned out to be the Mayor, was reported as entering the lists which led to controversy with me, and disorder in the meeting, and as being finally prevented from speaking. The facts were that the Mayor imputed untruthfulness to me, which the meeting as well as I resented and compelled him to withdraw. Then when he was called to order for irrelevancy I offered him an additional ten minutes. I to have five for reply. He refused to accept the offer.

A branch of the Canada-British Association having been formed, the Secretary of the Sons of England became its secretary.

BRAMPTON.

Brampton has less than three thousand population, but 20 per cent. of them are said to be British-born. The factories employ nearly all of them.

We were going away from the meeting where Canon Walsh had shown himself to be a Britisher through and through, and had said that he had been watching the movement and saying nothing for several months.

"Do you know Reading?" said the mechanic on my left.

"Through it many times, but only stayed off there once," said I.

"I come from just over the river, in the other county," he said.

"From Caversham?" I hazarded.

"Yes," he said. "And I've been here five years, and I like it."

Another spoke: "Have you ever been in Hereford?"

"Never in the city, but once I bought papers at the station, and was called back for handing the bookstall clerk a bad two-shilling piece."

The Hereford man looked at me doubtfully, and I answered the question he didn't ask to his perfect content.

A little later we were drinking—oh, nothing worse than cider and ginger ale; for at Brampton they get their local option straight, when Secretary Akehurst observed that they were getting the effects of free trade in the Old Country, all right, all right. He had been reading of the railway strike.

Hereford made an interesting remark: "They don't get enough to buy good beer," he said, and further displayed a candid indifference to the cost of living, for there is more to live with in Brampton than there had ever been in the Welsh marshes.

I'm afraid they were both Tariff reformers in the Old Country.

THE TARIFF SAVED CANADA

Without It the Country Must Have Become an Outer Fringe of the Republic

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Canada was compelled to climb painfully into nationhood against three almost overwhelming disadvantages, all of them closely concerned with the United States.

She was handicapped by climate conditions.

She had few people.

She lost population to the United States.

In early days, the more rigorous winter made settlement on the land more difficult, and prevented Canadians reaching the sea for nearly half the year except through the United States. The whole country was looked upon as a sort of backyard to the United States. It would still be so regarded but for the combined influence of the boundary line, and the tariff which the United States was the first to build upon.

It was the tariff that enabled Canada to turn the disadvantage of her climate into a glorious asset.

If a tariff had not been raised against United States manufactures, those goods would have poured across the border and prevented the growth of industrial cities and towns in Canada. In everything Canada would have been to the United States as the northern parts of Canada are to the rest of the Dominion. What are now her great cities would have been small provincial towns, tributary in the great affairs of business to the manufacturing cities of the United States, which would control the Canadian market for manufactured goods.

And if, in business, Canada had been a tributary, a mere feeder of the United States, pride in her destiny would have languished and few would have gloried in her citizenship; her sons and daughters would have been driven southward, and the feeling that she was an outer fringe of a vast, populous, imposing Republic, to whom she must look for finer sustenances of life and for careers for her children, would have borne its logical fruit.

Without the tariff the southward tide could not have been stayed.

KEEP EAST AND WEST TRADE

Routes on Which Millions Have Been Spent are to Canada What the Nile is to Egypt

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Nobody supposes that north and south trade should cease. But there is all the difference between that and encouraging it to be the dominant feature of Canadian commercial life, to the injury of east and west channels which are of the very essence of our nation-building.

To understand the vital significance of the north and south diversion you have only to consider what the position would have been if no Canadian railways had been built around the north shore of Lake Superior to the Western Provinces.

What are now the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta would have been settled entirely from the South, all the trade would have been across the border. All the railways would have been built in from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. Members of Parliament and all persons transacting public business would have been compelled to travel for hundreds of miles through a foreign land to reach the capital of their own country.

Obviously, whatever the geographical name of Western Canada, that vast immeasurably rich territory would have become so identified with the United States that even the severest free trader would have admitted that nationality and trade are very much intertwined.

If United States railroads had begun numerously to cross the western borders, and there had been no Canadian railway in sight, a cry would have arisen for an east and west railway across Canada, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prayer would have been anticipated: "Heaven grant that it may not be too late."

There would have been no metropolitan city in Western Canada any more than there would have been a Toronto or a Hamilton in Eastern Canada.

Whatever aspect of Canadian growth you investigate, you reach the clearest proof that east and west trade routes are to Canada what the Nile is to Egypt.

VIII.

Running Ottawa From The Country

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Governments are the strangest institutions on earth. They act for the nation, but they represent a party. Sometimes they are bigger than their party, sometimes they are not. Woebetide the country whose Government is no bigger than the party that makes it into a Government.

Happily, in British countries, the spirit of independent freedom is such that most Governments serve the country pretty well. That is especially true in their early years. New Brooms sweep clean. New Governments try, as a rule, to sweep clean. It is an exhausting enterprise, especially where many of the functions of government are bound up with the industrial development of localities.

Public offices are meant for pure-minded patriots—a scarce breed. The custom of rewarding with public office men who have worked for party ends is a bad custom—but it is inevitable in a worldly world. For, if there be two men equally fitted for a public office and one has worked in an election and the other has loftily held aloof from the turmoil of a disputatious episode; who should get the office?

The best you can do is to do the best with available material. What is the use of a high-minded man, against whom nobody can say a word, complaining that the country is run by indifferent politicians if he refuses to turn a hand to make political contests clean and honourable. We need the best men we can get in public life. We need to treat them decently. Ottawa is only the reflection of the rest of the country. A clean country means a clean Ottawa, and vice versa.

I have been preaching the doctrine that, up to the limit of his capacity and opportunity, every voter is his own Prime Minister. If his voting is the sole active exercise of his political duty it is as important to him as a decision to bring in a great bill is important to the Prime Minister. He is the ultimate authority for the Prime Minister. The Prime Minister is his servant; not his master.

Governments tend to become arrogant when they have comfortable, obedient majorities.

We need not imagine any moral superiority on our part merely because we are not in any Government. Human nature is pretty much the same in Grit and Tory. Heaven save us from becoming perfect political Pharisees.

How can Governments be saved? They should die young, lest they forget. Take Sir Wilfrid's Government. It shows too many signs of autocratic decrepitude—a phrase that is not as paradoxical as it sounds.

Is it decrepit? Sir Wilfrid isn't. Some of his Ministers aren't. But, as an entity, it has lived its day. It gives no signs of originating policies. It does what it feels obliged to do—and it does it in that kind of a way. Take an example:

The Grain Growers demanded certain things which were never dreamed of when the Government came into power. Some of those things are conceded because—well because they had to be conceded, or power in the West would flee. But other things solemnly declared years ago to be vital to respectable government in Canada remain untouched, and apparently will so remain. The Senate was to be reformed, because it had become a party refuge. The Senate is as strongly House-of-Lordsly partizan now as it was in the days when Sir Wilfrid condemned it. It is Liberal now; it was Conservative then. The creditors of a party in power are apt to increase, and senatorships are convenient.

So much for decrepitude. What are the signs of autocracy—I mean the signs that everybody can see without taking a trip to Ottawa? They are abundant enough. They are found in the way little things are magnified and big things are minimized. Take two:

The Navy. The decision to build a navy was taken without reference to the people, and without that amount of general discussion by the country which we allow on occasions to take the place of a general election. The impression has gone abroad that the Navy is neither fish, flesh, fowl, nor good red herring—that it is founded more on party expediency than in national wisdom. However wrong the impression may be, it is the direct fruit of the Government's assumption that it is the master of the people

An earnest Liberal told me it was one of the things that had to be undertaken without reference to popular discussion, because of the unreasonable nervousness of Quebec. But it hasn't done any good in Quebec. The penalty of autocratically assuming things on behalf of Quebec is already being paid.

Reciprocity. An ex-Cabinet Minister has said that the Reciprocity Agreement was never discussed by the Cabinet until it was completed and the whole thing, by arrangement with Washington, was ready for immediate submission to Parliament. The Government had not "caucused" on the subject with its supporters, whose only alternative was immediately to obey or to slay the Government.

Those who were directly responsible for the Agreement were the Elder Brethren of the Cabinet, who, to judge by the sequel, had no real conception of the change that had come over Canada since they were enamoured of good words from Washington. "Autocratic decrepitude" exactly fits the situation.

Canada is neither autocratic nor decrepit. The people in the country cannot afford to be less vigilant towards a Government merely because it has been in office a long time. They must run Ottawa from the country, and not be run from Ottawa.

MONEY IN THE BANKS

And Great Increases in Trade Have Made Canada a Brighter Britain

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's repudiations of Reciprocity with the United States beginning in 1898 and continuing until 1907, was endorsed by Liberals and Conservatives alike. The country was behind him. The future was before him.

Remember the difference between the Canada of that day and the Canada which Sir Wilfrid vainly thinks has turned back, with hungry eyes to the policy he so patriotically abandoned.

At the time of the joyful abandonment of the idea that the United States could be the main prop and stay of Canadian prosperity the Canadian people had $236,161,067 in the banks. To-day they have $925,000,000 in the banks. Then their trade beyond their own borders was $204,475,736 a year. Now it is $649,000,000.

Then the flow of British capital was so small that no returns were available. Last year $185,000,000 came from Britain to Canada, exclusive of individual amounts for investments, and the money brought by 112,000 people who came from Britain to Brighter Britain.

The magnificent point of this situation is that the turning away from the United States (which for thirty years had treated Canada as a commercial factor with good-natured contempt), and the new-found belief that Canada could march along the road to nationhood without regard to the business goodwill of the United States; were followed by an expansion of business that the firmest believer in her destiny would not have dared to prophecy in the days when Reciprocity was an Article of Faith and a veritable Promise of Hope to so many people.

TO THE ELECTORS

—of—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman.

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh; also a new concrete dam at Nassau crected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

D. B. Stratton

The Imperial Immigrant

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

You smile when you discuss the immigrant, and when he is called the Imperial Immigrant, why, the idea is positively funny. Hold on, now! Think awhile and your face will come straight.

A young swell was laughing in the train the other day about "these immigrants," and he imitated, or tried to imitate, their accent. I ventured to ask him where his family came from to Canada. He said his grandfather was a Yorkshireman who came to Canada with twenty-eight shillings in his pocket, and died worth eighty-five thousand dollars.

"You needn't sneer at your grandfather," said I.

"My dear sir," he answered, "you have no right to say that. I honour my grandfather."

"Your grandfather was an immigrant," said I, "and I have no doubt you could cut his dialect with a knife."

Let me ask you something: Where would Canada have been without the tide of immigration of the last ten years? And what is the place of the British-born in that wealth-producing tide?

We are all in the same boat. Some of us are immigrants direct. Some of us are immigrants once, twice, thrice removed. Let us join together in appreciation of our common creditorship of the Empire. For we are its creditors, and we are debtors to one another.

Ever think of that? The unique glory of the Empire is not the central kingdoms, magnificent as they are. France is bigger than the United Kingdom. Germany has fifty per cent. more population. France has states across the seas. So has Germany. But compared with the British states overseas the French and German countries are puling pigmies. They are dependents on their European owners. We are the partners of John Bull, and we increase daily in power. The Future of the Empire is in our Hands. Great idea, isn't it?

The Empire has been made by Emigration. It will be perpetuated, magnified, just so far as it learns the lessons of the immigrating experience: Cast thy Emigrant upon the waters, and he returns, after many days, AN IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

The future of our inter-Imperial relations is the future of the Imperial Conference: the most remarkable Parliament that has ever been constituted. The Imperial Conference is the Emigrant Returned.

Any political bat can see the importance of the Emigrant when he goes to London in the guise of Sir Wilfrid or Mr. Fisher, the Australian Premier, or when he resides in London as Lord Strathcona, the High Commissioner, of wizardly influence and almost boundless wealth.

You will be a far wiser man if you discern the importance of the future Lauriers, Fishers and Strathconas, when they arrive in the new country looking for work.

There are three-quarters of a million Imperial immigrants in Canada endowed with all of the rights of citizenship the moment they set foot on Canadian soil. They are raised in the atmosphere wherein all the great institutions, the noble ideals that belong to the Canadian Confederation, were begotten and nourished with vastspread power. They have only one thing to learn—to give Canada the first place in their affections. All other things will be added unto them, even a better accent and more command over the aspirate than they ever knew.

Among the things to be added will be a greater insight into the conditions of the land he has left, and a curious detachment in the way he looks at the affairs of that country. He leaves Britain a strong partyman. He imagines that the words "Liberal" and "Conservative" have the same meaning in Canada as they have in the United Kingdom. But, unless he is unhappily swept into the midst of some party organization in Canada, he will soon find himself wondering what sort of new political affiliations he will make when he has had time to feel his feet and take his bearings.

If he has been a Liberal, he will marvel how it is that the Liberal party in Canada, after calling aloud, and almost with tears, for a reform of the Senate, which had become a party instrument, has for fifteen years appointed practically nothing but Liberals to the Senate, until it is as partisan a body as the House of Lords itself.

If he was a Conservative in Britain he will marvel that a Conservative Government like that of Ontario should be a pioneer in such radical legislation as that which established the Hydro-Electric Commission, that is distributing the lighting through the province over four hundred miles of transmission wires. Clearly he must sort things out for himself and be in no hurry to tie himself to either side. If he cares to learn of my experience, it is that though I took in Canada in 1885, 6, 7, and 8; 1890-1; 1904, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, I have not yet joined either of the political parties; for the only thing about which I have made up my mind concerning them is that I wish to Heaven they were both a great deal better than they are. I am going to vote against the Government on the twenty-first.

The Imperial immigrant, if he be observant, and especially if he go to the West, will find that his relation to the Empire is more direct and vivid than ever it was in the Old Land. There he was one of forty millions, to whom the ideals of British institutions, the historical heritage of all who were born under the "Union Jack," have been taken for granted these scores and scores of years.

Perhaps in his desire to vote for a candidate who advocated one man one vote, or the taxation of land values, or the crippling of the veto power of the House of Lords, he has never experienced the direct responsibility for Imperial existence which is implied in his contribution, definite or indefinite, to the army and navy, which were the essence of national and Imperial life centuries before he was born.

He takes those things for granted; but if he happens to fall into a settlement of the West, in which Americans, Germans, Galicians, Scandinavians, Doukhobors, abound, and if he should be the only British-born they know, they will judge Canada's connection with the British Empire by him, and almost by him alone. They will observe his every peculiarity. If he displays a lack of knowledge of the English language, they will wonder if all the British are like him. Do you not see that to them he is the pattern Imperialist—a living epistle known and read of them? Do you not see also, that these people to whom Canada, at the beginning, is a foreign country, attractive because it offers new chances to acquire material wealth, will, to a greater or lesser extent, judge the political wisdom of the native-born Canadian by what they think of his Imperial yokefellow?

Nowhere, in all the world, has the individual Britisher a greater responsibility than in Canada. He has charge of his own reputation; he may worthily represent the Imperial connection; he may bring discredit on the native-born.

There has begun, especially in the West, the process of turning out a new racial amalgam, similar in essence to the amalgam which took place in Britain during the centuries when the early Briton was joined by the Roman, and then by the Angle, then by the Saxon, then by the Dane, and then by the Norman. The West is the real crucible of Canadian nationality. If the British immigrant exhibits contempt, ill-nature, ignorance, towards those who are being moulded in this newest crucible of the Empire, he will be an ingredient of fateful weakness to the amalgam.

He may go to Australia, where there is practically an entirely British population and become an excellent part in the making up of that nation. But the responsibility, the opportunity, the privilege that belongs to his emigration to Australia, is not comparable to the privilege belonging to his immigration to Canada. There no foreign flag ever appears to challenge the devotion of Australians to their National Emblem. In thousands of homes in Canada a foreign flag has the place of choicest honour.

And we are told that in the more intimate of our relationships we are at the parting of the ways.

The Imperial Immigrant unlike all the rest; finds above him the accustomed emblem. For him there surely can be no parting.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FIVE

THE FARMER RECEIVES MORE

Prices For Which He Sells Have Increased More Rapidly than the Cost of What He Buys.

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"The wise man often changes his mind; the fool never"—a way of saying that the political wisdom of to-day is the political foolishness of to-morrow. Nothing is more valuable than the teachings of history. Nothing is more futile than piling up proofs that many years experience have changed the point of view of a man or a party of men.

It is nothing to show that Sir John Macdonald was serious or merely astute in advocating Reciprocity, forty, thirty, twenty years ago. He is not with us now. We have conditions to which his utterances do not apply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position is different. He was an advocate of Reciprocity. On his experience he renounced it. The commercial conditions which caused him to renounce it—the prosperity of Canada without it—have become greatly accentuated in every particular.

The farmer particularly has flourished. The Dominion Government reports show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent.
Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent.
Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

Woollen goods	23.3 per cent.
Cotton goods	25 "
Boots and shoes	25 "
Metals and implements	2.4 "
Imported goods—decrease	4 "

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

Agriculture is the basic industry of Canada. If its prosperity grows in greater ratio than that of other industries, it is in the doubly happy position of flourishing itself and enabling others to flourish.

This has happened with a home market that is nothing like as big as it will be. Canada has only really begun her manufacturing career, if she is permitted to retain her fiscal independence.

THE UNSIGHTLY POLES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I think it is high time action was taken to have the unsightly poles removed from the centre of the city. They are simply a disgrace and an eye-sore. We have an energetic and constructive council, and I hope they will make a move in this direction soon. Our excellent Mayor is the right man to take this matter up, as he is in a position to do much with the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, with which he is, I believe, closely associated.

Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 205 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Couldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

BUSH FIRES IN CALIFORNIA

Millions of Feet of Pine Timber in the Path of the Fire.

Grass Valley, Cal., Sept. 1.—A forest fire, which started yesterday on a placer ranch four miles from Auburn, is beyond control. Fanned by high winds, it has jumped the Bear River and swept into Nevada County, and threatening bridges, destoying timber belts and sweeping homesteads from the clearings.

Additional crews left here last night to reinforce the men now trying to check the flames.

Millions of feet of pine and many farms are in the path of the fire.

TWO STURDY LITTLE AIREDALES WILL BE EYES AND EARS FOR PUNITIVE EXPEDITION.

Man's best friend, the dog, has shown his utility and intelligence in many an emergency. Soon he will demonstrate what he can do as a canine soldier, among the far-off fastnesses of Asia, where the spirit of the native tribes is still in revolt against advancing western civilization.

At the end of March the Abors, a wild mountain tribe of the Chinese-Indian border, murdered an English naturalist named Williamson. The atrocity was committed in territory no European but Wilkinson had ever explored before, and by a tribe whose Himalayan remoteness had held it immune from the white man's rule. But the Abors are now due to get a taste of the white man's law, and their first lesson of the long arm of British vengeance. At the end of October a Goorkha regiment of 2,000 men will plunge into the unknown on a punitive expedition to teach them the gravity of their mistake.

EYES, EARS AND NOSE.

For the greater part of the way, their path will lead through trackless jungles and treacherous mountain passes that offer innumerable opportunities for ambuscade. The caution demanded of men who know nothing of this wild country except by compass and hearsay, guarding themselves against cruel and resourceful natives, is a more than human caution. That is why Britain for the first time in the history of her army, has called on war-dogs to help her. There are only two of them, and they look very much like other dogs. But they may be the means of saving a British regiment. Day and night for many weeks they will be eyes, ears and nose to a party of men in a trackless wilderness, hemmed in by the ceaseless hostility of the men and beasts of the jungle.

Jack and Loch are two sturdy little Airedales. They are not show dogs, as the Airedales so often are; they are almost as big as St. Bernards, and they are perfectly trained.

Will Resume Classes.

Mrs. W. A. Greenslade will resume her class in piano, vocal and theory, on and after September 5th, at her studio, in the J. M. Greene Music Building. Pupils please report early. Phone 1112.

Everything is quiet at the Fire hall these days, the men not having had a call for over a week. They are kept busy, however, in keeping the hall and equipment spotlessly clean, and in attending to their many pets.

Wins First and Second.

Hon. J. R. Stratton's horses has scored another triumph at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto. In the carriage pairs, "My Pride" and "Premier" won first in class 15.2 and over. In the combination class "None Nicer" won second.

Rev. Canon Davidson in London.

Rev. Canon Davidson left yesterday afternoon for London, to attend the meetings of the General Synod which is held every three years. Very important questions will come before the Synod.

Honoring a Judge.

The people's chimes were rung yesterday morning in honor of Mr. Justice Fitzgerald, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., a visitor in the city. Judge Fitzgerald is on his way to attend as delegate the meetings of the general Synod of Canada at London.

Police Court Fines.

Henry Smith was assessed $5.75 at the Police Court yesterday for his Labor Day jag. Two other drunks paid $2 and $5.75 respectively. His Honor Magistrate Dumble is making jags rather expensive these days.

Number 1044 Wins.

The person who was present at the Labor Day sports and held the ticket numbered 1044, is the winner of the rug offered by the Trades and Labor Council. The lucky winner is at present unknown, even to the secretary, Mr. Fred Dobbin, but on the presentation of ticket the carpet will be delivered.

Hospital Closed.

The citizens will be pleased to learn that the Queen Mary Hospital is closed, the last patient having been discharged several days ago. As all cases of a contagious nature are treated at this institution its closing speaks volumes for the general health of the city.

A Successful Celebration.

The big Labor Day celebration on Monday last at Riverside Park was a great success in every way. The crowd was large and responsive, and the programme of events were all that could be desired. Much credit is due the committee who had the matter in hand.

Two Graves Were Decorated.

On Sunday morning last a deputation consisting of Cor. Sec. Wm. Stevens, and Fin. Sec. C. R. Jenkins celebrated the decoration day of Bricklayers and Masons' Union, No. 17, of Peterborough, by placing wreaths on the graves of departed brethern. The late Adam Dawson and Wm. Mein. Supt. Wise, with his usual courtesy, located the graves.

Reference to Labor Day.

On Sunday evening, in St. John's Church, Rev. Canon Davidson referred to the significance of Labor Day, and the sympathetic attitude of the church towards all the world's workers. He said that daily labor had been dignified for all time by the Carpenter of Nazareth, in whose service and church we are all united. He also referred to the departure of Mr. R. H. Suttcliffe and wished him success in his new field at Stirling.

Given Two Years At Kingston.

Herbert Hughes was sentenced yesterday by Magistrate Dumble to two years in Kingston Penitentiary. His criminal record has been received from Ottawa, and it shows that he has been sentenced to the Central Prison several times, the terms varying from sixty days to six months. Hughes was convicted of stealing articles from an Aylmer street boarding house and also pleaded guilty to a new charge of stealing a suit case valued at $10 from George McGowan. Hughes requested to be sent to Kingston instead of the Central Prison, where he has been before.

The Times is Missed.

There was no issue of The Times yesterday on account of Labor Day. During the forenoon the telephone was kept humming by subscribers who had forgotten the fact that The Times' staff took the holiday along with the other toilers. One lady said that her husband had spent most of the forenoon looking through the house and around the lawn for the paper, while another informed us that her lord and master was unable to enjoy his breakfast without his usual morning appetizer in the shape of The Times. A well known professional man remarked over the phone that he would sooner do without his breakfast than The Times. All of which goes to show that great family journal has become a necessity to the physical as well as the intellectual well-being of the community.

Reopening of Schools.

All the Public schools opened yesterday morning, with a good attendance, and a full staff of teachers. The vacancies on the Central School staff were filled by the transfer of Misses Cadwell, Jackson and Lightfoot. The Queen Alexandra staff vacancies were filled by the Misses Fisher and Ross. The new room at the King Edward is in charge of Miss Bennet, and the new room in the East City school is in charge of Miss Foster. Misses Fisher, Runnings, Real, Gordon and Foster have been added to the staff. The Misses Howson and Richardson have been appointed to positions on the Kindergarten staff, and Miss Rannie is to succeed Miss Helen Davies as Supervisor of Music.

VOL XXXIV NO 206 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

A NEW BRIDGE MUST BE BUILT OVER PIGEON CREEK

Yesterday the members of the County Council and a Committee of the City Council, consisting of Ald. Metheral, chairman of the Board of Works, and Ald. Graham, visited the Pigeon Creek bridge. They were accompanied by Mr. J. E. Belcher, the County Engineer. They found the bridge in bad shape. It will cost a large amount to make the necessary repairs, in fact a complete new bridge is required, as the present structure has served its day and generation. It is unlikely that the City will consent to spend any considerable amount.

The bridge has been built and maintained by the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, the city contributing one-sixth of the necessary amount. The raising of the water on Pigeon Lake by the construction of the new dam at Buckhorn, it is claimed, was indirectly the cause of the collapse of the present bridge. Thus it would appear, the government is liable, and it is the intention, we believe, of the Counties and the city to ask for a substantial appropriation for a new bridge.

The matter will come before the city council at an early date.

ENGLISH CHANNEL AGAIN CONQUERED BY SWIMMER

London, Sept. 6.—William Burgess, a Yorkshire man, to-day successfully swam the English channel from Dover to Cape Grisnez.

The swimmer landed at Cape Grisnez at half past ten this morning almost exactly 24 hours after leaving Dover.

HIS TENTH ATTEMPT.

Burgess' success to-day in swimming the English Channel followed nine plucky, but unsuccessful attempts to negotiate the narrow span of water between the French and English coasts.

Numerous attempts have been made to swim the Channel since 1875 when Capt. Matthew Webb swam from Dover to Calais in 21 hours and 45 minutes, but no one has been able to duplicate Capt. Webb's feat until today.

Burgess made his first try for the honor on September 6, 1904, but gave up after astruggle of about 15 hours The next day he started again, but after covering 22 miles in about 9 hours was forced to abandon his attempt because of a gale. In his successive tries Burgess each time was forced to abandon the attempt when the goal was almost within his grasp.

MADE WIDE DETOUR.

The Channel between Dover and Cape Grisnez is only twenty miles wide, but the tide through the straits is very strong, and swimmers are obliged to cross at a wide angle.

Burgess has been trying for years to emulate the feat of Captain Webb in 1875, and several times he got within a mile of the goal, only to be swept away by the receding tide.

ENCOUNTERED STRONG TIDE

On this attempt which Burgess declared would be his last attempt, he started from South Foreland at 10.50 o'clock yesterday morning. A strong tide was flowing and the swimmer had a tough task to get past Goodwin Sands. Four hours after his departure the swimmer was only six miles on his way.

This was the last heard of him until the news of his success in reaching the French shore arrived here and considerable anxiety was being felt as to his fate. A heavy fog enveloped the Channel last night and the crossing steamers failed to sight the swimmer.

The Methodist Autumn meeting of the Peterborough District was held on Tuesday in the Charlotte street church. There were two sessions presided over by the chairman of the District, Rev. Geo. W. Henderson. Nearly all the circuits and missions in the district were represented.

Arrangements were made for the Missionary, Educational and Temperance and Moral Reform anniversaries throughout the district.

A committee of four laymen, of which Mr. H. E. Hawley is convenor, was appointed to arrange for a district convention of local preachers, class leaders and other lay agencies, to be held at such a time and place as may be determined by them.

The meeting which was of unusual interest and profit, was brought to a close, the Rev. H. M. Manning offering prayer and pronouncing the benediction.

RECIPROCITY MEANS ANNEXATION.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Please find room for a few lines from a Canadian and a former resident of Peterborough, who is now residing in New York State, and who is watching the papers here on the present situation in Canada. Yes! "Reciprocity means Annexation"; don't forget this. All the people here are hoping that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Pope of Canada, will be reelected at Ottawa; then "the next move we will make will be to annex Canada." This is the common talk here. The press, leading business men, mechanics, and all are of the same opinion, that "Canada will be ours" in a few years, and the American Hog would take it all, if they could get it, any day, and make it a country not fit for any God-fearing man to live in, the same as their own. Why, here in Syracuse, you can go down town and buy anything you want—tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, liquor, beer, clothes, groceries, hardware, nick-nacks, postal cards — in fact, anything from a needle to an anchor, and they call this a Christian country. Baseball, ruffianism, picnics, excursions, summer resorts, and everything are in full swing, more patronized on a Sunday than any other day. Do the God-fearing people of Canada want such a stamp of Christianity carried on in their beloved Canada, where law demands a "Sabbath?"

I am proud of the Canadians in London, Ontario, who had loyalty enough to demand the removal from the streets of London of the Stars and Stripes. Why is it that Canadians are constantly going to the Yankees? I am going back to Canada again, and when I do, I will protest every time I see a flag of the U. S. used in street decorations. You never see a British flag here, used in decorations, inside or outside. In fact, it would not be allowed. The British flag is hated here by the smallest boy. Why? Because he is taught it in the school.

In a future letter I will quote some of the words from their School Book. Picture shows here are now showing a series of films about this Revolutionary war, and any British subject could easily take insult from many of them, if he was so indisposed. I won't believe that some of the things were done that are represented in these shows. And this is the way this jingo country educates the young to hate the British and all Canadians who have any spirit of loyalty to "home" in them. The general "Yank" would ten times rather see a "Dago" or a Polock settle here than a Canadian. I say vote against reciprocity and do not allow the Head Boss, Taft, to say that he had killed "Imperial preference."

Hurrah! Hurrah for Canada,
Her woods and valleys green;
Hurrah for dear old England,
Hurrah for England's King!
Good ships be on his waters,
Firm friends upon his shores;
Peace, peace, within her waters,
And plenty on her shores.

Yours for Canada.
N. A. Howard-Moore.

THE POWER QUESTION.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Now that our option on the Lakefield power has expired, it would seem that we are once again at the mercy of the Seymour Company. Our council should make some definite move in the direction of securing power either from Niagara Falls, or the purchase of the Lakefield property. It is little short of a crime to let this matter go by default, for it will, no doubt, soon be too late.

I understand the Dickson Company is considering a proposition of selling to the Seymour Company. If this sale takes place, who will pay the piper? Why, of course the people will. Street and domestic lighting, as well as power, will be up to high water mark for all time to come.

The Dickson Company's price seems high, but after all it may not be more than it is worth. This fact remains: It is all the power that is left, and we must make the best bargain possible to secure it. This is plain to me, and I think it should appeal to the favorable consideration of the people.

Mayor Morrow and the council should get the very best price possible from the Dickson Company, and at once submit a by-law to be voted on by the ratepayers.

A Large Ratepayer.

Mark of Esteem.

Miss Lena Bestarde, who has for some time been connected with the C. G. E. Co., has severed her connection with that firm, and the occasion was taken advantage of by a number of her friends to present her with a handsome gold signet ring and an address, expressing the high esteem in which she is held and regret at parting with one with whom they had been so long and pleasantly associated. Miss Bestarde, who is leaving for a lengthy sojourn with friends in Philadelphia, has a large circle of friends in this city and vicinity who will extend best wishes for a pleasant trip.

THE WEATHER.

Mostly fair and a little cooler.

NEW GOVERNMENT DREDGE TO BE BUILT FOR CANAL

Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., Says It will Cost Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars

The Times is informed that a fine new dredge and a consort scow is to be constructed in Peterborough at a cost of from $25,000 to $35,000.

This work will employ a number of skilled mechanics and involves an expenditure of $25,000 or $35,000 in wages, materials and supplies. This will be a considerable advantage to this city, and reflects great credit on the member for West Peterborough, through whose influence with the Department of Railways and Canals the work is to be done here.

There is also to be a very large expenditure in connection with the construction of the new wharf on George street, which is to cost about $75,000.

CHINA FACES FAMINE AND INTERNAL STRIFE

MILLIONS ARE HOMELESS AS A RESULT OF FLOODS IN THE YANGTSE VALLEY.

Outlaws are Looting the Food Stores —All Exportations Have Been Stopped.

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—The flood caused by the overflow of the Yangtse River is the most extensive and deepest in the memory of man. Nganhwei Province is submerged in a greater depth than ever before and widespread famine threatens.

Besides the 100,000 persons reported drowned, millions are homeless, subsisting on herbs, facing starvation. It is estimated that 80 per cent. of the crops in the flooded district are ruined. The price of rice is rapidly advancing to prohibitive levels; mobs have raided the stocks of rice dealers at numerous places. The whole visible supply of rice will last only two weeks it is estimated here.

Foreign property has suffered very heavily, and trade is seriously effected. The Liao River in Manchuria has also overflowed its banks, many have been drowned and a famine in that section is certain.

Besides, China is torn by internal disorders. There are rebellions in five sections of the Empire.

In the Province of Kansu the Mohamedans, 20,000 strong, are threatening Siningfu. Elusive terrorists infest Canton.

The British-American Tobacco Co. will send its own relief corps to Wuhhu, where there is a mission, to distribute $10,000 worth of rice. This amount will keep 5,000 people alive for two months.

STOP ALL EXPORTATION.

Pekin, Sept. 6.—Owing to the widespread devastation caused by the recent floods in Manchuria, the Viceroy Chou Fch Hsun, has issued a decree prohibiting the export of all cereals except soy beans from the three Eastern Provinces.

Quarantine has been declared against Dairen on account of the increase of cholera.

FRANCE'S TERMS MAY BE ACCEPTED BY GERMANY

DESPATCHES FROM BERLIN INDICATE THAT CHANCELLOR HAS ACCEPTED.

Settlement in Sight—Rumors of War Between Germany and France Cause Run on German Savings Banks.

Paris, Sept. 6.—Advices received here to-day from Berlin intimate that the German Imperial Chancellor Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollwegg, has indicated his acceptance of France's proposals presented last Monday to the German Foreign Minister, Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter, by the French Ambassador M Cambon, looking to settlement of the Moroccan diapute.

The French Foreign Office, however, maintains an attitude of reserve regarding the progress of the negotiations.

Sacrifice Causes His Death.

London, Ont., Sept. 6—Several weeks after giving cuticle from his body in order that a terrible wound inflicted on that of his brother by an enraged stalion might be healed, William Coward died yesterday at his home near Exeter, as the result of his self-sacrificing act, blood poisoning having developed following the operation.

WHEAT YIELD WILL BE FROM 17 TO 30 BUSHELS

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—Somewhat authentic reports on crop conditions were received yesterday when Thomas Acheson, general grain agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announced that most of the cutting in Southern Manitoba had been completed, and that wheat was commencing to move from the threshers. Wheat is running from 18 to 20 bushels to the acre.

The first carload to arrive in the city was graded No. 1 Northern. The Canadian Northern weekly report announces cutting is well under way and that most districts are already threshing. Estimates of the yields where threshing has been done run from 17 to 30 bushels to the acre. Farm help is still required at one or two points.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board yesterday morning, Mr. G. A. Gillespie moved that the secretary be instructed to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. James Whitton, whose husband passed away on Aug. 23rd. Aquatic Sports.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the aquatic sports, to be held on Saturday, Sept. 9th, under the management of Mr. Thompson, physical director of the local Y.M.C.A. The events are open to all and are being held to determine the city champion in this branch of sports. Besides swimming races there will be tandem canoe races, and contests between teams, consisting of four in a canoe. Already many entries have been received and suitable prizes will be given to the winners.

$1,000,000 TO BE RAISED

Toronto Presbytery Agrees to Secure $188,000 as Its Share—Double Last Year's.

The Toronto Presbytery yesterday declared itself enthusiastically in sympathy with the proposal of Rev. R. P. Mackay for the raising of $1,000,000 this year for the various schemes of the church. Each Presbytery is allotted a share of the amount and the Presbyteries in turn allott to each church what they shall raise. The Toronto Presbytery will raise $188,000, more than double what was raised last year for all schemes.

CONFERENCE ON CHURCH UNION

London, Sept. 6.—With impressive ceremonial the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada was formally opened this morning, when a long procession of clergy and laity filed from Croyn Hall and entered the main door of St. Paul's Cathedral. The full Cathedral choir led, then came the lay delegates, who opened up at the door to allow the clergy to pass through. Last of the clergy came the Most Rev. Archbishop Matheson, Primate of all Canada, in his stately robes, bare-headed, and immediately proceeded by Archbishop Hamilton, of Ottawa, wearing a mitre.

Among the bishops were six who did not hold the rank at the last General Synod: Bishops Harding, Anderson, Farthing, Sweeney, Depencier and Clark. Archbishop Matheson this afternoon delivered his address to the Synod, dealing with many important matters. It touches on Bible teaching in Public schools, saying: "If this Synod represents the thought of the Church of England onthis subject, let it express that thought, and also appoint a well-selected committee to confer with the highest councils of other Christian bodies with a view to some joint action in the matter which concerns most vitally the whole future of your country."

With reference to church union, his Lordship advocates the calling of a conference such as has been already recommended, and leave the matter in the hands of the Synod.

"Some important ... adds "would ensue, Ibelieve." His Lordship deals vigorously with the need for Church extension in the Canadian Northwest, urging that present opportunities be not neglected, but that a strong foundation be laid.

The death of Archbishop Sweatman, Bishop DuMoulin, Dr. Hart and others is referred to; also the resignation of Canon Tucker as missionary secretary. No direct reference is made to the Ne Temere marriage decree.

Bishop Williams of the Diocese of Huron was last evening presented with a pastoral staff on behalf of the clergy and laity of the diocese.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellant service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

GALLANT MEN.

More Attacks on Laws That Help Women.

Following the gallant and heroic attack of a few miserly profiteers upon the women's eight-hour law in California, notice has been given by some of the women fighters in Ohio and Missouri that they intend to test the laws enacted in those states recently establishing a maximum of 54 hours per week for female labor.

Although the best medical authorities in the world agree that modern industrial conditions are shattering the health and ruining the lives of countless thousands of the weaker sex and that shorter hours of toil are imperative as a protection to posterity, and although I notice that these same greedy employers, who are everlastingly demanding that workingmen obey the laws, studiously avoid placing their own women and children on the treadmill to grind out profits, they are determined that the women and children of the working class shall not escape with an extra hour or two of freedom, so they are going to fight in the courts to quash the special privilege."

Dog's Eye Grafted on Man's.

That a person totally blind from ophthalmia, even from birth, can be made to see by having a portion of a dog's eye grafted on his own was the startling communication made by Dr. Borsch, an American oculist, in a paper read before the meeting of the French Ophthalmological Society recently.

Dr. Borsch explained that as a result of blindness from ophthalmia, as also from some other causes, the cornea, which is the transparent membrane in front of the eye, becomes opaque, and in such a case the only chance of restoring sight is to replace the defective cornea by a healthy one.

To perform this feat Dr. Borsch first operates on a dog and lays back from its eye the conjunctiva or skin of the eyeball surrounding the cornea. He removes a portion of the latter and places it aside in blood serum. He then performs the same operation on the patient's eye, removing part of the front of the eye of the same size as the cornea taken from the animal.

The dog's cornea is now placed in position on the human eye and secured with stitches of the finest possible silk, the surrounding skin, which had been laid back, being brought into place over the edge of the cornea and also sewn.

The new graft unites with the eye in a few days, aided by a temporary glass cover to keep it in shape and injections of serum to stimulate vitality.

WORE LABOR MEN IN NEXT PARLIAMENT.

Attraction of $2000 Per Annum is Great in Great Britain.

An interesting phase of the British government's proposal to pay salaries to members of parliament in the future at the rate of $2000 per annum is the lamentations of the privileged classes. They say that with salaries about four times greater than the wages they can earn in the shops, factories and mines dangling before their eyes as prizes the labor persons will struggle about ten times harder to be elected to the house of commons.

As the labor party members are all radicals or socialists, the aristocrats, landlords and money lords are complaining that their inherited "rights" will be seriously menaced and that evil days are descending upon their houses. J. Keir Hardie, the socialist leader of the labor party, very politely agrees with the privileged personages for once in his lifetime. Hardie says the number of labor men in the next parliament will be at least doubled and progressive legislation will be put through.

Won the Bet.

They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveller said:—

"Any man, if he has the will-power, can endure pain or fatigue: I know I can."

There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied: —

"I'll wager a dinner you can't now your foot — boot on — in a bucket of hot water as long as I can."

The offer was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each contestant. Soon the young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water.

"What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket.

"Cork, sir — cork!" was the cool answer, and the other left that he had indeed lost.

Darwin Caught On.

When Charles Darwin was visiting the country house of a friend the two boys of the family thought they would play a joke on the scientist. So they caught a butterfly, a grasshopper a beetle and a centipede, and out of these creatures they made a strange composite insect. They took the centipede's body, the butterfly's wings, the grasshopper's legs and the beetle's head and they glued them together carefully. Then, with their new bug in a box, they knocked at Darwin's door.

"We caught this bug in a field," they said. "Can you tell us what kind of a bug it is, Mr. Darwin?"

Darwin looked at the bug and then he looked at the boys. He smiled slightly.

"Did you notice whether it hummed when you caught it, boys?" he asked.

"Yes," they answered, nudging one another.

"Then," said Darwin, "it is a humbug."

"If You Were Sir Wilfrid"

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

After we left Madeira, on the way to South Africa, before the wireless news services were being given to ocean liners, a journalist who was on board issued a daily paper that was full of alleged Marconigrams. The first number explained that he was going to run the world, for once in his life. He succeeded, as far as we were concerned, for he gave us news every day that might really have come through Fleet Street.

The man who votes in a general election is just as much Prime Minister, to the limit of his capacities, as Sir Wilfrid himself, and he ought to take as much interest in the questions that are involved in his approach to to the ballot box as my journalist friend did in arguing out the problems of the world for the edification of the passengers of the Dunottar Castle.

The obvious answer to the suggestion "If you were Sir Wilfrid?" is that you would do as Sir Wilfrid does. But I do not mean to be as precise as that in the heading I have given to this article. What I really mean is, "What would you do if you were in Sir Wilfrid's place?"

It is pretty hard, of course, to put yourself in the place of a man who lives an entirely different life from that of practically all of his fellow countrymen. Sir Wilfrid is a statesman, which is infinitely more than a politician. Every statesman is compelled to make a politician of himself; but all the King's horses and all the King's men could not make a statesman out of most of the astutest politicians who keep their eyes on public opinion, in the hope that they may get their hands on the public purse.

One of the many disabilities of the statesman, I am sure, is that he can very seldom do as he would like to do. When an ardent young spirit begins to get interested in politics because some great question appeals to his mind and conscience, he draws mental pictures of an ideal Prime Minister—a veritable two-edged sword of righteousness—cleaving his way to everlasting honour; destroying the evil; despising the mean, and generally deserving a high place among the apostles and idealists of the race.

Unhappily, that view of things cannot survive a long experience of this damaged world. Most of us are not highly idealistic persons. The spirit of public service for the sake of public service does not too widely abound. One of the first things you have to learn is that the people who do not take an exalted view of public duty are citizens just as much as those who would die for their country, and starve for it—a much more serious sacrifice.

I came across what struck me as fairly a perfect illustration of this in the conversation of an excellent citizen of Brockville the other day. The Minister of Railways is a Brockville man, and my friend was roundly abusing him because his department had put men to work in Halifax just about election time on jobs which had more relation to the necessities of the election than to the needs of the Intercolonial Railway. I ventured to suggest to him that probably the Minister would far rather not do that sort of thing, but that he might feel himself obliged to do it because of long-established custom; because of certain obligations which have been incurred in the past; because of half a dozen reasons, not one of them good in the highest moral atmosphere, but all of them cogent in practical politics—that in fact a Minister might be very much in the position of one who, while he feels that the tipping system in hotels and other places is essentially wrong and under some circumstances iniquitous, still submits to the custom; and so far perpetuates something which in its way is as bad, if not worse than tempting of men to vote through giving them a temporary job.

I am not excusing the evils of political life. They disgrace politics far too often. They will continue to disgrace politics until more and more people understand that politics is the science of Government, for which the highest-minded amongst us have a special responsibility, whether we recognize it or not. The people who sneer at politicians ought to do their duty and go into politics.

Imagine what Sir Wilfrid's position must be when he contemplates the last fifteen years from this point of view. I hazard a guess that Sir Wilfrid would like to make it impossible for any Government in Canada to remain in office more than ten years. But the habit of holding power becomes as strong with him as the habit of holding tips becomes incurable in the waiter. It is much easier for us to tell Sir Wilfrid what he ought to do than it would be for Sir Wilfrid or for ourselves, if we were in his place, to do it. But that does not free Sir Wilfrid from criticism or the results of criticism. He himself will tell you that the statesman who is not furnished with abundant criticism will soon become like a man on the prairie without a trail; without the sun; without the stars.

Even with abundant criticism premiers have a knack of losing their way and not knowing that they are lost. Alexander Mackenzie on the night of the election of '78 expected to hear that a new lease of power had been given him. He was amazed when the election went fatally against him. Mr. Balfour, in London, had a majority of over 100 in the House of Commons when he resigned in December, 1905. When the new House assembled it had a majority of 350 against him.

Sir Wilfrid has been for so long the absolutely dominating force in the Canadian Government that he too seems to have mistaken the trend of average Canadian opinion. In his youth and prime reciprocity with the United States was the ambition of the Canadian people. But now we have realized that Canada was more than capable of becoming fiscally independent of the United States and of achieving a powerful position in the commerce of the Empire and of the world.

He himself announced about the time the twentieth century came in—the century that he claimed for Canada's own—that the old-time ambitions were dead and that the only way in which to maintain proper friendship with the United States was to be absolutely independent of them. He implemented these declarations by a commercial policy in the shape of the so-called Transcontinental—Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which means a capital expenditure of at least thirty dollars for every man, woman and child in Canada—as to which you must never forget that though the money for the enterprise may be borrowed in London the burden of it has fundamentally to be carried by the country itself.

Sir Wilfrid has exhibited the defect which is apt to come with advancing years, with the detachment from popular conditions which seems inevitably to belong to the protracted management of a party in Parliament, and with the adjustment of individual claims to notice and preferment in the Legislature and all over the country.

Reciprocity seemed very sweet to Sir Wilfrid years and years ago. It was a political sweetheart of his from whom he parted with a reluctance that he too well concealed. It was thought to have been buried at Washington, but it was evidently left around the corridors of the Capitol, there to acquire the Washington accent and the Washington way of regarding things. When it was returned to Ottawa with many compliments Sir Wilfrid did not realize that though it was the old sweetheart come back it was an entirely different creature from that which once found favour in the eyes of Canada so many years ago.

So that if you were in Sir Wilfrid's place you would be in a very awkward place, and you would want to get away from the altar where President Taft is waiting to play the part of best man.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FIVE

THE FARMER RECEIVES MORE

Prices For Which He Sells Have Increased More Rapidly than the Cost of What He Buys

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"The wise man often changes his mind; the fool never"—a way of saying that the political wisdom of to-day is the political foolishness of to-morrow. Nothing is more valuable than the teachings of history. Nothing is more futile than piling up proofs that many years experience have changed the point of view of a man or a party of men.

It is nothing to show that Sir John Macdonald was serious or merely astute in advocating Reciprocity, forty, thirty, twenty years ago. He is not with us now. We have conditions to which his utterances do not apply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position is different. He was an advocate of Reciprocity. On his experience he renounced it. The commercial conditions which caused him to renounce it—the prosperity of Canada without it—have become greatly accentuated in every particular.

The farmer particularly has flourished. The Dominion Government reports show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent.
Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent.
Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

Woollen goods	33.3 per cent.
Cotton goods	25 "
Boots and shoes	35 "
Metals and implements	2.4 "
Imported goods—decrease	4 "

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

Agriculture is the basic industry of Canada. If its prosperity grows in greater ratio than that of other industries, it is in the doubly happy position of flourishing itself and enabling others to flourish.

This has happened with a home market that is nothing like as big as it will be. Canada has only really begun her manufacturing career, if she is permitted to retain her fiscal independence.

EXPECT TO CONTROL CANADIAN WHEAT

And Regret that Provinces Stand in the Way of Unlimited Access to Canadian Forests

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though the President of the United States in his official message transmitting to Congress the Reciprocity Agreement did not use the word "control" when anticipating free access to Canada's raw materials, he used it in a speech at Columbus, Ohio, in reference to the wheat trade:—

It will give to the United States much greater control of the wheat market than it ever had before. It will enable its milling plants to turn the Canadian wheat into flour and send abroad the finished product.

Secretary of State Knox used the same word at Chicago, at a Reciprocity banquet, attended by leading business men from over the whole of the Middle West. He said:—

In providing for free wheat we also take into account the facilities which the United States possesses for handling a part of the surplus Canadian crop, and thus preventing the demoralization of prices which results through the dumping of large quantities upon the European markets, where the world's price is fixed. The free admission of grain from Canada thus meets the present situation and provides against contingencies when the Canadian surplus becomes greater by placing the control in the hands of our own grain growers.

Literally, Canada is to be a hewer of wood to the United States, for, as the President wrote, "We shall reduce the consumption of our own forests." Secretary Knox, in a letter of January 21st, informing the two Canadian Ministers that they had properly interpreted the Agreement they had made, mourned over his failure to get all he wanted because certain Provinces were in the way:—

It is a matter of some regret on our part that we have been unable to adjust our differences on the subject of wood pulp, pulp wood and print paper. We recognize the difficulties to which you refer growing out of the nature of the relations between the Dominion and the Provincial Governments, and for the present we must be content with the conditional arrangement.

TO THE ELECTORS
—OF—
EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,

"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liabilit

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, former Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Leuwenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and V. Spond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders

ROUSING MEETINGS

Mr. Sexsmith's campaign is progressing satisfactorily, rousing meetings being held almost every evening of the week. Although Mr. Sexsmith's return is practically assured, he and his friends are not letting the grass grow under their feet.

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 6.—The struggle to retain office by the McGowan Government in New South Wales goes on daily. The leader of the Opposition had tabled a vote of want of confidence in the Ministry, and hopes to bring about its defeat. During the disorderly proceedings which characterized a recent assembly of the House, a Labor supporter of the Government was injured. If he is not granted a pair by his opponents he will be taken into the House on a stretcher to vote on this resolution, and his vote will keep the Government in office.

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

F. R. Stratton

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rae along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tributs of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and straggliers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities add reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a rebion of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

FORTIFYING SAMOAN TUNNEL

Italy and Switzerland fortify Simplon Tunnel.

Both Italy and Switzerland are taking measures to fortify the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place, in order to be able to blow it up at a moment's notice in the event of war. Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door that can resist the rush of an express train travelling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully teated once a week. The mines are connected with Brigue and Iselle by electric devices, so that, by the mere pressure of a button, the Simplon Tunnel could be destroyed in a second.

In The Name of Charity.

Nearly all the giddy youth of the neighborhood attended the charity bazaar, and one by one they drifted to a stall where a tiny, shapely, scented, gray kid glove reposed on a satin cushion. Attached to the cushion was a notice written in a delicate feminine hand, which ran:

"The owner of this glove will, at 7:30 this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a twenty-five cent ticket beforehand."

Tickets were purchased by the score, and at 7:30 a long raw of sheepish, not to say doggish, young bloods, assembled outside the stall.

Then, punctual to the moment, old Tom Porson, the local pork-butcher, who weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, and is almost as beautiful as a side of bacon, stepped to the front of the stall.

"Now, young gents," he said, in his best "Buy, buy, buy," tones, "this 'ere glove belongs to me. I bought it this morning. Now, I'm ready for you. Come on! Don't be bashful! One at a time!"

But nobody came on.

Pullman Etiquette.

That our system of railroad travel is not perfect is alleged by "An Englishman" in a recent article. "When you travel in England you are master of your time and your baggage," writes this author. Here the baggage travels several hours behind its owner. But "a Pullman car at night is the most uncivilised thing on the American continent, and one of the most indecent. It quite fascinates my blushes. I sit enthralled as the darky porter strews my seat with other people's belongings, holds a pillow-case in his teeth and squeezes the pillow into it, and hurl sheets and mattresses about, and pulls at chains and sliding-doors and levers and curtains. Personally I have never mastered either the art of the etiquette of a Pullman car. I never know where to put my shoes, and I feel I shall never learn how to take off my trousers while sitting in them.

R. R. Knowles Knew His Congregation.

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecturer laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. As is well known, Galt is the Scotchest town in Canada.

After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small.

"The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party."

"What was that?" enquired the statesman.

"It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Newspapers in Salonica.

In Salonica, Turkey, there are fifteen newspapers and nine weekly or monthly reviews published, with a total circulation of about 40,000. The newspapers are mostly small two sheet affairs, badly printed on cheap paper. The reading of the newspapers, however, has increased greatly in the last two years and will increase still more when more liberty is given to the press.

Salonica is the meeting-place of the East and West. Nearly all religious in the world have representatives there, and every day of the week is a Sunday to one or other of these religious organizations.

Not So Particular.

——At a dance recently a young gentleman somewhat inferior in social position to most of those present approached an alderman's daughter — "mightily superior" sort — and rather diffidently asked for the favor of a dance.

The girl looked him stonily in the face for a moment, then turned away with the remark:

"I'm sorry but I'm — well, rather particular as to whom I dance with."

"Ah, indeed!" was the quiet retort, "then we differ in that respect. I'm not a bit particular. That was why I asked you!"

Then he left her.

England in 1800.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under nineamillions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In 110 years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

Reduced Fares Pacific Coast.

Tickets will also be issued to all North Pacific points in British Columbia, Idaho, Oregon and Washington states at rate of $42.00. Through Tourist service to all points. Junk Dealer Acquitted.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 206 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

FRENCH PRESS ANNOUNCES A CONSIDERABLE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS TOWARD THE GERMAN FRONTIER.

30,000 Troops Concentrating at Belfort—Will be an Addition to the Regular Garrison.

Paris, Sept. 5.—La Patrie, in headlines running across its entire front page, announces a considerable movement of French troops toward the German frontier. Enquiries made at the Minister of War elicited the information that this movement is connected with the manoeuvres of the French army, which, beginning today, will last until September 13.

In addition to the garrisons stationed in the district 30,000 troops are now moving toward the eastern boundary for concentration at Belfort, the almost impregnable frontier fortress which is the objective of the army.

The Paris Bourse was affected to only a slight degree to-day by the Moroccan situation. Some French money is the process of withdrawal from Berlin, either directly or through a Swiss Bank, was explained by the unusual demands of the approaching January payments.

THE UNSIGHTLY POLES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I think it is high time action was taken to have the unsightly poles removed from the centre of the city. They are simply a disgrace and an eye-sore. We have an energetic and constructive council, and I hope they will make a move in this direction soon. Our excellent Mayor is the right man to take this matter up, as he is in a position to do much with the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, with which he is, I believe, closely associated.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. Quinn, a young farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a hay loft to the barn floor, and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the liniment in the house was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort

High Price of Sugar.

Many of the housekeepers of this city are raising "cane" about the very high price of sugar. Sugar is selling now at 5 cents a pound, and promises to go up to 6¼ or even 7c a pound. This high price is due to the failure of the sugar cane crop in Europe, because most of the sugar is derived from that source.

New Oil Field

A legitimate chance to make a fortune, by the investment of a small amount of money is what every investor wants. Usually the difficulty is to be able to satisfy yourself as to the safeguards and probabilities of success, and thus select the good from the bad. The newest, and what promises to be the richest oil area in the world is just beginning to be developed, in what is known as the Tampico field in Mexico. The flow of oil from the first few wells drilled there has broken all records. Beyond a doubt this is one of the greatest opportunities for investment ever known.

A Company has just been organized to develop 3500 acres of the choicest, and best located property in the producing field. For this purpose we will offer a limited number of shares of stock for subscription at 4 its par value. We are certain we can interest you, and satisfy you of the merit of the enterprise if you will let us.

MUNICIPALITIES GET TIDY SUMS FROM GOVERNMENT

Mr. James Dickson, O.L.S., who has been for a couple of years or more engaged in settling claims against the government for drowned lands on the Trent Canal, has for some time been dealing with the municipalities. The raising of the water on the lakes and rivers along the waterway, by the construction of concrete dams, has, in many cases, flooded the roadways. Hon. Mr. Stratton, member for West Peterborough, succeeded in having the claims of municipalities recognized, with the result that the following sums have been awarded :—

Smith	$1500
Harvey	1150
Emily	1875
Bexley	1000
Vernland	2000

The other municipalities along the waterway will be dealt with as rapidly as Mr. Dickson can get around, amongst which will be Douro, Dummer, Burleigh, Otonabee, North Monaghan, Asphodel and others.

S. A. HAVE ADDED 50,000 TO CANADA'S POPULATION

HAVE BROUGHT IN OVER TEN THOUSAND THIS YEAR.

Many Coming in From the Northern European Countries—Canada Has Many Advantages.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—Three high officers of the Salvation Army are in Ottawa to-day. Their business is to confer with the Canadian superintendent of immigration, W. D. Scott, before proceeding into other parts of the country.

The officers are Col. Lamb, head of immigration of the Salvation Army, with headquarters at London, Eng.; Col. Mapp, of Toronto, chief secretary of the Salvation Army work in Canada.

"There are many things which go to make Canada appear more enticing in the eyes of the old country people," said Col. Lamb. "Her fine land in the west for agricultural purposes and her proximity to England are important factors. Newspapers are received fairly up-to-date, and letters can be sent weekly. All this is not true of the other dependencies. Then to counteract these advantages, is the fear some people have of the winter."

Col. Lamb stated that this year's Salvation Army immigration to Canada was ten thousand men, women, and children, and that during the last five years over fifty thousand had come. These were not only from the British Isles, but also from Northern European countries.

STANTON'S POEM SAVED A LIFE

Salem, Ore., Sept. 6.—Frank L. Stanton's poem "The Young Hill Jones" saved the life of Jesse P. Webb yesterday as Governor West said.

Webb, who was convicted of the murder of Wm. A. Johnson, a ranchman, instead of being hanged at noon was the guest of honor at a dinner in the Penitentiary. Webb's sentence sentence was commuted by Governor West five minutes before the time appointed for the hanging. The Governor said he was influenced to grant the commutation by reading the poem.

Farmer's Wife's Story

FOOD LACKS VARIETY — ILL HEALTH FREQUENT.

Everything one eats in town comes from the country, yet the farmer's table shows the least variety and his wife undoubtedly works the hardest. In this sweeping arraignment Mrs. J. V. Tate gives the cause of her ill-health: "I lost my appetite, gas formed in the stomach and caused great distress. A sense of fulness or distension, with aching pains in the left shoulder blade and back, inflicted further suffering upon me. My system was sluggish, and with other troubles, incident to woman, my state was miserable. I used to wish for this and that to eat, but a farmer's table is mostly for well folks. It was a good thing I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they fixed up the stomach some, and then I could eat. By acting splendidly upon the system, my blood was made pure, and I got color and strength. In a few weeks I had no more gas, nor the full feeling—everything seemed to get right all at once. I can eat anything now do my own work and feel life worth living."

Don't fail to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are the right medicine to make and keep you well. At all dealers, in 25c boxes, or The Catarrh ozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A RICH STRIKE AT HAZELTON

On the Hudson Bay Mountain in British Columbia—Samples are Excellent.

Hazelton, B.C., Sept. 7.—Mining circles here are agog over the reported rich strike on Hudson Bay Mountain, south of here. A prospector arrived to-day from that locality, bringing in about ten pounds of ore, which runs 20 per cent. native silver. Native leaf silver weighing up to 2 ounces to the leaf have been taken from the specimens brought in here.

The discoverer declares other and larger samples, equally rich, are following. There are also reports of the lead being already traceable for four hundred feet.

A large number of prospectors and mining men in the vicinity are preparing to leave immediately for the locality.

EIGHTY CANADIANS ARE IN DANGER IN WEST CHINA

AMERICAN CONSUL ADVISES THE BAPTISTS TO LEAVE THE DANGER ZONE IN SZE CHUEN.

Scores of Methodist Missionaries are in That Province—Last Cable Received Here Was Hopeful.

Boston, Sept. 7.—The disorders in Szchuan Province, Western China, have become very serious, in the opinion of the officials of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, which has its headquarters in this city.

A few days ago the society officials received a cablegram from one of their missionaries stationed at Chenjin, the capital of the Province, telling of the rioting on the part of the natives.

To-day another cablegram was received, which said :

"American consul advises us to leave."

The receipt of to-day's message has convinced the society's officers here that the situation has reached an acute stage, and that the lives of the missionaries and the mission property are in danger.

About eighty missionaries supported by the Canadian Methodist church are located in Sze Chuen Province. They are supported by about 70,000 Epworth Leaguers, besides the general membership of the Church. A considerable number of them are from Toronto.

The last cable received by Rev. T. E. E. Shore, the general secretary for Foreign Missions, was to the effect that there had been some disturbances, but the outlook was hopeful. The movement is said to be anti-dynastic, and not anti-foreign. At the same time a strong hostility towards white persons is secretly cherished by ninety per cent. of the population, and it is known that the overthrow of the forces of law and order would endanger the lives of all foreigners. Sze Chuen Province is two thousand miles from the coast, and the missionaries would have a long gauntlet to run before they reached safety.

ROOSEVELT IS AFTER TAFT

New York, Sept. 7.—Ex-President Roosevelt deals editorially with the arbitration treaties in the Outlook to-day. He cites the existing arbitration treaties between the United States, Great Britain and France as better than the proposed treaty, because they make no false pretences and exclude questions affecting "our vital interests, independence or honor."

He continues : "The proposed arbitration treaty is defective, in the first place, because it is not straightforward. It sets forth that all 'justiciable' matters shall be arbitrated. The language both of the opponents and the defenders of the treaty shows that even among our own people and before a cause for applying the treaty has arisen, there is hopeless confusion as to what 'justiciable' means. Such being the case, it can be imagined how useless would be the effort to define 'justiciable' when a serious conflict had actually arisen, and blood was up and passion high.

"The wording of the treaty is so loose, it so lacks explicitness, as to allow one set of its advocates to announce that it binds us to arbitrate everything, and another set to say that under it we would not have to arbitrate anything we did not wish to. Now, no moral movement is permanently helped by hypocrisy.

"Does the proposal in the treaties if entered into with various nations, bind us to arbitrate the Monroe doctrine, the Platt amendment with Cuba, the payment of state bonds to European bondholders, the question whether various European countries are entitled to the same concessions that Canada is to receive under the reciprocity agreement the right of other foreign nations to interfere in Panama, our own right to exclude any immigrants whom we choose to exclude?

"If these questions arose, I am sure our representatives would, privately or publicly, inform foreign powers that the American people would never abide by an agreement to arbitrate them."

ARE CONFERRING RE THE MOROCCAN SITUATION

Berlin, Sept. 7.—The meeting between the German Foreign Minister, Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter, and the French Ambassador, M. Cambon, when it is expected that Germany's reply to France's proposals regarding Morocco will be handed to the Ambassador, will take place this afternoon.

Last night's announcement that the German reply had been delivered to the French Ambassador was incorrect. It was based on the conference held by Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter and the German Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Von Bethman-Hollwegg, who conferred with each other again this morning.

Henry Henbest, of West Toronto, Met Terrible Death on Siding.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—While crossing the railroad siding leading into the Gunn abbatoir from St. Clair avenue last night, Henry Henbest, foreman at the Campbell Mills, was struck and killed by a light engine which was going down the siding to bring up some cars. Henbest who lived on Kyding avenue, was on a bicycle and going to his work, and was in the middle of the track when struck. It is believed that a clump of bushes prevented him from seeing the engine coming. Although almost cut in two he lived for nearly twenty minutes. He was about 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and a small family. He was an Englishman not long out from the old country and had been employed at the mills only a short time.

HEAVY FROST IN SASK. AND SOUTH ALBERTA

The Observatory weather reports states that a heavy frost occurred last night in Saskatchewan and Southern Alberta. No reports of any damage to the wheat crop have been received this morning by Toronto banks and business institutions, but considerable anxiety is felt. A considerable part of the crop has been harvested in Manitoba, but much of the work remains to be done in the two Western Provinces, where the latest frost occurred.

"It all depends," said an official in the Department of Agriculture here, "whether the wheat is mature enough to be free from the attacks of frost If it is not, serious damage may result."—Toronto Star.

AUSTRALIA'S LOYALTY BEYOND ALL CHALLENGE.

General Liberties of Empire far Too Sacred to be Endangered, Says Fisher.

Melbourne, Sept. 7.— Leader of the Opposition Deakin at the re-opening of Parliament, expressed his approval of the work of the Imperial Conference, but strongly deprecated some of the statements made. The question of empire unity, he said, isn't self-sufficing, nor is Australia within the empire when there is anything to gain, and out of it when there is anything to lose. The talk of Australia maintaining a neutral attitude when the Mother Country is at war was nothing but incredible folly.

Premier Fisher said the loyalty of Australia to the Empire is beyond all challenge. That is the last word he had to say on the subject. He considered the general liberties of the empire far too sacred to be allowed to be endangered in any circumstance.

YOUNG WOMAN BADLY TREATED

Eighteen-Year-Old Girl Tarred and Feathered by a Gang of Grown up Men.

New York, Sept. 7.—A despatch to the World from Lincoln, Kan., says :

Sensational testimony is expected at the trial, at the next term of the District Court here, of a number of young men who live in the vicinity of Shady Bend, on a charge of having tarred and feathered Miss Mary Chamberlain, of Beverly, a pretty 18 year old girl. The country is all worked up over the affair, and their has been talk of lynching of the several participants.

The attack on the girl occurred a few nights ago, when she went out for a ride with Edward Rickert. As the couple were driving along acountry road near Shady Bend, they were set upon by a crowd of men, who took the girl out of the buggy, and stripped her of her clothing. The men then stood around, taking turns in applying the tar and throwing feathers over her.

After jeering the girl and driving her into hysterics, they replaced her in the buggy. Rickert, who hid in the bush while the men were tarring the girl, returned to the buggy, and drove her home.

The parents of the girl immediately made a complaint, and Rickert was arrested. He has been sentenced to a year in jail. It is charged that he entered into conspiracy to entice the girl to the spot, where the gang was waiting to attack her. He pleaded guilty, and on promise of a light sentence, gave the names of all the others concerned. It was said that the reason for the attack was remarks and very enthusiastic ; the addresses being punctuated with bursts of applause.

Mr. Burnham and Major Johnston (of Otonabee) spent a couple of days in Galway and Cavandish this week, where they held three meetings. They held a meeting at Silver Lake and at Union Creek, in Galway, where in spite of the very stormy weather, there was apacked house, and then went on to Kinmount.

Proceeding again, the speakers went on into the heart of Cavendish and held a successful meeting at White Lake.

Miss Chamberlain was alleged to have made about some other girls.

A. G. Clark, A. M. Simms, John Schmidt, Watson Scranton, and Jay Fitzwater, all grown men, were arrested, and charged with being the ringleaders. After arraignment, they pleaded not guilty, and were released on heavy bonds for bail.

Ever since the assault, Miss Chamberlain has been ill in bed. Her friends say the attack was wholly unjustified, and was caused by envious girls in the city, who declared that she had made uncomplimentary remarks about their characters.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

UNITING THE BRITISH EMPIRE

London, Sept. 7.—Recent experiments that have been carried out in Newfoundland by Signor Marconi with a view to perfecting wireless communications upon the Canadian shore line, are understood to be part of a huge scheme now under consideration by the Imperial Government, intended to unite various parts of the Empire in a wireless telegraphic system having direct communication with the Admiralty in London.

TWO MORE AVIATORS MET THEIR DEATHS IN FALLS.

Mulhausen, Germany, Sept. 7.—Two more names were added to-day to the long roll of persons killed by aeroplane accidents.

Lieut. Newmann, a German military aviator, started from this city this morning in the direction of Strassburg, carrying as a passenger M. Leconte, a French aeronaut. The aeroplane had gone hardly fifteen miles when the gasoline tank exploded. The report of the explosion was audible for a distance of several miles.

The machine dropped at Bilzheim, from an altitude of sixty feet, and both aviators were instantly killed. Their skulls were broken, and they were frightfully injured about their bodies.

Lieut. Newmann, who qualified as a pilot last spring, had been detailed to participate in the army manoeuvres, which are to be held next week, in the Grand Duchy of Baden.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.—

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.06, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

IN THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD.

SOME WONDERS IN NATURE

Being Driven Out of Paradise Has Been Man's Salvation.

I look out of my window and see the tide in its endless quest, now up and racing down the river, every night, the year through, for a thousand, for a million years it has on, and no one is the wiser, yet the tides have played their part in the history of the globe.

But Nature's cradle keeps rocking after her child has left it. Only the land benefits from the rain, and wet it and upon the sea as upon the land the trees ripen their fruits and their seeds whether there is any creature to feed upon them, or any room to plant them or not. Nature's purpose (more anthropomorphism,) embraces them all. She covers the full circle, she does not need to discriminate and husband resources as we do.

The animals are so wise in their own way, such a success, without thought yet so provocative of thought in us! They are rational without reason, and wise without understanding. They communicate without language and subsist without foresight. They weave and spin and build and bore without tools, they traverse zones without guide or compass, they are cunning without malice, and prudent without prevision. Animal behavior is much more like the behavior of natural forces than is that of man: the animal goes along with Nature, borne along by her currents, while the mind of man emerges and confronts Nature, thwarts it, uses her, or turns her back upon herself. During the vast eons while the earth was peopled by the lower orders alone, Nature went her way. But when this new animal, man, appeared, in due time Nature began to have his way, to own him as master. Her steam and her currents did his work, her lightning carried his messages, her forces became his servants.

Man's Mastery Over Nature.

Man's mastery over Nature has made him the victim of scores of diseases unknown to the animals below him. The artificial conditions with which he has surrounded himself, his material comforts, his extra-natural arms and shields, have opened the way for the invasion of his kingdom by hosts of bacterial enemies from whose mischievous activities the lower orders are exempt. He has closed his door against wind and cold, and thereby opened it to a ruthless and invisible horde. Nature endows him with reason, and then challenges it at every turn. She puts a weapon into his hand that she has given to no other animal and then confronts him with foes such as no other animal knows. He pays for his privileges. He has entered the lists as a free man, and he must and does take his chances. For the privilege of fire, he pays in the hazard of fire; for the privilege of steam, he pays in the risk of steam; for knowing how to overcome and use gravity, he pays in a way a deadly surrender to gravity. He shaken out his sail to the wind for the use of the wind's power and glory. So always does the new gift bring new danger and new responsibilities.

Man is endowed and blessed above all other creatures, and above all her creatures is he exposed to disease and death. But the problem is not as broad as it is long. The price paid does not always, or commonly, make up all the profit. There has been a steady gain. Nature exacts her fee, but the service is more than worth it. Otherwise man would not be here. Unless man had been driven out of Paradise what would he have become? The lower orders are still in the Garden of Eden: they know not good from evil; but man's evolution has brought him out of the state of innocence and dependence, and he is supreme in the world.

The Uses of old Rope.

Old rope, like old tin cans and other things generally considered waste, has its special market and uses, and in every seaport the collecting and classifying of old rope is an important business. Rope covered with heavy applications of tar or graphite is even more valuable for use in making oakum than lightly tarred material, while hemp rope with the original heavy coating of tar worn off by weathering is often used for the same purpose. A small percentage of untarred hemp rope, used in its prime for bolting and other such purposes, is being converted into cigarette paper in Europe. Scraps and waste from old tarred rope, and also old oakum removed from the seams of ships are now used for making cards.

The Correct Time.

Professor Turner had been spending a vacation in Egypt to superintend the erection of a telescope at Heliopolis, during which he had frequently heard that at noon every day a gun was fired, and was anxious to know how the system worked. Accordingly, he interviewed the gunner and asked him how he knew when to give the signal.

"Oh, I look at my watch," said the official.

"And how do you correct your watch?" asked the captain.

"I take it to the maker in Cairo and he tells me the error."

Forthwith Captain Lyons interviewed the watchmaker and asked him how he checked the error of the watch.

"I get the correct time from the gun," said that simple craftsman. And thus time was told in Egypt.

Importance of Bird Preservation

The Canada You Will Never See

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Never prophesy until you know. Sometimes you do not know very much until you begin to prophesy. Which means that often it is only when you try to size up the future that you find out what the past has been teaching you.

After all, you know a great many things that you do not know how you know. Some knowledge is acquired as you acquire a suit of clothes; but the best knowledge is that which comes to you as unconsciously as the hair upon your head. It grows with you and in you.

The Canada you will never see will be as surely the product of the Canada you see now as that the boy is father to the man. When you talk about being a trustee of posterity you are talking sound commonsense and the best kind of politics. When I hear that Canada is to have a population of 80 millions within the next 80 years, it does not excite my credibility. It is as important sometimes to recognize your limitations as it is sometimes to dwell upon your possibilities.

The twentieth century will be ours because of the unique use we can make of our opportunities and the unique way in which we can prevent the full consequences of our disabilities. To hear some people you would think it gets warmer instead of colder as you approach the North Pole. Temperature is bound to influence population, although, perhaps, not to the extent and in the way that you suppose.

A severe winter does not necessarily mean a scant fertility or a seriously restricted capacity of the soil to support population. Things do not grow in winter, anyway. We know nothing about the extent of Canada's population 50 or 60 years hence, because that will be governed by conditions of soil and climate, which we cannot affect. No one, by taking thought, can re-write the story of the thermometer. But, if we cannot bequeath a climate, we can construct and bequeath institutions. They must be constructed in accordance with the genius of the people whom they are to serve, and also of the climate in which they are to flourish.

Where you have a climate that for several months in the year causes the people who live in it to fight against elemental nature you have got a climate that tends to produce a virile people. Men deteriorate much faster in the south than in the north. The institutions of the north have always been more admirable than those which flourish in the south. Physically animals and men always attain their highest perfection nearest the line where the abundance of their food begins to taper off into scarcity.

The other day a party of British journalists was admiring the beauty of the scenery on the upper St. Lawrence and envying the recreations of the people. One of them asked, "How do you endure the winter?" He was surprised to be told that the winter was even more enjoyable than the summer, with hockey, skating, curling, and all the restful occupations of crisp days and long, joyful evenings.

There is going on in Canada a remaking of people who speak the English language, but who will, through the climate, become different in their physical fibre, and who will be restrained in their pride by the fact that they have got to get along with millions of fellow citizens who speak the language of ancient Gaul. Even as there is a fight against physical nature within Canada, so there will always have to be a fight against some of the results of natural geography, which struggles to give its own unalterable stamp to political institutions.

John Bright foresaw the day when geographical and other influences would cause the stars and stripes to float over the whole of North America. Goldwin Smith, also an English Liberal of the intellectual school, believed in the inevitability of Canada's fusion with the United States.

But, as Canada is the miracle of the modern commercial and political worlds, and has come to her magnificent position in spite of climate, in spite of geography, in spite of political pressure, in spite of prophecy, in spite of everything except her underlying determination to remain in the orbit of the British Empire, so she will continue an increasing power among English-speaking peoples, because, over and above the capacities inherent in her geographic, climatic and ethnographic qualities, she is so happily placed that she may be the living link, the balance weight, I had almost said the arbiter, of the international relationships of the English-speaking Empire, and the great English-speaking Republic.

Not so long ago she was regarded by both London and Washington as a very poor relation, as a negligible quantity; almost frozen out of the national class that counts. To-day she is courted by both. If she is wise she will refuse to sacrifice one tittle or jot of the independence that is her chiefest insurance for future political greatness within the Empire and as a neighbor of the Republic.

Trade has become an expression of political ambition. I mean, of course, trade in its largest aspects, as it is the subject of treaties and statutes and elections. Some people try to make out that there is nothing more in international trading relationships than there is in a lady buying goods over the counter. But when a lady buys sugar and tea, furs and feathers, the storekeeper does not tell her she is at the parting of the ways and that what she spends with him will seriously affect all her domestic relationships and will weaken her friendship with her kith and kin across the sea.

It is easy to make or mar our fate by some action whose importance is imperfectly understood. I verily believe that the General Election that is upon Canada is one of those deciding epochs in her career. The Government brought the Reciprocal Agreement from Washington with the idea that it was nothing more than a reduction in prices across the counter. They were seriously mistaken. It has been described as the most important in Canadian history because, as President Taft has said, "Canada is at the parting of the ways," and because, as Sir Wilfrid has said, "the best way to be on friendly terms with our American neighbours is to be absolutely independent of them."

The complete establishment of our own lines of inter-communication between East and West, the spiritual understanding of their Canadian British-Imperial possibilities by the many tongued people of the West; the appreciation of what our responsibilities in world politics mean, when every citizen of Canada, native-born, British-born or foreign-born, is so much in need of understanding those things it is imperative that we keep ourselves free from any entanglement with a nation that would make our commerce subsidiary to what Sir Wilfrid called the ever vigilant competitor, who is ready to take the trade that properly belongs to those who acknowledge Canada as their native or their adopted land.

Do you not see that underneath all, and above all, and beyond all, the immediate considerations that may affect your vote on the Twenty-first are the untold importances of the Canada You Will Never See?

If I Were Farming Again

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

A rather inconsequent slogan was concocted in a Montreal newspaper office the other day and telegraphed all over the country as the battle-cry of the Liberal party in this election. It is "Let the farmer have his turn."

When clever politicians conspire to make a slogan they generally make a mistake. The cleverer the politicians the bigger the mistake.

The slogan doesn't really hit off the situation, except from the point of view of those who, like Sir Wilfrid have decided that they want Free Trade as it is in England. Sir Wilfrid's speeches in the West last year frequently contained this doctrine. If you are for unconditional free trade it is no use trying to make out you are for the National Policy. So you mustn't talk about letting the farmer have his turn—as if he were not capable of taking care of himself. To have free trade as it is in England means that wages would have to come to the English level, and the power of wages to buy grain produce would be correspondingly weakened.

Half the controversy that troubles the world arises not because people give different answers to the same question, but because they ask different questions, and they approach public affairs from different points of view. In this Reciprocity business one man sees only a few schedules. Another discerns a change in the temper of the national life.

Many people tell us that the farmer thinks of nothing but price. I believe they are mistaken, important as the price is. I am very chary of talking to farmers about their relationship to a commercial-political question, because, having left the farm, I leave lecturing to farmers to those who know nothing about farming except what they see in the papers and observe from train or automobile. The best I can do is to size up the situation as I believe I would if I were farming again, remembering the long days of toil, the short nights of rest, the aching limbs and hardened hands, that used to belong to one's daily rustle with the earth.

The farmer who takes wide interest in public questions is the man above all others who should be able to grasp the great forces that originate and govern political action, because he is detached from many petty things that afflict city people, and because his closeness to nature helps him to discern the processes of national change and growth which are always behind political action. In politics—not the fussy little manoeuvreings between rivals for office that we sometimes dignify by the name—it is dead true that whatsoever a country sows that will it also reap.

Another consideration that would influence me, I think, as a farmer having to decide my attitude towards a vital national question would be the knowledge that most likely some, if not most, of my children would leave the farm, and that I should be ambitious for them to achieve the best possible result in other walks of life, and I should remember that nearly all the best services of the nation have been performed by rubes who were raised on the farm.

I would have a peculiar interest in the development and dignity of my province and of my country, from a patriotic point of view. I should know that in the building up of Canada the climactic factor has played a vital part. Just as the far north of Canada is the backyard of the southern portions of the Dominion, so, unless there has been something to check the flow of trade south across the boundary line, instead of there being big cities in Canada manufacturing for the farmers, and buying his produce at good prices, our industrial centres, without which no country can be really prosperous, would have been in the United States.

I should inquire how the United States had become such a great manufacturing country, and should read carefully what Mr. James Wilson, the Scotsman who is Secretary of the Agriculture of the United States, has said:—

The American farmer brought about the building of the American factory because he wanted a home market. The home market is the best to be found anywhere, because our people live well and are all able to buy the best farm produce, that is, all who are willing to work. It may be said, without much exaggeration, that the American farmer is responsible for the upbuilding of the factory. He has voted steadily for half a century to give protection to the extent of the difference in cost of production between this country and any country that desires to sell in our markets. Was that right or wrong? Was it wise for the farmers to do that? There was no market at home. They wanted a market as near the factory as they could bring it.

Having read that I would dig into the Dominion Government reports, which show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, [illegible]

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York. Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York. Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and V. pond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders

Mrs. Thurston Dead.

London, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Katherine Cecil Thurston, the Irish authoress, was found dead this morning at a hotel in Cork.

Mrs. Thurston was a native of Cork and married in 1901 Ernest Charles Thurston, with whom she was the joint author of several popular novels. The couple lived happily until 1907, when according to Mrs. Thurston, her husband informed her that it was necessary that he should live his own life, and for the purpose of literary work should go down into the very depths of society. The authoress was granted a divorce in the spring of 1910.

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. P. Stratton

CUSTOM IN SPAIN

And How Saltshakers Were Introduced.

One thing specially is vital in Spain: 'Costumbre,' they say ('It is the custom'). It explains commercial honor keenly for the Spanish business man to keep his word and pay his bills; exactly as it is equally customary for him to lack what we call 'honor' in some other departments of life. It is customary to do or not to do, to like or not to like, a thousand things. Why? 'Costumbre' is the only reply. It is customary, moreover, not to yield readily to an improvement or a luxury, even as it is again equally customary, once the Spaniard has yielded to a given thing, to hold to it like adamant.

Until a few years ago no Spaniard had on his dining table any other receptacle for salt than the old-style open cellar. An enterprising Briton saw this, noted that the salt was always dirty and gummy, and determined to introduce a certain famous salt-shaker, from which clean salt would run freely in the dampest weather. Bravely he started to tour Spain for the company.

'No, senor; no est costumbre usar mas que esto' ('No, sir; it's not customary to use more than that' — the old cellar), was the answer of every dealer to whom he presented the novelty. Again and again he was rebuffed. He began to despair when, standing one day gazing into a jeweller's window, a brilliant idea struck him. He entered. Realizing the child-like curiosity and impressionable character of his quarry, he persuaded the jeweller to display a shaker in his window, and coached him about selling it. A Spaniard came along, looked in the window, saw the curious object, investigated.

'It is very pretty for the toilet table,' he remarked, after prolonged scrutiny; 'perhaps useful for the children. What goes in it -perfume?'

Indifferently the jeweller glanced up from some scribbling. 'No, sir; only salt.'

'Man, salt!'

'Yes. Possibly I could get you a little — the kind that doesn't get sticky — to try. But I don't know.'

The simple gentleman was amazed, angry, affronted by the novelty, but he took it and an ounce or two of the special salt home with him. The jeweller ordered another shaker and more samples of salt. By and by the gentleman had used all his salt and wanted more of the same kind. The business of that company to-day is worth many figures in Spain every year, and, more than that, as it is 'costumbre' now to use that particular sort of shaker and brand of salt, there is virtually no competition.

GOSSIP NECESSARY TO BOTH SEXES.

But Should Not Be Overdone.

Somebody has thought it worth while to say that gossip is as necessary to a woman as food and drink. Why the matter of sex should be dragged in is a mystery. Everybody knows that old women belong to both sexes.

The creature who simply lives for gossip is as likely to be found in breeches as petticoats. We all know men whose flow of tittle tattle is not to be surpassed by any feminine ingenuity or industry. Such people, who make an occupation of what ought to be an amusement, are, fortunately, the exceptions to ordinary existence. But in a decent and modest way we all love gossip.

Why not? "The proper study of mankind is man"—to take the first of a dozen much-worn quotations that fly to the pen. A taste for gossip means nothing more than an interest in humanity.

To like to know what other folks are doing and saying and thinking is not malicious or undignified. It is merely a proof that you are healthily alive. Of course, you can overdo it. You can be too greedy in the matter of gossip, as with other good and stimulating things. But a modest portion serves to keep you in good spirits. To live for it is as contemptible as to be a drunkard.

Unconventionalities.

"I'd enjoy your conversation a great deal more, Weerius, if I didn't have to listen to it."

"The reason I dont' ask you whether or not this is all-wood goods, Mr. Sellers, is that I want to save you from lying about it."

"Yes, we like our new cook very much. Mrs. Ipdyke: she has told us over so many funny things that happened when she was working for you."

"I know, of course, old chap, that you're fishing for an invitation to go with us on our yachting trip, but it wont' do you any good."

"From the way your curtains smell, Mrs. Whackster, I judge that your husband smokes rather cheap cigars."

"I've often wondered, Throggins, how you ever managed to smuggle yourself into good society."

What Makes a Bee Hum?

You have never heard a bee hum when it was crawling. This tells us what we might have guessed, that the bee's humming is made by the movement of its wings when it flies. The noise is not made by its voice-box, as when you sing, for the bee has not a voicebox. But its wings move very quickly — a bird would "hum" when flying if its wings moved quickly enough — and as they move to and fro they set the air moving, and, as you know, we would not be able to hear anything but for the vibration, or waves, in the air.

If the waves are too slow, as when you wave a stick in the air, or when a bird flaps its wings, we hear nothing. But the vibrations in the air made by the bee's wings are of a rate that is within the range of our hearing — if the bee is near enough — and so we hear a humming.

"Judge," said Mrs. Starvem to the Justice who had recently come to board with her, "I am particularly anxious to have you try this chicken soup." "I have tried it," replied the Judge, "and my decision is that the chicken has proved an alibi."

$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

A CAUCASIAN MARRIAGE.

A Piece of Sugar Put to Lips of Bride to Sweeten Tongue.

In the Caucasus the marriage ceremonies everywhere are of the greatest extravagance in regard to length and the amount of feasting. In Mingrelia large tents are erected for the wedding guests, and the smallest number invited comes to two or three hundred. An interesting and pretty ceremony is the going forth of the bridegroom's mother to meet the bride, to whose lips she puts a piece of sugar, wishing her happiness and joy, and hoping that her tongue may always keep the sweetness of sugar. In the marriage procession all the goods and wealth of the family make an appearance. An elderly lady, generally the bride's nurse, plays an important part throughout the ceremonies. She sits by the bride, who neither laughs nor eats during all the merriment and feasting. A meal is served in the nuptial chamber, to which the matron conducts the bride. The bridegroom is refused admission until he buys his entry from the matron. This old lady remains a week in the house, and when she departs the bride breaks into loud lamentations. For a year the young couple are full of respect and attention for their parents, never sitting down in their presence and submitting to their wishes in everything.

REMOVAL OF BIRTHMARKS.

Carbonic Acid Snow Treatment Proving Generally Successful.

In less than a year the carbonic acid snow treatment for birthmarks, warts, and rodent ulcer, first introduced at Charing Cross Hospital, has gained an accepted place in modern therapeutics.

The early experiments with the new remedy, described in these columns last June, have been so successful in suitable cases that now practically every hospital in the country, as well as thousands of general practitioners and skin specialists, is making use of the new medicament.

The snow is prepared by allowing a thin spray of carbonic acid gas, liquefied under pressure, to escape into a felt covering slipped over the tap of the iron cylinder containing the gas. The gas is deposited on the felt as a very fine powdered snow at a temperature of about 100 degrees below zero. The snow is then solidified into an icy pencil by being tightly packed into a hard rubber cylinder with a plunger.

Treatment consists of pressing this intensely cold pencil of carbonic acid ice for a few seconds against the birthmark, wart or rodent ulcer to be removed. The resulting intense cold freezes the part, setting up severe local inflammation, which leads to a breaking down and absorption of the frozen tissues. There is very little pain and the wound heals naturally in a few days, leaving the skin practically normal.

RUSSIAN GRAIN KING.

Was Queer Character, But His Business Integrity Was High.

Of a peculiar stamp was the man of millions, Nicholas Boukhroff, the Russian grain king, who recently died. In his externals he was a mujik merchant. He wore the top boots, the trader's kaftan—coat and overcoat in one, fitting close up to the neck and reaching to the knees—and the embroidered cotton shirt without starched collar, which are the historic garb of the Volga traders, men who carry as much as 50,000 rubles in notes stuck in the leg of a boot and who distrust the documentary machinery of credit. Boukhroff's great fortune compelled him to handle investments and bank paper, but he was in sympathy with the old simple ways. He was in fact an Old Believer and a devout churchgoer who lived his religion.

In his housekeeping he lived on much the same scale as an ordinary hand worker in comfortable employment. He gave away millions of rubles in charity, but was close fisted in personal outlays. The porters at Nijni-Novgorod and elsewhere avoided him when they saw him step from a train. He would never pay them more than 10 cents for carrying his baggage. When he met great personages he "thoued" them, as he did everybody else, keeping to the Old Believer, Quakerlike form of address. His integrity in business was of the highest.

He would lecture men in his employment if they spent five kopeks needlessly. His patriarchial ways had sometimes a welcome side. He exacted unquestioning obedience to his instructions; but every now and then a man who served him well for some years would receive a draft for 25,000 or 50,000 rubles with no further remark than:

"Thou shalt now be a Man, too. I know that thou wilt make good use of the money."

Canada Buys a Holman Hunt.

The national art gallery at Ottawa has been enriched by a painting by Holman Hunt, of the British Academy. The painting is a portrait of Henry Wentworth Monk, who was born in the Ottawa Valley and who was known as "The Apostle of Peace." He was an intimate friend of the artist, who painted the picture while with Monk in Palestine. The painting was secured from Mrs. Holman Hunt at a moderate price.

"Very clever, isn't he?"

"Yes."

"I'm told that his three older brothers are mentally weak."

"Yes, he's the original sane fourth."

"Shoots Wife Before Children," says a newspaper headline. That's a matter of precedence.

Junk Dealer Acquitted.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 207 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

MILLIONS ARE HOMELESS AS A RESULT OF FLOODS IN THE YANGTSE VALLEY,

Outlaws are Looting the Food Stores —All Exportations Have Been Stopped.

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—The flood caused by the overflow of the Yangtse River is the most extensive and deepest in the memory of man. Nganhwei Province is submerged in a greater depth than ever before and widespread famine threatens.

Besides the 100,000 persons reported drowned, millions are homeless, subsisting on herbs, facing starvation. It is estimated that 80 per cent. of the crops in the flooded district are ruined. The price of rice is rapidly advancing to prohibitive levels; mobs have raided the stocks of rice dealers at numerous places. The whole visible supply of rice will last only two weeks it is estimated here.

Foreign property has suffered very heavily, and trade is seriously effected. The Liao River in Manchuria has also overflowed its banks, many have been drowned and a famine in that section is certain.

Besides, China is torn by internal disorders. There are rebellions in five sections of the Empire.

In the Province of Kansu the Mohamedans, 20,000 strong, are threatening Siningfu. Elusive terrorists infest Canton.

The British-American Tobacco Co. will send its own relief corps to Wuhhu, where there is a mission, to distribute $10,000 worth of rice. This amount will keep 5,000 people alive for two months.

STOP ALL EXPORTATION.

Pekin, Sept. 6.—Owing to the widespread devastation caused by the recent floods in Manchuria, the Viceroy Chou Erh Hsun, has issued a decree prohibiting the export of all cereals except soy beans from the three Eastern Provinces.

Quarantine has been declared against Dairen on account of the increase of cholera.

Heaviness at Pit of The Stomach

A Feeling of Uneasiness Before And After Meals is Quickly Cured With Nerviline.

"Nearly everyone gets an occasional attack of indigestion and knows just what that heavy feeling means in the stomach. "I was subject to stomach derangements and my health was seriously hampered on this account. After meals I belched gas, had a weighty sensation in my stomach and over my left side. The first relief I got was from Nerviline—I used it three times a day and was cured. I continue to use Nerviline occasionally, and find it is a wonderful aid to the stomach and digestive organs."

NERVILINE RESTORES WEAK STOMACHS

The above letter comes from Mrs. P. R. Stetson, wife of an important merchant in Brockton, and still further proof of the exceptional power of Nerviline is furnished by A. E. Rossman, the well-known upholsterer of Chester, who writes: "Let everyone with a bad stomach use 'Nerviline,' and I am sure there will be few sufferers left. I used to have cramps, rumbling noises, gas on my stomach and severe fits of indigestion. Nerviline was the only remedy that gave me relief, and I found it so entirely satisfactory that I would like to have my letter of recommendation published broadcast in order that others may profit by my experience."

You'll find a hundred uses for Nerviline—it's a trusty household remedy that sells to the extent of a million bottles per year—that's the best proof that it must cure and give unlimited satisfaction. Refuse anything offered in place of Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Counterfeit Bills.

When you get an American $5 note be sure and look at the back side of the bill, because American $1 bills are being made $5, by pasting the figure 5, cut from cigar labels, over the 1 at each end of the bill. The change is not easily detected unless the other side is scrutinized, for the back of the bills are light and dark, "5's" can be easily noticed there.

The Brigade Called Out.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the fire brigade received acall to 609 Harvey street, in the north end of the city. When they arrived they found that it was but asmall chimney fire, and it was extinguished without even the use of chemicals. The fact that the fire brigade reached the blaze in less than three minutes after the first alarm, speaks eloquently for the condition of affairs at the local fire hall.

Secured Position in St. Michael's.

Mr. Wm. O'Brien, son of Mr. M. O'Brien, Gilmour street, and for the past three years principal of St. Peter's Separate School, is leaving towards the end of the month for Toronto to fill a very good position on the faculty of St. Michael's College. The appointment is a decided advance for Mr. O'Brien and his many friends will congratulate him and wish him success. He was prominent in sporting circles also.

A Social Evening.

On Tuesday evening a number of Mr. Vincent Sullivan's friends gathered at his home in East City, in his honor. Mr. Sullivan, who has been in the Nugent Drug Store was leaving for Toronto where he will attend the school of Pharmacy. They indulged in music and dancing and at the close of the supper presented him with an address and abeautiful signet ring.

Band Was Honored.

On Wednesday, 31 members of the 57th Regimental Band, under the leadership of Mr. Gliddon, gave three concerts at the exhibition. For two of these the band played in No. 2 bandstand, while the third was given in front of the grand stand and was a recognition of the playing ability of the band. The men returned home the same evening, pleased with the attention given them by the authorities.

Laid to Rest.

The burial of the late Mr. George E. Rawlings took place yesterday at 2.30 o'clock in Little Lake cemetery. The services were conducted by the I.O.O.F. of which Mr. Rawlings was a member, and alarge number of that society attended. The love and respect of his many friends was indicated by a beautiful display of flowers. The Rev. J. G. Brown officiated at a very impressive service.

Appeals Were Heard.

Wednesday night at the first sitting of the Court of Appeals, twelve appeals were heard, of these six Burnham appeals were allowed, while judgment was held over in the other two cases. The court is made up of His Honor Judge Huycke, Police Magistrate Dumble, Registrar B. Morrow and Clerk of the County Court Sherry.

Police Court.

Richard McBride was brought up in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He is said to have got some travellers at a local hotel, to buy him a drink, and when the bartender ordered him out, he threw a glass at him. The glass hit alarge mirror and broke it. McBride pleaded guilty, but was remanded in order to get time enough to find out the extent of his misconduct.

Important to Ladies.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Hotel Oriental, on Friday and Saturday, September 15th and 16th.

Off to New Ontario.

Major Geo. W. Bennett, superintendent of Colonization Roads, left yesterday for New Ontario, after spending a few days at his home here. On his last trip to the Porcupine District he arrived the day after the big fire, and assisted in providing for the sufferers. He helped to rush in food, clothing and tents to those who were left homeless, and as an officer of the Government took a leading part in the relief work. The Government are now engaged in constructing a system of highways through the country and are employing a large number of men. Major Bennett received a number of photos of the district, taken before, during and after the fire, which conveys some conception of the awfulness of the calamity.

A Good Bunch.

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Mr. A. H. Patience, secretary of the Gideons, a branch of the Christian Commercial Travellers Association, Toronto, which recently placed a Bible in the bedrooms of the Peterborough hotels, in which he says:—"I am very pleased to say that the hotel men of your noble city treated the writer very kindly, and without exception are the best bunch of men that I have came across yet. Every hotel man in Peterborough gave his consent, and the Bibles have been delivered to them." This certainly is complimentary to our hotel men.

MR. STRATTON IN THE NORTH

Holds Meeting In North Harvey—Gets Good Reception.

Hon. Mr. Stratton held a very successful meeting in Ventress School House, North Harvey, on Wednesday evening, the building being filled to overflowing.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Stratton, Mr. Hanstone, of Peterborough, and Mr. Dewdney, in rousing speeches on the question before the people of the country—the proposed reciprocity agreement. They pointed out the great benefits the pact would in their opinion, confer upon all classes of the community, and endeavored to show how the farmer would get a big market right at his door for his produce. Other matters of public importance, were also discussed by the speakers and the meeting was enthusiastic, while the applause that punctuated the remarks of the speakers left no doubt as to the feeling of the electors of North Harvey in regard to the benefits of reciprocity.

At the conclusion of the addresses cheers were given for the King and Mr. Stratton.

New Oil Field

A legitimate chance to make a fortune, by the investment of a small amount of money is what every investor wants. Usually the difficulty is to be able to satisfy yourself as to the safeguards and probabilities of success, and thus select the good from the bad. The newest, and what promises to be the richest oil area in the world is just beginning to be developed, in what is known as the Tampico field in Mexico. The flow of oil from the first few wells drilled there has broken all records. Beyond a doubt this is one of the greatest opportunities for investment ever known.

A Company has just been organized to develop 3500 acres of the choicest, and best located property in the producing field. For this purpose we will offer a limited number of shares of stock for subscription at its par value. We are certain we can interest you, and satisfy you of the merit of the enterprise if you will let us.

CITY BOARD OF WORKS IN BUSINESS SESSION AFTER TWO MONTHS' HOLIDAY

After two months' holiday, the City Board of Works met in business session last night.

Property owners have petitioned and properly signed for asphalt block pavement on Chambers street. Their petition will be complied with, providing Council agrees.

In accordance with a reasonable appeal by Ald. Morgan, as many of the sections of concrete sidewalk in East City provided for will be constructed before the frost comes. Some of the wooden walks in East City to be replaced by concrete are really dangerous.

Several petitions for sidewalks were referred to the City Engineer to report.

Messrs. R. H. Leary and Roland Denne asked that the city's watering cart be allowed to sprinkle the road from George street to the Fair grounds and also in front of the grand stand, during exhibition days. This request was granted.

The B. F. Ackerman people threaten suit against the city for the flooding of their premises during a heavy rainfall on July 12th. Engineer Hay advised the Board that the Ackerman's sewerage service is but 7 or 8 inches above the level of George street sewer and surface drainage pipes, consequently an ordinary heavy rainfall will result in a backing up of drainage through the company's sewer pipes.

The Kinnear people also complained of a flooding of their premises during heavy rainfalls.

An overflow system has been provided in the hope that such inundations will be avoided. The Board is now awaiting a heavy rainfall to test the working of this overflow provision. At the same time the Board consider the Kinnear and Ackerman people at fault in constructing their sewerage service at too low a level. The Board had notified these firms to this effect some time ago.

The Engineer and Chairman of the Board will interview the firms in question and verbally point out that the trouble lays in a faulty construction of their sewerage service.

An application from Messrs. Denham and Larmouth for the city to take over the extension of Westcott street through certain property was referred to the City Solicitor to report. The right of way of a lane is in question.

Mark Pengilly applied for position as caretaker of the South City Pumping station. Mr. Pardeu, the mechanical Engineer over the construction of the South City sewerage system, is leaving about the middle of this month, and urges the need of appointment of a caretaker of the pumping station under his instruction before he leaves the work. A man is needed who understands looking after the pumping machinery. There will be steady work at the station for two or three months, after which an hour or two's attention each day would suffice.

An automatic alarm connected with the fire hall is to be installed at the pumping station, and Mr. Pardeu suggested that Engineer Wainwright of the fire hall be trained to take charge of the pumping station.

The acquiescence of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to the foregoing suggested appointment will be sought by Chairman Metheral, who will report to the Council on Monday night.

The Chairman will communicate with Engineer Chipman as to whom he would recommend to succeed Mr. Pardeu as supervisor of the completion of the South City sewerage system. The Board holds Mr. Chipman responsible for the proper execution of the work.

Mr. Munro of the Peterborough Light & Power Co., replied to the town that the escapage of oil from the gas works into the river had been of a very slight nature, and separating tanks in course of construction will be finished this week, after which no oil whatever will find its way into the Otonabee.

75 yards of board walk on Downie street will be constructed if the street commissioner has sufficient material on hand.

The City Engineer estimated the cost of concrete paving, the Smith street bridge at $18.75 as against $400 odd for crushed stone work as originally provided.

There were present Chairman Metheral, Aldermen Duncan, Graham and Buller.

CONSERVATION OF WATER BY CONSTRUCTION OF DAMS

The policy of constructing concrete dams on the streams that serve as feeders to the Trent Canal, has been adopted some years ago by the government, with the result that millions of tons of water will be held in reserve for the supply of the waterway, ensuring plenty for navigation and for power. Mr. J. H. McClellan the Canal Superintendent, is a particularly busy man this season, several new dams being under construction. A year or so ago a concrete dam was built at Jack's Lake, which raised the water in that lake about 4 feet. This lake empties into Stoney Lake, by way of Eel's Creek. A fine concrete dam is being built at 12 mile lake, which will raise the water in that lake ten feet. This sheet of water lies north of Minden, in Haliburton County, on the Gull River waters, which empties into Balsam Lake, the watershed of navigation between the Bay of Quinte and the Georgian Bay. This immense body of surplus water will be available at all times, and can be used as required. This dam will be completed in about three weeks.

Another smaller dam is being constructed at White Lake, near Buckhorn, which will hold back a reserve of five square miles of water, ten feet in depth.

People who talk about the Trent Canal as a dry ditch are not aware of what is going on. The policy of water conservation will not only ensure ample water for present needs, but it will develop power possibilities of tremendous value as well.

FRANCE PREPARED TO GIVE UP A GREAT DEAL IN MOROCCO

BUT COMPENSATION IS FOUND IN THE CONDITIONS WHICH ARE INSISTED UPON.

UNITED STATES IS DIRECTLY CONCERNED

United States May be a Signatory of New Treaty to be Signed—Negotiations Not Completed.

London, Sept. 8.—Various suggestions are made as to the character of Germany:s reply to the French proposals in regard to Morocco, which was given to Ambassador Cambon in Berlin yesterday afternoon, but no information that can be regarded as official has yet become public. The most general impression is that while Germany signifies her assent, to the French proposals in their essence, she raises points on which further negotiations will be necessary.

A diplomatic correspondent, whose communication is conspicuously featured by the Daily Mail, asserts that he is able to state the French proposals with greater precision than has previously been done. According to this account, the United States is directly concerned in the negotiations inasmuch as she would be called upon to be a signatory to the formal treaty by which full liberty of action in Morocco is to be guaranteed to France.

FRANCE GIVES UP A LOT.

According to this statement, the sacrifice of territory in the French Congo, which France is prepared to make, though not so great as Germany demanded, is of such an extent that when it is known the French people will be astonished, and perhaps exasperated; but compensation will be found in the conditions which the French Government insists upon in Morocco.

These conditions are not merely political, but also military, and they are to be embodied in a formal treaty, not with Germany alone, but with the powers of Europe and with the United States.

The Franco-German agreement of 1909, it is added, acknowledges the political interests of France and the commercial interests of Germany in Morocco. That agreement Germany declares to have been broken by the military action of France in the Sherffian Empire. To renew it in its present form would be to invite a repetition of the Agadir incident at some future time. France is determined to avoid this danger. To this end it is proposed that the new agreement shall take the form of a treaty or convention, signed by the powers of Europe and by the United States.

ELECTION'S STRICT LAW

There are very few persons acquainted with the contents of the statute under which the present general election is being held. This election must be conducted according to law.

It will be a surprise to most people to know that Section 224 declares it to be unlawful to furnish or supply any ensign, standard, or flag with the intention that it shall be carried or used in the electoral district on the day of election or within eight days before such day, or during the continuance of such election. The section goes on to make clear that no person shall use as a party emblem the flag of the country.

It is also against the law to furnish or supply any ribbon, label, or like favor as a party badge to distinguish the wearer as the supporter of any candidate or of the political or other opinions entertained, or supposed to be entertained, by such candidate.

Those who may not vote or, in other words, are disqualified from voting are clearly set forth. For instance, no judge can cast a vote. No returning officer or election clerk can vote, but a deputy returning officer can. The vote of the returning officer is limited to a case of an equality of votes between the candidates.

BIGGEST OIL WELL IN THE WORLD NOW AT WORK

New Record Established by a Mixing Gusher---Is Eclipsing All Previous Records

From down in the Gulf Coast country, in the state of Vera Cruz, comes the news of the greatest producing oil well in Mother Earth. Imagine a monster geyser, throwing a volume of greenish bronze colored fluid hundreds of feet in the air, fanned by a strong gulf breeze, and finally settling in a spray over acres of surrounding land, dripping from trees, shrubbery, and every growing thing, and filling creeks and gulleys, making ponds and lakes of the brownish, slimy fluid. Thus does a real gusher make its appearance from the bowels of the earth when released by man from the pressure of ages underneath. Such a well estimated to flow 125,000 barrels of oil per day, was recently "brought in" by the Pearson interests, a syndicate controlled by English capital, at Potrero de Llano, in the new oil field south of Tampico on the Gulf of Mexico.

Notwithstanding the fact that several million barrels of oil flowed into the Bueno Vista River and thence out to Sea, it is estimated that the larger part of the product was saved by the owners in hastily constructed 'sumps' or ponds made by throwing up earthen dams, to prevent the escape of the oil, until the well could be throttled, and controlled, which has now been accomplished, robbing the giant monster of its picturesqueness and grandeur. One of these earthen reservoirs is said to cover more than 40 acres of land, and to be 30 feet deep in the central portion. Men who have been in the oil business all their lives, have been drawn from other, and older fields to make the trip to Potrero de Llano to verify with their own eyes the reports of this new wonder. These old timers have stood by in awe stricken silence as they watched the enormous flow of oil pour from beneath the gate valve.

Some experts have estimated the flow as high as 140,000 bbls. per day, and all agree that it is by far the greatest producing oil well ever drilled.

The market value of the crude petroleum at the well is $1.00 Mexican, or fifty cents gold per barrel. The value of the output is therefore more than $2,000,000 per month. This well was drilled by Lord Cowdray of London, England, better known as Sir Weetman Pearson, who with his associates, control the Mexico Eagle Petroleum Company, of which Governor Escandon of the federal district of Mexico, is president. Lord Cowdray spent several weeks at Potrero, and personally directed operations in saving the oil, and controlling its flow when the gate valve was finally attached. He was so pleased that he gave Sam Weaver, an expert oil driller, formerly of Montpelier, Ind., and Frank C. Laurie of London, who is connected with the geological department of the Pearson Syndicate each $5,000 in gold for the assistance they had rendered in accomplishing the feat, as well as making smaller gifts to a number of other men who had stuck to the job o bringing the well under control.

Several hundred acres of the surrounding land are being cleared as a site for a permanent Oil Camp buildings are being erected, and pipe lines laid to take out the oil to the refinery at Tampico. Numerous other wells are flowing in this rich field, but no other well so far approaches the production of the Pearson well.

In order to afford a transportation outlet for the oil field, Lord Cowdray, and Associates will build a rail road to Tampico, or Tuxpam, as it is now a difficult matter to haul heavy machinery and supplies from the water landing to the field of operation. The oil discovery at Potrero del Llano, puts a new phase on the industry in Mexico, the quality of the oil is of a fine grade, which together with an abundant supply means cheap fuel for railroads, and steamship lines, and manufacturing plants, the benefit of the discovery and final development of this field will be far reaching. Other large oil operators, who have acquired leases in this field are the Texas Company, Waters Pierce Oil Co., A. H. McKay, representing Southern Pacific Railroad interests, and the Dohenys large producers of California oil.

ATTENDED MRS. BECK'S GARDEN PARTY—MR. BLAKE OBJECTED

London, Ont., Sept. 8.—Mr. S. H. Blake, K.C., of Toronto, raised a small tempest at the General Synod of the Anglican Church to-day by strenuously objecting to the Synod adjourning this evening to accept the hospitality of Mrs. Adam Beck, who has arranged a garden party for the delegates. Mr. Blake thought that such frivolous affairs should not take precedence of affairs of the Synod. Mr. Blake lost by a large majority after a somewhat protracted and heated debate. The only other business of the morning was the reception of a friendly delegation from the American Episcopal Church.

An ordinary case of diarrhoea can as a rule, be cured by a single dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This remedy has no superior, for bowel complaints. For sale by all dealers.

LEAVE SCENE OF MURDER FOR VAUDEVILLE STAGE

New York, Sept. 8.—Beulah Binford reached this city last night by way of the Pennsylvania Railroad, having changed from the New Jersey Central Railroad at Elizabeth N.J., to avoid it was said, the crowds awaiting her appearance at the Jersey City terminal. She was accompanied by a theatrical booking agent, who is arranging for her appearance in vaudebille, and several other theatrical men.

It is understood that the large vaudeville houses in this city have declined to book her.

PROTEST FROM WOMEN.

If the protests that are going up from prominent club women, actresses, and other women well known in this city are to be taken as a criterion of the feeling of womankind in general, Beulah Binford will not be heartily welcomed to the Metropolitan stage as "an actress," or anything else. When the news reached here that the young girl who had become notorious through her connection with the Beattie murder trial at Chesterfield had been liberated from jail at Richmond and had started north to "go on the stage," many of the leaders of woman thought in this city protested that such an exposition of Miss Binford would be an "insult to all womankind."

SUGAR IS SOARING.

An Increase of About One Dollar Per Hundred.

The shortage in the sugar beet crop has put the price of sugar away up. Since the beginning of July sugar has advanced 120 points, or $1.20 per hundred pounds. This means a big item to the consumer, especially when the whole country is considered. Mr. Chas. Rishor, the well known wholesale grocer, states that a sharp advance was inevitable as far back as June last. He was so sure of this that he purchased several carloads before the increase took effect. As a result he is able to figure his profits by hundreds. Others who have not been so fortunate of course have to pay the higher price.

PETERBOROUGH KILTIES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would like to see our regiment turned into a Highland corps. It would mean a big thing for the regiment and also for the city. I would suggest that Col. Clegg and the officers take this matter up at once, and I am sure the movement would receive the sanction of the authorities at Ottawa if properly asked.

An Old Volunteer.

A VOICE FROM THE DEAD.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—As I see the columns of The Times are open for the discussion of public questions, I venture to ask you to publish the following: There are few who do not remember Principal Grant of Queens and his intimate knowledge of Canadian affairs. Nothing could be more appropriate at the present time then the following quotation from one of his writings:

"In 1867, anti-confederates pointed out that the proposed Dominion consisted of four divisions that could not be united together by railways, and each of which was intended by nature to be a mere appendage to a corresponding State or section to the South. There was a measure of truth in this. But the people would not listen. Instinctively they understood that every nation must be ready to pay a price, must be willing to transcend difficulties in order to realize itself, to maintain its independence, to secure for itself a distinctive future. They said, let us rise up and build. So they added to their unequalled system of internal navigation from the Straits of Belle Isle into the centre of the continent, an unparalled railway system along lines where engineers and scientific men had declared that railways could not be built. And now, when the difficulties have been overcome, when every part of our confederacy is linked together by bands of the best steel, when magnificent dry docks have been built at Halifax and Vancouver, when our coasts and rivers and lakes have been lighted with hundreds of lighthouses; now, when after incredible toil and expense and faith on the part of, comparatively speaking a handful of people scattered over half a continent we have succeeded in building our nation's house, it is coolly proposed that we should break into fragments as if it were a card castle and as if the putting of it together had been merely a bit of child's play on the part of grown babies. How can anyone fancy that such a thing is possible."

Janus.

IS IT RIGHT?

Sir,—I see the Board of Education is closing the schools of the city for half a day at the request of Mr. F. J. A. Hall, secretary of the Peterborough Central Fair. I wonder if was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the peoperty, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THREE-MONTHS BABY WEIGHS 150 POUNDS.

Its Name is Flip-Flop and He is a Walrus in a Zoo.

There is in the New York Zoo an interesting specimen of the Atlantic walrus which was caught in Kane Basin. He is yet a baby only six months old, and for homeliness and comical facial expression he is not to be equalled. For every one but his keeper he has nothing but hatred; but for him he will go anywhere and do anything. His affections began to show itself by his flopping in his awkward way after his keeper every time he moved. For this the keeper called him Flip-flop, and this has been shortened to Flip.

The keeper was anxious to weigh him one day. This would have been something of an undertaking under the circumstances as the weighing machine was some distance away. But the gate was opened, the keeper went out, saying: "Come on, Flip," and out came the young walrus, and followed him not only to the scales, but on the scales, where, by giving him one or two clams, he was kept long enough to be weighed.

Flip weighed at the time of his capture 150 pounds. Since then he has gained enormously, as he has a huge appetite. He eats over 30 pounds of fish daily — three meals a day — in the shape of clams, codfish and butterfish, from which all the bones are first carefully removed. He always seems to be ravenously hungry and eats greedily, with many growls, and flips and sighs.

BURGLAR ALARMS

Every renter has his own idea of what constitutes a desirable neibourhood,' said the renting agent. "A tenant hung back from signing a lease for six hours the other day because I could not tell him whether anybody in the block was taking the fresh-air cure. He was so insistent that I finally made inquiry and learned from the janitor at No. 225 that a man on the third floor of his building sleeps every night with his head stuck out of the window, and then the tenant signed the lease.

"His precaution was due to fear of burglars. He has learned, he says, that the best burglar alarm ever invented is the fresh-air cure. Not even the doctors who advise it know so well as the second-story men how many people sleep with their heads out of the window. They know because the habit interferes with their business. Whole blocks that used to be profitable hunting grounds for burglars are now so much waste space because two or three persons in the block go to bed with the upper half of the body protruding beyond the window sill. Outdoor sleepers may sleep comfortably, but they sleep lightly. The second-story man cannot make a noise half a block away without waking them and giving the alarm."

PROVED HIS POINT

The reason he wouldn't call up the Connecticut town that night to learn how Aunt Lucinda was, the man said, was because Bill's wife was pretty sure to come to the telephone, and he couldn't stand it to talk to Bill's wife. Wait till morning and he would call Bill up at the office and find out.

"What is the matter with Bill's wife?" asked Aunt Lucinda's New York niece.

"She's a fool," said the man, "especially over the long distance telephone. I telephoned up there once Bill's wife answered. It cost me $4 for the three-minute conversation, and the only thing I could get out of Bill's wife was, "Hello, hello. Who is this, please?"

"At the very last second she understood and said, 'Oh, it is you, is it?' I call that pretty expensive identification. But I will say this for Bill's wife. She is no worse than other women. The most level-headed of them get flighty when suddenly confronted with a long distance telephone message."

The woman's defense of her sex was cut short by a call to the telephone. She stepped into the hall and closed the door.

"Hello," she said. "Hello. Who is this, please. What's that? Yes, that is the right number. Who are you, please? What's that? I can't make it out."

Seconds ticked away and still she listened, "Hello, hello. Who are you, please?" Finally, in desperation the man took the receiver from her hand. He talked for five or ten seconds and then said, "Good-bye."

"That was Bill," he said. "He wanted to tell me something about Aunt Lucinda, but time was up and he didn't get a chance."

JIM'S WIFE.

After the report had been current one week that Jim's wife, whom Jim had met and married and was still secluding in Chicago, was ugly as sin, a friend who had Jim's interests at heart ran down the author of the rumor with the intention of making her retract.

"How do you know she is ugly?" he asked. "Have you ever seen her?"

"No," said the experienced gossip, "I never have, neither have I seen her picture, nor anybody who has seen either her or her picture, but I know she is ugly, because I had it straight from a person who lives in Chicago that when she ordered a dozen pictures taken just a while before the wedding the photographer made her pay in advance, and a photographer never does that unless the subject is so ugly that she is apt to be discouraged when she sees the pictures and refuses to pay for them on the ground that he hasn't done good work. If you don't believe me ask any photographer."

But Jim's champion let the matter drop.

Such is Fame

It was a Bostonian, according to Rollin Lynde Hart, in an article called "Sunny Boston," in the Metropolitan Magazine, who enlivened the Longfellow centenary by blurting, "Say, that guy makes me sick! He'd never 'a' been heard of if he hadn't married Alice Roosevelt."

WANTED TO VOMIT

A Condition Involving Both Liver and Stomach that was Quickly Cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"The doctors told me my sickness was caused by complications of the stomach and liver," writes Mrs. E. P. Fourraine, well known in Williamsport. "The least little error in eating would cause nausea, and after a time actual vomiting was easily excited. I grew very thin, pale, with dark lines under the eyes; my strength so failed that even light housework quite exhausted me. Of course with a large family, I could not afford a doctor all the time, and when in deepest despair, I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. From the very first they acted wonderfully, and I experienced a desire for food and ate my meals with a relish. After a while my system became quite regular, and that horrid sick feeling only came now and again. This made me persevere, and it was a good thing I did so, because the continuation of Dr. Hamilton's Pills was the means of giving me my health again, and I am now the happiest woman I know."

Every person with stomach trouble can be cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—refuse any substitute. At all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE WEEKLY PAYMENT PLAN.

The weekly payment plan affords wage-earners an easy and sure way of making provision for the time when their earning powers have ceased. For example, if a man at present aged 40 years were to deposit with the Canadian Government $1 a week until he was 65 for the purpose of buying a Canadian Government Annuity, he would receive $261 a year for the remainder of his days. And if he died before he was 65 what he had paid in accumulated at 3 per cent. compound interest would be refunded to his heirs. Full particulars concerning the scheme may be had by any one over the age of five years if he or she will apply to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa. State age, last birthday, the age at which Annuity is desired to begin, and the amount which you want to pay each week, and the Superintendent will tell you what amount of Annuity the payment will buy. Write to-night.

VALUE OF ONE INDUSTRY.

In Ottawa a movement has been started in favor of having the city purchase blocks of land to be used as sites for manufacturing plants. In support of this policy the Ottawa Citizen presents some figures showing the value of a large manufacturing industry to a community. It assumes that for every wage-earner employed the population is increased by five. The Hamilton Herald thinks this may be an over-estimate, unless most of the wage-earners are skilled workmen. The advantages secured through an industry giving employment to 1000 hands, says the Citizen may be outlined as follows:

It increases the population by 5000 consumers.

It adds $90,000 to the value of public utilities.

The assessment is increased by $600,000.

It pays out annually in salaries and wages $559,800.

It presents through its buildings and the houses of its employees an investment of $2,000,000.

The annual expenditure in food would be $63,000 in meat, $9600 in potatoes, $5000 in sugar, $18,250 in milk, $65,700 in butter and $27,600 in eggs. Summed up, this means that an industry employing 1000 hands is worth $221,000 a year to the farmers of the district.

The expenditure in clothing would be $168,750.

With the annual payment of taxes added to the total expenditure on buildings, food and clothing, you have in all $2,428,350 turned into the town in one year through the coming of one great industry.

FIFTEEN YACHTS DASHED TO PIECES.

Hurricane on Lake Michigan Filled Chicago Harbor With Wreckage.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A gale blowing with the fury of a hurricane that swept southern Lake Michigan to-day filled Chicago harbor with wreckage. Fifteen yachts, the property of the Chicago and the Columbia Yacht Clubs, moored in the harbor, were dashed into pieces and sunk, and small craft were destroyed. A number of freighters were reported distressed just outside the harbor. Passenger vessels due to-day were not heard from during the early hours. Anxiety was expressed in shipping circles, and every effort was made to learn the whereabouts of the various boats on the lake last night.

The gale was one of the most severe known here in years. It came up suddenly after midnight, following an electric storm. The wind reached a tremendous velocity, and blew with such force that planks in front of the Chicago Yacht Club were torn loose and thrown high against the building.

LIFE-SAVERS SUMMONED.

Life-savers were summoned by distress signals blown by the freighters Christopher and Lagonda. Efforts to aid them proved futile while the gale continued. The life-saving station reported hearing distress signal from other steamers, but could not tell in the storm and darkness what they were.

A police boat was launched in an effort to save some of the craft in the harbor. The wind was so strong that it could make no headway, and was almost capsized before it had fairly started. The effort to use it was abandoned.

The tug Protection, answering the distress calls of a steamer, set out against the gale, and was capsized. The crew of five, with Captain McCleavey, were rescued by life-savers after a desperate struggle. The tug was blown in towards shore, and after an hour's hard work, was righted and pumped out, and the men again set out in an attempt to assist distressed vessels.

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,

"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

Is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, former Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and V. pond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. R. Stratton

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he raises the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rae along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities add reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a rebion of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly if born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

A FEARLESS NEWSPAPER PROPRIETOR.

The name of the Montreal 'Witness' has long been synonimous with purity and independence in journalism. Established in 1860 by the late John Dougall it is still conducted on the principles laid down by its founder, by his son Mr. John Redpath Dougall, M.A., the present editor and proprietor. The aim of the Dougalls, father and son, has been to issue a clean, readable newspaper which no head of a household need fear to place in the hands of his or her children. Everything calculated to diminish respect for the nobler and better things of life and anything likely to have in itself a tendency, even though remote, to undermine good morals is vigorously excluded from the columns of the 'Witness'. Mr. Dougall claims for his paper absolute independence of all classes, creeds and parties, and makes no secret of his intention to comment, adversely if need be, on anything affecting the community at large, or any considerable section of it, which he does not think is going to make for the moral or material well-being of the people. This is the unalterable policy of the 'Witness' even though the proposal adversely commented on may emanate from a party to which it has given a general support. The independence and fearlessness ofthe 'Witness' has almost passed into a proverb and even those who are opposed to the policy advocated by the paper are generally ready to admit that it is advocating the genuine opinion of its proprietor. There is no lack of pluck or consistency on the part of the 'Witness' in fighting for any cause which Mr. Dougall considers to be just.

Mr. Dougall was born at Montreal in 1841 and has been connected with the 'Witness' since its establishment, when as a boy he assisted his father in producing the paper. He was educated at Montreal High School and at McGill University, being a graduate of the latter. He has taken a lifelong and prominent interest in temperance and in social and moral reform work and is honorary president of the Dominion Alliance and president of the Boy's Home and Boy's Farm, Montreal.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 208 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

Dear Sir,—Without incurring any obligation, please send me full particulars regarding the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Co., Ltd.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Henry Henbert, of West Toronto, Met Terrible Death on Siding.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—While crossing the railroad siding leading into the Gunn abbatoir from St. Clair avenue last night. Henry Henbert, foreman at the Campbell Mills, was struck and killed by a light engine which was going down the siding to bring up some cars. Henbest who lived on Ryding avenue, was on a bicycle and going to his work, and was in the middle of the track when struck. It is believed that a clump of bushes prevented him from seeing the engine coming. Although almost cut in two he lived for nearly twenty minutes. He was about 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and a small family. He was an Englishman not long out from the old country and had been employed at the mills only a short time.

An Old Peterborough Boy.

Mr. J. M. R. Fairbairn, a former Peterborough boy, has been appointed Assistant Chief Engineer of all Eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with offices at Montreal. He was born in Peterborough and is a nephew of Judge Roger.

Fond of Travel.

A lad named Jones, eleven years of age, ran away from home, and was found wandering about the streets of Toronto, where he was handed over to the care of the Children's Aid Society. They at once communicated with the local authorities. The lad's mother was notified, and had the boy sent home, having gone to Port Hope to meet him. It is presumed that she put the lad through the third degree.

Grand Organizer Here.

Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong, formerly of Peterborough, and now Provincial Grand Organizer for the Loyal Orange Association of Saskatchewan, arrived in the city to-day on a visit. Mr. Armstrong informed The Times that the Orange Order is making splendid progress throughout the west. There were thirty new lodges organized last year in the province. That is seven more than any other province in the Dominion accomplished. The work of the organizer is very difficult in the sparcely populated country. Mr. Armstrong covers an area of 250,000 square miles in his work.

Opening Another New Wharf.

The formal opening of the new wharf which has been built near the mouth of the Otonabee River at Rice Lake, on the east side, will take place this afternoon. The wharf is situated at or near where the C.G.E. employees club house is located, and will not only afford shipping facilities to the farmers of the locality, but will be greatly appreciated by the members of the C.G.E. Club, as well as by navigators. The Bessie Butler will leave at 1.30 to-day with Superintendent McClellan and a number of guests, who will take part in the opening proceedings.

Is Now at Boiling Point.

That the political cauldron is now at the boiling point is evident from what one hears on the streets and in the hotel corridors. Yesterday in front of The Times office, Mr. John Sawyers, who evidently is a good sport, offered to bet $200 even on the candidate of his choice. The offer, however, was respectfully declined by the party to whom it was made.

The LaFave Inquest.

The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury in connection with the death of Frank Le Fave, who was killed in the C.G.E. yards on Sept. 1st. "We, the jury, sworn to inquire into the death of Francis LaFave, who was killed on Sept. 1st, 1911, on the premises of the C.G.E. Co., find that the said Francis LaFave came to his death through the neglect of the C.P.R. Co., in moving one of their cars, having a defective car door, and through the neglect of the C.G.E. Co. in not moving their table back far enough to clear the car door."

Our Regiment in Kilts.

A correspondent in to-day's issue suggests that the 57th Regiment be turned into a Highland corps. The idea is not a bad one, provided funds could be secured sufficient to make the change, and also provided the Department of Militia at Ottawa would consent. It would, no doubt, take some time for the female portion of the community to become accustomed to seeing their husbands, sons and lovers, dressed in tartan kilts, minus "breeks." It was suggested by some one a short time ago that our member, Mr. Stratton, be made Hon. Colonel of the 57th. If this were done, he would no doubt easily persuade the Minister of Militia to consent to the change, for the sake of wearing the kilts. This great family journal could imagine no more picturesque sight than to see Col. Stratton manoeuvring his regiment to the skirt of the bagpipes.

Important to Ladies.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Hotel Oriental, on Friday and Saturday, September 15th and 16th.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mann—Van Norman.

At 7 o'clock Wednesday evening the residence of Mr. C. C. Van Norman, in Carlton street, was the scene of the marriage of his daughter, Madeline Estelle, to Dr. Robert William Mann, son of Mr. G. W. Mann, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Thomas in the bow window of the drawing room, which was banked with pink roses, gladiola, lilly of the valley and palms To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by an orchestra, the bride was brought in and given away by her father. She was wearing a graceful gown of white satin duchess with rose point lace. Her veil, which was of tulle, was caught with a bandeau of pearls. She carried ashower of lillies of the valley, and wore the groom's gift, a sunburst of pearls. There were no attendants and during the service Mrs. Holway sang "The Rosary."

Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs. Mann left to spend their honeymoon in the north, the bride travelling in a grey tailor-made with black hat.—Star.

Hetherington—Unsworth.

A quiet wedding was celebrated on Wednesday at St. John's Church, when Miss Ida Unsworth, eldest daughter of Mr. G. A. Unsworth, of Rugby, England, and Mr. Samuel Hetherington, second son of Mr. Wm. Hetherington, of Manchester, England, were married by the Rev. Chas. Carpenter.

The bride was given away by Mr. W. Rogers, brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington will reside at 307 George street.

PUBLIC OPINION

the members of the School Board ever figured out what this costs the ratepayer. Our schools cost the ratepayers in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year for say 35 weeks, 175 days, or about $300 a day. The half day of enforced idleness will mean $150. But this is not by any means all. The pupils and students are also to be considered, and if we figure their board and keep, it would mean several hundred dollars for the half day.

The fact is our School Board is too fond of grasping every opportunity to close the schools. We are surfeited with holidays to such an extent that the thing is rapidly approaching the breaking point.

I do not suppose there will be a dozen, either pupils or teachers, attend the "show." That the action of the Board is not approved of by the ratepayers there can be no doubt.

EXPENSES CREEPING UP.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—That the city of Peterborough is becoming an expensive place to live in, is now being admitted on all sides. The fixed charges, like barnacles to the sides of a ship, are becoming excessive. For instance, not only are the number of employees increasing with rapidity, but their salaries are also growing fast.

I happened to live in Cobourg for some years, before coming to Peterboro. A couple of years ago here was the salaries paid: City Clerk, $600, with probably a couple of hundred extra in perquisites; Treasurer, $500; Secretary School Board, $100; Tax Collector, $500; two policemen, $500 each.

Of course, I do not think for a moment that we should pay corresponding salaries. But I do think that we should try and get along with fewer officials.

For instance: I would like the Mayor or some member of the Council to try and explain what are the duties of the City Engineer's office, after the season's work is finished in the fall, until it begins again in the spring?

Then what are the duties of the police force? Surely it is up to our numerous and able-bodied force to see that the City by-laws are obeyed. The electric lights are frequently not going, (Tuesday night, for instance, when the city was as dark as ink), and mum's the word.

We have a good council—men I believe, who are above reproach, and whose fidelity to their duty is unchallenged, but they should, I think, take up the whole matter of salaries and other expenses, and by a policy of concentration, and economy, reduce, (or at least not further increase) the cost of living in Peterborough.

THE T. EATON COMPANY.

Big Branch Store Likely to be Opened in Ottawa.

There is apparently no foundation whatever for the rumor that the T. Eaton Company is likely to open a new store in Peterborough. It is understood, however, that the Company had decided some time ago to open a branch store at some point east of Toronto and west of Montreal, and the choice lay between Peterborough and Ottawa. Ottawa it seems has been selected, so that Peterborough is no longer menaced by this monster business concern.

MR. STRATTON'S CAMPAIGN.

Crowded Meetings Held in Galway and Cavendish.

Hon. J. R. Stratton returned on Friday night from the north country, where he held large and enthusiastic meetings in Galway and Cavendish. On Thursday evening a splendid meeting was held at Union Creek, the school house being crowded to the doors. The issues of the campaign were discussed by Mr. Stratton in a way that left little doubt in the minds of his audience of the advantages that the adoption of the proposed trade agreement would be to the people of this country, and particularly the farming community. The address was applauded from time to time, as the speaker proceeded, and at its conclusion hearty cheers were given for the candidate and the King.

On Friday afternoon a meeting took place at Ford's School House, Cavendish, which was also well attended and enthusiastic.

At Swamp Lake, Galway, the last meeting of the series was held. The school house, where the meeting took place, was filled to overflowing. Here again Mr. Stratton scored a success and here again the electors were loud in their applause as the speakers made point after point.

This meeting, like the others, terminated with cheers for the King and the candidate.

A legitimate chance to make a fortune, by the investment of a small amount of money is what every investor wants. Usually the difficulty is to be able to satisfy yourself as to the safeguards and probabilities of success, and thus select the good from the bad. The newest, and what promises to be the richest oil area in the world is just beginning to be developed, in what is known as the Tampico field in Mexico. The flow of oil from the first few wells drilled there has broken all records. Beyond a doubt this is one of the greatest opportunities for investment ever known.

A Company has just been organized to develop 3560 acres of the choicest, and best located property in the producing field. For this purpose we will offer a limited number of shares of stock for subscription at ¼ its par value. We are certain we can interest you, and satisfy you of the merit of the enterprise if you will let us.

GIRL BADLY WOUNDED MAN IS UNDER ARREST

Juliette Van Mal, Young Montreal Woman, Was Shot by Nicholas Hayes.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—With three bullets in her body, Juliette Van Mal, 22 years of age, lies in the Notre Dame Hospital, while Nicholas Hayes a cigarmaker, 35 years of age, who shot her, is locked up at the central police station, charged with attempting murder.

One bullet entered her right breast a second struck her in the abdomen, and the other lodged in her right thigh.

The girl is a domestic, employed in the boarding house of Joseph Duval, 22 Elizabeth street, and was going about her work late in the afternoon when Hayes, who she claims, is unknown to her, entered her room.

According to a statement the girl made at the hospital, Hayes attacked her, and when she beat him off he became wild with anger. Pulling a revolver from his hip pocket, he fired three shots at her, all taking effect.

After she was wounded Miss Van Mal jumped into the street through a window and ran to a butcher shop on the opposite corner.

LABOR UNREST SPREADS TO GERMAN EMPIRE

The Recent Successful Strike in England Unsettles the Workmen on the Continent.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—The recent strike in England and the splendid results that have come to the workers have created a very strong impression in Germany, and the authorities are fearing a general labor uprising all over the country, which would be very difficult to deal with; first, because the workers are too sensible to resort to any kind of violence, which would give the government a chance to step in, and, second, because everyone knows that invincible though the German troops might be in facing a foreign foe, they are too much affected by socialist doctrines to be relied on if ordered to fire on their own countrymen and brethern. Signs of unrest are not lacking anywhere in the great industrial centres where wages have not kept step with the rapid advance in the prices of the necessities of life.

In the metal trades throughout Prussia, Saxony, Bavaria and Wurtemburg, many thousands of men are either on strike or lockout, and there is also serious unrest among the employes of the Berlin street car system, which threatens to culminate in a complete cessation of work unless their demands are satisfied.

NEAR TO DEATH.

Miss Clara Barton, Red Cross Founder, Dying.

Oxford, Mass., Sept. 9.—Bowed down by the weight of years, Miss Barton, founder of the American red cross, was believed to be near death to-day, at her summer home in this town. In poor health when she came here early in the summer from her home at Glen Rhoe, Md., she had grown gradually worse.

Her doctors say to-day that Miss Barton's strength had been greatly impaired by an illness from pneumonia some time ago, and that her extreme age had left her without power of recuperation. While death might not be immediate, it could be long delayed.

"THE WOMAN TEMPTED ME" MISERABLE SUBTERFUGE OF BEATTIE THE CONVICT

REPUDIATES BEULAH BINFORD, AND SAYS IT WAS HARD TO "GET RID OF HER."

Calls Verdict "Fearfully Unfair"—The Woman Stands by Him.

Chesterfield, Va., Sept. 9.—Severe repudiation of Beulah Binford, as a girl from whom he vainly tried to detach himself and the direct imputation that the jury judged him more for his indiscretions than the tragedy itself came to-day from the lips of Henry Clay Beattie, jr., convicted last night of wife murdur.

Any other jury, composed of city folk, with mundane views, would have been more merciful was his bitter lament. "Fearfully unfair," he muttered in his cell when asked his opinion of the verdict.

"Beulah Binford," he said, "figured largely in the verdict—more largely than the testimony of the killing. These country folk cannot understand how a woman of the underworld can be crazy about you. They don't know when that happens how very hard it is to get rid of her."

When she receives the news of the verdict against Henry Clay Beattie, Beulah Binford said: "He is innocent. I am sure he had nothing to do with the murder of his wife. It's easy to kick a man when he is down, and everybody has been against him."

The Beattie Case.

July 18.—Young wife of Henry Clay Beattie, jr., murdered while automobiling with her husband on the Midlothian turnpike.

July 21.—Henry Clay Beattie, jr., placed under arrest.

July 22.—Coroner's jury rendered verdict holding Beattie responsible for the death of his wife.

Aug. 14.—Beattie indicted by Grand Jury.

August 21.—Trial of Beattie begins.

Sept. 8.—Case went to jury.

Sept. 8.—Verdict rendered.

Nov. 24.—Date set for the execution of Beattie.

AN ANGLICAN BISHOP'S OPINION

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Please publish the item below:

"WEIGHT will attach to the deliverances of BISHOP MILLS, who scored the annexation cry in his address to the Ontario Synod. On that occasion he spoke as follows:

"But politicians have not devoted their attention so much to the discussion of this question as in ringing changes on the cry that if reciprocity were adopted it would be the first step towards annexation; that the United States would be buying us, and we would be selling ourselves. I THINK THAT IS THE GREATEST NONSENSE THAT EVER CAME FROM the mouths of supposedly sane men; as a Canadian I resent it. I would think little of my loyalty to the British Crown and the British Empire if it depended on tariff schedules. Those who think the national spirit of Canada is such a poor and uncertain thing that her existence as a nation would be imperilled by an increase of trade with the United States, certainly do not know her."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, etc.

A NIGHT MARKET.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I happen to come to Peterborough from Hamilton, where they have what is known as a night market for the sale of garden vegetables, eggs, fowl and such like. I see in Peterborough, the market is confined to a couple of days in the week, and only mornings at that. We have a fine, large building in which a night market might be held, say two evenings in a week, and I would suggest that this system be given a trial.

Many housewives who have to do their own housekeeping (and who is there now that do not) are unable to get away to attend the market in the day time, especially in the forenoons. By a night market many could do so, and thus purchase their household supplies direct from the producers instead of through the middleman.

Just now, when the cost of living is so great, every cent counts, especially when there is only one breadwinner in the family, and many mouths to feed.

I would respectfully suggest through the medium of your widely-read newspaper, that the council appoint a special committee to investigate this matter. If it works well, as I believe it does in other places, it should at least be tried in Peterborough.

WHO WILL BE THE JUDGE?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that Mr. G. N. Baker, who resides at 53 Crescent street, is offering a gold watch to the Collegiate Institute students who writes the best essay on "Reciprocity." This is all right, and shows up Mr. Baker's liberality to advantage. But Mr. Baker does not tell us who is to be the judge. Will he submit the essays to Mr. Stratton or to Mr. Burnham or both? Won't it be a little difficult to get a fair and impartial judge, who is capable of deciding? I make bold to suggest that the editor of The Times be chosen as judge. Or failing in him, how would a committee pompany of Messrs. J. H. McClellan, Geo. Elliott and Col Miller do? These are all Government officials, and are supposed to be "out of politics."

A CIGARETTE HOLOCAUST

Persuade Merchant of Town to Go Out of Tobacco and Cigarette Business, Buy Up Available Stock and Burn Them on Campus.

Asheville, N.C., Sept. 9.—With students, faculty and citizens praying and singing, the last stock of tobacco and cigarettes in Mars Hill, N.C., was burned on the campus of Mars Hill College last night, as the climax of an anti-cigarette crusade conducted by Rev. G. W. Reese of Marion, Ill.

The college students earlier in the week adopted resolutions calling on the merchants of the town to give up the sale of tobacco and cigarettes, and raised money to reimburse them for their sacrificed stocks.

FORREIGNERS ARE FORCED TO FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

HAD SOUGHT REFUGE IN COMPOUND OF CANADIAN METHODIST CHURCH.

But Abandoned It at the Advice of The Viceroy of the Province.

Shanghai, Sept. 9.—The disorders among the natives in northern Szechuan, caused by the government's railroad building policy, are evidently increasing. The viceroy of that province, who recently advised all foreigners to leave outlying towns and go to Chengtu, where they assembled in the compound of the Canadian Methodist mission, yesterday ordered them to leave the latter place, and they sailed at once for Chungkiang.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Anti-foreign placards are being posted in Chengtu capital of the turbulent Chinese Province of Szechuan, according to rumors reaching the state department. This is somewhat disconcerting, indicating as it does that the dissatisfied temper of the natives, aroused by China's railway policy, is being levelled not only at the Government, but at foreigners as well.

The apprehension of the foreign residents is shown by the fact that British subjects, accompanied by other foreigners, left Chengtu yesterday for Chungkiang, where British, French, and German gunboats are now lying.

Pekin, Sept. 9.—Advices received here from the capital of the Province of Chengtu, which is 1500 miles, or about 50 days' journey from the coast are still of the most meagre character.

Foreigners are complying to the request of the Chinese viceroy that they leave the city, because of the unrest among the natives arising from the government's railroad policy, and some of them already have left the district.

NEW STREET CARS.

Three Fine New Cars on Their Way From Ottawa.

The Peterborough Radial Railway Company are adding three new cars to its already fine equipment. They will be the new series of "Pay As You Enter Cars," and will be about 32 feet in length, with larger vestibules than the old style. They were built by the Ottawa Car Company.

The motors and other fixings which go with the cars were made by the Canadian General Electric company, who will install them when the cars arrive. The new cars will be painted yellow, the seats will be crosswise and be made of retan.

Another improvement the company is making to the line is the building of a "Y" at the northern terminal of the car line. When this is built the cars will run as formerly to the end of the line, then branch off on to the Auburn dam, and out again to the main line. This will be a very convenient feature.

What Chance Will Our Little Fellow Get To Grow?

FORTY PERSONS INJURED IN FRENCH FOOD RIOTS

Rioters Attacked the Officers With Stones — Soldiers Charge the Mob.

Brest, France, Sept. 9.—A fierce battle occurred here to-day when a large mob of "cheaper food" manifestants engaged the troops. At least 40 persons were injured.

Twenty policemen and soldiers were badly hurt by stones, bottles and missiles thrown at them by the mob. The troops repeatedly charged into the crowd and an equally large number of rioters were injured by being struck by sabres or by being trampled by the cavalry horses.

The soldiers were not permitted to use their guns. The Sixth Regiment of Colonial Forces has been ordered here to reinforce the authorities.

MORE TROOPS TO THE SCENE.

Paris, Sept. 9.—The government is sending additional troops to the northern departments of France to deal with the cheap food demonstrations, which often are instigated by revolutionary societies, or simply are riots of violently inclined persons who mix up with the genuine housewives' processions. Two battalions of the troops were sent to Valenciennes, department of Nord, from the Paris garrison to-day.

Reports that women are parading the streets in protest against the high cost of food, and that the rougher element was engaged in plundering shops, were received to-day from Brest, Valenciennes and Roubaix.

A MONTREAL WOMAN'S VERY MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The police and Coroner Craig are investigating the death here of Mrs. Margaret McEvoy wife of William McEvoy, a coachman which occurred under peculiar circumstances.

McEvoy said he woke up and found his wife lying dead on the floor beside their bed. Both parties had been drinking.

McEvoy was arrested to-day on a nominal charge of drunkenness.

Bruises were found on the woman's body, and according to statements of neighbors, the husband and wife had been fighting. One woman said that a couple of days ago she heard Mrs. McEvoy call "Help! he's murdering me!" during one of the family rows.

Before his arrest this morning the man was still intoxicated and refused to look after his wife's remains.

ZEPPELIN PASSENGER SERVICE.

Balloon Carries Six Persons Three Hundred and Fifty Miles.

FINANCIAL WORLD UPSET BY MOROCCAN WAR SCARE

FEELING AMOUNTING TO PANIC DISPLAYED THROUGHOUT GERMANY.

Runs Develop on Savings Banks—Government May Have to Issue Official Statement to Re-Assure People.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—The financial world had its worst experience since the beginning of the Moroccan crisis.

Although there was no development to justify it, a feeling approaching panic was widely evident throughout Germany. Newspaper offices were repeatedly querried as to whether it was true that the mobilization of the German army had already been ordered. A storm of selling orders burst upon the bourse. Further savings bank runs were developed at Aix la Chapelle and other places, even including a Berlin suburb.

The seat of unrest seems to be in the provinces, where little investors and savers are possessed with the idea that war is about to be declared and are determined to secure their investments at all costs, but the big banks give them no encouragement to join in the selling movement.

The break in the American market, the bad crop situation and the expectation that the high cost of living would lead to labor troubles, all contributed to the sharp decline in prices on the bourse.

Iron and electric shares declined from four to six points and Canadian Pacific lost five.

The situation was so serious that it evoked a scathing, inspired rebuke addressed to German business men through the Lokal Anzeiger, pointing out the folly of persons losing their heads over the senseless and incredible rumors now in circulation, the fasity of which was evident. The paper declared that an agreement already has been reached regarding the general object of the Franco-German conference relative to Morocco, but time was necessary to work out the guarantees.

If public feeling continues to rise, the government probably will be forced to issue an official statement regarding the Moroccan situation, though it is feared that this will influence the negotiations in an unfavorable manner.

Suffering From Violent Cathartics

THE WARNING OF MRS. GEO. C. FOX IS ONE THAT SHOULD BE HEEDED BY ALL.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the West are legion. In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, biliousness, constipation, bad stomach and keep the system in perfect condition."

Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills; sold for 25c, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the peoperty, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1889 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

CUSTOM IN SPAIN

And How Saltshakers Were Introduced.

One thing specially is vital in Spain: 'Custombre,' they say (it is the cutom). It explains commercial honor tersely for the Spanish business man to keep his word ... pay his bills; exactly as it is equally customary for him to lack what we would consider in some other departments of life. It is customary to do or not to do, to like or not to like, a thousand things. Why? 'Custombre' is the only reply. It is customary, moreover, not to yield readily to an improvement or luxury, even as it is again equally customary, once the Spaniard has decided to a given thing, to hold to it as defiant.

Until a few years ago no Spaniard had on his dining table any other receptacle for salt than the old-style wooden cellar. An enterprising Briton saw this noted that the salt was always dirty and gummy, and determined to introduce a certain famous salt-shaker, from which clean salt would run freely in the dampest weather. Bravely he started to tour Spain for the company.

'No, senor; no eat custombre usar mas que esto' ('No, sir; it's not customary to use more than that' — the wood cellar), was the answer of every dealer to whom he presented the novelty. Again and again he was refused. He began to despair when, standing one day gazing into a jeweller's window, a brilliant idea struck him. He entered. Realizing the childlike curiosity and impressionable character of his quarry, he persuaded the jeweller to display a shaker in the window, and coached him about saying it. A Spaniard came along, looked in the window, saw the curious object, investigated.

'It is very pretty for the toilet table,' he remarked, after pronouncing it; 'perhaps useful for the children. What goes in it—perfume?'

Indifferently the jeweller glanced up from some scribbling. 'No, sir; only salt.'

'Man, salt!'

'Yes. Possibly I could get you a little — the kind that doesn't get sticky — to try. But I don't know.'

The simple gentleman was amazed, angry, affronted by the novelty, but he took it and an ounce or two of the special salt home with him. The jeweller ordered another shaker and more samples of salt. By and by the gentleman had used all his salt and wanted more of the same kind. The business of that company to-day is worth many figures in Spain every year, and, more than that, as it is 'costumbre' now to use that particular sort of shaker and brand of salt, there is virtually no competition.

GOSSIP NECESSARY TO BOTH SEXES.

But Should Not Be Overdone.

Somebody has thought it worth while to say that gossip is as necessary to a woman as food and drink. Why the matter of sex should be dragged in is a mystery. Everybody knows that old women belong to both sexes.

The creature who simply lives for gossip is as likely to be found in breeches as petticoats. We all know men whose flow of tittle tattle is not to be surpassed by any feminine ingenuity or industry. Such people, who make an occupation of what ought to be an amusement, are, fortunately, the exceptions to ordinary existence. But in a decent and modest way we all love gossip.

Why not? "The proper study of mankind is man"—to take the first of a dozen much-worn quotations that fly to the pen. A taste for gossip means nothing more than an interest in humanity.

To like to know what other folks are doing and saying and thinking is not malicious or undignified. It is merely a proof that you are healthily alive. Of course, you can overdo it. You can be too greedy in the matter of gossip, as with other good and stimulating things. But a modest portion serves to keep you in good spirits. To live for it is as contemptible as to be a drunkard.

Unconventionalities.

"I'd enjoy your conversation a great deal more, Weerius, if I didn't have to listen to it."

"The reason I dont' ask you whether or not this is all-wood goods, Mr. Sellers, is that I want to save you from lying about it."

"Yes, we like our new cook very much. Mrs. Ipdyke; she has told us ever so many funny things that happened when she was working for you."

"I know, of course, old chap, that you're fishing for an invitation to go with me on our yachting trip, but it won't do you any good."

"From the way your curtains smell, Mrs. Whackster, I judge that your husband smokes rather cheap cigars."

"I've often wondered, Throggins, how you ever managed to smuggle yourself into good society."

What Makes a Bee Hum?

You have never heard a bee hum when it was crawling. This tells us what we might have guessed, that the bee's humming is made by the movement of its wings when it flies. The noise is not made by its voice-box, as when you sing, for the bee has not a voicebox. But its wings move very quickly — a bird would hum" when flying if its wings moved quickly enough — and as they move to and fro they set the air moving, and, as you know, we would not be able to hear anything but for the vibration, or waves, in the air.

If the waves are too slow, as when you wave a stick in the air, or when a bird flaps its wings, we hear nothing. But the vibrations in the air made by the bee's wings are of a rate that is within the range of our hearing — if the bee is near enough — and so we hear a humming.

"Judge," said Mrs. Starvem to the justice who had recently come to board with her, "I am particularly anxious to have you try this chicken soup." "I have tried it," replied the judge, "and my decision is that the chicken has proved an alibi."

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

A SUCCESSFUL FINANCIER

An example of what well-directed brain power accompanied by energy, pluch and perseverance may accomplish is afforded by the remarkable advance of Mr. Edward Rogers Wood of Toronto. From a small beginning Mr. Wood has worked his way steadily upward and onward until he is now general manager of two leading Canadian financial institutions, the Central Canada Loan & Savings Co., and the Dominion Securities Corporation. Besides this he is vice-president of the National Trust Company, and a director of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Western Assurance Company, the Canada Life Assurance Company, the Sao Paulo Tramway, Light & Power Company; the Mexican Light and Power Company, and other important corporations and industrial undertakings. Not a bad achievement, certainly, for a man only forty-five years of age who started life as a telegraph operator. But then was not his father Irish and was he not born in Peterboro', two facts over which he had no control but which have evidently had their effect in guiding this successful financier to fortune and a foremost place in the commercial life of Canada.

Mr. Wood is a most enthusiastic supporter of the Y. M. C. A. and is President of the Toronto Association.

His home is at Queen's Park, Toronto.

SIR GILBERT PARKER

Sir Gilbert Parker, M.C., D.C.L., M. P. was born in Belleville Ont. in 1862. His father, Captain J. Parker, was a British Officer. It was from him that the future novelist first conceived the ideas which he has so brilliantly given to the world. In his home life his mind was imbued with stories of military adventure. These laid the foundations for his future scintillating and vast imagination. Sir Gilbert's education made him thoroughly Canadian, instilling in him our national ideals. He attended Trinity College, Toronto. After graduating, he decided to follow the profession of journalism, towards which he had always shown considerable aptitude and interest. In a comparatively short time he rose high in his chosen vocation. At the age of 22 he had already become associate-editor of the Sidney Morning Herald, Sidney Australia.

Even such interesting and absorbing work as one has on a daily paper could not satisfy the latent novelist. Drawn by the lure of travel and adventure he visited and indeed studied the South Sea Islands, the Far East, Europe, Egypt and what he enjoyed the most Northern Canada. In his wanderings he found many of the leading ideas of his novels which have so won the admiration of the English speaking reader.

Although very prominent in the world of letters, Sir Gilbert Parker had not come before the world in general, prominently, until he intatest and organize the first Imperial Universities Conference in London in 1905.

SIR GILBERT PARKER

It is by his novels that Sir Gilbert Parker has won for himself such a high place in the affections of all Canadians. His works are very numerous and display a creative genius of distinguished ability. They are replete with origional ideas and character types, so skilfully portrayed, that they seem to live before the eye of the reader.

Amongst his novels dealing with Canadian life and people in most famous are the "Right of Way", the "Battle of the Strong" and the "History of Old Quebec."

Canada is indeed proud of her son who has done so much towards the intellectual advancement of his native land.

FORTIFYING SAMOAN TUNNEL

Italy and Switzerland fortify Simplon Tunnel.

Both Italy and Switzerland are taking measures to fortify the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place, in order to be able to blow it up at a moment's notice in the event of war. Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door that can resist the rush of an express train travelling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully tested once a week. The mines are connected with Brigue and Iselle by electric devices, so that, by the mere pressure of a button, the Simplon Tunnel could be destroyed in a second.

In The Name of Charity.

Nearly all the giddy youth of the neighborhood attended the charity bazaar, and one by one they drifted to a stall where a tiny, shapely, scented, gray kid glove reposed on a satin cushion. Attached to the cushion was a notice written in a delicate feminine hand, which ran:

"The owner of this glove will, at 7:30 this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a two ty-five cent ticket beforehand."

Tickets were purchased by the score, and at 7:30 a long row of sheepish, not to say doggish, young bloods, assembled outside the stall.

Then, punctual to the moment, old Tom Porson, the local pork-butcher, who weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, and is almost as beautiful as a side of bacon, stepped to the front of the stall.

"Now, young gents," he said, in his best "Buy, buy, buy," tones, "this 'ere glove belongs to me. Bought it this morning. Now, I'm ready for you. Come on! Don't be bashful! One at a time!"

But nobody came on.

Pullman Etiquette.

That our system of railroad travel is not perfect is alleged by "An Englishman" in a recent article. "When you travel in England you are master of your time and your baggage," writes this author. Here, the baggage travels several hours behind its owner. But "a Pullman car at night is the most uncivilized thing on the American continent, and one of the most indecent. It quite fascinates my blushes I sit enthralled as the darky porter strews my seat with other people's belongings, holds a pillow-case in his teeth and squeezes the pillow into it, and hurl sheets and mattresses about, and pulls at chains and sliding-doors and levers and curtains. Personally I have never mastered either the art of the etiquette of a Pullman car. I never know where to put my shoes, and I feel, I shall never learn how to take off my trousers while sitting in them

E. R. Knowles Knew His Congregation

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecturer laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. As is well known, Galt is the Scotchest town in Canada.

After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small.

"The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party."

"What was that?" enquired the statesman.

"It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Newspapers in Salonica.

In Salonica, Turkey, there are fifteen newspapers and nine weekly or monthly reviews published, with a total circulation of about 40,000. The newspapers are mostly small two sheet affairs, badly printed on cheap paper. The reading of the newspapers, however, has increased greatly in the last two years and will increase still more when more liberty is given to the press.

Salonica is the meeting-place of the East and West. Nearly all religious in the world have representatives there, and every day of the week is a Sunday to one or other of these religious organizations.

Not So Particular.

——At a dance recently a young gentleman somewhat inferior in social position to most of those present approached an alderman's daughter — "mightily superior" sort — and rather diffidently asked for the favor of a dance.

The girl looked him stonily in the face for a moment, then turned away with the remark:

"I'm sorry but I'm — well, rather particular as to whom I dance with."

"Ah, indeed!" was the quiet retort, "then we differ in that respect. I'm not a bit particular. That was why I asked you!"

Then he left her.

England in 1800.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under ninemillions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In 110 years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject —After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest mone makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,

"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liabilit

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. R. Stratton

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SYDNEY SMITH'S TABLE-TALK

Benevolence a Natural Instinct of the Mind.

One day the conversation turned upon an obstinate man who was full of prejudices. Sydney Smith who knew his character and opinions, expressed despair. "You might," said he, "as well attempt to poultice the bumps off a camel's back". Preferment in the Church, like fortune in the world, has a tendency to make men more conservative, and it was in allusion to this well-known social fact that he observed dryly, "The liberality of church-men generally is like the quantity of matter in a cone — both get less and less as they move higher and higher." "Benevolence is a natural instinct of the human mind When A sees B in grievous distress his conscience always urges him to entreat C to help him." "I will do human nature the justice to say," were his words on another occasion, "that we are all prone to make other people do their duty." To one who expressed a very strong opinion, and justified it on the ground that he was "only a plain man." he retorted that he was "not aware what the gentleman's personal appearance had to do with the question."

A Famous Buddhist Priest.

The Ceylon papers give much space to the death of the Buddhist high priest, Sri Sumangala, at the age of eighty-four. He was the leading Oriental scholar in Ceylon, and was in constant communication with Orientalists in the United Kingdom and on the Continent. His death is described by the Ceylon 'Observer' as not only a loss to the Buddhist community, but to the entire Oriental world. Among his friends and correspondents were Sir Monier Williams, Sir Edwin Arnold, Professors Max Muller, Rhys Davids, and Lanman, of Harvard University. He was in friendly touch with pastors and missionaries of the different Christian churches, and took a leading part in the agitation against the opium traffic in the island. His Sinhalese Grammar is used as a text-book at the London University. The remains of the aged priest were cremated in the presence of a great assembly. The Colonial Office was represented.

10,000,000 More French-Speakers

A decision which will eventually increase by ten million the number of people who speak French has just been taken by the Governor of French West Africa. Hitherto, Arabic has been exclusively used as the official language of France in her immense African empire.

As, however, Arabic was as much of a foreign tongue to most of the natives outside Algeria as French itself, interpreters have had to be used by both parties, and the only result has been to give an impetus to Islam, which is intimately bound up with the Arabic language.

Now, however, French will be the official language of the administration and the schools, and it is expected that this will result in a considerable spread of Western culture.

Cold Storage in Europe.

Many of the European cities are following the example of America as regards cold storage plants. Paris is one of the centres where such questions are now being promoted, and the Refrigeration Society is endeavouring to bring such question before engineers and manufacturers. Not long since there has been built a large cold storage plant in the suburbs of Paris and lying on the North Railroad. It is designed to store home products which are to be exported as well as foreign products brought in by rail to be consumed in the city. There are now eleven cold storage chambers in operation. A convenient system is the use of an automobile waggon with freezing compartments which plies between the city and the storage house. It carries the products to the sellers in town, and also takes back the unsold products for storage.

The Laird's Pictures.

Some years ago a Scotch laird found on succeeding to his estates that the house contained two portraits of a distinguished member of the family who had flourished during the reign of George III, one by Reynolds and the other by Raeburn. He knew no more of pictures than a Newfoundland dog, and he decided that two portraits of the same individual need not be kept. The Reynolds was retained, while the Raeburn was presented to a public gallery. The worthy man was struck with consternation some time afterward when he found that his gift had been valued at 5,000 guineas, and probably the picture would now fetch double that sum.

Strength An Unknown Quantity.

Strength, whether of body, mind, or will, is an unknown quantity. It can never be measured except by putting it forth. We do not know our powers simply because no definite bounds of them exist until proved by heartsearching, patient exertion. To sit still and in the absurd notion that we cannot move, to abstain from any effort because we fancy we cannot make enough, is like insisting on the shallowness of the ocean that has never been fathomd, or the shortness of the distance that has never been travelled.

Handel's Sharp Tongue.

Handel, though undoubtedly possessing a kind and generous heart had a sharp tongue which he did not hesitate to use on occasions, generally with excellent effect. He heard that an enthusiast had offered to make himself responsible for all the boxes the next time the then-despised oratorio "Messiah" was to be given. "He is a fool," said he; "the Jew will not come to it as he would to Judas Maccabeus, because it is a Christian story; and the ladies will not come, because it is a virtuous one."

Her Confidence.

She had stopped, panting, by the road to rest. It was the shell road at Toronto Beach, and she was black. Beside her was a heavy market basket filled to overflowing. A passerby smiled at her with sympathetic friendliness and she responded with full and free confidence.

"Yassm. I is some tiahed. An' lame. All painful wid miseries. Yassm. I couldn done nem' some one else to makhet fo' me. Mah grandson he couldn done gone. But I doan't trus him. He spends mah money too liberiefly."

MY LADY'S COLUMN.

VOYAGE GIFTS FOR WOMEN.

An Electric Pocket Lamp Useful for Travellers.

For a gift of "bon voyage" nothing could be more acceptable than a pocket electric light. In a case less than three inches long and one and a half wide, these pocket lights are to be bought for under $1.00, containing bulb, battery and all. Should the lights suddenly go out in a boat or train the horror of the sudden darkness is at once dispelled by this little light.

These small lamps are to be had in both nickel and silver. In the latter case one will make a charming addition to the travelling bag replete with silver fittings. A plain nickel case can be made most attractive, however, with a cover of silk, ribbon or chints, with long loop handles, by which to hang the light on a nail by the bedside—a much more convenient place than under the pillow. This cord may be made of twisted ribbon or braid tied at each end. The case may be glued on to the metal or else made like a bag tied in with drawing strings at the top.

SATIN LIBERTY AND EMBROIDERY.

This dainty gown is made of Satin Liberty, veiled with drape d'argent. The over dress of black net is embroidered with Indian bead effect, showing a border of 12 inches at the bottom of the gown in beautiful design. The waist shows a medallion of hand embroidery.

Valuable Tim.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must e'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young mon,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

Political rainbows—The kind usually seen just before the November deluge.

We Eat Too Much.

To rise from the table able to eat a little more is a proverbially good rule for every one. There is nothing more idiotic than forcing down a few mouthfuls because they happen to remain on one's plate after hunger is satisfied, and because they may be "wasted" if left. It is the most serious waste to overtax the stomach with even half an ounc more than it can take care of.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognise His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognises his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognise his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rae along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormuz and Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghiz Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities and reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a rebion of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal as no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

A FEARLESS NEWSPAPER PROPRIETOR.

The name of the Montreal 'Witness' has long been synonimous with purity and independence in journalism. Established in 1860 by the late John Dougall it is still conducted on the principles laid down by its founder, by his son Mr. John Redpath Dougall, M.A., the present editor and proprietor. The aim of the Dougalls, father and son, has been to issue a clean, readable newspaper which no head of a household need fear to place in the hands of his or her children. Everything calculated, to diminish respect for the nobler and better things of life and anything likely to have in itself a tendency, even though remote, to undermine good morals is vigorously excluded from the columns of the 'Witness'. Mr. Dougall claims for his paper absolute independence of all classes, creeds and parties, and makes no secret of his intention to comment, adversely if need be, on anything affecting the community at large, or any considerable section of it, which he does not think is going to make for the moral or material well-being of the people. This is the unalterable policy of the 'Witness' even though the proposal adversely commented on may emanate from a party to which it has given a general support. The independence and fearlessness of the 'Witness' has almost passed into a proverb and even those who are opposed to the policy advocated by the paper are generally ready to admit that it is advocating the genuine opinion of its proprietor. There is no lack of pluck or consistency on the part of the 'Witness' in fighting for any cause which Mr. Dougall considers to be just.

Mr. Dougall was born at Montreal in 1841 and has been connected with the 'Witness' since its establishment, when as a boy he assisted his father in producing the paper. He was educated at Montreal High School and at McGill University, being a graduate of the latter. He has taken a lifelong and prominent interest in temperance and in social and moral reform work and is honorary president of the Dominion Alliance and president of the Boy's Home and Boy's Farm, Montreal.

Seeing the Remains.

New England teacher had put in a busy afternoon taking ten of her pupils through the Museum of Natural History, but her charges had enjoyed every minute of the time.

"Where have you been?" asked the mother of two of the party, when they came home for dinner.

"We've been to a dead circus," was the response of one of the lads.

"I hear Jones, the sea captain, is in hard luck. He married a girl and she ran away from him."

"Yes, he took her for a mate, but she was a skipper."

Junk Dealer Acquitted.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line men to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 209 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 11 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Pearless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

United States May be a Signatory of New Treaty to be Signed—Negotiations Not Completed.

London, Sept. 8.—Various suggestions are made as to the character of Germany's reply to the French proposals in regard to Morocco, which was given to Ambassador Cambon in Berlin yesterday afternoon, but no information that can be regarded as official has yet become public. The most general impression is that while Germany signifies her assent, to the French proposals in their essence, she raises points on which further negotiations will be necessary.

A diplomatic correspondent, whose communication is conspicuously featured by the Daily Mail, asserts that he is able to state the French proposals with greater precision than has previously been done. According to this account, the United States is directly concerned in the negotiations inasmuch as she would be called upon to be a signatory to the formal treaty by which full liberty of action in Morocco is to be guaranteed to France.

FRANCE GIVES UP A LOT.

According to this statement, the sacrifice of territory in the French Congo, which France is prepared to make, though not so great as Germany demanded, is of such an extent that when it is known the French people will be astonished, and perhaps exasperated; but compensation will be found in the conditions which the French Government insists upon in Morocco.

These conditions are not merely political, but also military, and they are to be embodied in a formal treaty, not with Germany alone, but with the powers of Europe and with the United States.

The Franco-German agreement of 1909, it is added, acknowledges the political interests of France and the commercial interests of Germany in Morocco. That agreement Germany declares to have been broken by the military action of France in the Shereffian Empire. To renew it in its present form would be to invite a repetition of the Agadir incident at some future time. France is determined to avoid this danger. To this end it is proposed that the new agreement shall take the form of a treaty or convention, signed by the powers of Europe and by the United States.

A Stiff Sentence.

The fine of $10 recently imposed at our local police court for infraction of the liquor license laws by those who are on the prohibited list, does not go in Lindsay. A man named James Hutton, was last week fined $15 and costs by Magistrate Jackson of that town, or 30 days in goal, and for refusing to disclose the name of the party who gave him liquor, he was sentenced to 3 months additional.

The Best Essay.

Mr. G. N. Baker, superintendent of the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company is offering a very handsome gold watch for the best essay on the subject of "Reciprocity." The watch is on exhibition in the window of Mr. A. Gibson, jeweler this afternoon. "Patterson" the Winner.

In our Saturday's issue we omitted giving the result of the matched race between "Paterson" owned by Mr. Fred E. Jones, and "Orillia Bell," the property of Mr. Frank Montgomery, which resulted in a victory for the former, although the first two heats were won by "Orillia Bell." "Paterson" took the next three heats and thus won the race and the purse of $200.

A Bet That Was No Bet.

On Saturday a Times' man saw a bet of $500 made on the general result of the elections in the whole country. Two cheques for $500 each were put up, and the stakeholder proceeded to have the marked good, but in both cases there was not sufficient funds. The cheques were at once returned to the makers. After all betting and bluffing are largely synonomous terms.

A Successful Corn Roast.

The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club to the number of about twenty, indulged in a corn roast on Friday evening, at the T.A.S. Park. The jolly party left the Wolfe street wharf in Mr. Rye's handsome launch the "Strathmore," about 6.30, and landed at the old T.A.S. Park grounds. An advance guard had prepared an immense bon fire, which soon shed its ruddy glare on a most cheerful scene. After spending a happy hour or so, the party returned home about ten p.m.

Wharf Formally Opened.

The new wharf at the mouth of the Otonabee river, near Rice Lake was formally opened on Saturday by Superintendent McClellan and others, who went down for the purpose, in the Government steamer, Bessie Butler. The ceremony consisted of appropriate speeches in which the thanks of those concerned were tendered the Government and the Hon. J. R. Stratton for building the structure, which will be of great advantage to the farmers in the neighborhood as well as to others. After which the health o the wharf was drank in pure Otonabee river water.

A Fine Outing.

The three days' excursion to Lake Simcoe by steamer Stoney Lake, given under the auspices of the Chemong Athletic Club, was most successful from every point of view. The excursion started from Chemong on Wednesday and returned on Friday evening. The Chemong village ball team were successful in winning two games of ball, defeating the Georgina team by 22 to 1, and being ahead by 2—0 when a contest was played with Sutton. Only two innings were played. The visiting girls played hog ball and won a great victory over their opponents, who failed to get a point.

Important to Ladies.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Hotel Orient al, on Friday and Saturday, September 15th and 16th.

Building Permits.

The building permits for the month of Aug. 1911, amounted to $14,240,-00. The permits were issued for the last week were as follows:

W. J. Foster, Gilmour street, brick veneered dwelling, $1500.00; Alfred Warrard, 472 Rogers street, porch, $25; T. T. Hoolihan, 294 Reid street, frame summer kitchen, $200; Mrs. Annie Lush, 599 Patterson street, frame stable, $1200; Henry Rose, Margaret avenue, solid brick store, $1500; P. H. Hickey, Cricket plate, brick veneered dwelling $1400; H. Overend, Princess street, brick veneered dwelling.

Look Out for Raised Bills.

If you happen to get any American $5 bills, look them over carefully to see that they are not simply raised ones. Be sure to look on the back for the counterfeit is easily detected there. An American one-dollar bill and the figure "5" cut from cigar labels are being used to make a fairly presentable counterfeit of a bill worth four dollars more. The bill is made by pasting a figure 5 clipped from a cigar label over the figure 1 appearing on the corner of the face of a $1 bill. On this side it makes a good counterfeit, but as the same thing is repeated on the side, the black figures on the green bill are easily detected.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

While driving to the city accompanied by her three children, Mrs. Edward Trennum, of Smith, met with a painful accident. When near the city, the horse, being a spirited animal, shied at some children, who were playing with a small express wagon, on the roadside, and jumped into the ditch. The buggy was overturned and the occupants thrown out; all escaped injury with the exception of Mrs. Trennum, who sustained several broken ribs and was badly bruised and shaken up otherwise. Dr. Scott was summoned and he attended to the injuries, after which she was removed to Nicholls Hospital by Bellegchem's private ambulance.

She is now doing as well as can be expected.

A POLITICAL ATHENS.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: Most of the politicians have been here within the last week. Mr. J. H. Burnham and Col. Johnston were in town for a short time on their way to Harvey and Galway. Mr. Stratton and Mr. Haratone came in on Wednesday by auto car and went on to Nogeys Creek School House for a meeting. Mr. Begg, the Liberal candidate for Victoria and Haliburton, will be here this evening, Friday, the 8th. Col. Sam. Hughes and Mr. McCartney held a meeting in the town hall on Tuesday night, but a pouring rain prevented much attendance. Mr. Richard Pearson was called to the chair and Mr. McCartney gave the Conservative views on the campaign, the Colonel giving one of his rousing speeches on the Empire, patriotism and the necessity of turning out the party which he described as disrupted and decaying. The upbuilding of the Empire practically began in the African war, and any dastardly conspiracy of annexing this country to the United States must be thwarted. The meeting closed with cheers.

Broke Her Arm.

While passing from her kitchen to the woodshed on Thursday last, Mrs. Charles Peters, of Otonabee had the misfortune to slip on the steps and fall, fracturing her right arm. Dr. Carmichael was called and had the injured member set. On Monday, Mrs. James Peters, a sister, fell and fractured one of her arms.

New Oil Field

A legitimate chance to make a fortune, by the investment of a small amount of money is what every investor wants. Usually the difficulty is to be able to satisfy yourself as to the safeguards and probabilities of success, and thus select the good from the bad. The newest, and what promises to be the richest oil area in the world is just beginning to be developed, in what is known as the Tampico field in Mexico. The flow of oil from the first few wells drilled there has broken all records. Beyond a doubt this is one of the greatest opportunities for investment ever known.

A Company has just been organized to develop 3500 acres of the choicest, and best located property in the producing field. For this purpose we will offer a limited number of shares of stock for subscription at ½ its par value. We are certain we can interest you, and satisfy you of the merit of the enterprise if you will let us.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE IN SESSION LAST NIGHT

ARC LIGHT ASKED FOR TO BE PLACED IN THE REAR OF THE OPERA HOUSE.

Light For East City Also Asked for Both These Requests Were Left in Abeyance.

The City Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night. There were present Chairman Ald. Morgan, and Aldermen Kerneghan, Metheral, Graham and Edgar. Chief Howard of the Fire Department reported that he had handed over to the Board of Works 80 feet of old fire hose. This will be charged against the Board of Works at the same price as was paid for the last old hose taken over by the Board of Works, whatever that may have been.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., waited upon the committee and asked that an arc light be placed at the corner of King and Water streets, to illuminate the rear of the Opera House, where the stage door is situated. This light, Mr. Turner urged, is necessary in protection of the members of the Opera companies during the season. The committee assured Mr. Turner they would give this matter careful consideration.

The committee agreed to the assignment of the Engineer of the Fire Department to the duty of taking care of the South City pumping station machinery. The council will be expected to arrange for any increased salary engineer Jamieson may expect for additional duties.

Turning to the application of Mr. J. J. Turner for an arc lamp in the rear of the Opera House, the matter was left in abeyance pending a detailed examination into this state of the committee's appropriation. The question of a light asked for on Concession street was also left in abeyance for the same reason.

CATHOLIC CHURCH PREPARING TO MEET ADVERSE CONDITIONS IN THE U. S.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The Catholic Church foresees and is preparing to meet the same adverse conditions in the United States that it has in France and Portugal, according to a statement by Archbishop Quigley in an address yesterday before the sixty-fifth annual convention of the German Catholic Central Xerein.

"Organization is the hope of the Catholic Church here," he said. "The question confronting the organization is what to do about the dangers now threatening Christianity in this country. In France and Portugal the Catholic Church was persecuted because the Catholics were not organized.

A QUESTION FOR MR. McCLELLAN

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by The Times of yesterday, that the wharf at the mouth of the Otonabee river was formally opened to the public on Saturday last. I would like to enquire when the splendid new wharf at the T.A.S. grounds is going to be formally handed over by the Dominion Government. Yours.

THE NE TEMERE DECREE AND OTHER MATTERS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Will you allow me a little space in your valuable paper to write a few words to my fellow-countrymen, who, though in this country, long enough to qualify for a vote, have little or no time to study the politics of the country. At the last elections I was just in that position. Although I had been here two or three years, I had been so busy working and laying the foundation of a home in this my adopted land, that when the elections came I am afraid I had to give my vote rather blindly Now I look upon my vote as a sacred thing—too sacred to be lightly given, and far too sacred to be sold. The fortune has yet to be made that could buy my vote, and the man has yet to be born that could intimidate it. There are many of you, who were like myself, Liberals and Free traders at home, and, you may naturally ask, is not the party the same. Principles apply here. Let us see.

Now, England is a consuming country, as far as foodstuffs go, dependent almost entirely upon outside countries, while here we are producers, not only of enough for ourselves, but of great quantities for export. This entirely alters the case as regards food. Then, how many of us were here in the country three weeks before we realized the effects of protection on manufactures. Look at the C.G.E., at the Quaker Oats, and other great industries in this city which would never have come this side of the line had it not been for the National Policy. True, we find living a little higher, but we get the money to buy it with. Then, again, we do not want to see this colony pass away from the old flag, therefore let us unite our votes for the policy of continuing prosperity of the country on its present lines.

There is another vital question at this election, however, and that is as to whether we will be and remain free British subjects, making and enjoying our own laws and privileges, or whether we will allow the foreign prelate of any church to put forth decrees that shall affect our social laws. Whether we will support a government that will submit to such an impertinence. If the Imperial Parliament had dared to formulate such a decree as the Ne Temere, we should ere now have been in the throes of revolution, and shall we allow any church or place and power that we deny even to King George and the Imperial Parliament on this question? I ask my fellow-countrymen to think seriously and vote for the liberties for which our fathers died. Then, again, shall we vote for a Government whose finance Minister issued a charter to such a group of swindlers as organized the Farmers' Bank. Quibble as the Liberals may, Mr. Fielding either knew or he should have known who and what these people were, before granting them a charter. If he knew, then he became a party to the fraud; if he did not know, then he was incompetent and certainly not to be trusted to put through a national business deal with such a man as President Taft. There is no use mincing matters, we want straight, honorable, competent men to represent us in Parliament, and I ask every man who loves righteousness and probity in public life, to show their detestation of such scandals as the Farmers' Bank, by which the savings of hundreds of honest men and women were swept into the coffers of rogues, leaving many of the victims penniless, by refusing to support and return to power, men whose business it was to exercise vigilence and discretion, and who did not do so, vote straight for a united Canada, for a free Canada for a clean Canada. Vote for Burnham.

Geo. Leader.

A PLEA FOR MR. STRATTON.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—A good deal is being said just now for and against Mr. Stratton, who has served us so faithfully during the past parliamentary term. I tell you, sir, that it will be a long, long time before we will have his equal. If he is defeated, which I do not think at all probable, the riding will lose the best representative they ever had. He is head and shoulders over any other candidate in this part of Ontario, and I believe he has no superior in the House.

I say, then, let us return him by a bigger majority than ever before. He deserves it.

NEW WHEAT SHIPPED OUT

Fort William, Sept. 8.—The first shipment of the season's new crop, 13,000 bushels, was sent out yesterday on the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Athabasca. This grain graded No. 1 and No. 2 Northern and showed a very good sample for the first arrival. It was shipped, as has been usual for several years, for Jas. Richardson Sons, Limited, Kingston, to Owen Sound. There will doubtless be a heavy run of shipments now until the new grain becomes general.

FIREBUG IN BELLEVILLE.

Several Fires Started Within a Few Hours—Coal Oil Used.

Belleville, Ont., Sept. 8.—A firebug is operating in this city. Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. A. Roy's stables were burned in an unaccountable manner and about midnight a large barn used by Mr. Dennis Lucas, who conducts a boarding stable, was partially burnt. At the same time a fire was started in some wooden moulds used by the McCarthy Foundry Company, and piled up near the moulding shop. The moulds were saturated with coal oil and a bottle containing about half a pint of coal oil was found by the police near the burning moulds. Every effort is being made to locate the bug.

Market Recovery To-day—The German Bourse Was Much Stepdier—Figuring on Saturday's Slump.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—At the annual convention of the Pan-German League, in session here yesterday, resolutions were unanimously passed protesting against the withdrawal of Germany from her political position in Morocco, and against her acceptance of territorial indemnity in the French Congo.

The German Imperial Chancellor was asked to break off negotiations with France relative to Morocco, rather than settle the dispute on that basis.

The speech of the chairman of the Congress was to the effect that the acquisition by Germany of Western Morocco corresponds with the wishes of the German people.

Another resolution adopted demanded the speedier building of warships.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Following Saturday's violent market slump, the German Bourse showed a fair recovery when it opened to-day, and is now much steadier.

In Government circles, the panic is attributed to a concerted attempt of the French and English financiers to give Germany a taste of what would happen in the event of trouble with the Anglo-Galic alliance, and by this means to frighten German business men into urging the Kaiser and his advisors to take a more conciliatory attitude in Morocco.

TOUCH OF CONDUCTOR ON THE SHOULDER SENDS A MAN THROUGH CAR WINDOW.

Head Badly Injured—Strange Accident to a Foreigner as Train Was Pulling Into Brantford.

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 11.—John Conowski, a foreigner, hailing from Scranton, Pa., jumped through the window of a fast train, pulling into Brantford early Saturday morning, under strange circumstances. He was asleep and the conductor went to awake him up, touching Conowski on the shoulder. The latter gave a start and jumped through the closed window, clearing the tracks when he fell. He was recovered and taken to the hospital, his head being badly injured.

The victim is unable to speak a word of English, and it was thought he was under the influence of a nightmare when he was awakened. He will recover.

THE LUSITANIA OUT TO MAKE A RECORD—MADE FAST TIME

London, Sept. 11.—While thousands looked on from afar, only a few were admitted on the Lusitania at Liverpool yesterday to watch the work of coaling, unloading and loading the great Cunard steamship/ted early this morning. It is expected that the big vessel will leave for New York this evening.

If, as expected, she reaches there next Saturday, She will have crossed the Atlantic three times within three weeks. Hundreds of men worked all night and a double force was being used yesterday, thousands of tons of the steamship's cargo being discharged, while as many thousand tons were taken on board.

In addition to this freight the steamship requires 7,000 tons of coal 700,000 gallons of fresh water, and the necessary provisions for 10,700 passengers and crew of 900. Fifty thousand pieces of linen have to be washed, dried and ironed.

Drowning at Huntsville.

Huntsville, Sept. 81—In 20 feet of water at the tannery, shortly after noon to-day, Jos. Draper, a well-known citizen, lost his life. Draper was unloading a scow of bark when he fell, unnoticed. His hat, floating nearby gave rise to suspicions, and grappling soon recovered the body. He was an employee of the Navigation Company and well known and respected.

BRUTUAL CRIME COMMITTED ON FARM NEAR WINDSOR

BRUTAL CRIME COMMITTED ON A LITTLE FARM NEAR MAIDSTONE TOWNSHIP.

Husband is Missing—Police Hunting for Him But can Get No Trace of Whereabouts.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Mary Reed, aged 60, who lived with her husband, George Reed, on a little farm in Maidstone township, a short distance from the village of Cottam, and about 15 miles from Windsor, was murdered in her home between the hours of one and four o'clock this afternoon, and the police are now scouring the country for Reed.

The woman's head had been literally beaten in, and an axe with which the deed had been committed lay beside the still warm body when it was discovered by Arthur Reed, a son, a few minutes after four p.m. George Reed, the woman's husband, was not to be found.

The Windsor police were notified of the crime by a telephone message from Cottam at 7.45 p.m., and Chief Wills immediately despatched Sergeant William Reid and High Constable Campau to the scene in a fast automobile. A telephone message at midnight states that they have been unable to discover any trace of Reed's whereabouts. No motive for the murder is yet ascribed.

HON. J. R. STRATTON'S HORSES WIN MANY PRIZES AT TORONTO

Hon. J. R. Stratton's horses which were on exhibition at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, returned by express to Peterborough on Saturday. The visitors to the exhibition were unanimous in saying that the Strathormond stables were the best stables of harness horses on the grounds and the prizes taken by them were more numerous than those won by any other exhibitor in Canada.

On Thursday, Aug. 31st, in the open runabout class, "Midget" won first prize.

On Friday, Sept. 1st, in the class harness horses over 15.2, "My Pride" and "Premier" carried off the first prize in competition with Crowe & Murray, of Toronto, Yeager, of Simcoe, Col. Pellatt, of Toronto, and Mr. Stewart of Montreal.

In the gentleman's pair, to suitable vehicle, again did "My Pride" and "Premier" carry off the first prize.

In the open for all class, high steppers, "Premier" again took the red ribbon.

In the King Edward Hotel Cup, valued at $100.00, ladies' turnout class, "Perfect Dream," which horse has never been beaten in this class anywhere, carried off the red ribbon.

For the Championship Silver Medal best pair of harness horses on the grounds, "My Pride" and "Premier" again took first prize.

For the reserved championship, in single high steppers, "My Pride" carried off the championship.

In the Combination Saddle and Harness Class, "None Nicer" took second prize.

For the best single horse "My Pride" took first prize.

In the high stepping class, open to all classes, "My Pride" again carried off the first prize.

In the tandem, open for all "Perfect Dream" and "My Pride" took second prize, "Premier" not being very well, "Perfect Dream" took her place, and the tandem was not just up to the conditions.

In the saddle class, open to all, "None Nicer" took second prize.

In the four-in-hand, "Perfect Dream" "My Pride" "Premier" and "Latest News" were in the ribbons.

In the high stepping class 15.2 and over, again "My Pride" took second prize.

Pair of horses, under 15.2 "Loch Ryan Princess" and "Latest News" was still in the ribbons.

In the single class, 15.2 and over, "Perfect Dream" showed its perfection and was again in the ribbons.

The judges, one from New York and one from England, both stated that the Peterborough horses were the best lot of harness horses at the show.

The Peterborough, Exhibition will take place this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and Mr. Stratton has acquiesced in the wishes of the directors of the Peterborough Horse Show, to show on Friday and Saturday, the various classes that he has exhibited at different exhibitions in Canada this year.

MR. SEXSMITH'S MEETING AT APSLEY.

(Contributed).

A rousing meeting was held in Apsley Town Hall in support of the candidature of J. A. Sexsmith, Esq., The hall was completely crowded and it was pleasing to see how many interested ladies attended. For the benefit of a few who would like to know, the ladies were not drawn there to fill up the room, neither were they all members of the ladies' aid, but they were there simply to back up the men who are striving to save Canada from destruction. The chair was occupied by J. W. Hales, Esq., who admirably filled the position, he being called upon during the evening to exercise his authority by dealing with what might be termed wild animals, such as bears, who have a habit of growling and disturbing people who do not exactly please them. A great speaker was also to be found in J. Thompson, Esq., M.P.P., who not only thoroughly explained and elucidated the vital "Reciprocity" question, but dealt bitter sarcasm on the two gentlemen who brought this marvellous affair before the Canadian Government.

Then followed the crowning address, which was delivered by the candidate himself. It was an address which put to rebuke criticism in any shape or form. He dealt with matters other than reciprocity with the skill and technicality of a man who has been there and who knows what he is talking about, seeing that he has been a farmer himself, and to use his own words, "taken from the plow and sent to Parliament."

May the people who have a habit of eavesdropping on the telephone, kindly bear in mind that it is a pronounced breach of etiquette and distinctly bad mannered.

In conclusion, let me say, a more longheaded, thoughtful and determined man than Mr. Sexsmith for the people's interest and Canada's future welfare, cannot be found anywhere.

Yours—one for protection and prosperity.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, iadusttial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the peoperty, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

A Successful Corn Roast.

The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club to the number of about twenty, indulged in a corn roast on Friday evening, at the T.A.S. Park. The jolly party left the Wolfe street wharf in Mr. Rye's handsome launch the "Strathmore," about 6.30, and landed at the old T.A.S. Park grounds. An advance guard had prepared an immense bon fire, which soon shed its ruddy glare on a most cheerful scene. After spending a happy hour or so, the party returned home about ten p.m.

Mostly Due to Breakdown in Human Machine

All who walk the earth in safety and apparently in a normal condition of health are not physically qualified to be aviators. This is demonstrated by Dr. R. Moulinier who writes as follows

"The rapid ascent to great altitudes exposes the body to conditions different from any terrestral ones. Mountain climbing offers some analogy, but it is different in the fact that the transition from the high atmospheric transition of the sea level to a low pressure takes place much more slowly. The author has reported some interesting observations on the blood pressure of aviators who have ascended to high altitudes. On alighting after ascending to a height of 1200 to 2000 meters the aviator presents cyanosis of the extremities, probably from the low temperature of the high regions of the atmosphere.'

This means that the extremities turn a dusky blue color. Often there is congestion of the inner surface of the eyes. The pulse is quickened, but there is no irregularity of the heart's action, nor bleeding from the nose. There is often slight headache and ringing in the ears Sometimes there is a tendency to sleep, and this may be felt even during flight. Rising to a great height and coming down again always increases th blood pressure, as the writer explains.

Power From Sea Waves.

At the recent meeting of the British Association the question of economical production of power from tides and winds was again under discussion, and it has been taken up widely by scientific journals in Europe "La Revue Scientifique" calls attention to a system of utilling the power of sea waves to actuate a dynamo which has been employed during the last six months at the mouth of the river Gironde. An air chamber is connected with a well, which communicates with the sea at a depth below the level of the lowest tides By the advance and recession of the waves changes of pressure are produced in the air chamber, and a system of valves enables the resulting air currents to be applied to rotating a kind of turbine. It is said that the apparatus works equally well in calm and in stormy weather.

A FAMOUS ENGLISH CLOCK.

Terrestial and Celestial Bodies Incorporated in the movements.

Wells cathedral contains one of the most interesting clocks in the whole world. It was constructed by Peter Lightford, a monk, in 1320 and embraces many devices which testify to the ancient horologist's ingenuity. Several celestial and terrestrial bodies are incorporated in the interesting movement and relationship. They indicate the hours of the day, the age of the moon and the position of the planets and the tides. When the clock strikes the hour two companies of horsemen fully armed dash out of gateways in opposite directions and charge vigorously. They strike with their lances as they pass as many times as correspond with the number of the hour. A little distance away, seated on a high perch, is a quaint figure, which kicks the quarters on two bells placed beneath his feet and strikes the hours on a bell. The disk of the clock is divided into twenty-four hours and shows the phases of the moon and a map of the universe.

Sayings Of To-Day — And Yesterday

Too many of us complain of the injustices of this world, forgetting there may be more justice than we require in the next.

Englishmen and Americans are now so friendly they can make fun of each other. All friendship is in a state of unstable equilibrum until that point has been reached.

If we are going to do good to our struggling and tempted neighbors, we must try to be better than they.

There can be sympathetic silence which is also unselfishness. Don't break a person's heart by chatter.

The new organization will be formed from the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association, the Southwestern Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association, and the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association and will be called the West Coast Lumber Manufactures' association. The presidents of the three associations are given to work out the details of the union. As a preliminary step in the uniting of these associations the executive committees of the Pacific coast and the Oregan & Washington associations lately reported that the inspection bureaus had been joined.

When the jockey go: back Colt asked him: "Did you go to that doctor?"

"No, sir. When I got there I found it said, 'Hours, one to two,' on his door."

"Well, what difference did that make?"

"Why, Mr. Colt just across the street there was another doctor that had on his door, 'Hours, twelve to one; and I took the long odds."

ALL OR NONE.

Public opinion in this country will support the Dominion government in its determination to withdraw from the agreement under which reciprocity in fishing regulations for Canada and the United States was arranged. These regulations were drawn up carefully by two competent men, representing the two countries. They were fair to both countries and acceptable to both the Ottawa and Washington governments. But the U. S. senate interfered in behalf of the fishing interests of the states of Michigan and Washington and refused to sanction the regulations except those affecting the waters east of the great lakes. To exempt the western waters from regulation while enforcing the regulations in eastern waters would be wholly in the interests of American fishermen. The Hamilton Herald thinks that the only patriotic course for the Dominion government is to declare that either the regulations must be ratified as drawn by the experts, or the whole agreement must be declared off. It is to be hoped that the government backbone will remain stiff.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognises his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, his friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others.

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone. We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and pressed by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he strikes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Persian may not of itself, as a writer says, be a project of immediate importance. Europe has offered little attention and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest pages of Eastern history and opens up a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Beluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers have etched to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gunrunners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade, but sailors never penetrate into the mass of yellow hills or cross the white plain, "the hottest land of all" where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases appear along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry and rather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that has passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first touch of Europe for Eastern empire. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the Islands of Ormuz and Kishm and founded colonies at Gwadur and Chahbar Abbas and Gwadur left their quota of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty and Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from ancestral slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

But Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried beneath sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one point an explorer found the walls of houses that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir. Today fragments of pottery that are found in the vicinity of the hills are almost identical with those found in the ruins of Babylon. There are remains of masonry that were great works for catching the waters of the annual rains. In arid deserts have found forests of date trees that have stood stark for [illegible] on some of the hills [illegible] first some time have been [illegible] of cultivation. No one is able to tell who built [illegible] old reservoirs, cultivated the hills, or were buried [illegible]. The very reason why this country is only a rebion of great [illegible] and death is one of the [illegible] of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the [illegible]. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject —After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest mone makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares. $1.00. Full paid and on-assessable. No personal liabilit

Address of Mr. Stratton To the Electorate

Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough

GENTLEMEN,—

At a largely attended mass meeting of the electors on Saturday, I was selected as candidate to contest the representation of the Riding in the House of Commons. I accepted the responsibility of the position and hereby respectfully solicit the favour of your votes and support.

I am well known to you all, for during a representative service of West Peterborough, practically extending over a period of twenty-five years, I have many times come into contact, directly and indirectly, with every elector of the Riding.

In the past I have been honoured with your confidence, and I have earnestly striven to deserve it. In the discharge of my parliamentary and, especially of my representative duties, I have tried to consistently recognize and live up to the fact that I was the representative of the whole people, and in duty bound to serve the interests of all collectively and individually, whether their support had assisted or their opposition had resisted, my election.

I need not refer to my record to specify what I have been privileged to do in the promotion of the material, moral and social welfare of West Peterborough. My work in this regard, be it little or great, is known to you all. You all know whether or not I have been a faithful servant of the people, whether the Riding is better, and in what respects, from my having been your representative.

I need not be at much pains to define my position in this contest. Everybody knows where I stand—where I am to be found. Such as I have been in the endeavour to advance your interests, I still am, and shall continue to be, if you honour me with re-election.

Apart from the consideration of local—city and county—interests, the national question chiefly involved in this contest is "Reciprocity," or free mutual exchange of natural, mainly farm, products, with the United States. I believe that reciprocity of this kind will be of benefit to the farmers of the country, and through their prosperity to all other interests—manufacturing, financial and commercial, as well as to those of the mechanic and workingman

The round of benefit is natural. Good crops and good markets mean money for the farmer, which spent with the merchants of all kinds, means increased orders for the manufacturer and increased employment to their workmen. Thus Reciprocity, by affording wider and better markets, promises to be a benefit to the whole country and an injury to no class or interest ; and is worth trying, especially as the agreement, not being a treaty, can, if unsatisfactory, be cancelled on reasonable notice.

If I thought for a moment that it would hurt any important interest, especially the manufacturing interest, I would oppose it. I am neither an extreme free trader, nor an extreme protectionist. I believe in a reasonable amount of both. High tariff in the United States has lost to Canada ninety million dollars in barley alone. The British Preference as it affects our manufacturers goes as far as desirable in the direction of free trade and I am opposed to, and will oppose, any increase of it. I myself am a manufacturer or interested in manufactures, in a modest way, but, at the same time, to an extent, important to myself and my associates, and I feel that our industries and working men could not stand a keen manufacturing competition of either Britain or the United States.

In this regard, I am in accord with the assurance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, when he gave his pledge, "WE HAVE NOT HURT THE MANUFACTURERS AND WILL NOT HURT THEM," and I applaud the stand of Mr. Fielding in negotiating the Reciprocity Agreement, in refusing to even discuss reciprocity in manufactured articles with the United States.

If you approve, gentlemen, of what I consider the reasonable stand I take in relation to national interests ; if you believe, judging from my past record of service to the Riding, that I have the business capacity, the business and parliamentary experience to continue to give you good service, and justify the confidence I now ask you to again place in me, I presume to claim your support.

This is probably the last appeal I shall make to you ; for I think I have done my share of service to this Riding and have thereby earned the opportunity to give the necessary attention to my private affairs. I should have persisted in my desire to be relieved had I not felt in duty bound to defer to the earnest solicitation of the friends who have stood by me in the past, and also of a great many of my former opponents, and consented to be a candidate.

Another reason that influenced my acceptance, was, that being of a business turn, I naturally desired to complete work I have initiated, and for which I am in some degree, if the opportunity is given me, responsible. I should like to see the completion of the large new docks for the City of Peterborough ; of the retaining wall on our river front in Peterboroubh ; also a new concrete dam at Nassau erected, and a Rifle Range provided for this important military centre.

Trusting that I may be favoured with your effective support, I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, as I have been for the past twenty-five years,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. R. Stratton

THE TELEPHONE LABORATORY

Something of the Wonders of Your Phone.

The casual user of the telephone who lifts off the receiver and talks to a friend miles away, has little idea of the wonders of telephony or of the labor necessary to maintain an up-to-date service.

The "telephone laboratory" is one of the busiest places in the world. It is here that the problems of telephony are worked out and means devised to improve and develop the system to meet future demands upon it.

Her any day one may see two experts in a room 15 or 20 feet wide and two or three times that length, talking with each other over circuits a thousand miles long. The equivalent of twenty miles of cable is contained in a box no bigger than an ordinary travelling bag, and 600 miles of pole line is represented by the contents of another box not as large as a dress suit case, while the entire apparatus at the central office, so far as it affects the individual subscribers's telephone line, is compressed into a couple of square feet.

With this equipment and two standardizing telephone instruments, conversations over hundreds of miles are carried on within the four walls of this laboratory, one of the workshops of the central engineering force of the system.

Every detail of a long distance circuit from the subscriber's 'phone at one end of the line to that at the other end, with all the central offices and overhead and underground construction that connects them, is reproduced with scientific exactness. By these means new devices and apparatus are tested, proposed improvements investigated, and the scientific theories involved in transmission and operation worked out. This may be done for the purpose of studying some minor bit of mechanism, of determining, for instance, the relative merits of two forms of the relay coils which automatically work the signals on the switchboard, or of learning the effect on a conversation of having one sort of equipment at one end of the line and another sort at the other end, or for any of a hundred other purposes.

White Nile and Its Sudd

Sudd of the White Nile, which is to be manufactured into fuel, consists mainly of papyrus and 'um sool' reed, with masses of earth clinging to the roots. It accumulates in great blocks twenty feet thick, over which a man can walk. The effect of these blocks upon the river may be illustrated by the fact that when clearance operations were carried out after the fall of the Khalifax to the noval of one block alone brought the fall of the river above down by five feet in four days. When another burst the mass of vegetable matter took thirty-six hours to pass a given point. One block removed later was seven miles long it was found impossible to blow up the sudd, which was too elastic, so that the explosive only made holes in it. The method was to burn the surface matter, dig great trenches in the remainder and then tug with a steamer.

Siam's Exports of Birds' Nests.

The nests of a species of birds belonging to the family of swifts, and inhabiting the islands off the coast of Siam, are delicacies which the Chinese consider very fine in the making of soup. The demand for the nests in Hongkong also exceeds the supply that the prices range from $15 to 25 per pound, according to quality, while the average price for the total annual product is about $7 per pound.

The export of bird's nests from Siam during the last year amounted to 17,781 lb., valued at $19,848, most of which was used by the Chinese cities. The nests consist almost entirely of the salivary secretion of the birds, whose glands are much more developed than those of the ordinary swifts.

Sugar from Palm Trees.

The palm tree which yields wine and alcohol is now being looked to as a possible source of supply of sugar as well. Indeed, it is said, that in Cambodia $80,000 worth of sugar is produced annually from this source. As the palm will grow anywhere in the tropics, the tree may become an important element in the world's sugar supply.

Humility Safest Virtue.

Among all the virtues, humility, the lowest, is pre-eminent. It is the safest, because it is always an anchor; and that man may be truly said to live the most content in his calling who strives to live within the compass of it

No Mystery.

"Dan, why don't you marry Emily? You have been attentive enough to her."

"Father, I will never marry Emily. There is an insuperable bar to our union."

"What mystery is this?"

"The barber. Only I asked Emily and she won't have me."

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

CURIOSITIES OF THE FISHERIES

Mackerel All But Gone and Nobody Knows Where.

What is the mater with the mackerel? They have all but disappeared and nobody has any idea of what has become of them.

In 1885 mackerel fishery furnished half a million barrels of salted fish. Last year the catch was only about twenty-seven hundred barrels. What has become of this valuable food animal? Certainly it has not been wiped out by overfishing.

At the present time nearly two millions of dollars are invested in the business of hunting for mackerel — an industry prosecuted more in the way of a lottery than anything else, vessels being fitted out every spring in the hope that they will come back in their former abundance. Salted mackerel are now worth forty dollars a barrel.

If the great schools of earlier years have sought feeding grounds elsewhere how precious would be information of their whereabouts!

Dr. Johan Hjort, the Norwegian director of fisheries, says that the production of marine fishes is subject to such mighty influences as to be independent of the interference of man. For illustration, in 1902 and

J. T. McLEAN,
Member of Railway Commission
In his high position Mr. McLean has shown a practical knowledge of science in its relation to railroading.

1903 there was an extraordinary scarcity of fishes of all kinds over the whole North Sea and adjacent waters. Haddock almost disappeared, and such cod as were at hand presented a most miserable and diseased appearance

At the same time was presented the unique spectacle of a general migration of large polar creatures from the Arctic Ocean southward. Arctic seals and white whales came down as far as the coast of Norway, and even to the Shetlands; and dead seabirds, much emaciated, were washed ashore by thousands along the northern shores of Europe.

Nobody knows what was the cause of these strange phenomena, all of which seemed to be in some way connected; but, two or three years later, the cod, haddock and other fishes were as numerous as ever. The activities of man had nothing to do with reducing their numbers or with the restoration of the finny population. Every year almost every square yard of the bottom of the North Sea, which is the most persistently used fishing ground in the world, is scraped several times by the huge dragnets known as "beam trawls." Yet there is no diminution of the fish supply.

Much influence has recently been used to persuade Congress and various state legislatures to enact laws forbidding the use of beam trawls in our own Atlantic waters, on the ground that they would soon wipe out all the fish. This is a notion disproved by experience in the seas of northern Europe, where such apparatus has long been in use. The Fisheries Bureau, far from believing the beam trawl objectionable, is anxious that it shall be adopted by our fishermen, because it would add enormously to the fish supply of the country.

Extending from Cape Cod all the way to Cape May is an area of ocean bottom, covering several thousand square miles, which is almost literally paved with fishes of a very valuable species, closely related to the celebrated European sole and fully equal to the latter as food. Its mouth is too small for a hook, however, and so not a single pound of this delicious food is brought to our markets in a year. If these fishes were sought with beam trawls they could be taken in practically unlimited numbers, not only to the great profit of the fishermen but to the substantial advantage of multitudes of people who would gladly welcome a new and cheap contribution to their diet.

THE BEST TEMPERATURE

"Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson found, after long experiments and practice," says The Medical Times, "that 4 degrees Fahr. is the best temperature in which to conduct mental labour. If the temperature falls below this the mind becomes drowsy and inactive, and if it rises much above there is a relaxed state of the body and mind which soon leads to fatigue and exhaustion. It is important that the temperature be the same in all parts of the room and that it be steadily maintained."

"Dr. Grenfell, whose 'parish' includes as much of Labrador as he can circumvent, has observed that endemic diseases have up to recent years been practically unknown along that coast. The infectious which the natives have contracted have been introduced mostly from regions to the south.

Short filled casing for weighing thin shirts is introduced into the hem to finish of the skirt at the bottom and serves to keep it in place

Benevolent old lady who has just given a penny to a small rustic: "Now, my dear, what do you say?" Small rustic, with native politeness: "Give us another!" Collapse of old lady.

The worst of country society or for the matter of that the society of any community, is that every woman is eligible, but only a man here and there.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

HON. WM. LYON MACKENZIE KING.

Few of the younger generation of Canadian public men have crowded so much important work into such a short period as has the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, C.M.G., M.P., P.C., Ph.D. A grandson on the maternal side of William Lyon Mackenzie and gifted with not a little of the patriot's genius, it is not to be wondered at, he should make his mark in the social and political affairs of his native land at an age when most young men have as yet scarcely turned their thoughts towards the serious things of life.

After a brilliant university career at Toronto, Harvard and Chicago, he joined the editorial staff of the Toronto "Globe" and later returned to Harvard as Instructor in Political Economy. During this period we also find him acting as special Commissioner of the Canadian Government to inquire into methods of carrying out Government contracts in Canada and Europe, an appointment due to the keen interest he had displayed in labor matters and his distinction as a political economist. In 1908 he was elected to the Dominion Parliament as member for North Waterloo, having in the meantime held several important government appointments, including editor of labor 'Gazette' and Deputy Minister of Labor from 1900 to September 1908; Registrar of Boards of Conciliation and Investigation, 1906-9; Secretary of the Royal Commission to inquire into industrial disputes in British Columbia, 1903; represented Canadian Government in England on question of alleged misrepresentations to immigrants in 1906; Chairman of Royal Commission to enquire into conditions of employment of telephone operatives, 1907; Royal Commissioner to asses losses of Japanese residents of Vancouver, B.C., in anti-Asiatic Riots, 1907; Royal Commissioner to enquire into the methods by which Oriental laborers have been induced to come to Canada, 1907; Royal Commissioner to assess losses of Chinese residents of Vancouver, in anti-Asiatic riots, 1908; representative of the Canadian Government sent to England to confer with the British authorities on the subject of immigration to Canada from India, 1908. In the latter year he also acted as Royal Commissioner to inquire into conditions of employment of operatives in the cotton industry, while in 1909 he was appointed by the Imperial Government one of the British delegates on the International Opium Commission, held at Shanghai, China. He was president of the Canadian Club of Ottawa, 1904-5 and in 1909 was appointed Minister of Labor for Canada.

Mackenzie King's success in all these important missionz has marked him out as one of the greatest living Canadian authorities on social and labor problems. The suppression of the Opium traffic is another matter with which he has been prominently identified and of late the traffic in other drugs including cocaine has come within the sphere of his activities and he is largely responsible for recent preventitive legislation under this head.

Mr. Mackenzie King was born at Berlin, Ont., in 1874 and is unmarried.

JUDGE LAFONTAINE, of Montreal.

The liquor question is a live issue all over Canada to-day, but in no place more so than in Montreal, where the License Commissioners have adopted a policy of license reduction in the city limits, and have announced that those who have been lax in obeying the law in the past must be those to suffer the consequences in the future.

On this stand the Commissioners have been supported by the public generally, by the Government, by the Dominion Alliance, the Anti-Alcoholic League, and the better class of saloonkeepers themselves. In the fight against the dives and rum shops, which have been straining every nerve and pulling every wire to keep the white parchment which admits of their selling liquor, none has been more active than Judge Ulric Lafontaine, the President of the Anti-Alcoholic League, an organization which is earnestly working against immoderate use of liquor. The Anti-Alcoholic League embraces all creeds, all nationalities, and all tongues. Here French-speaking and English-speaking citizens alike line up in a common cause.

Judge Lafontaine was born in the village of St. Edouard Napierville, as was his father before him. From his name one might suppose that he is of French origin; but if you go back far enough you will find that there is more German and Scotch blood flowing through his veins than there is French.

$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

REV. C. W. GORDON

Rev. Charles William Gordon, B.A., D.D., L.L.D., F.R.S.C., or as he is more widely known, Ralph Connor, was born in the country and it was his early training in the Indian Lands, Glengarry Co., Ont., which we see reproduced in the broad manly atmosphere of Ralph Connor's books. No city bred man would possibly warm the imagination, and make the reader yearn for the broad open country, the home of better things as does he.

The future Ralph Connor received his first smatterings of education at the Public School of Athol, Ont. One imagines however, that it was the careful tuition of his father, the Rev. Daniel Gordon which made him yearn to taste more of the fruit of education, rather than the village school. Still the impressions of his early days have always remained with him and we find them brought vividly before us in some of his masterpieces. After public school he was sent to the High School of St. Mary's, Ontario. From there he matriculated into the University of Toronto, graduating with the class of 1883. After taking his Arts course, the future author applied himself to the study of theology at Knox College. In order to obtain a broader and wider outlook on life Ralph Connor crossed the water, and studied at New College, Edinburgh for a year.

Before returning to take up his life work in Canada, he made, in company with five friends, a bicycle tour of the continent.

Upon his return to the Dominion he took up his task with grim determination to succeed. The now Rev. Mr. Gordon was sent as a missionary to the Rocky Mountains. He did his work thoroughly and labored for the spiritual good of the region with all his indomitable energy. The Rockies were inhabited by a rough and ready lot, yet the youthful divinity graduate shouldered his task and came out with flying colours.

The impressions he received were indelibly stamped on his mind and they make some of the most thrilling passages in his books. Since 1894 the Rev. Dr. Gordon has been in charge of St. Stephen's Church Winnipeg.

He has labored not alone for the moral betterment of his own congregation, but for the whole West. Dr. Gordon takes a vital interest in the improvement and purification of municipal politics and in the lot of the working man. On this account he was chosen as a member of the Coal Striker's Arbitration Board. Above all Ralph Connor's influence has been felt from Coast to Coast through the medium of such books as the "Man from Glengarry" the Prospector, etc. Canada needs more men of his stamp and more books of the same calibre as his. They have a farther reaching effect towards moral upliftment than any amount of sermons against the prevalent vices.

SIR JAMES GRANT

Sir James Alexander Grant, K.C.M.G., M.D., F.R.S.C., who while in politics introduced the Pacific Railway Bill, is principally distinguished for his medical and scientific work. He has published works on Organic Heart Disease, and numerous essays on various medical and scientific subjects. He was President of the Royal Society of Canada in 1903.

Sir James was born in Inverness, Scotland, in 1831 and received his education at Queen's College, Kingston, Ont., London and Edinburgh. He first entered parliament as member for Co. of Russell in 1863.

Junk Dealer Acquitted.

John Doig was acquitted in police court yesterday morning, of having received 400 lbs. of stolen copper wire. It seems that 1000 pounds of wire were stolen from the C.G.E., and the police in searching found 400 bought it from Doig. Mr. Doig said dealers named Florence, who said he bought from Doig. Mr. Doig said that he bought it without knowing that it was stolen. As the boys stated this morning that they had received permission from the line man to take it, he was evidently innocent and was acquitted.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 210 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

W. J. KERR, LIMITED,
New Westminster, B. C.

Dear Sir:—

I am interested in your fruit lands offer at Flesherton Gardens. Please send me particulars of how I can secure a five acre farm.

The Recent Successful Strike in England Unsettles the Workmen on the Continent.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—The recent strike in England and the splendid results that have come to the workers have created a very strong impression in Germany, and the authorities are fearing a general labor uprising all over the country, which would be very difficult to deal with; first, because the workers are too sensible to resort to any kind of violence, which would give the government a chance to step in, and, second, because everyone knows that invincible though the German troops might be in facing a foreign foe, they are too much affected by socialist doctrines to be relied on if ordered to fire on their own countrymen and brethern. Signs of unrest are not lacking anywhere in the great industrial centres where wages have not kept step with the rapid advance in the prices of the necessities of life.

In the metal trades throughout Prussia, Saxony, Bavaria and Wurtemburg, many thousands of men are either on strike or lockout, and there is also serious unrest among the employes of the Berlin street car system, which threatens to culminate in a complete cessation of work unless their demands are satisfied.

NEAR TO DEATH.

Miss Clara Barton, Red Cross Founder, Dying.

Oxford, Mass., Sept. 9.—Bowed down by the weight of years, Miss Barton, founder of the American red cross, was believed to be near death to-day, at her summer home in this town. In poor health when she came here early in the summer from her home at Glen Rhoe, Md., she had grown gradually worse.

Her doctors say to-day that Miss Barton's strength had been greatly impaired by an illness from pneumonia some time ago, and that her extreme age had left her without power of recuperation. While death might not be immediate, it could be long delayed.

The death occurred at Hiawatha on Saturday morning of John Muskrat, one of the oldest Indians of that place. He was 76 years of age and had lived all his life in the vicinity of Hiawatha. He is survived by four sons and four daughters. The funeral took place yesterday morning.

A Small Blaze.

The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon on account of a small blaze at the Bonner-Worth Co.s premises. It appears that some shavings and sawdust, which was to be used in packing the machinery, was piled in the yard and it caught fire, and was threatening the plant. There was no damage done.

A Real Bet.

Betting and bluffing are nearly synonomous terms, especially during the heat of an election contest. The Times referred in yesterday's issue to a bet of $500 aside, in which worthless cheques were put up by the bluffers. Yesterday, however, some real money was staked on the result of the elections in the Dominion. The amount was $25, the real cash being placed in the hands of a stakeholder.
